Vaccine recalled

Polk County – Polk County Nursing Service has received information from the Minnesota Department of Health regarding the recall of certain lots of Flu Vaccine produced for the 1996-97 Flu Season.

The named vaccine was produced by the Parke-David Company. The reason for recall was involving the potency of one strain of flu in the named vaccine. The doses from the recalled vaccine involves only 5 to 7 percent of all persons who received the vaccine nation wide.

Polk County Nursing Service did not purchase or use the Parke-David brand of Flu vaccine. Persons receiving flu vaccine at public clinics conducted by Polk County Nursing received a Wyeth brand of vaccine. Individuals may check with the provider who administered their flu shot this fall to determine the manufacturer of the vaccine they received.

The death is being treated as a homicide, and Polk County Sheriff Doug Qualley stated that a suspect has been identified and the investigation is continuing.

The Sheriff's Office received a 911 call at approximately 2 p.m. on Friday reportedly from friends of the victim who discovered Billie's body at his residence. When deputies arrived at the scene they found Billie's body in the living room, dead from apparent head injuries.

Robert Wagner is County Assessor

Crookston – Robert Wagner is now back in the courthouse in Polk county. He is replacing Dale Halos who is officially retiring from the County Assessor's Office.

Wagner was at the courthouse 10 years ago also. Wagner has appreciated the diversity of Polk County during the 10 years that he was assessor.

The Polk County Assessors Offices in Crookston and East Grand Forks now employ a total of eight people. There are five appraisers along with Wagner who will act primarily as a consultant in the office when he officially takes charge.

Three people were able to escape and were treated at LakeWood Health Center and released on Monday. The four who died were named as Henry Gahlman, 71 and his wife Ellajean, 65, and Donald and LaVerne Kutcher, both in their 60's.

Monday morning's accident was also the second in the far northern area this winter involving a vehicle plunging through the ice. On December 22, a snowmobile trail grooming machine went through the ice on the Ash River near Orr, killing one man.

Dive Rescue Team faced difficult conditions at lake

Pennington team assists with recovery of drowning victims

Conditions were difficult, but members of the Pennington County Dive Rescue Team which participated in the recovery of four bodies from a submerged track van in Lake of the Woods, said the recovery effort went well.

Monday morning, the Pennington County Dive Rescue Team received a request for assistance from Lake of the Woods County Sheriff's department. A track van occupied by seven people had broken through the ice on Lake of the Woods. Three of the occupants escaped, but four were trapped in the van and presumed dead.

On Wednesday, the fourth body was recovered from the submerged van. Killed in the accident were Donald and LaVerne Kutcher of Beaver Dam, WI, both in their 60s; and Henry and Ellajean Gahlman also of Beaver Dam, WI, ages 71 and 65. The three other individuals, who escaped included Jim and Wendy Rolfie of Baudette and Dan Dose of Elgin.

Poor conditions on top of the ice, such as wind and cold and the proximity of a ice house hampered efforts at first, but by the second day recovery efforts proceeded quickly.

Thief River Falls Police Officer and Dive Team member, Jim Hulteen said the windchill on top of the ice was about 35-degrees below 0 degrees Fahrenheit.

The cold temperatures played havoc with equipment and members of the dive rescue team. Hulteen was in charge of operating the lines attached to divers and equipment topside. An experienced diver, Hulteen said it was worse being topside for him because he knew what was going on down there, and was constantly concerned about their safety.

In the water, Pennington County Deputy Sheriff Ray Kuzma said visibility with a light was about two feet.

Upon examining the situation which led up to the van going through the ice Kuzma said a crack had formed down the center of what passes for a road on the ice. He said it was his understanding the the back of the van broke through first followed by the front. When he found the van at about 30 feet below the surface, the sliding door was partially open.

Kuzma and Hulteen said it takes a lot of preparation physically and mentally when going into a situation like this. Hulteen noted that divers tend to use up a lot more oxygen than they would when diving in a relaxed setting, and they are all on an adrenaline high. Because of that, Hulteen said everyone was physically and mentally exhausted at the conclusion of the recovery effort.

Kuzma said the dive team learned a lot on this dive especially in overcoming problems such as when his suit filled with the frigid water, and an ice house used for warming divers that was too far away from the hole in the ice. As a common practice, he said members of the dive team will get together and examine what went right and what they can do differently the next time this happens.

On the first day of the new year, the weather had improved so much that several people came to the hill behind the National Guard Armory to sled. For the first time in a couple of weeks the temperatures climbed above 0-degrees Fahrenheit. Several individuals and families took time out of their schedules to have some fun. Above, Garrett Schroeder, 8, gets a little push from his father Wes, and sister Erin Schroeder, 3.

Wellness center agreement is reviewed by joint powers board

Thursday night, the Multi-Events Cultural Center (MECC) Joint Powers Board reviewed an agreement with Thief River Life Center for the operation of the proposed Wellness Center, which is included in Phase I of the MECC.

Before the agreement is signed, however, the agreement must meet the approval of the Pennington County board of commissioners, Thief River Falls City Council, and School District 564.

Thief River Life Center is prepared to sign the lease agreement Thursday night. Dr. Jim Langland, a representative of Thief River Life Center, submitted a letter of intent to sign the agreement.

Funds for the complex, which will be located just east of Northland Community and Technical College, have been approved and plans for the facility are well underway. Members of the joint powers board, however, had demanded that a lease for the Wellness Center be secured so that the board would not end up operating the facility without an occupant and under a deficit.

In presenting the agreement to the board, Rick Nelson, a member of the board, said the agreement had been approved by the city's attorney and the MnSCU attorney had looked at it.

Dr. Orley Gunderson said the agreement was being reviewed by the office of the attorney general.

Nelson recommended approval of the agreement subject review and approval of each of the governing agencies participating in the joint powers board. He said he would expect the review to take at least a month.

The term of the lease shall be five years commencing on or about October 1, 1997. The base rent, according to the agreement, will be $2,500 per month. The agreement also stipulates that Thief River Life Center will operate a community wellness center staffed by medical or exercise professionals, and will be open at least six days a week, exclusive of recognized holidays.

One final detail that was worked out prior to the meeting was a non-compete clause. The clause provides that joint powers board members shall not offer any competing exercise facilities, weight room facilities, wellness facilities or fitness facilities that are open to the general public. Should a joint powers board member offer such competing facilities for use by the general public, Thief River Life Center's sole remedy shall be the right to terminate the lease if the competing facility is not closed to the general public within 90 days after written notice of objection by Thief River Life Center.

Nine changes were made to the Phase I Operations and Manage-

Weather created much last minute Christmas shopping, but businesses had successful season

by Amy Branscomb
Northern Watch reporter

Snow, sleet, cold winds and blizzards were what might have contributed to this year's last minute Christmas shopping rush in Thief River Falls.

Local business owners noticed that most of the shopping was done in the last week of December before Christmas, which really isn't all that unusual. But what was unusual was that the first week after Thanksgiving was pretty slow, and it is normally the most busy shopping week of the year.

Some of the businesses were worried early on in the month because business wasn't booming as usual, but come that last week of December, everyone was making a mad dash for the perfect gift.

Dick Bjorkman, owner of Bjorkman's, felt that the weather was definitely to blame for the last minute rush. "When you have to close early due to snow, that doesn't help business," he stated. He also noted that their business was down considerably from last year.

Manager of Vanity, Brenda Bjornstad, commented, "The last week was really good. We had a better Christmas than last year."

Overall, Christmas in Thief River Falls proved to be a happy one for most of the local businesses. Even though some businesses had to close early several days due to weather and lost three to four shopping days due to a late Thanksgiving, they felt they had a very successful Christmas.

"It was one of my best Christmases ever," stated LeeAnn Nelson, owner of Diamonds and Designs. "We were busy right up until the last day. I am thankful for all of my good loyal customers," she added.

Kim Peterson of Lori's Hallmark remarked that, "The last weekend was really crazy. It went really well, we had another good year."

After having her first Christmas in Thief River Falls as owner of Array of Gold, Patti Wohl, remarked "Last minute shopping was heavy. It went well." They had only opened the day after Thanksgiving and noticed a very successful season.

Carrie Mooney of Radio Shack also felt the contagious feeling of a prosperous Christmas season. "It was one of the best we've ever had since we've been here. We were so busy we couldn't even get out our Christmas cards. It was steady all month."

Not only did the businesses feel that it was a great season, they are also noticing very few returns. "We have very few returns and the ones we do are mostly adjustments and exchanges," stated LeeAnn Nelson.

Even with the weather putting a damper on early shopping, customers were still able to get out there and find the right gifts, even if last minute. With the low number of returns and exchanges, they must have done a good job of finding that special person the perfect gift!

TRF Salvation Army reports record kettle campaign effort

Thief River Falls' Salvation Army Service Unit has reported collecting over $4,500 in its recent Christmas Kettle fund drive. Police Chief Ken Froschheiser, chairman of the local service unit, said it was the most ever raised during this annual fund drive.

The local Salvation Army Service unit is staffed entirely by volunteers in the community. They see to it that temporary assistance is provided to families or individuals who are in need find the assistance that they need. That assistance can come in many forms. The local service unit can provide all kinds of assistance including groceries, assistance for fire or disaster victims, meals and lodging, utility payments, clothing, fuel, emergency transportation needs, school supplies, Thanksgiving dinners and Christmas food baskets. The assistance, however, is temporary and given to those who turn to the Salvation Army as a last resort.

Chief Froschheiser said all of the money raised and collected locally is used locally.

Members of the service unit committee try to make sure that there is no duplication of effort among service agencies responding to an individual or family in need, so the unit consists of many individuals from service-related organizations.

One of the ways in which funds are raised to support the Salvation Army efforts in Thief River Falls is the Kettle drive. Three of the big kettles were at Kmart, SuperValu, and J.C. Penney's. The kettle at Kmart was staffed by volunteers who rang bells. Little red kettles were placed at MacDonald's, Pizza Hut, China King, Thrifty White Drug, Erl's, Pennington Main and Square, the Best Western and the Arnold Avenue Store. A small kettle was also placed at the Goodridge Cafe.

Chief Froschhesier said he was very pleased with the results of this year's kettle drive. He thanked those volunteers who rang the bells and the local businesses which participated in the effort.

Make-A-Wish Foundation will again be a part of the Ironman 250 Snowmobile race in Thief River Falls January 11-12. Celebrities visiting this year will include former Professional Boxer Scott LeDoux, Retired Minnesota Viking Star Joey Browner, and Hockey Hall of Famer Reed Larson.

Make-A-Wish Foundation grants wishes to children under the age of 18 who have been diagnosed with a life-threatening illness. Money raised during the event in Thief River Falls will help the Foundation grant a wish of one of these youngsters.

Between 6 and 9 p.m. Saturday, January 11, at the Best Western, an auction will be held. Proceeds from the auction are donated to the charity. The auction consists of a silent auction and live auction. Last year it raised over $8,000. It was a significant increase from previous years, which generated about $5,000 each.

Last year, between 30 to 40 contributors donated items for the auctions or donated cash. George Thorson, co-chairman of the event, said they were very thankful for their support.

Auctioned items include everything from snowmobile accessories to clothing. The guest celebrities generally include items as well.

Also as part of the event, the guest celebrities and local celebrities will compete in an oval race at 1 p.m. Sunday. Reed Larson will be defending his title.

The Ironman 250 is sponsored by the local SnoDrifters Snowmobile Club, and is an International Series of Champions (ISOC) sanctioned event. It will feature top racers from around the world competing for over $60,000 in prize money.

Anyone interested in donating items for the auction should contact either George Thorson or Wayne Hanson at Arctic Cat by calling 218-681-8558.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Let's have some special soup recipes for the cold and not-so-cold weather we're having - who knows whether it will be nice or nasty weather from day to day - may as well have a pot of soup on the stove.

This is a quick-to-fix soup that the family will love:

CANADIAN CHEESE SOUP

2 carrots, grated
1/2 to 1 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup flour
3 cups chicken broth
4 cups milk
1/8 teaspoon paprika
3 cups grated cheddar
Tabasco sauce to taste

Saute carrots and onions in butter until tender.

Add remaining ingredients and heat to simmering. Serve.

Just pop these ingredients into the crock pot and you'll have a tasty meal in no time:

WILD RICE SOUP

5 slices bacon, cut in small pieces
1 pound hamburger
1 cup chopped onions
2 cups cut up celery
1/2 cup wild rice
1 can cream of mushroom soup
6 to 8 cups chicken broth

Brown and drain bacon and then hamburger. Place all ingredients in crock pot and simmer at least 2 hours. Add water or broth if too thick.

This hearty soup will fill everyone up, no matter how big the appetite:

HAM POTATO CHOWDER

2 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
4 medium potatoes, cubed
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon paprika
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
Minced parsley
1 (12 ounce) can whole kernel corn, undrained
1 1/2 cups diced, cooked ham

Melt butter in large saucepan. Saute onion and green pepper until tender. Add potatoes, 2 cups water, salt, paprika and pepper.

Cover and simmer about 15 minutes, until potatoes are tender.

Combine flour and 1/3 cup water in small bowl, blending well. Stir into potato mixture. Add milk and simmer until slightly thickened, stirring frequently.

Add corn and ham and heat through. Sprinkle each serving with parsley.

Whenever I do soup recipes, I have to have the old favorite, vegetable soup. I found this vegetable soup recipe in a 1974 cookbook from Clearwater Lutheran Parish. It's one of my favorite cookbooks. Instructions are meager, but cute, "Cook slowly until done." Yup - that's the way to cook soup any time:

HOMEMADE VEGETABLE SOUP

Soup bones
1/2 cup pearl barley
1 onion
4 to 5 medium potatoes
3 small carrots
1 small cabbage
1 to 2 tomatoes (skinned and sliced or chopped)
1 cup dry green split peas
1 medium rutabaga
1 parsnip
Pepper to taste
Salt to taste
Water
Beef bouillon if needed for more flavor

Combine ingredients and cook slowly until done.

(Sherry says: I would wait with the cabbage until about an hour before serving and I would also make my favorite dumplings to put in with the cabbage. Sometimes it is fun to use navy beans in place of split peas, too.)

It's Going To Happen.... Will 1998 Be The Year?

The time is coming when Minnesota will have a female Governor. Whether that time will be 1998 remains to be seen, but at least one woman in state politics has made her intentions known clearly and early. Lieutenant Governor Joanne Benson has formally established the Joanne Benson for Governor Volunteer Committee.

Service as Minnesota's Lieutenant Governor since 1994 would seem to be a good qualification for the voters to consider in selecting a Governor in the 1998 election. However, service as Lieutenant Governor has very little resemblance to serving as Governor. It is a position of virtual obscurity, and must certainly be humbling, for it lacks any real political influence and—as long as the Governor remains able to serve—is primarily a ceremonial and substitute role.

This is not to say that Benson would not be a capable Governor. She was elected to the State Senate in 1990 and reelected in 1992, indicating that her district in the St. Cloud area was satisfied that she could do—and was doing—the job expected of a State Senator. In fact, we would say her service as Senator outweighs her time as Lieutenant Governor in preparing her for the state's top administrative office.

"My foremost commitment remains serving Minnesotans to the best of my ability as Lieutenant Governor," she said in announcing formation of the volunteer committee. She said creation of the committee will help her supporters coordinate their efforts as she begins her bid by seeking endorsement of the Republican party.

That endorsement would be pivotal, of course, especially when it is well known that present Republican Governor Arne Carlson has not been a popular figure with many GOP faithful. Whether his choice as his Lieutenant Governor would be any more acceptable within the party remains to be seen.

While we don't relish the idea of political campaigns beginning a month or two after an election, we credit Lt. Gov. Benson with taking a decisive step and making her intentions known early. It will certainly add a little more color to the state's political picture in the next two years.

Protecting Economic Well Being Of U.S. Will Require Changes

While it is conceded that the United States of America must do a better job of educating its people if we are to protect their economic well being, the trends over the past three decades are not favorable and changes are not being made as quickly as they should.

A book entitled Human Capital and America's Future by the John Hopkins Institute for Policy Studies makes a compelling case for such education, according to Cal Clark, a member of UtiliCorp United's economic development team. He uses the book as a basis for one of his columns. Here are several points made in the book:

• The economy will place a higher premium on brain power than on brawn to achieve economic growth, yet more than 85 percent of new workers in the nation will come from segments of the population that historically have had limited educational or economic advantages—minorities, immigrants and women.

• From 1960 to the 1980s the percentage of U.S. goods that faced active foreign competition increased from 20 percent to 70 percent.

• The share of our gross national product represented by imports tripled between 1955 and 1985 while our export share only doubled during that period.

• The U.S. share of world automotive production dropped from 52 percent in 1960 to 23 percent in 1983.

Loss of world market share and increased foreign competition have deteriorated wages of new entrants to the American work force, according to the book. "The average annual earnings of 20 to 24-year-old males in the United States declined, after adjusting for inflation, by 26 percent between 1973 and 1986, and among high school graduates the decline was 28 percent."

Overall skill level required by new jobs will increase significantly in the 1990s. Of the new jobs likely to be created to the year 2000, 41 percent will require high skill levels.

"At a time when technological developments, international competition and growing pressure for productivity advances are increasing the skill requirements of available jobs," the book states, "demographic developments are generating a labor force whose ability to meet these requirements is very much in question as a product of past discrimination, inexperience and other factors."

The book recommends a broad-based approach to meeting the challenge. Included are more and better public education, prenatal care, early childhood intervention, specialized skill development for "at risk" youth, income supplement for the working poor, assistance, investments in science and engineering, elimination of job discrimination and ongoing skill development for those already at work.

This is a tall order, for much of the effort requires changes in attitudes and priorities as well as philosophy. Accomplishing the needed changes will take dedicated and effective leadership from government and industry, but it must be done. The U.S. can not afford to have its economic leadership eroded to the point where it threatens national defense and creates internal unrest.

Olson, and Tom Saragosa, who had multiple 300 games this fall, both received $50 cash prize checks from the Family Bowl and an honors award ring or watch, along with a plaque, from the American Bowling Congress (ABC). Sports schedules back on track Thief River Falls winter sports schedule, dotted with long breaks for some and holiday tournaments for others, is returning to normalcy.

The Northland Community and Technical College men's and women's basketball teams will begin Minnesota Community College Conference play at home with Jan. 10 and 11 doubleheaders. Friday games vs. Mesabi will start at 6 (women) and 8 p.m. Saturday matinee against Vermilion begins at 1 (women) and 3 p.m.

Both Northland teams went into the holiday break with 4-2 records. The men resumed play Friday (Jan. 3) at UND-Williston. Both teams will be at Minot State-Bottineau Tuesday. The men haven't played since Dec. 14. The women won the Dec. 20-21 Itasca Invitational.

On the high school scene, Thief River Falls hockey, basketball, swimming, and wrestling teams are all ready to swing back into action.

Grand Forks Red River and Crookston hockey teams will be at the Buck Olson Memorial Civic Center Tuesday (Roughriders) and Thursday (Pirates). The Prowlers, who were 1-1-1 during the McDonald's Holiday Classic, are 2-7-1.

Fresh from a championship effort at the Thief River Falls Russ Smith Northwest Holiday Classic, the Lincoln High School boys basketball team took a 4-3 record to East Grand Forks Friday (Jan. 3). The Prowlers will be back on their home court Friday, Jan. 10, against Fergus Falls.

Thief River Falls girls, who were second at the Northland Community and Technical College Invitational, face a major post-holiday challenge tonight (Saturday) when the 4-5 Prowlers host a strong Moorhead team. Thief River Falls will meet Marshall County Central Monday in Newfolden, then hit the road again for a Saturday, Jan. 11, game at Bemidji.

Boys swim team was scheduled to be at the Bemidji Invitational today (Saturday). Thief River Falls has competed in just two meets to date — the Dec. 7 Prowler Relays and a Dec. 19 dual win at Crookston — will host back to back duals in the Franklin Middle School pool Thursday vs. Detroit Lakes (6 p.m.) and Friday vs. Park Rapids Area (5 p.m.).

Wrestlers will take a 2-2 dual record to Fertile-Beltrami Thursday. They've been idle since a Dec. 20 win over Lancaster.

Agreement on Wellness center receives review

ment Agreement. The agreement sets out among participants in the joint powers board who is responsible for what at the MECC. The changes made Thursday night were minor, but the agreement will have to be reviewed again at the next joint powers board meeting.

Since last summer, the board has been concerned about the progress of the project through various state departments. Thursday night the board approved a resolution asking Minnesota State Colleges and Universities (MnSCU) to assign a project representative to the project as soon as possible.

Dive Rescue team faced bad conditions

Members of the Pennington County Dive Rescue Team are experienced divers. The team has been in existence for about seven years, and each member is a member of law enforcement.

On this dive, two two-man dive teams were established. One team consisted of Cal Michaels of the Minnesota State Patrol and Ray Kuznia. The second team consisted of Minnesota Department of Natural Resource Officers Tom Provost and Jeff Birchem. Other members of the team that were present and maintaining equipment and organizing efforts were Tony Arhart of the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources and Police Officer Jim Hulteen.

Hulteen and Kuznia emphasized that it was a team effort, which consisted of the efforts of their own team, the Lake of the Woods Dive Rescue team, and Lake of the Woods Sheriff's department.

New Central Boiler gas log boiler introduced as "Millenium 2100"

Central Boiler of Greenbush recently introduced the a gas log boiler called the Millennium 2100.

Central Boiler Inc. of Greenbush is introducing a gas log boiler called the Millennium 2100 Gas Log Boiler to its line of products.

The Millennium 2100 Gas Log Boiler is rated at 70,000 BTUs, about twice that of conventional gas log stoves. Central Boiler Inc. accomplishes this by surrounding the combustion chamber with a water jacket. This enables the stove to extract the heat faster than a conventional stove and make it available to other parts of the home. This heat can be transferred to an existing boiler which may be currently installed with baseboard heaters, or a hydronic radiant floor heating system. Using a heat exchanger, the Millennium 2100 Gas Log Boiler can also easily heat a home's domestic hot water, hot tub, and/or provide an alternative heat source to an existing forced air heating system.

The Millennium 2100 Gas Log Boiler is built to exacting standards. The new addition to the Central Boiler Inc. line of heating products carries the "H" stamp authorized by the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME). In order to carry the "H" stamp, the manufacturer of the product must meet very stringent guidelines. All parts and materials used must meet ASME criteria. The welders, the procedures, and the plant itself must all meet ASME approval. Certification records are kept on file for every boiler indefinitely.

The Millennium 2100 Gas Log Boilers are tested and listed by the American Gas Association (AGA), and boast an 84 per cent efficiency rating.

It features an energy saving electronic automatic ignition system that eliminates the need for a pilot light, and a dual purpose direct vent chimney. this allows the exhaust to be vented outside the house while drawing the air for the combustion chamber from outside the home at the same time.

The Millennium 2100 Gas Log Boiler's standard black colored base may be customized with an optional marbleized finish and 24k gold-plated trim. It is also available in a variety of colors to fit any decor.

The Millennium 2100 Gas Log Boiler ensures that owners can enjoy the ambience and penetrating radiant heat from the fire that gives the toasty warm feeling of wood heat. Homeowners can also rest assure that the gas log boiler is safely and effectively heating other portions of their home, condo or cabin.

Shipping of the new product will begin in January of 1997.

Students prepare for contest

Grygla – For the first time in many years, Grygla drama students will be taking part in the Minnesota State High School League one-act play contest. The district contest will be held Saturday, January 11 in Warroad.

A one-act comedy entitled "On the Shore of That Beautiful Shore" was chosen by the Grygla Drama Department for the contest. The scene is an undertaker's office in a small Appalachian village. The drama depicts a variety of emotions expressed by characters as they deal with life and death.

The drama department has also chosen another one-act play and will present both plays to the community at a later date.

Karlstad landfill issued a notice of compliance

Karlstad Sanitary Landfill in Kittson county is one of 12 landfills which have been issued Notices of Compliance by the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency.

The notice removes the site from the state's list of hazardous waste sites needing investigation or cleanup under Minnesota's Superfund program. All of the sites are closed landfills that have been admitted into Minnesota's closed landfill program and the state now assumes responsibility for long-term maintenance of each facility.

For a landfill to be admitted into the closed landfill program, its owners, operators and other responsible persons must meet requirements set by Minnesota's 1994 Landfill Cleanup Act. A landfill must have been permitted by the state and must have stopped accepting waste by certain dates. The responsible people must sign a binding agreement with the MPCA that describes the requirements for entry into the program before the notice of compliance is issued.

Business property tax reform forum scheduled Tuesday

Property Tax Reform Coalition and the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce will jointly sponsor a business property tax reform forum Tuesday, January 14 at 7:30 a.m. at the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls. Public attendance is invited and cost of $4 per person includes a continental breakfast.

Property tax reform is the Minnesota business community's number one legislative priority and crucial to the economic future of the state, according to the Property Tax Reform Coalition. The forum cosponsor states that those attending will "learn more about the state's broken property tax system and find out how (they) can become involved in reform efforts."

Also according to the Coalition:

- Minnesota has the highest effective property tax rates in the nation for most business properties;
- Renters fare little better, and property taxes for homeowners have doubled since 1981; and
- The current property tax system is unfair and provides few incentives for efficiency and productivity.

To register for the forum before the deadline at noon Monday, January 13, call the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce at 218-681-3720, call Marilyn at (612) 292-4687 or 1-800 821-2230 or fax your name, company name, address, phone number, fax number and number of people attending to 612-292-4656.

Vernon Johnson of Clearbrook, who just completed a one-year term as president of the Minnesota Association of Watershed Districts (MAWD), was elected vice president for the coming year at the association's annual meeting recently at the Radisson Arrowwood Resort at Alexandria.

A member of the Red Lake Watershed District board of managers, Johnson will succeed Dean Oleson of Hutchinson as vice president. Newly-elected president of the state association is Woody Love of Shorewood, a member of the Minnehaha Creek Watershed District.

Attending the annual meeting from the Red Lake Watershed District in addition to Johnson were managers Leonard Moe, Marshall county; Russell Sander, East Polk county; and Gerhard Ross, West Polk county; and administrator Lowell C. Enerson.

Other managers from the Red Lake Watershed district who were unable to attend the state meeting are Richard Dougherty of Beltrami county, Don Schirrick of Red Lake county and Greg Hilgeman of Pennington county.

The Red Lake Watershed District includes all of Red Lake county, most of Pennington county and parts of Mahnomen, Polk, Itasca, Marshall, Clearwater, Beltrami, Roseau and Koochiching counties.

"This meeting featured a number of training sessions in areas I normally wouldn't have an opportunity to attend," Enerson said. "We covered topics like the internet, local government use of computers and draining and tiling permitting—all from a watershed district perspective."

Bill Hunt, state conservationist from the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) gave the meeting's keynote address on the past and projected future relationship between NRCS, watershed districts and soil and water conservation districts. He urged watershed district personnel to form partnerships with soil and water conservation districts. "I assure you that your input is valuable and will be heard," he said.

Minnehaha Creek Watershed District in the Twin Cities metro area received the award presented by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources as Outstanding Watershed District of the Year.

County board approves lease for wellness center

Pennington County board of commissioners approved the lease for the Wellness Center at its meeting January 7. The motion to approve the lease passed 4-1, with Bob Carlson dissenting.

Carlson said he had offered a motion to approve the lease without the non-compete clause, but it failed for lack of a second. He said he couldn't vote for the motion to approve the lease with the non-compete clause intact.

The non-compete clause prohibits the joint powers board members from offering any competing exercise facilities or fitness facilities that are open to the general public.

Carlson also said he had heard that the school district was receiving funds from Arctic Cat so that its employees could use the weight room.

According to Harry Nelson, business manager school district 564, Arctic Cat and Digi-Key pay a small fee. He said it appears to be based on the number of employees using the facility from the previous year. Last year, Arctic Cat paid $555, and Digi-Key paid $375. Nelson also said that a small amount of money comes from other persons using the facility. Nelson said according to information provided by Jeff Mumm, they receive about $1,200 per year from people using the facility.

Nelson said that from the district's perspective, it's really not a money issue.

Mumm explained that the money doesn't really go to the school district, it goes to the Coaches' Association. The money is used to purchase or repair equipment. It is not enough to pay for a supervisor.

At one time, Community Ed tried to offer a program, but has since dropped it.

Mumm said he wasn't sure how much it costs to operate the facility. Supervisor contracts are based on a number of elements, such as experience, and signed each season. All of the equipment in the weight room has been donated, however. Not one piece of the equipment has been purchased by the school district.

The mix of students and adults was a concern at first, but now it seems to be working well. Mumm said some adjustments were made in the schedule and it seems to be working.

He said he knows there have been some concerns about liability, but said he would hate to lose the adults. Several contribute above and beyond the $2 admission. One has offered to repair equipment at the facility.

Currently, the facility is open to students from 3:15 to 5:30 p.m., and open to the public from 5:30 to 7 p.m., and from 6 to 7 a.m. Monday through Friday. On Friday, it closes at 5 p.m.

During the summer it is open from 7 to 10 a.m. and from 4 to 7 p.m. On Fridays it is open from 3 to 5 p.m. Mumm said a lot of students go through the program in the summer.

The non-compete clause states: "The Joint Powers Board members shall not offer any competing exercise facilities, weight room facilities, wellness facilities or fitness

"Career Explorations" course to be offered to help women decide on a career choice for their future

by Amy Branscomb
Northern Watch reporter

"Career Explorations" is a one week class that focuses on choosing a career. It will be offered January 27 through 31 from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. daily, with a break for lunch.

"Career Explorations" is open to women who are undecided in going to school, those who are undecided on a career, or those choosing a nontraditional career.

Nontraditional occupations for women are those skilled and technical jobs which employ fewer than 25 percent women. nontraditional careers include: auto body and service, aviation, broadcasting, drafting, welding, law enforcement, electronics and computer repair.

Today women have the freedom to follow their own personal needs, interests, aptitudes and values toward expanded career options, and the potential of much higher wages. Although all participant will explore nontraditional career options, participants are encouraged to find the career that is right for them.

Half of the class time will be spent in group activities discussing various career options. The other half of the class will consist of hands-on explorations. The women will actually get to try out some of the nontraditional jobs such as welding and changing spark plugs.

Christina Hamm took the class last October and felt that it really helped her. "I really didn't know what I wanted to do. They took us all over and let us try out things," she stated. Christina knew that she wanted to do something working with computers and knew that she liked the secretarial field. With the help of "Career Explorations" she was able to decide on legal secretary as a career path for herself.

"I learned how being a legal secretary would benefit me," Christina said. Christina had been out of school for six years and had a four year old son at home and knew that it was time for her to decide on a career. "It was hard to decide to go back. I had had so many different jobs that I didn't know what I wanted to do," she commented.

There are a lot of women out there who feel the same way that Christina did. These women are of all ages, from high school on up. It is a hard decision to make whether or not you want to go to school and what you want to do for the rest of your life.

That was the reason that "Career Explorations" was created. Shawn MacDonald, director of the Women's Resource Center and coordinator of "Career Explorations" stated "The purpose is helping women become economically self-sufficient."

Participants of "Career Explorations" will also take the assessment test necessary to enter into college. This will help them in their decision to decide on a major. For instance if they find out they are poor in English, they can decide not to become an English major.

The course also covers issues of self-esteem, values and goals, decision making, and overcoming barriers. Participants will receive information on financial aid and assistance with completing application and financial aid forms.

If you are in a transition from one career to another, thinking about starting college, looking for retraining, looking for a career that provides a good wage, considering entering a technical or nontraditional occupation, or are uncertain of your career choice, then "Career Explorations" is something you should consider.

Cost of the class is $47 and includes the workbook that will be used in class. There are scholarships to cover the entire cost of the class. Scholarships are available to single parents, displaced homemakers, single pregnant women, and women interested in exploring nontraditional careers. Child care and transportation assistance based on need is also available.

For more information, or to receive an application, contact Shawn MacDonald at 681-0779 or toll-free at 1-800-959-6282 ext. 0779. Or you may contact Sue Dupree at Crossroads at 681-8158 or toll-free at 1-800-450-8158.

Morning fire ruled an accident

Fertile – Last Thursday morning a 911 call reported a fire at the Harvest States Lakeland Seed Plant southeast of Fertile. Fertile Fire Department was the department that took the initial call. Fire Chief Randy Hansen mentioned that right away he called for the mutual aide (help from other departments).

The fire, according to the Minnesota State Fire Marshall Investigator, started near a semi-tractor parked in the alley-way of the elevator.

Chief Hansen said the building was totally engulfed in flames when they arrived. When asked if the facility will be rebuilt, Jim Tholund commented that "there were no firm plans - not sure of anything at the moment."

USWP grower meetings set in EGF, Hallock

United Spring Wheat Processors (USWP) will conduct two of its series of grower information meetings on Friday, January 24, at 9 a.m. at the Comfort Inn of East Grand Forks and 2 p.m. in the city hall at Hallock. Each meeting will last approximately 90 minutes.

According to Gary Lee, president and CEO of the grower cooperative, he will discuss industry performance and the strategy USWP will follow to develop its business plan. An update will be given on grower participation and discussion held on how growers can benefit from equity growth, cash flow, business growth and leverage.

A review will also be provided of USWP's subscription and escrow fund deposit agreement, including how the funds will be invested, and an overview presented of USWP bylaws and financial structure.

Lee said that more than 4,700 USWP growers have put up $200 each in seed money to get the project off the ground. An escrow investment of an additional $4,800 is due by Feb. 10, 1997 to receive membership in the cooperative. Growers who invest the $4,800 will have the opportunity to convert their membership to equity stock later.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

How tiresome - another storm this weekend? Time to make more soup, this time from the First Lutheran Church of Stephen cookbook.

Here is a really simple soup you can make in minutes:

BACON AND CORN SOUP

6 slices bacon, cooked and diced
1 (17 ounce) can cream style corn
1 (13 ounce) can evaporated milk
1 can cream of potato soup
1 cup water
Salt and pepper to taste

Combine ingredients and heat to simmering.

This soup will make a hearty meal:

MIDWEST CHOWDER

2 cups diced potatoes
1/2 cup diced celery
2 cups boiling water
1/2 cup sliced carrots
1/2 cup chopped onion
Salt and pepper
3 teaspoons margarine
1/4 cup flour
2 cups skim milk
3/4 pound shredded cheese
2 cups cream style corn

Add water to potatoes, celery, carrots and onion and simmer for 10 minutes. Cover.

Make white sauce as follows: melt margarine, add flour gradually. Add milk, a little at a time. Add cheese and then corn and above vegetables. DO NOT BOIL or it will curdle.

This is a different recipe for wild rice soup than the crock pot one last week:

WILD RICE SOUP

1/2 cup wild rice, cooked
2 cans cream of potato soup
1 pound bacon, fried and crumbled
1/2 large onion
2 cups milk
1 pound Velveeta cheese
1 pint half and half

Saute onions and bacon together. Warm cream, milk, soups and cheese. Add bacon, onion and rice and simmer.

Get raves with this made-from-scratch favorite:

BEER CHEESE SOUP

1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
3/4 cup flour (or less)
4 cups hot chicken broth
1 1/2 cups cream
16 ounce jar Cheese Whiz
6 ounces beer
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Yellow food color
1/4 cup chopped chives (optional)

Mix butter, onion and flour until completely blended. Add hot chicken broth and cream, mixing until smooth and thick.

Add Cheese Whiz and mix until cheese melts and mixture is smooth. Add beer and Worcestershire and then add food coloring and chives.

Simmer 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serve hot and top with popcorn.

John P. Mattson, Publisher

Editorial opinion published under this heading is intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. Unless specified otherwise, the editorials are written by Editor Mervin Lundin and do not represent opinion of other staff members. Opinions in items from other publications may not coincide with the editor's own views but are offered for their general interest.

Privacy And Computers ....Mutually Exclusive?

A couple of times in the last several weeks we have editorialized on the intrusion computer systems have made, are making and can be expected to make in the lives of U.S. citizens. While optimists look at the myriad of things computerization can do for you, realists consider what that same technology can to to you.

In the December 21 Northern Watch in an editorial titled "Another Possibility In The World of Computers," we discussed installation of on-board computers in motor vehicles by which government agencies could monitor by satellite its movement or location at any time anywhere, and at the touch of a button prevent its operation.

In the December 28 issue in an editorial entitled "Computer Tattoo," we questioned the necessity of the federal government's need for registering children at birth with a Social Security number. We compared it with the ominous tattoo we recall being shown on the arm of former Thief River Falls resident George Singer, a survivor of the Nazi's Auschwitz concentration camp.

Computer optimists are sure to consider strong distrust of governments and their accumulation and linkage of computer systems and networks as acute paranoia. We live in a land where personal freedom is a right and a tradition and where government was created to preserve and protect the freedoms defined in our Constitution. Certainly no one elected to federal government office and taking an oath to uphold the Constitution would tolerate erosion of private rights and consolidation of control in a central government.

Such a belief is idealistic and we wish that it were true. Unfortunately, the record shows that our elected officials—perhaps with the best of intentions to insure our safety and assist in law enforcement—have given away individual privacy rights on a wholesale basis for a number of years. And private citizens as individuals have gone along with the flow with little if any objection or expression of concern.

The rationale for acceptance is summarized in a brief statement by U.S. Attorney General Janet Reno, who should be the nation's chief protector of personal freedoms: "To stop terrorism and organized crime the American people must give up some of their personal freedom and privacy."

A key to people control by government is financial control. An effective system of financial surveillance infrastructure has already been permitted and is in place through acts of Congress. These include the Crime Control Act of 1968; Currency and Foreign Transactions Reporting Act of 1970 (Bank Secrecy Act), Tax Reform Act of 1982; Tax Reform Act of 1984; Money Laundering Control Act of 1986; Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988; Revenue Reconciliation Act of 1990; Annunzio-Wylie Anti-Money Laundering Act of 1992; Money Laundering Suppression Act of 1994; Truth in Lending Act; Equal Credit Opportunity Act; Consumer Credit Collection Act; Fair Credit Billing Act; Fair Debt Collection Practices Act; Fair Credit Reporting Act; Racketeering and Corrupt Organizations Act of 1970; Comprehensive Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Act of 1970; Right to Financial Privacy Act of 1978; Comprehensive Crime Control Act of 1984; and various federal and state securities acts.

While the expressed intentions of many of these acts are laudable from the standpoint of detecting criminal activity, together they establish a tightly-knit network of financial reporting requirements. Most importantly, there is no effective limit to the distribution of this information once it has been collected. Agencies of government and private companies and organizations routinely access and utilize stored information.

As authorized in 1988 anti-drug legislation, the Treasury Department has created an intelligence division called Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN). It is a computerized operation, international in scope, that collects and analyzes data to unearth criminal activity. Its efforts involve more than two dozen federal agencies; state, local and foreign police agencies, and a variety of public and private data bases.

FinCEN creates a financial dossier of individuals making large currency transactions, then matches these profiles against typical patterns of persons engaged in illegal activity. To construct these profiles, FinCEN uses databases from the IRS, FBI, Drug Enforcement Administration, Secret Service, Customs Service, Postal Service, Census Bureau, CIA, National Security Agency (which intercepts data on international wire transfers), Defense Intelligence Agency, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, Immigration and Naturalization Service, National Security Council, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, Comptroller of the Currency, Federal Reserve and the State Department's Bureau of Intelligence and Research.

FinCEN also accesses state records of real estate ownership, property tax payments, motor vehicle ownership and driver licenses along with commercial databases that involve credit records, telephone records, magazine subscription lists and even supermarket purchase data. All are available to FinCEN without a warrant.

In one example, police salvaged a slip of paper that a small-time East Coast drug dealer tried to swallow before being arrested. It contained only a scribbled phone number and what appeared to be the name John. With only this information, a FinCEN analyst with access to its computer network found the name of a local restaurant, the owner of the restaurant whose name was John, his full name, Social Security number date of birth, home address, driver's license number and personal information including bank account numbers.

Further checking of the database revealed more than 150 Currency Transaction Reports (CTRs) filed on behalf of John, that his projected annual revenue for his restaurant was substantially less than his deposits, that he owned other properties and businesses which also revealed suspicious transaction reports.

In less than 45 minutes after receiving the police request for assistance, FinCEN had retrieved enough evidence of criminal wrongdoing that the district attorney was able to seek indictments against John on charges of money laundering and conspiracy to traffic narcotics.

Hooray for computer profiling in law enforcement!

On Oct. 2, 1992, in Ventura county, California, 62-year-old Donald Scott awoke to hear his door being battered down and a cry for help from his wife. He rushed downstairs with a handgun and was confronted by an armed man who ordered him to lower his gun. He did so and was shot twice in the chest, being killed instantly.

The intruder was one of 31 officers and agents from the Los Angeles County sheriff's department, Drug Enforcement Agency, California Bureau of Narcotics, California National Guard and National Park Service. The raid was conducted after a tip that Scott was growing marijuana on his 200-acre estate, a report that his wife "was spending $100 bills," and a computer profile which analyzed values of surrounding parcels of land and the Scotts' personal financial records. No drugs of any kind were ever found. Oops, sorry, never mind!

Boo to computer profiling in law enforcement!

Millions of Americans have a similar financial profile to the late Donald Scott. The government has built a computerized financial surveillance infrastructure that identifies visible assets, ties the owner of those assets to potentially suspect activities or cash transactions, and brings the most promising potential targets to the attention of bureaucrats.

What's next? The proponents of control will continue to push to require citizens to carry national identification cards and to eliminate cash in favor of electronic transactions. How can individual citizens stem this tide which inundates our private lives? And how far can we let our government go before it will have gone too far?

Red River shuts out TRF 3-0

Grand Forks Red River scored late in the first period and early in the second period Tuesday, then added an odd-bouncing clincher midway through the third period for a 3-0 high school hockey win over Thief River Falls at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center.

Red River goalie Chris Decker came up with an 18-save shutout against a team that has struggled throughout a 2-8-1 season to put the puck in the net. The Prowlers have been shut out twice, and limited to a pair of goals or less on five occasions this winter.

"Goals have been hard to come by," acknowledged Thief River Falls coach Pat Cullen.

Lacking an offensive punch, the Prowlers have tried to play conservative, close-to-the-vest hockey. It keeps things close, but leaves little room for error.

The first period was a perfect example. It was a scoreless contest featuring mostly center-ice exchanges before a Thief River Falls penalty led to a power play goal for John Lunski. The senior forward jumped on a rebound off to the right of Thief River Falls goalie Brian Barry, slamming home a 15-footer with just 50 seconds left in the period.

"We were doing all right in the first period, then we took a bad penalty," explained Cullen. "You can't give a team like that power play opportunities. I think that's maybe as good a team we've played this year. They have a group of forwards and defensemen who move the puck extremely well."

While it took the Roughriders 14 minutes to get their first goal, it took just 46 seconds of the second period to make it 2-0 when Mark Bry was given an uncontested slap shot from the point.

Cullen altered his lines before the Prowlers hit the ice for the third period and they responded with some early pressure – but no goals.

"I thought the third period was our best period," offered Cullen. "We had a little jump in our step. We had some opportunities. But we've been snake-bit on those all year. We haven't had any of those go in for us."

Jared Ottinger picked up the final goal at 6:47 of the third period after a Thief River Falls turnover and a deflected pass put the puck in the slot and a weak bouncer eluded Barry.

"Overall, I thought we played okay defensively, but individually some of our kids didn't have their best games," said Cullen. "I think we're getting better. We're doing a better job in our end of the rink, although tonight might have been a bad indicator because of the caliber of team we were facing."

Barry wound up with 36 saves, twice as many as Decker.

Scoring

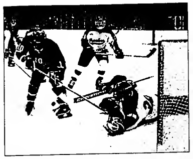
First period - RR, Josh Lunski (Mark Bry-Mike Johnson), 14:10

Second period - RR, Bry (David Ottinger), :46

Third period - RR, Jared Ottinger (un.), 6:47

Goalie Saves

TRF - Brian Barry 9-11-16 – 36; RR - Chris Decker 8-4-6 - 18



Thief River Falls goalie Brian Barry stretched across the crease as he made the save on Grand Forks Red River forward Brian Horner during Tuesday's high school hockey game at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center. Thief River Falls defenseman Ben Furuseth trailed the play. The Roughriders won 3-0.

Huskies' defense leads to win over Tri-County 46-36

Goodridge defense shut down Tri-County Tuesday as the Huskies knocked off the previous unbeaten Wildcats 46-36 in Goodridge.

The day before Goodridge stopped Kittson County North 57-37.

"I'm really proud of the kids," said Goodridge coach Eric Mickelson. "They're working really hard on defense, and offensively we've been patient, looking for the good shots."

It's a formula that has produced a 7-2 record to date.

Alternating between a zone and man-to-man defense, Goodridge limited an 8-0 Tri-County team to just nine first half points.

Ahead at the quarters 9-4, 18-9 and 30-23, the Huskies finally secured the win when Ben Hanson converted a rebound into a three-point play to expand an eight-point lead to 11 with a minute to play.

Chris Grabowska turned in an 18-point, 14 rebound game for the winners, and Jim Scheef had a 10-point, 9-rebound effort as the Huskies beat the Wildcats on the boards 41-24.

Goodridge was 14-for-37 from the field (38 percent) and 18-for-26 at the free throw line.

Tri-County struggled through a 29 percent 14-for-49 shooting performance and was a quiet 3-for-4 at the line.

Eagles' free throws add up

Grygla-Gatzke didn't shoot free throws particularly well, but the Eagles shot enough of them, and they connected down the stretch Tuesday in a 59-42 boys high school basketball win over host Marshall County Central.

Percentage-wise, it wasn't much to write home about, but sheer numbers added up as the Eagles went 18-for-31 at the line, where the Nordics had a quiet 6-for-12 night. Grygla-Gatzke did make 12 of 17 fourth quarter free throws to widen the scoreboard gap.

The Eagles are 7-0; the Nordics fell to 3-7.

"The final score was not indicative of the type of game it was," said Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson. "It was a very close game. I thought they (Nordics) out-played us. We did have a good third quarter, though, and that kind of made the difference. And we made our free throws at the end. But I don't want to take anything away from them; they played well."

Marshall County Central turned a 13-11 first quarter deficit into a 20-18 halftime edge, but came out of the the third quarter trailing 41-31.

"I thought we played a good first half," noted Marshall County Central coach Ron Ueland, "but we turned the ball over way too many times in the second half. They (Eagles) picked up their intensity on defense, and we didn't do a very good job responding."

From the field, the Eagles made 20 of 47 (37 percent) and the Nordics 18 of 46 (39 percent).

Marshall County Central finished with a 30-21 rebound advantage, but also had 26 of the game's 38 turnovers.

Pioneers beat Bottineau 60-47...

NCTC women tune up for MCCC league play

Mission accomplished. Idle since Dec. 21, the Northland Community and Technical College women's basketball team needed a refresher course before beginning the 1996-97 Minnesota Community College Conference schedule this weekend. The Pioneers headed to Bottineau Tuesday to get their legs back, and returned with a 60-47 win.

"We were pretty rusty after the long break and the long trip," pointed out Northland coach Rick Nikunen. "We were real sluggish in the first half. We did a better job in the second half."

The Pioneers, who were just 4-for-17 at the free throw line in the first half, led just 29-26 at intermission. They were 17-for-32 for the game, but did make 7 of 10 over the final six minutes.

"We didn't shoot free throws very well, but we made them at the end when we needed them," noted Nikunen.

Minot State University-Bottineau also had a busy night at the line, going 14-for-28.

Northland is 5-2.

Pioneers drop a pair

It wasn't quite the way Mark Dannhoff wanted to re-start the 1996-97 season, but long trips into North Dakota did help shake some of the cobwebs out as his Northland Community and Technical College men's basketball ended a three-week holiday break with a Friday trip to UND-Williston and a Monday drive to Minot State University-Bottineau. And lost them both.

Williston, with three University of Texas recruits in the line-up, drilled Northland 113-61. Bottineau didn't have that kind of talent, but did shoot 41 free throws in winning 87-77.

"It was our worst performance of the year," said Dannhoff after returning from Williston. Northland isn't strong, physically, in the middle, and that's where Williston features future Longhorns who stand 6-9 and 6-8. Texas also has sights set on the Williston point guard.

"They have a good team," noted Dannhoff. "That, plus the fact we didn't play well; we hadn't played in three weeks; and the long trip all added up."

The Pioneers' play improved at Bottineau, but they couldn't stop the winners' 29-for-41 parade to the line.

"We played well, but we weren't allowed to play defense," explained Dannhoff. "I was real proud of the kids for the way they held their composure when they were put in situations like that in back to back games."

Northland starts conference play this weekend 4-4 overall.

EGF turns free throws into win against RLCC

Free throws made the difference Tuesday as Red Lake County Central lost a 51-44 girls high school basketball decision at East Grand Forks.

The Green Wave went 19-for-29 at the free throw-line, compared to the Mustangs' 5-for-10 showing.

Although she still finished with a game-high 24 points, early foul trouble put Red Lake County Central standout Angie Chervestad on the bench and turned the Mustangs' 11-10 first quarter lead into a 21-17 halftime deficit.

"With Angie sitting on the bench, it takes quite a bit away from us," noted Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto, whose team is 3-6.

The Green Wave had a 31-23 third quarter lead.

From the field, Red Lake County Central was 19-for-47 (40 percent) and East Grand Forks was 15-for-39 (38 percent). The Mustangs beat the Green Wave on the boards 32-26, but had more turnovers, 22-14.

Ponies out-defense Gators 44-35 to win Monday boys game

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River put together a strong defensive effort, but paid the price for a 7 1/2 second half scoreless stretch in a 44-35 Monday boys high school basketball loss to Warren-Alvarado-Oslo.

The Gators were up 19-16 at halftime, but came out of the third quarter trailing 31-24.

"It was an excellent defensive game on both sides," pointed out Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Eldon Sparby. "We had an excellent first half, but we hit that stretch in the second half where we couldn't hit a thing."

Neither team shot well. Badger/Greenbush-Middle River was 12-for-55 (22 percent), while Warren-Alvarado-Oslo went 16-for-57 (28 percent). The Gators were 10-for-14 at the free throw line; the Ponies went 9-for-15.

It was the only start of the week for the 4-6 Gators.

Weather postpones Thursday contests

Thursday's area high school sports schedule was erased by the weather.

Thief River Falls postponements included wrestling at Fertile-Beltrami, hockey vs. Crookston, boys swimming vs. Detroit Lakes, and freshman boys basketball at Warren-Alvarado-Oslo.

Three area Thursday girls high school basketball games called off Thursday included Red Lake County Central vs. East Grand Forks Sacred Heart; Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke vs. Tri-County; and Badger/Greenbush-Middle River vs. Marshall County Central.

Mustangs beaten 77-51

■ Poor shooting results in loss to Mahnomen

Red Lake County Central shot just 26 percent from the field in losing a 77-51 Tuesday boys high school basketball game at Mahnomen.

The Mustangs trailed only 16-13 at the end of the first quarter, but 7-for-36 first half shooting produced a 41-24 halftime deficit. It was 59-40 through three quarters.

"We came out flat in the second quarter," said Red Lake County Central coach Ryan Sedler. "They (Mahnomen) played well. We just didn't shoot very well. We were getting good shots, but we weren't hitting them."

The loss dropped the Mustangs to 3-6.

Red River wins 4-3 over TRF JV squad

Grand Forks Red River scored three times in the first 2 1/2 minutes, then held on for a 4-3 junior varsity high school hockey win over Thief River Falls Tuesday.

It was 4-0 before goals by Jayme Holmes, Tony Fletcher and Billy Puppe closed the gap.

Mike Dowers was in goal for the 1-9 Prowlers, who out-shot Red River 24-14.

Thief River Falls Chapter of the Rotary club, district 5580, has donated an Arctic Cat Bearcat 454 to a Rotary club in Santa Barbara, Honduras. Tom Greelis, Thief River Falls chapter president, said the four-wheeler will be used by Rotary club teams providing assistance to people in rural areas of Honduras. A team of 50 people from this area, including doctors, optometrists, carpenters, and lay people, will be visiting the country to help build schools, water tanks, septic systems, and provide medical assistance. The team leader will be Dr. Ted Will of Bemidji. The four-wheeler will be used to take equipment up into the mountains. The local Rotary club raised over $6,000 to purchase the four-wheeler and spare parts and equipment. Greelis said it will be taken to Honduras sometime in mid January. The local club is still raising money for the project. A pancake breakfast will be held by the club on Sunday from 6:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Eagles Club. Admission is $2 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12.

Livestock waste management forums slated

Minnesota Department of Agriculture, Minnesota Pollution Control Agency, Board of Water and Soil Resources, Minnesota Extension Service and the Natural Resource Conservation Service are co-sponsoring a series of forums entitled "Manure Management: An Update on State and Federal Programs and Policies."

One of the five state-wide sessions has been scheduled for Wednesday, January 15, at the Eagles Club in Detroit Lakes. For further information contact the Otter Tail county extension office at 218-385-3000.

Representatives from each of the sponsoring agencies will discuss their roles and responsibilities and present information on new programs and policies related to feedlot and livestock waste management. Topics will include the new Environmental Quality Incentives Program, MDA's Best Management Practices for manure management, recent revisions of the MPCA feedlot permitting rules and manure odor research.

Personnel from county Natural Resource Conservation Service, Soil and Water Conservation District and Minnesota Extension Service offices, county commissioners, feedlot officers, planning and zoning personnel, township officers and others will have the opportunity to question agency staff about policies and programs related to feedlot issues at the local level.

State agency representatives will also become better informed about how county and local staff work together to serve Minnesota's livestock farmers. Registration fee of $12 includes lunch, breaks and handout materials.

Immunization clinic to be held

There will be an immunization clinic on January 18 from 9 to 10:30 a.m. by appointment only at the Inter-County Nursing Service office in Thief River Falls. Cost of the immunizations are $5 each, no one will be denied an immunization due to lack of payment.

All 7th grade students are required to receive their second MMR to remain in school. All 7th and 12th grade students are now required to have a booster Td to remain in school. For an appointment, call 681-5950.

Sunday meal

The Sunday meal at the Heritage Center will be served at 12 noon and will be a ham dinner. Call 681-2793 for reservations.

A Prime Combination of Earning Power and Capital Preservation

The idea is simple: invest in a portfolio of senior loans originated by major banks across the country... a strategy that seeks a high level of current income, consistent with preservation of capital.

Van Kampen American Capital Prime Rate Income Trust...

FUND OBJECTIVES
- High current income, paid monthly
- Preservation of capital
- An effective yield, which over time, approximates the prime rate

FUND FEATURES & BENEFITS
- A continuously offered closed-end load
- Potential for high current income from a portfolio consisting primarily of senior bank loans
- History of relative NAV stability—the floating-rate senior loans in which the Trust primarily invests, may adjust over time with interest rate movements, thereby helping to minimize changes in net asset value (sudden or extreme movements in interest rates could have an adverse effect on the Trust's NAV)
- Professional management by experienced analysts
- No initial sales charge (early withdrawal charge on shares held for less than five years)
- Liquidity—shares may be liquidated only at quarterly tenders which are at the discretion of the Board of Trustees

Dale Zaiser retires

Warroad – After 14 years of dedicated service as Warroad's City Clerk, Dale Zaiser has retired. As City Clerk, Zaiser over saw the daily operations of the city and worked with many other department heads in the best interest of the community.

Zaiser, who is originally from Warroad, plans to stay in the area and take it easy. The city currently doesn't have a replacement for Zaiser, so there will be many adjustments taking place in his absence. "Certainly Dale will be missed," said mayor Bob Marvin.

Skoe sworn in

Clearwater County – At the first County Board meeting of the new year on Tuesday, January 7 District 4 County Commissioner Rod Skoe, replacing retired Commissioner Clayton Steenerson, was sworn into office.

Commissioner Dennis Fultz who won his reelection for District 2 Commissioner and was to be sworn in also, was not able to attend because of emergency surgery. Commissioner Fultz will be sworn in at a later date.

Dornbusch named to school board

Red Lake Falls – Interviews were held last week with five candidates for the Red Lake Falls School Board position that was left open when board member Josie Myhre resigned late last year.

Dave Dornbusch was selected by the other six members on the school board. Dornbusch is a district conservationist, working for the Natural Resource Conservation Service. Others vying for the position were Neal Vraa, Dennis Haglund, Robin Foster and Allen Bertilrud. Dornbusch took his position on the board and participated in making decisions to reorganize for the new year.

Internet Grant

Crookston – Crookston and 14 other schools in the area have received a $750,000 grant to create a pilot program that will eventually set up a "Learning Resources Network" on the Internet.

Superintendent Jim Torbert, who announced the grant at Monday's School Board meeting, said the state will now start the process of selecting a vendor that will carry out the curriculum library.

The grant was the only one of its kind awarded in Minnesota. The other schools involved include Ada-Borup, Warren-Alvarado-Oslo, East Grand Forks, Fertile-Beltrami, Climax-Fischer, Fosston, Norman County West, Norman County East, Greenbush-Middle River, Kittson Central, Lancaster, Plummer, Stephen-Argyle and Tri-County.

Each school will be connected to a comprehensive K-12 curriculum, and the Internet will provide access to the curriculum library.

The partnership was initiated by Kristin Anderson, former Lincoln School principal and head of Community Education and ECFE in Crookston, and current superintendent of Fertile-Beltrami schools. Brenda Finkenbinder, former executive director of the District 593 Education Foundation, wrote the grant.

Meeting series on feedlots set

In an effort to provide livestock producers with an opportunity to comment and ask questions regarding feedlot changes being implemented by the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency (MPCA), a series of meetings has been scheduled in northwest Minnesota.

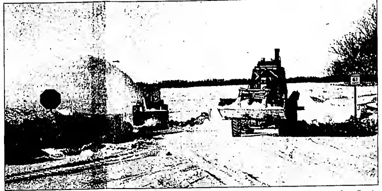
The MPCA is seeking a number of changes to the law and rules regulating livestock feedlots which will affect any livestock producer with over 50 animal units. An animal unit is considered to be one 1,000 pound animal, so the new rules will affect virtually all commercial livestock operations.

Meetings are scheduled for Tuesday, January 28, at 9:30 a.m. at Whit's Cafe in Lancaster and 1:30 p.m. at the community center in Warroad, Wednesday, January 29, at 9:30 a.m. in the courthouse meeting room in Thief River Falls and 2 p.m. at the American Legion club rooms in Bagley; and Thursday, January 30, at 1:30 p.m. in the community center at Twin Valley.

Staff from the MPCA will discuss pollution concerns for the state and perceived problems with current law as well as the proposed changes to the current rules. Howard Person, Pennington county extension educator, will provide examples of how these proposed changes would affect an average beef or dairy operation in northwest Minnesota.

Minnesota extension service and the MPCA also hope the meetings will allow producers an opportunity to provide input into the rule-making process, timeline for implementation and a means to learn more about the rules and how they will affect livestock producers in the state.

All of the meetings are open to the public and all livestock producers are especially encouraged to attend the session most convenient for them.



Dennis Nelson and Conrad Hoftan of the Pennington County Highway department were busy Thursday, January 16, clearing the 10-foot high snow drift blocking County road 61 at Highway 10. Snow like this is becoming an all too common site for highway departments in northwestern Minnesota. According to Pennington County Engineer, their annual supply of salt (40 tons) has already been used up. In addition, county employees are putting in considerable hours of overtime.

President declares snow disaster

Minnesota Governor Arne Carlson has announced that President Clinton signed Minnesota's request for emergency assistance. Governor Carlson submitted the request in a letter to the President on Tuesday because of heavy snow and blizzard conditions that closed roads in much of the state.

"We are grateful for the assistance from the federal government. We welcome the cooperation between Minnesota and Washington. It is important for the safety of our citizens that we keep our roadways open," said Governor Carlson.

State and local governments have had difficulty opening roads to travel because of the heavy snowfall and high winds that have caused snow drifts up to 20 feet high. The federal assistance will be available for "reimbursement of costs of equipment, contracts and personnel overtime required to clear one lane in each direction along snow emergency routes or (select primary roads in those communities without such designated roadways) and routes necessary to allow the passage of emergency vehicles to hospitals, nursing homes and other critical facilities."

Emergency Management Director Jim Franklin emphasized that the financial support from this emergency assistance will go to local governments in 40 counties in western and southwestern Minnesota. It will not be available to individuals who have experienced damage.

Counties eligible for the federal assistance include: Becker, Big Stone, Blue Earth, Brown, Chippewa, Clay, Clearwater, Cottonwood, Douglas, Faribault, Grant, Jackson, Kandiyohi, Kittson, Lac qui Parle, Lincoln, Lyon, Mahnomen, Marshall, Martin, Murray, Nicollet, Nobles, Norman, Otter Tail, Pennington, Pipestone, Polk, Pope, Red Lake, Redwood, Renville, Rock, Roseau, Stevens, Swift, Traverse, Watonwan, Wilkin, and Yellow Medicine.

Thursday, Governor Carlson in his State of the State Address asked the Legislature to put $20 million into a disaster aid fund to help Minnesota with emergency needs caused by recent winter storms. The Governor asked the Legislature to suspend its rules and approve the aid on a bipartisan basis.

In addition, the Governor asked Emergency Management Director Jim Franklin to coordinate planning to manage flooding which is likely this spring.

"We are already preparing for possible flooding in many areas of the state. This emergency assistance will help us with that plan and with our current snow fight. Minnesota has a long way to go until we recover from the recent blizzards," said Franklin.

Over the past few days, Governor Carlson has called several Minnesota National Guard members to active duty to assist in plowing and blowing snow and for rescue missions in areas of western Minnesota hardest hit by the storms. National Guard equipment has also been sent to the area.

"I am pleased to see the cooperation and efforts of all Minnesotans over the last several days in assisting those in western Minnesota. I want to thank Jim Franklin, the Minnesota Department of Transportation, emergency management officials and local government workers for their efforts. This emergency assistance will give emergency workers across the state the resources they need to protect the safety of our citizens.

Lincoln High school freshman class representatives, Brea Hammar, daughter of Lynn and Carol Hammar, and Brady Anderson, son of Mike and Paula Anderson, were named king and queen of Sno-Fast. Sno-Fast activities were postponed last week because of the blizzard and held Tuesday afternoon at Lincoln High school.

City approves lease for Wellness Center at MECC

Tuesday night, Thief River Falls City Council concurred with the Joint Powers Board of the Multi-Events Cultural Center to approve the lease agreement for the Wellness Center with Thief River Life Center. The agreement was approved on a vote of 6 to 1.

The "no compete" clause of the contract was a sticking point in the discussion. Dale Wennberg, city council representative, was concerned that it might interfere with what the city does at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center (HDMCC) in the future.

Wennberg asked whether it would mean the city could no longer offer its walking program at the HDMCC. Wennberg also noted what he believes is an apparent contradiction in preventing "competition" when Thief River Life Center will be in direct competition with the hospital.

Council Representative Dave Carlson, said in his opinion a strict interpretation of the clause could mean some activities could not be conducted. "It could limit our creativity in the future," he said.

Rick Nelson, project director for the MECC, said the clause gives Thief River Life Center some recourse if it sees direct competition from the organizations leasing the center to TR Life Center. He explained that they just want the support of the members of the Joint Powers board.

Carlson later voted for the motion to approve the agreement, but Wennberg said he could not support the no compete clause.

■ Prior to discussion of the lease agreement, the council also discussed the proposal for operations and management. The agreement sets out which governmental agency on the Joint Powers board is responsible for what element of the MECC. After some corrections and minor changes were explained and requested, the council approved the operations and management agreement.

Plummer Recreation Center offers activities to area youth

by Amy Branscomb
Northern Watch reporter

Imagine a place where the youth of the area can go to hang-out and relax with their friends and not worry about the pressures of drugs and alcohol. A place where they can play pool and board games for free and not have to worry about a cover charge. The Plummer Recreation Center in Plummer offers just that to the youth in its community.

The Plummer Recreation Center has been open for just over two years and continues to be a gathering place for youth and adults alike.

It was decided by the school board that there was a need for the Center. "There was no place for students to go in the evening after school was closed," commented Richard Lorenson, Superindentant of the Plummer School.

The Plummer Recreation Center is an extension of the Plummer High School. The accounting II class conducts all of the daily operations of the Center. Some of their duties include counting the receipts, making daily deposits, ordering inventory, sweeping and mopping floors, taking out the garbage and recycling. They also make minor repairs, replace inventory on the shelves and assist with painting projects. The class has developed stationery, monthly calenders, thank-you cards, banners and planned special events. "We are always looking for ways to work our curriculum into the Rec. Center," Lorenson commented.

The Center is governed by a board consisting of students, parents, grandparents and community members. There is one representative from each grade in 7-12 grade and there are two members from the board.

It is a drug-free, alcohol-free and smoke-free facility that is open 43 hours per week. The Center is open from 3 until 10 p.m. each night Sunday through Saturday. It opens right after the school closes on school days, so it is an ideal place for students to go if they need someplace to stay until their parents can pick them up after work.

The sports bus will drop students off at the Center after a game so that they can go inside and make calls to get rides home.

Activities for youth include two pool tables, air hockey, pin ball and various video games. There is also cable TV, board games and ping pong and it is all offered to the youth at no charge. There are also snacks and beverages available for the students to purchase.

The Center received a grant this past year to help them get the Center underway. They now own all of the equipment in the Center. The only thing they pay for the building is the insurance and taxes. Water and garbage are donated by the city to the Center. It is a very inexpensive facility to run, and any revenues made from the pool tables and air hockey machines go right back into the Center.

The Center is run by volunteers except for one grandmother, Beryl Fritz, who is very dedicated and works through the Green Thumb program. She works from 15 to 20 hours per week. Volunteers come from Thief River Falls, Red Lake Falls, Oklee, St. Hilaire, Brooks and Plummer.

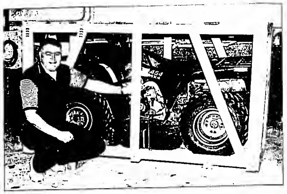
Lorenson feels that the center is very well received by residents of the community. "There is a very positive reaction from parents and the community. A good indicator of this is the number of volunteers in the community. Without the volunteers, it would have closed," stated Lorenson.

The Center is an extension of the school, but it is totally separate in the fact that residents do not pay taxes for the Center. All business related to the Center is independent of the school. The recreation board is separate from the school board. "There is not one dollar of school funds in the Center," stated Lorenson.

The school tries to use the Center as much as they can for school events. They have had the prom in there along with many class parties. It is also available to the public to use if needed, but they will not close the doors to students to have a party in the building.

The Center is a wonderful place for the youth to go and hang out in a non-threatening environment.

There are two pool tables, an air hockey table, a ping pong table and several video games that students can use at the Plummer Recreation Center. The machines are owned by the Center, so all the proceeds from the machines go back into the Center.



Thief River Falls Chapter of the Rotary club, district 5580, has donated an Arctic Cat Bearcat 454 to a Rotary club in Santa Barbara, Honduras. Tom Greelis, Thief River Falls chapter president, said the four-wheeler will be used by Rotary club teams providing assistance to people in rural areas of Honduras. A team of 50 people from this area, including doctors, optometrists, carpenters, and lay people, will be visiting the country to help build schools, water tanks, septic systems, and provide medical assistance. The team leader will be Dr. Ted Will of Bemidji. The four-wheeler will be used to take equipment up into the mountains. The local Rotary club raised over $6,000 to purchase the four-wheeler and spare parts and equipment. Greelis said it will be taken to Honduras sometime in mid January. The local club is still raising money for the project. A pancake breakfast will be held by the club on Sunday from 6:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Eagles Club. Admission is $2 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12.

Livestock waste management forums slated

Minnesota Department of Agriculture, Minnesota Pollution Control Agency, Board of Water and Soil Resources, Minnesota Extension Service and the Natural Resource Conservation Service are co-sponsoring a series of forums entitled "Manure Management: An Update on State and Federal Programs and Policies."

One of the five state-wide sessions has been scheduled for Wednesday, January 15, at the Eagles Club in Detroit Lakes. For further information contact the Otter Tail county extension office at 218-385-3000.

Representatives from each of the sponsoring agencies will discuss their roles and responsibilities and present information on new programs and policies related to feedlot and livestock waste management. Topics will include the new Environmental Quality Incentives Program, MDA's Best Management Practices for manure management, recent revisions of the MPCA feedlot permitting rules and manure odor research.

Personnel from county Natural Resource Conservation Service, Soil and Water Conservation District and Minnesota Extension Service offices, county commissioners, feedlot officers, planning and zoning personnel, township officers and others will have the opportunity to question agency staff about policies and programs related to feedlot issues at the local level.

State agency representatives will also become better informed about how county and local staff work together to serve Minnesota's livestock farmers. Registration fee of $12 includes lunch, breaks and handout materials.

Immunization clinic to be held

There will be an immunization clinic on January 18 from 9 to 10:30 a.m. by appointment only at the Inter-County Nursing Service office in Thief River Falls. Cost of the immunizations are $5 each, no one will be denied an immunization due to lack of payment.

All 7th grade students are required to receive their second MMR to remain in school. All 7th and 12th grade students are now required to have a booster Td to remain in school. For an appointment, call 681-5950.

Sunday meal

The Sunday meal at the Heritage Center will be served at 12 noon and will be a ham dinner. Call 681-2793 for reservations.

Dale Zaiser retires

Warroad – After 14 years of dedicated service as Warroad's City Clerk, Dale Zaiser has retired. As City Clerk, Zaiser over saw the daily operations of the city and worked with many other department heads in the best interest of the community.

Zaiser, who is originally from Warroad, plans to stay in the area and take it easy. The city currently doesn't have a replacement for Zaiser, so there will be many adjustments taking place in his absence. "Certainly Dale will be missed," said mayor Bob Marvin.

Red Lake Falls – Interviews were held last week with five candidates for the Red Lake Falls School Board position that was left open when board member Josie Myhre resigned late last year.

Dave Dornbusch was selected by the other six members on the school board. Dornbusch is a district conservationist, working for the Natural Resource Conservation Service. Others vying for the position were Neal Vraa, Dennis Haglund, Robin Foster and Allen Bertilrud. Dornbusch took his position on the board and participated in making decisions to reorganize for the new year.

Internet Grant

Crookston – Crookston and 14 other schools in the area have received a $750,000 grant to create a pilot program that will eventually set up a "Learning Resources Network" on the Internet.

Superintendent Jim Torben, who announced the grant at Monday's School Board meeting, said the state will now start the process of selecting a vendor that will carry out the curriculum library.

The grant was the only one of its kind awarded in Minnesota. The other schools involved include Ada-Borup, Warren-Alvarado-Oslo, East Grand Forks, Fertile-Beltrami, Climax-Fischer, Fosston, Norman County West, Norman County East, Greenbush-Middle River, Kittson Central, Lancaster, Plummer, Stephen-Argyle and Tri-County.

Each school will be connected to a comprehensive K-12 curriculum, and the Internet will provide access to the curriculum library.

The partnership was initiated by Kristin Anderson, former Lincoln School principal and head of Community Education and ECFE in Crookston, and current superintendent of Fertile-Beltrami schools. Brenda Finkenbinder, former executive director of the District 593 Education Foundation, wrote the grant.

Meeting series on feedlots set

In an effort to provide livestock producers with an opportunity to comment and ask questions regarding feedlot changes being implemented by the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency (MPCA), a series of meetings has been scheduled in northwest Minnesota.

The MPCA is seeking a number of changes to the law and rules regulating livestock feedlots which will affect any livestock producer with over 50 animal units. An animal unit is considered to be one 1,000 pound animal, so the new rules will affect virtually all commercial livestock operations.

Move snow removal equipment into areas of western Minnesota

Heavy equipment has been moved by the Minnesota Department of Transportation from eastern parts of the state to western areas to assist with snow removal in areas hit by several recent blizzards.

The equipment has included snow blowers and dozers which are needed to get the snow up and over the large banks. Some drifts are reported to be up to 20 feet high.

Gov. Arne Carlson called several Minnesota National Guard members to active duty to help plow snow. The Guard has sent large rotary snow blowers and four-track snow cat vehicles to the area for snow removal and rescue missions if they are necessary in the future.

Jim Franklin, emergency management director, has asked cities, counties and townships to provide information on their budget needs for the season. He said there has never been a comprehensive study done of how much it costs to move snow in Minnesota, and he is looking for data on this season and the past five years.

As of late Tuesday, January 14, nearly all roads in the state had been opened to two lanes. However, another storm on Wednesday and continuing into Thursday blocked many of the roads again and the Minnesota State Patrol and Department of Transportation closed a number of highways in western Minnesota.

Governor Carlson joined other public officials and law enforcement personnel in urging people not to travel during winter storms except for emergency situations.

"The safety of our citizens and the road and law enforcement workers are our first concern," he said.

*Rate as of 1/14/97. The Estimated Current Return is calculated by dividing the estimated net annual interest income per unit by the Public Offering Price. The return will vary with changes in either amount. The estimated Long-Term Return is calculated using a formula which (1) takes into consideration, and determines and factors in the relative weightings of the market values, yields (which take into account the amortization of premiums and the accretion of discounts) and estimated retirement dates of all of the bonds in a trust and (2) takes into account the expenses and sales charge associated with each unit.

Please call for a free prospectus for more complete information including charges, expenses, interest rate risk, and a discussion of the risks inherent in these types of investments. Read the prospectus carefully before you invest or send money. As with all similar investments, there are no assurances trust objectives will be met. Unit trusts are not insured and involve investment risk. You could receive more or less than your original purchase price.

*Most of the securities in the Trust are subject to greater market fluctuations and potential risk of loss of income and principal that are investments in lower-yielding, higher rated fixed income securities. The securities included in each Trust should be viewed as speculative and an investor should review his ability to assume the risks associated with speculative corporate bonds. A TRIBUTE TO ROCHELLE

Our Dearest Rochelle
Mother, wife, daughter, sister relative or friend
What a wonder you have been!

Your will to live and courageous battle to find a cure
Has amazed and inspired us all

As hard as it is to part it has been made easier because of the suffering you endured these last days on earth

On this day with God as our guide we pledge to you our love for your children and our promise to protect them from harm's way

We thank God above for the blessing of having you to love and the memories forever in our hearts.

Somehow some way with the grace of God we will go forward and face each new day missing you all along the way

We know your loved ones were waiting for you as you will be waiting for us
Goodbye – for now until we meet again at Heaven's Gate.

Robin Langevin
December 1996

We want to express our thanks to all our relatives, friends, church families & neighbors and the community for all the love and support shown us during Rochelle's illness and death. Thank you most of all for your prayers, also for all the food brought to our home, flowers, memorials, gifts to the children and the many other acts of kindness too numerous to mention, that helped us through each day. Special thanks to Pastor Merrill Kindall for his comfort and emotional support. Also to the Green Funeral Home for their help, the pallbearers, those who provided music, and the Covenant Women for serving lunch.

May God bless each of you,
The Families of Rochelle Pedersen

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

It's still soup weather and it will probably remain so for many more weeks, so save these recipes for future weekends.

Good tasting and good for you:

FRENCH ONION SOUP

4 cups thinly sliced onions
2 tablespoons flour
1 (10 1/2 ounce) can chicken broth
Dash of Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cup butter
2 (10 1/2 ounce) cans beef broth
1 soup can of water

Saute onion in butter until limp, not browned. Stir in flour. Add broths, water and Worcestershire. Simmer in heavy kettle for 30 minutes.

Serve with croutons on top, toasted and cubed French bread and parmesan cheese, French bread toasted with mozzarella cheese or cheese croutons.

Simple ingredients make a hearty main dish meal:

HEARTY HAMBURGER SOUP

1/2 pound hamburger
1 1/2 quarts water
2 cups canned tomatoes
2 cups sliced potatoes
1 cup sliced carrots
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup rice
1/8 teaspoon pepper

Brown hamburger and drain. Place in soup kettle and add water, vegetables, rice and seasonings. Cover and simmer 45-60 minutes.

How about that old favorite - chili - this recipe will serve a crowd:

CHILI

2 pounds hamburger
1 large onion, chopped
1 (14 ounce) can stewed tomatoes
2 (14 ounce) cans whole tomatoes
3 (14 ounce) cans kidney beans
4 cups tomato juice
4 tablespoons brown sugar
3 tablespoons ketchup
2 tablespoons chili powder (or more if desired)
1 tablespoon mustard

Brown hamburger and onion, seasoning with salt and pepper. Drain.

Add remaining ingredients and simmer at least 2 hours.

Such a simple recipe, but plan this one a day ahead to make it taste really great:

HAM AND WHOLE YELLOW PEA SOUP

1 smoked picnic ham or smoked butt ham plus bone
2 cups whole dried yellow peas
1 large onion
1 teaspoon thyme

The day before serving, cover ham with water and cook 1 hour. Take out ham and cool broth and ham overnight. Soak peas in water to cover overnight.

Next day, skim fat from broth and heat. Add peas, onion and thyme and cook slowly for 1 hour or until peas are soft. Cut up pieces of ham and add to soup.

Applications for arts grants now available

The Arts Council of Northwest Regional Development Commission (NWRDC) is accepting applications for a variety of grants in literary, performing and visual arts.

The Arts Council is introducing the new NWRDC/McKnight Training and Development grants round. Arts organizations may apply to send their members to training opportunities, hire consultants, or sponsor a training related workshop. Grants of up to $1,000 are available. The deadline is February 1, 1997. An example of an excellent opportunity for training would be the Americans for the Arts National Conference to be held in June in the Twin Cities.

Each organization may still receive up to $3,500 in grant funds annually. Production Assistance grants are available for the creation, performance, or exhibition of arts. Sponsorship grants provide funds to host guest artists or touring groups.

The upcoming Small Arts Grant deadline is February 1, 1997. Under this program, organizations may apply for up to $500 in matching funds for the production or sponsorship of arts events of approximately $1,000 in total costs.

Public schools are eligible to receive arts education grants in visual, performing, or literary arts for projects such as conducting an artist-in-residence program, hosting a visiting artists, conducting workshops for students and/or teachers, and other activities.

Northwest Regional Development Commission is announcing a NWRDC/McKnight Small Capital grants round. Arts organizations classified under section 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue code may apply for artistic equipment or other small capital expenditures. This program is supported with funding from the McKnight Foundation. The deadline for the small capital grant applications is February 1, 1997.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

To The Editor:

You said it, Sherry LaCoursiere, in your article "...It's Time to Think Ahead." As a rural parent of school-age children I have spent many mornings this year waiting for our district to decide what to do about school closings. I, too, don't understand what the reasoning is for keeping our schools open longer than any other nearby districts. Our district is a sure winner for The Foolhardy Prize you mentioned.

Yesterday was the straw that broke the camel's back for me. The previous evening we all heard the predictions of the "deadly winter storm" that was coming our way and many schools had already closed. The school closings in our immediate area began in the early morning hours, many at 9:30 already sending their children home. Thief River Falls schools waited until 10:30 to announce they were closing schools at 1:00—the time when the storm was due to hit our area!

What is the reasoning there—to wait until after lunchtime, so the children would have full stomachs in case their bus did get stuck? How much learning is honestly being done between 10:30 when the announcement was made and 1 p.m.—the time period that includes lunch? Or are we more worried about the cost of the food that would have to be thrown away if lunch were missed than we are about the children's safety?

Personally, I would not want to be a bus driver with a full load of kids driving in whiteout conditions on country roads. (My hat's off to the bus drivers who have safely continued to do this!) I believe it is negligent of our school district to wait until dangerous conditions exist before closing schools. The idea is to be in a safe place before the storm hits, not to be driving to the safe place. People who live in this area should know that! Not only are bus drivers and children put at risk, but the entire staff has to drive home in deadly conditions.

The school district should have education first and foremost in its mind, and common sense tells us the smart thing to do is to be off the roads during winter storms. If our district doesn't have this basic common sense, well, let's all speculate about the quality of decision-making in other areas.

Yesterday I drove to town and got my kids from their schools and I was not the only parent there. I'm in a position to be able to do this, and the safety of my children comes before the two hours of "education" they missed. I worry about the children whose parents are unable to go pick them up for whatever reason, or simply trust the district to do its job and look after the safety of the children. I saved myself the worry by picking up my own children, but I sure was angry when I heard the plows had been pulled at noon because the drivers couldn't see the roads, and I knew that buses were delivering children beginning at 1 p.m.

If the district is worried about adding days for storm days, again, I agree with Ms. LaCoursiere—take the days from somewhere else. Why didn't we make up some storm days during Christmas vacation as other districts did? What is the big deal about adding days at the end of the year! I'd much rather have a few extra days in June when we know it's safe to travel than worry and take risks with children's lives as the buses travel in January.

Or better yet, why not plan in advance and, when making up the schedule, include more than one day for storms? Why not include five days and then if they aren't used, hey—won't our kids be that much smarter for having more school days than the absolute minimum required by the state? It seems to me the planners here are more concerned about getting their vacation days all in a row than having school when it's safe to do so.

I'm sure that no matter what they do, the district gets calls from upset parents. Hard for me to believe, but when they close the schools, they probably get calls from parents who are unhappy about it. Yesterday it was me calling the superintendent's office in anger. No matter what decision is made, some people won't be happy. But too many people have been stranded or died in the cold this winter. I hope the district doesn't have to learn the hard way that it is better to err on the side of caution.

Thank goodness for Governor Carlson, who can put two and two together and know that travel was unsafe. I'm sure if he hadn't closed the schools for us, we would have been waiting all morning to hear what our district would do. As for myself, I've learned that I can't trust the judgment of those in charge and my children would have been absent from school today, regardless of what the district did.

There are many more weeks of winter ahead of us and I for one hope that District 564's attitude toward school closings changes. It's not a game; there are no prizes for being the last school open. Let's have some common sense.

Sincerely,
Kimberly Ditz (Willis)

Estate Taxes Make Nightmare Out Of The American Dream

We all know about one or more of them—struggling farm families who scrimped and saved and sacrificed to build a solid economic base of operations, only to have all or a large part of it sold at the death of the owners to satisfy estate taxes. Similar situations exist in other family businesses as well. It doesn't seem fair....and it isn't!

It's true that some modifications have been made in estate taxes which have raised the amount of exemption, but it is also true that the exemption is not large enough to protect families from financial disaster as well as personal loss at the time of death of a property owner.

Perhaps politicians have recognized the problem but not much has been done about it recently. Sen. Rod Grams of Minnesota is one elected official in Washington who not only recognized the problem but is making an effort to do something about it.

"For 75 years the nation's estate tax laws have punished those who worked hardest to get ahead," Sen. Grams says. "Instead of encouraging family-owned businesses, the federal government has enacted tax policies that are a barrier to a better economy and better jobs."

He points out that the vast majority of farms in the nation are family owned. The land, equipment and other assets are handed down from generation to generation, yet our estate tax laws can make it impossible to keep the family business in the family.

"If we are to preserve our proud, rural traditions," Sen. Grams said, "we must ensure that farming remains an attractive and viable profession. Making it easier to pass the farm from one generation to the next should be a priority in Congress, and it is a priority of mine."

Initially introduced as a temporary means of raising revenue, estate taxes became a permanent part of the tax code in 1916. While rates have fluctuated over the years, the structure of the estate tax has remained relatively unchanged. Estates are taxed at a rate between 37 and 55 percent and the largest estates are assessed an additional five percent penalty, with the first $600,000 of an estate's value exempt from taxation.

With a growing number of farms and other family businesses having a value far in excess of $600,000, heirs are often forced to sell farmland, buildings and equipment just to pay their taxes. Knowing they will be without a working business to take over once the estate has been settled, many heirs simply sell whatever remains for the best price they can get and move on.

"This has had a devastating effect on individuals and the economy," the senator notes. "Instead of promoting savings and investment, the estate tax encourages spending. After all, where is the incentive to save your money if you'll be forced to surrender half of it to the government when you die?"

Sen. Grams says that the estate tax doesn't really benefit the government all that much while it devastates many families every year. Many economists blame the estate tax for artificially inflating interest rates and making home loans and automobile purchases more expensive while squeezing out jobs and reducing salaries. It costs taxpayers nearly as much in administrative costs (up to 75 cents out of every dollar collected) as it raises in revenue.

A study by the Heritage Foundation found that if the estate tax were repealed, the following would occur over the next nine years: The economy would average as much as $11 billion per year in extra output; an average of 145,000 additional jobs would be created; personal income could rise by an average of $8 billion per year above current projections; and the deficit would actually decline.

"Eliminating the estate tax, which accounts for less than one percent of the government's annual revenues, would have a nominal impact on Washington's $1.4 trillion budget," Sen. Grams notes, "but by encouraging savings, investing and the establishment of more family-run businesses, the economic benefits for average Americans would be tremendous."

Sen. Grams says if the next generation of Minnesota farmers is going to be successful, it will need every resource at its disposal, beginning with a government committed to creating jobs and improving the economy. "Rather than tying your hands before you ever have a chance to succeed," he said, "Congress should help you keep your family's assets by eliminating the damaging estate tax."

We wish the senator well in his efforts in the direction of eliminating or at least severely reducing the effect of this burdensome tax.

Shaw On English

Not enough people are concerned with proper use of the English language and the teaching thereof, in our opinion, and as a result the language has taken a beating from which it may never recover. One of the defenders of the language is Robert Shaw, manager emeritus of the Minnesota Newspaper Association.

In a recent "Think Piece" column in the association's weekly bulletin, he tells of his experiences in learning English in the class of Miss Geenty at International Falls high school during the 1930s. Miss Geenty taught by rule and insisted her students follow the rules. "Like all drill instructors," Shaw says, "she assumed the absolute truth of what she taught; like all drill instructors, she believed that fear was the most dependable teaching tool." Then he continues:

"I don't know how teachers of English function in the classroom these days. There may be other Miss Geentys out there, but I doubt it. At the same time, I am aware of a school of thought, emanating from structural linguists, which holds that because the written follows the spoken language, memorizing rules of grammar is irrelevant.

"...But it seems to me that our language is like a 12-stringed guitar. Before a musician can make beautiful music, he must learn technique— that is, he must memorize and practice the rules that govern the maximum potential of the instrument. He learns how to read music. He learns how to play not only in the key of C but in other keys. He practices scales, arpeggios. He develops calluses.

"Only after he goes through a certain amount of pain does he know his instrument. Only then is he able to make beautiful music, to 'communicate.' If it is true, as I have heard, that the average disc-jockey does very well with 400 words, then disc-jockeys are playing on a ukulele with one string and always in the key of C.

"It is the person who plays on all the strings, and knows how to play (may I say who knows the rules?) who ultimately, by and large, over the long haul, in the final analysis, after (or when) all is said and done, at the end of the day, in the course of human events, as it turns out, makes the music.

"Miss Geenty, bless your soul and forgive the cliches."

Trinity church sponsors blood drive Jan. 22-23

Trinity Lutheran Church in Thief River Falls will sponsor and host a blood collection drive Wednesday and Thursday, January 22 and 23, at the church. Hours will be from 1 to 7 p.m. Wednesday and 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. Thursday.

"The need for blood is constant and volunteer blood donors contribute nearly all blood used for patient care in the United States," notes Rhonda Joppru, blood drive coordinator, who can be contacted for appointments at 681-4423.

January has been declared National Volunteer Blood Donor Month by President Bill Clinton. Last year more than 14 million pints of blood were supplied to others by eight million blood donors across the country.

"If all those who are eligible would donate on a regular basis, blood needs would be met and shortages would be a thing of the past," adds Rhonda Ellefson, community relations representative for United Blood Services of Fargo, ND, which will conduct the Trinity blood drive. "Even in today's high technology medical environment, the need for human blood continues. No synthetics or substitutes have yet been found."

Sen. Stumpf predicts cooperation

"Often the attitude in which you start a project affects the results," states Sen. LeRoy Stumpf of Thief River Falls regarding the opening of the 1997 session of the Minnesota Legislature. "If that's the case, I'd say the 1997 Legislature is beginning what should be a productive session."

As an example, Sen. Stumpf says, House Speaker Phil Carruthers (DFL) of Brooklyn Park and House Minority Leader (IR) of Kenyon announced their agreement on a number of issues and pledged that their respective caucuses would work together throughout the coming session.

"Delivered at a joint press conference the day before the session began, a bipartisan announcement of this type is not common," he said. "Lately, it seems political discourse throughout our entire country has been about politicians highlighting their differences and attempting to label their opponents, while avoiding cooperation and statesmanlike conduct. Sviggum and Carruthers, while they have some profound differences, have taken a good first step toward improving the manner in which Minnesota is governed."

In the state senate, Majority Leader Roger Moe (DFL) of Erskine and Minority Leader Dean Johnson (IR) of Willmar, are also looking to move their caucuses away from unproductive, overly-partisan bickering, Sen. Stumpf noted. As a gesture of this bipartisan spirit, a member of the minority has been appointed to chair a subcommittee of the powerful Senate Rules committee.

"This is so uncommon it's almost unheard of," Sen. Stumpf said. "Moe and Johnson have acted honorably toward each other in the past and have a good working relationship, despite their political differences. This action hopefully will help smooth over some of the feathers that undoubtedly get ruffled during election year battles."

"For my part, as co-chair of the Senate Children, Families and Learning Committee, I will continue to operate in a largely bipartisan manner," the Thief River Falls senator said. "I have made it a practice to work with everyone—including Republicans—when developing legislation. In the past, my work to improve the availability of technology to students and improve the accountability of schools has required that I work with folks from both parties."

Sen. Stumpf chairs the Higher Education Budget Division, which has responsibility for funding public post-secondary education in Minnesota. He says he thinks most people feel the same way he does about education—that it's too important to become a political football. "I will actively solicit the advice of everyone at the table as we try to make good public policy for post-secondary students in Minnesota," he said.

Sen. Stumpf says he thinks voters made it clear once again in the past election that they are more interested in sound government than in sound bites.

"Our citizens want more focus on the common ground issues, like our commitment to education," he said, "and less time spent making political attacks. They want a government that is smarter, not louder."

NW Minnesota Initiative Fund reelects Swanson president

Patricia Swanson of Hallock was reelected president of the Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund at the annual meeting conducted recently.

Other officers reelected were Bruce Hamnes, Stephen vice president and Ranae Womack, Bemidji, treasurer. Art Brandli, Warroad, was elected secretary to succeed Norma Hanson of Goodridge, who has completed both of her four-year terms on the board.

Vic Olson of Nevis, president of Olson Communication, Inc., was elected to the board to succeed Kathy [illegible], owner of Park Pharmacy in Park Rapids, who also has served the maximum of two four-year terms allowed by the organization's by-laws. No board member has been elected to succeed Norma Hanson.

Olson has lived in the Nevis/Park Rapids area for several years and, in addition to publishing two weekly newspapers, is involved in a number of community organizations and activities. He is a former board member of the Park Rapids Rotary club, serves on the board of the Nevis Scholarship Fund and has chaired the community's annual Muskie Days for the past three years.

"We are pleased to welcome Vic to the board of directors," president Swanson said. "His diverse experiences and understanding of the problems and opportunities of northwest Minnesota will be an asset to the Initiative Fund."

Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund is a regional charitable foundation, committed to improving the quality of life for the residents of northwest Minnesota.

TRF boys lose ground at the end of 73-55 setback...

Spuds pull away from Prowlers

Midway through the third quarter, Thief River Falls was within a 3-point basket of Moorhead. Sixteen minutes later the Spuds were headed home with an 18-point, 73-55 boys high school basketball win.

The game Prowlers tired down the stretch when they couldn't match the Spuds' bench.

"I thought the kids played hard," offered Thief River Falls coach Scott Brekke. "We didn't lose due to a lack of effort. We got tired. it showed we didn't have as much depth as they have."

The Spuds, who have more often than not beat the Prowlers handily in the past, had to work for this one. The first indication Moorhead had a game on its hands came during a 7-0 Thief River Falls surge in the first quarter when a rebound basket by Courtney Skjerven, a fast break bucket by Jeremy Swanson, a jumper from the side by Anthony Hendricks, and a free throw by Kyle Waterworth put the Prowlers ahead 13-11.

A 3-pointer from the corner by Jeremy Nordick with 15.8 seconds left provided Moorhead with a 16-15 edge at the close of the first quarter.

Waterworth provided an offensive spark in the middle of the second quarter, coming off the bench to score eight straight points – a trey from the wing, a jumper from the side and another 3-pointer, this one from out front. The outburst by the 6-1 junior guard put Thief River Falls up 28-24.

Moorhead snapped a 31-31 tie when Shane Long dropped in a 15-footer and Jeff Ubben followed with a half-ending 3-point play on a rebound basket and free throw.

The teams traded baskets for the first four minutes of the second half before Moorhead took over with an 8-0 run, halted only by a buzzer-beating 3-pointer by Hendricks to close out the third quarter at 55-47.

The Spuds steadily lengthened their lead through the fourth quarter behind 6-3 senior forward Cory Tow, who finished with 27 points, and Ubben, a 6-5 junior center, who netted 21. Skjerven, a 6-4 senior center, led the Prowlers with 16 points, while Waterworth had 15 and Hendricks added 10 from the backcourt.

"I was very pleased with effort," Brekke. "I thought Anthony Hendricks did a great job handling their pressure – they were all over him. Kyle Waterworth came in and hit some big shots for us, and Courtney Skjerven works so hard around the basket."

Thief River Falls was 22-for-59 from the field (37 percent) and made 8 of 19 free throws. Moorhead went 26-for-57 from the floor (46 percent) and had a 17-for-23 free throw night. The Spuds out-rebounded the Prowlers 34-29. Thief River Falls topped the turnover charts 17-15.

The Prowlers are 4-5.

Lakers turn back challenge by TRF girls to win 64-54

Detroit Lakes turned back a Thief River Falls fourth quarter challenge Tuesday to lay claim to a 64-54 win in a match-up of Section 8AAA girls high school basketball teams.

The 8-1 Lakers were up 13-12 at the end of the first quarter, ahead 27-23 at halftime and led by as many as 12 points in the third quarter before they settled for a 45-39 edge at the final break.

The Thief River Falls comeback continued in the first half of the fourth quarter, with two Kim Stenseth free throws giving the Prowlers their first lead of the night, 46-45.

Thief River Falls was back on top 50-48 following a 3-point basket by Nicole Kopari, but the Lakers outscored the Prowlers 16-4 the rest of the way to secure the home court win.

"We played a pretty good game," said Thief River Falls coach Jeff Loe, whose team fell to 5-7 with its second loss of the season to the Lakers. "They (Detroit Lakes) have a good team. They put some good athletes on the floor. We did some good things, but made some mistakes at the end. We tried to force things, and wound up turning it over. We have to learn to be more patient and play smarter basketball in those situations."

Stenseth led all scorers with 22 points, while Kopari finished with 11 and Amber Klinker had 10 for the Prowlers. Sophomore Jess Abrahams led the Lakers with 21 points. Amy Gunderson, who was 6-for-6 at the free throw line down the stretch, picked up a dozen points for the winners.

TRF swimmers perform well in loss

Bemidji out-pointed Thief River Falls 111-61 Tuesday in boys high school swimming, but Prowlers co-head coach Brian Olson was nevertheless excited about the performances turned in by his team.

"It was really a good meet," said Olson. "Our guys really swam well. It was the best meet I've seen them swim. Everyone had a least one personal-best time."

Thief River Falls swimmers placed first or second in eight of the 11 events, winning three races, but fell victim to the Lumberjacks' depth.

"Bemidji has a premier program," explained Olson. "I told the kids not to worry about the score. I told them I didn't want anybody looking at the scoreboard."

Thief River Falls wins came from Zach Olson in the 200 freestyle, Josh Engevik in the 100 backstroke, and in the meet-ending 400 freestyle relay with Chris Pribula, Nate Keller, Mickey McEnelly, and Olson.

It was just the fourth meet of the weather-interrupted 1996-97 season for the Prowlers, who are 1-2 in dual meet outings.

Warroad collects 8-1 hockey win over TRF

Warroad spotted Thief River Falls a 1-0 head start, then rallied to an 8-1 Section 8A high school hockey win over the visiting Prowlers Tuesday.

It was the second seven-goal victory margin over Thief River Falls this winter by Warroad, who won the first meeting 10-3 back on Dec. 3. The Prowlers are 2-9-1 heading into tonight's (Saturday) match-up with Roseau at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center.

"We played well in the first period; we did some nice things," offered Thief River Falls coach Pat Cullen. "They came out and put a lot of pressure on us in the second period, and we didn't handle it very well."

The Prowlers' Wade Chiodo opened the scoring at 2:48 of the first period.

Goals by Josh Heppner at the seven-minute mark and Tanner Martell at 11:20 put Warroad up 2-0 at the first intermission.

Jay Hardwick scored twice, Martell picked up his second goal of the night, and Adrian Hasbargen added one as Warroad opened up a 6-1 second period gap.

"The weather has really hurt us," explained Cullen. "Because of the weather we haven't been able to practice. We've got a young team, and we need the ice time."

Scoring

First period - TRF, Wade Chiodo (Kyle Anderson), 2:48; Warroad, Josh Heppner (un.), 7:00. Warroad, Tanner Martell (Matt Ulvelling-Heppner), 11:20.

Grabowska, Huskies beat RLCC

Chris Grabowska scored 25 of his game-high 35 points in the second half Tuesday as Goodridge pulled away from Red Lake County Central for a 64-56 boys high school basketball victory. The game at Goodridge was a make-up contest from a Friday postponement.

"We couldn't stop him," said Red Lake County Central coach Ryan Sedler in describing the efforts by Grabowska, a 6-3 senior. "We tried some different things, but nothing really worked."

The Mustangs led 12-10 at the end of the first quarter and were within 24-19 at halftime, but with Grabowska hitting 13 third quarter points, the Huskies opened up a 42-27 spread.

"Chris had an excellent night," mentioned Goodridge coach Eric Mickelson. "We were breaking their press, and he was ending up with a lot of 2-on-1 breaks. He didn't miss many."

"It seems lately we have one bad quarter, then we have to play catch up," explained Sedler, "and that's tough to do because we're not a high scoring team."

Red Lake County Central more than doubled its offensive output in the fourth quarter, chopping a 16-point deficit in half in short order, but couldn't complete the comeback.

"Goodridge made the plays and made the free throws down the stretch," pointed out Sedler.

Four Mustangs reached double figures, led by Jimmy Duiko with 18 points.

"Overall, we played pretty well," said Mickelson. "We had a little letdown in the fourth quarter and let them back in the game."

The 3-7 Mustangs were 23-for-49 from the field (47 percent) and 9-for-14 at the free throw line. The 8-2 Huskies went 25-for-53 from the floor (47 percent) and 12-for-20 at the line. The winners had a 39-26 rebound edge. The Mustangs topped the turnover charts 16-14.

"We played hard, but it was another case where one bad quarter beat us," said Sedler.

Eagles' defense is key to win vs. Warroad, 63-28

Making good use of the resources available, Grygla-Gatzke relied on its pressure defense to shut down Warroad Tuesday as the host Eagles cruised to a 63-28 boys high school basketball win.

The winners had 18-6, 34-11 and 47-15 quarter leads.

"I was real pleased with our defensive effort," said Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson. "The defense did a nice job forcing them into taking some poor shots, and forcing them to turn the ball over. Our kids have some pretty good quickness, and we try to use that to our advantage."

Warroad turned it over 30 times, with the Eagles' Shaun Verbout getting credit for an eye-opening nine steals.

Verbout was also the game's leading scorer with 19 points.

Grygla-Gatzke shot 52 percent from the field (26/50) and made 8 of 14 free throw attempts. Warroad shot only 39 percent (12/31) and went 3-for-8 at the line. Rebounds were even at 25-apiece. The 9-0 Eagles turned it over 18 times.

Gators shoot down rival Nordics 87-59

In basketball talk, the Badger/Greenbush-Middle River boys shot the lights out of the ball Tuesday in an 87-59 North Border Conference high school win over Marshall County Central. The Gators' 59 percent 33-for-56 shooting from the field featured an 11-for-15 night on 3-pointers.

"We didn't play badly," said Marshall County Central coach Ron Ueland, "but we couldn't stop them. If they ever got an open look at the basket, they made it."

With Matt Kujava scoring half of the points, the host Gators jumped out to a 24-9 first quarter lead. Defensive adjustments on the part of the Nordics helped slow down Kujava, but opened the door for others. Four Badger/Greenbush-Middle River scorers hit double figures, led by Kujava with 25 points and Jeremy Vacura, who nailed six 3-pointers for his 18.

The 5-6 Gators maintained a 38-24 halftime spread and went into the fourth quarter with a 60-39 cushion.

Mark Augustine, who has been plagued by nagging injuries most of the season, broke loose with a 23 point game for the Nordics.

Marshall County Central was 22-for-47 from the field (47 percent) and 11-for-17 at the free throw line, where Badger/Greenbush-Middle River was 10-for-14. The Gators out-rebounded the 3-8 Nordics 29-19. Turnovers were even at 14-apiece.

Defense, shooting key 21-point RLCC victory

Strong defense and scoring from an unexpected source – the outside – carried Red Lake County Central to a 62-41 girls high school basketball win over Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke Tuesday at Oklee.

The Mustangs jumped out to a 14-2 first quarter lead, maintained a 26-12 halftime spread and opened up a 52-18 third quarter gap.

"Our starters played excellent defense," reported Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto.

While Red Lake County Central center Angie Chervestad still led all scorers with 15 points, Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke defensive efforts kept her from having a big night offensively. However, three teammates joined her in double figures as the Mustangs turned open shots on the outside into points – something they have had trouble doing this winter.

"It was nice to have the balanced scoring," acknowledged Koivisto.

Sophomore Kathryn Stanley came off the bench to lead the Wolverines with 14 points.

"We really, really struggled offensively," said Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke coach Mike Gast, whose team is missing injured point guard Jenny Nelson. "She (Nelson) makes things happen when she's in there. Without her, we were just standing around in the first quarter."

The Mustangs were 22-for-55 from the field (40 percent) and a busy 15-for-33 at the free throw line. The Wolverines went 18-for-58 from the floor (31 percent) and 4-for-19 at the line. The winners had a 33-24 rebound edge. Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke wound up with 26 turnovers; Red Lake County Central had 24.

The two teams both left the gym with 4-6 records.

Additional schedule changes are forced because of weather

Another round of weather-related schedule changes hit area sports teams Wednesday and Thursday.

The Northland Community and Technical College women's basketball game vs. the Mayville State University junior varsity was called off Wednesday.

Thief River Falls' high school events postponed Thursday included boys basketball vs. Crookston and wrestling vs. Mahnomen/Waubun.

Because of the weather, major alterations will be made to the Thief River Falls wrestling schedule during the upcoming week. Double-duals are now planned Tuesday and Thursday in the Lincoln High School gym.

On Tuesday, the Prowlers will wrestle Fertile-Beltrami at 4:30 p.m. and will take on Red Lake County Central at 6. Junior varsity matches will take place on a third mat beginning at 4:30 that day.

Thursday's format will start with East Grand Forks Sacred Heart vs. Mahnomen/Waubun at 6 p.m., followed by Thief River Falls vs. Sacred Heart at 6:45, then Thief River Falls vs. Mahnomen/Waubun at 7:30. It'll be Parent's Night for the Prowlers.

It was noted that a make-up date for a Thief River Falls vs. Lake of the Woods hockey game, listed as Feb. 8 should be corrected to Feb. 1, with the Prowlers making up a game against Crookston on Feb. 8.

The Thief River Falls vs. Crookston boys basketball game was reset to Jan. 31. The Prowlers also have a make-up boys basketball games planned Monday (Jan. 20) at Detroit Lakes and Feb. 17 vs. Fergus Falls.

Coronation for Lincoln High school Sno-Fast was held Tuesday afternoon. It had been scheduled earlier, but was postponed because of a blizzard. Freshman class representatives, Bree Hammer, daughter of Lynn and Carol Hammer, and Brady Anderson, son of Mike and Paula Anderson, were crowned king and queen. The Sno-Fast royalty include: (from left, front row) Jessica Krankkala, daughter of John and Cindy Krankkala, Brady Anderson, Bree Hammer, Kim Hook, daughter of Steve and Sharon Hook, and Ann Gustafson, daughter of Jeff and Rosie Gustafson; (back row) Eric Routand, son of John and Faye Routand, Paul Gonsorowski, past king of Sno-Fast, Travis Easly, son of Anitta Tucker, and Jason Hanson, son of Gerald and Karen Hanson.

Medical center volunteers to get orientation

Orientation meeting for new volunteers at Northwest Medical Center will be conducted Wednesday, January 22, with sessions offered from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. in meeting room B/B2 at the medical center. Volunteers are asked to select the session most convenient for them.

The program is designed to inform new volunteers about duties and expectations while a volunteer at the medical center, according to Bev Rupprecht, volunteer coordinator. Those planning to attend are asked to call 681-4240, extension 304, and leave a message with their name and which session they would like to attend.

"Northwest Medical Center is proud of its volunteers and appreciates their commitment to helping staff, patients, families and visitors," Rupprecht said. "We want all volunteers to be well informed. Topics to be covered during these orientation sessions include fire, tornado, infection control, right to know, confidentiality and Patients' Bill of Rights, in addition to things volunteers need to know personally about the medical center and volunteering."

Persons interested in becoming a volunteer are asked to try to attend one of the sessions. Any questions can be directed to Bev Rupprecht at 681-4240, extension 304.

Funds for energy assistance are made available

Because of reductions in federal funding for the energy assistance program, $9 million has been released as a contingency appropriation from the state's budget reserve account. This amount is in addition to the $38.6 million in federal dollars the state has received for the current heating season.

The funds are to be used to assist households having difficulty paying their heating bills and help them avoid utility disconnections or fuel delivery disruptions. Commissioner R. Jane Brown of the Minnesota Department of Economic Security urged Minnesotans who need assistance with their heating costs to apply.

A household of four making less than $23,400 is eligible. Minnesotans who have questions or need additional information should contact their local community action agency, social service agency or Indian reservation office, or call MDES at 1-800-657-3805.

Sentence to Service gets regional grant

Northwest Sentence to Service recently received funds from Northwest Regional Development commission, Area Agency on Aging, to assist individuals over the age of 60 with heavy chores. This winter, heavy chores include shovelling snow. This supervised crew, which consists of non-violent offenders, made quick work of this snowed-in garage.

Associate Editor

Northwest Sentence to Service has already been in existence for three years. At its inception, the not-so-unique concept of putting prisoners to work, was ahead of most programs in the State of Minnesota. As it continues to grow, this three-county program, is finding new and more valuable ways of helping citizens of northwest Minnesota. Last year Sentence to Service workers stepped forward as a reliable source of help when floodwaters threatened property. Now the program is helping older citizens in the three counties dig out from heavy winter snows that have blanketed the region.

Northwest Sentence to Service has received funding from Northwest Regional Development Commission, Area Agency on Aging, to assist individuals 60 years or older with heavy chores. In 1996, the goal was to serve 40 people and put in 2000 hours. Scott Peters, director of Northwest STS, said that with the flood and everything else that happened last year, Northwest STS exceed its goals. In all it served 189 people and put in 3,518 hours for individuals 60 and over.

According to the grant provided by Northwest Regional Development Commission, the funds will be used to provide assistance to individuals 60 years of age or older (regardless of income level) with general chores and home repairs. Those services could include such tasks as raking, shoveling snow, scraping, painting, window washing, tree removal, hedge clipping, winterizing of homes and other reasonable duties upon request.

Selection is based on a first come, first served basis. Each request will be treated equally. All individuals receiving assistance have the opportunity to make a confidential donation for services received.

Many hours have been spent shoveling snow. Peters said they receive 20 to 40 calls per storm. With 10 guys in a crew the snow shoveling goes quickly. But because they receive so many requests for assistance they cannot guarantee that they will be there to shovel snow every day. Peters said they have been available for emergencies.

Peters said crews are made up of non-violent offenders who are supervised. Since the program began, they haven't had any problems (such as theft) before, during or after a job. Peters said they are careful not to expose clients to any risk.

Peters said the experience has been good for both the clients and the offenders serving on STS. This grant has identified a segment of the population that needs assistance, and provided STS with additional goals.

Peters said the clients who have received assistance seem to feel more secure knowing that they can get out of their house in the winter, get chores done so that they can remain independent. Peters said he believes it has enhanced their quality of life.

He noted that many clients have expressed their thanks and appreciation. Just recently they received a box of homemade donuts from one person who was thankful for shoveling snow.

It's good for the offenders on the STS. As offenders they don't often see a lot of good will. It's very gratifying for crew members to do

Fosston high school break-in last Thursday night

Fosston – Fosston High school was broken into sometime last Thursday night or early Friday morning according to Fosston Chief of Police Jim Berg.

Entry was made by breaking a window in a classroom. After a search of the school, nothing was reported missing, Berg said in a press release. Several doors were damaged and rooms were entered, he said.

Charges are expected to be filed by the Polk County Attorney's Office against two Fosston area juvenile males, ages 15 and 16, Berg said.

The department is still investigating a Christmas vacation break in where the computer components were taken. Berg said that the two cases are not related.

Fatal accident Sunday morning

Fertile – Early Sunday morning at approximately 1:20 a.m., Luana Marie Hoffman, 34 of Winger, died when she struck the Lewis Bridge on Polk County Highway #1. The bridge is approximately five miles east of Fertile.

She was traveling east and alone. Her 1986 Oldsmobile Regency 98 apparently hit the side of the bridge and flipped over the side landing on the car's roof on top of the ice. The vehicle burned sometime after it landed on the ice.

According to the Polk County Sheriff's Office the cause of the accident is still unknown. It remains under investigation.

Linda Briss is chosen "Teacher of the Year"

McIntosh – Linda Briss, Win-E-Mac's 4th grade teacher, was chosen as "Teacher of the Year" for the elementary after a letter written by 4th grade student Heather Palmer.

During American Education Week, the students at Win-E-Mac were encouraged to write a recommendation for a teacher they felt was outstanding, and elaborate why. Several letters were submitted, and Principal John Gevens chose the letter he felt most described what a good teacher should emulate.

Linda Briss has been teaching school for 30 years. She taught grades 3, 4 and 6 in Carrington, ND, North Central Barnes, ND and Breckenridge before coming to Win-E-Mac. She has taught 24 years at Win-E-Mac, all in the 4th grade.

Jauquet-Kalinoski elected to head state library ass'n.

It has been a balancing act for the past dozen years for professional woman Barbara Jauquet-Kalinoski, director of the Northwest Regional Library, and Barb Kalinoski, wife and mother. Another position as president of the Minnesota Library Association (MLA) for 1997 has now been added to the professional side of the fulcrum.

As much as she values and is committed to her work with library services in the region and the state, there is no question in her mind on which side the scale would tip if it would no longer balance.

"My greatest responsibility is making a home for our four children," Jauquet-Kalinoski says. "My involvement in community and state-wide committees is limited to how much time I am willing to spend away from the kids....which is not much! My community involvement decreased with the birth of each child."

Barbara Jauquet-Kalinoski

Barb and her husband Greg, who were married in 1983, live in Thief River Falls and their family includes Stacia, 12, Sara, 10, and twins Michael and Thomas, 7. Greg farms in the Greenbush area and works in ag analysis with the area farm management program operated through Northland Community and Technical College.

A Michigan native, Barb graduated from Northern Michigan University in Marquette in 1970 with a BA degree in home economics and art. She worked in a public library while at the university and developed an interest in the field, dividing her time the next four years between working and studying for the Master of Library Science degree she earned in 1974 from Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo. She has also taken post graduate work at the University of Minnesota.

TRF Resident Since 1981

In 1981 she came to Thief River Falls as director of the Northwest Regional Library—a system which includes the headquarters library in Thief River Falls and branch libraries in Greenbush, Hallock, Red Lake Falls, Roseau, Warren and Warroad as well as a bookmobile which serves three counties.

Recognizing the need for this corner of Minnesota to be in tune with the rest of the state's library services, she joined the Minnesota Library Association 15 years ago. She has been involved in legislative issues for the association in the past, including legislative lobbying on behalf of public library interests in the state. As state president, she will have even greater involvement in the legislative program.

She was elected to the board of the state association last year as vice president, accepting a three-year commitment which will also include a year on the board as past president in 1998. The nine-member state board includes statewide elected officers such as Jauquet-Kalinoski, and the chairs of several major association committees. The association has a salaried executive director and one other paid employee. Its other positions are filled by volunteers.

> "My involvement in community and state-wide committees is limited to how much time I am willing to spend away from the kids . . . which is not much!
> – Barb Jauquet-Kalinoski

One of Barb's major responsibilities as state president will be for overall planning of the annual conference, a three-day event scheduled for October at the Radisson South hotel in Bloomington. This is the first year the conference will be held in cooperation with the Minnesota Educational Media Organization (MEMO), the state association for school library and media professionals.

SD 564 invites public to community forum

To increase involvement by the public in its public schools, School District 564 has scheduled a community forum on education in the district for Saturday, February 8, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the cafeteria at Challenger elementary school.

Because a noon lunch is being planned for participants, the district is requesting that people planning to participate in the forum call the superintendent's office at 681-8711 and indicate their intention to attend. Everyone in the district with ideas for the direction education should take is encouraged to attend.

"Public schools are just that—public," states Jerry Robicheau, superintendent of schools for District 564. "In order to have a comprehensive educational program it is critical that there be a partnership between the community and its schools. We are hopeful this open forum will help to accent that partnership."

Robicheau said the forum will center on the question, "What are the community's expectations for Independent School District 564?"

"This forum is intended to be an opportunity for residents of the district to provide input regarding the expectations we should have for students who attend our public school system," the superintendent said.

"Our forum format is to begin at 9 a.m. with a brief presentation I will make on purpose of the program and how the day is to be conducted. Those in attendance will be divided into groups of six to eight people for presentation and discussion of ideas so participants need not be concerned about presenting their ideas in front of a large group.

"This will be a very informal and non-threatening but focused format intended to compile as much public input from as wide a field of interests as possible in a concentrated period of time," Supt. Robicheau said. "Although we will welcome those who can give us only part of the day, we will especially appreciate those who will devote the time from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. to addressing local educational concerns."

The outcome of this forum will be the development of a collective statement that reflects what the expectations shall be for the district's educational program and will be tied into the district's strategic plan. It may also lead to additional forums for public input in the future.

In an effort to have widespread interests represented in attendance, a number of invitations have been sent by the school district to individuals, agencies and organizations in the district, encouraging them to be represented at the forum. No direct invitation is needed to attend, however, and all persons interested in local education should consider themselves invited.

TRF Sno-Drifters keep our trails maintained

by Amy Branscomb
Northern Watch reporter

If you are one of the 240,000 snowmobilers in the state that use any of the 15,000 miles of maintained trails and are wondering how those trails are kept up, I have one word for you: VOLUNTEERS.

There are approximately 280 local snowmobile clubs in the state, with most of these clubs belonging to an organization known as Minnesota United Snowmobilers Association (MnUSA). MnUSA has a membership of approximately 25,000 Minnesota families.

One of the local clubs in the area is the Thief River Falls Sno-Drifters. The Sno-Drifters groom all of the trails around Thief River Falls and the connecting trails. In order to keep up with the snow and usage, they have to groom the trails once and sometimes even twice a week.

There are 90 members in the group that puts on Ironman 250 every year. With 800 to 1,000 people in attendance this year, they really had their work cut out for them. It takes them about six months to get everything planned for the big Ironman races.

Jeff Hitland of the Sno-Drifters stated that the race was a big success this year considering the weather of -50 windchills. Jeff feels that the Ironman is very important to the community because of all the spectators and money it brings in during the weekend. Hotels are booked, restaurants are busy and everyone is having a good time.

The Sno-Drifters donate a lot of money to clubs and organizations that help them put on the Ironman races. Without all of the help from local clubs and organizations, the Ironman would not be pulled off. As a way of saying thank-you, the Sno-Drifters returned some of the money to their fellow clubs in Red Lake Falls, Middle River and Plummer who put in a lot of time and help.

Other than grooming trails and putting on the Ironman races, the Sno-Drifters are busy with safety classes and fund-raisers. Every December, the Sno-Drifters along with the Thief River Falls Police Department put on a snowmobile safety course. The course is

Sherry LaCoursiere

How tiresome - another storm this weekend? Time to make more soup, this time from the First Lutheran Church of Stephen cookbook.

Here is a really simple soup you can make in minutes:

BACON AND CORN SOUP

6 slices bacon, cooked and diced
1 (17 ounce) can cream style corn
1 (13 ounce) can evaporated milk
1 can cream of potato soup
1 cup water
Salt and pepper to taste

Combine ingredients and heat to simmering.

This soup will make a hearty meal:

MIDWEST CHOWDER

2 cups diced potatoes
1/2 cup diced celery
2 cups boiling water
1/2 cup sliced carrots
1/2 cup chopped onion
Salt and pepper
3 teaspoons margarine
1/4 cup flour
2 cups skim milk
3/4 pound shredded cheese
2 cups cream style corn

Add water to potatoes, celery, carrots and onion and simmer for 10 minutes. Cover.

Make white sauce as follows: melt margarine; add flour gradually. Add milk, a little at a time. Add cheese and then corn and above vegetables. DD NOT BDIL or it will curdle.

This is a different recipe for wild rice soup than the crock pot one last week:

WILD RICE SOUP

1/2 cup wild rice, cooked
2 cans cream of potato soup
1 pound bacon, fried and crumbled
1/2 large onion
2 cups milk
1 pound Velveeta cheese
1 pint half and half

Saute onions and bacon together. Warm cream, milk, soups and cheese. Add bacon, onion and rice and simmer.

Get raves with this made-from-scratch favorite:

BEER CHEESE SDUP

1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
3/4 cup flour (or less)
4 cups hot chicken broth
1 1/2 cups cream
16 ounce jar Cheese Whiz
6 ounces beer
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Yellow food color
1/4 cup chopped chives (optional)

Mix butter, onion and flour until completely blended. Add hot chicken broth and cream, mixing until smooth and thick.

Add Cheese Whiz and mix until cheese melts and mixture is smooth. Add beer and Worcestershire and then add food coloring and chives.

Simmer 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serve hot and top with popcorn.

To The Editor:

GOVERNMENTAL REGULATION: The Friday, January 17, 1997 meeting at the Best Western with MPCA officials and northwest Minnesota county commissioners and other interested people indicated once again the lack of science used by MPCA in their Rule 7080 Septic System Regulation.

Below are other examples of lack of science in current regulations.

Warren Brooks, a science journalist, called wetland regulations, "The greatest war on private property rights in the history of the nation." Dixie Lee Ray, a scientist and author, in her book Environmental Overkill, states, "Wetland regulations are probably the greatest war on public health. The preservation and protection of all wetlands is a fine example of good intentions gone wild, of our propensity to cure everything with legislation, and our inability to see the ultimate consequences of ill-considered actions based more on sentiment and emotion than on sound science and logic."

Dr. Bruce Ames in Forbes, Inc., 1993 states, "I think EPA kills people." Widespread scientific evidence, some of it from his lab, confirms the homespun wisdom about fruits and vegetables: eating plenty of them (only nine percent of the U.S. population does) reduces incidences of most types of cancers by up to 50 percent. Pesticides have provided a measurable health advance by bringing down the cost of fresh produce. So if you restrict pesticide use, the cost of fruits and vegetables is likely to go up. And the most price sensitive shoppers, the poor, are already the most vulnerable to cancer. This is why Ames says EPA kills.

"The environmental health regulations," Ames says, "is a series of trade-offs. Risks compete with risks, and if you exaggerate one, you divert resources from another. EPA is far past the point where it is counter-productive. We really have jumped off a cliff."

Dr. Bruce Ames is a professor of bio-chemistry and molecular biology since 1968 at the University of California, Berkeley.

From This Land Is Our Land by California Congressman Richard Pombo: "There is hope for the future only when the government bureaucrats, environmentalists and activist judges hear one message. It is coming loud and clear from America's private property owners. It is a call for respect. It is the immovable starting point before any regulation of private property can commence. It is non-negotiable! America's land owners are saying with a determination that is characteristic of the American spirit: 'This Land Is Our Land.'"

There is this warning from Dr. Bernard Cohen, University of Pittsburgh physicist and one of America's most distinguished nuclear scientists: "Our government's science and technology policy is now guided by uninformed and emotion-driven public opinion, rather than by sound scientific advice. Unless solutions can be found to this problem, the U.S. will enter the 21st Century declining in wealth, power and influence. The coming debacle is not due to the problem the environmentalists describe, but to the policies they advocate."

The perils of continued "environmental overkill" are enormous.

Sincerely,
Donald Barron

Snowmobile Safety Is Everyone's Responsibility

GUEST EDITORIAL
by Chris Twomey, President
Arctic Cat, Inc., Thief River Falls

Snowmobiling is a sport that brings entire families together, bonds friendships and gets people outdoors to enjoy the beauty of winter. Unfortunately, our sport has been marred by tragedy when snowmobilers are killed or seriously injured—usually as a result of reckless or irresponsible snowmobile operation. National Snowmobile Safety Week ended December 14, but let's remember its purpose—the advancement of responsible snowmobile operation and rider education—throughout the entire snowmobile season.

At Arctic Cat, we are snowmobile enthusiasts and we're very concerned about the well-being of our families, friends and customers who use the trails. We feel that snowmobile safety should be the concern of all snowmobile industry stakeholders—manufacturers, riders, snowmobile clubs, trail administrators, aftermarket companies and the hospitality industry.

As a manufacturer, Arctic Cat supports responsible rider education campaigns that emphasize the rules of the road. An example is the International Snowmobile Manufacturers Association's (ISMA) "Safe Riders! You Make Snowmobiling Safe" program which stresses safety awareness and rider education.

We answered the call for enhanced safety education by supporting the production of a safety video that is distributed to new snowmobile owners and snowmobile clubs and is available by request. (Videos are available by calling ISMA at 1-517-332-1760.) In addition, we help develop safe drivers by loaning machines to DNR programs that conduct snowmobile training classes.

Also, we're united with other manufacturers in ongoing programs through which hundreds of snowmobiles have been provided to law enforcement programs to increase visible patrols and deter irresponsible riding on public trails and lakes. We support legislation that imposes strict penalties for driving while intoxicated, speeding or otherwise operating a snowmobile in a manner that endangers others.

At Arctic Cat, we're constantly striving to improve our snowmobiles, accessories and snowmobile clothing to make them as safe as possible for consumers. We engineer all of our products utilizing the latest safety features. For example, our Arcticwear clothing line utilizes integrated reflective material that increases night time visibility from all angles—both on and off the snowmobile.

Our field test group spends thousands of hours ever year testing our new designs to ensure they meet the critical safety standards set forth by the Society of Automotive Engineers (SAE). We submit each of models to an independent certification organization to ensure that critical safety systems and parts meet or exceed state-of-the-art safety standards. The result for consumer: new state-of-the-art, safe Arctic Cat snowmobiles that carry the important Snowmobile Safety Certification sticker.

Finally, we demonstrate our strict commitment to safety when we ride by following these simple guidelines:

- Alcohol is never a part of any Arctic Cat-sanctioned event where snowmobiling is involved. (Well over half of all snowmobile accidents involve drug or alcohol-impaired drivers);
- Arctic Cat events involving snowmobiling conclude before midnight. (A majority of snowmobile accidents occur at night.)
- Whenever we are unfamiliar with the terrain, we make sure we are guided. (Over 75 percent of snowmobile accidents occur away from the trails.)
- If the trail we are following requires us to ride on lakes, we always make sure the ice is the proper thickness. (Experts recommend at least five inches for snowmobiles.)
- Safe and courteous riding is stressed at all of our events.

By using common sense and respecting local laws, we can all help ensure that we, our friends and our families safely enjoy the great sport of snowmobiling and continue to have access to public trails. It's up to us as a community of snowmobilers to encourage, promote and practice safe and responsible snowmobiling.

Snowmobile Mishaps—Can We Protect Us From Ourselves?

Several Minnesota legislators are eagerly introducing proposals in the 1997 session to somehow address the number of Minnesota fatalities involving snowmobiles. At this writing there have been 23 fatalities this season—only three less than the 26 recorded for the 1995-96 winter—and six of those happened last weekend.

All accidental deaths are tragic and the trauma to others caused by them is severe and lasting. When snowmobilers themselves are the victims due to their own mistakes or carelessness it is bad enough. When the victim is a non-participant, such as the 10-year-old boy struck and killed by a snowmobile last weekend and the young girl killed when hit by a speeding machine while walking with friends a few weeks ago, the tragedy seems compounded.

We understand the concern by legislators and their hope that they can do something to stem this tide of carnage on the snow. It is necessary to have some laws and regulations to create a degree of order in society, but we have serious doubts that expressed legislative concern or new law or appropriations for trails or enforcement will or can have any discernible impact on the problem.

We have developed this admittedly fatalistic viewpoint because we have lost faith in the ability of those comprising the American public—snowmobilers and others—to take personal responsibility for their actions and apply common sense to recognizing hazardous situations. Too many people are doing too many unreasonable things that put themselves and others at risk.

We believe that snowmobile manufacturers indeed have contributed to the problem, but not, as some would say, by producing high-powered machines that are capable of speeds in the 100 mph neighborhood. Ironically, they have contributed by their constant efforts to make the sport safer and more comfortable. These efforts have resulted in snowmobiles that are almost too good—so dependable and with such good stability and shock absorption that they can be driven at higher speed with less rider impact and greater driver control. These improvements, although desirable, can deceive drivers into over-estimating their abilities and traveling faster than they realize in conditions they fail to recognize as hazardous.

Certainly the degree of speed on snowmobiles contributes to the seriousness of accidents when they do happen, but the machines are not at fault. They don't seek out open water or thin ice or public roadways or rough surfaces or automatically operate with the throttle wide open. The fault lies—as the saying goes—with the nut that holds the handlebars (and squeezes the throttle).

A huge improvement in snowmobile safety could be made if drivers recognized that alcohol and/or other drugs should be avoided totally when operating a snowmobile. Well over half of the fatal snowmobiling accidents involve use of drugs or drinking alcohol. But we don't hold out much hope for that realization to sink in, either.

Because humans are prone to making poor judgments when snowmobiling, as they do when driving cars or taking part in other activities, there is little that legislators can do—short of banning the sport—to help protect us from ourselves. Tragedy will continue until we come to our senses and decide—voluntarily, as individuals—to inhibit our irresponsible actions.

Roseau 50-46 winner over TRF

Roseau closed the game with a 13-3 scoreboard run that vaulted the Rams past host Thief River Falls 50-46 Tuesday in boys high school basketball.

Thief River Falls fell behind early as Isaac Lang scored 11 quick points to put Roseau up 13-8 in the first quarter. The Prowlers stayed within 24-22 at halftime and took a 37-32 third quarter lead on a buzzer-beating 3-pointer by Anthony Hendricks.

Ahead 43-37, Thief River Falls twice missed the front end of bonus free throw opportunities that could have provided a 10 point cushion, and that opened the door for the game-winning Roseau comeback.

It was the second straight four-point loss for the 4-7 Prowlers, who fell 56-52 at Detroit Lakes the night before.

A 32 percent 19-for-59 shooting performance helped seal the Prowlers' fate. "We didn't put the ball in the basket," said Thief River Falls coach Scott Brekke. "Our defense has been doing a good job, but offensively..."

Hendricks had a game-high 20-point game for the Prowlers, but he was their only double figure scorer. Lang finished with 13 points and Matt Sjulstad had 11 for the Rams.

Roseau didn't shoot particularly well, either, with a 33 percent 18-for-54 showing from the field. But the Rams did score 13 points at the free throw line (20 attempts), while the Prowlers were 4-for-7. Roseau had one more rebound (33-31) and one more turnover (22-21) than Thief River Falls.

The game was a match-up of Russ Smith Northwest Holiday Classic finalists in December when Thief River Falls won 46-43.

Huskies coming off split

Goodridge, idle this week, will resume its boys high school basketball schedule Tuesday at East Grand Forks Sacred Heart.

The 9-3 Huskies have not played since a Jan. 17-18 weekend split that included a 63-60 Friday win at Red Lake Falls and a surprisingly one-sided 57-21 loss at the hands of Warren-Alvarado-Oslo during the Super Saturday match-ups at the University of Minnesota-Crookston.

"We came out real well against Red Lake Falls," said Goodridge coach Eric Mickelson, whose team jumped out to a 17-6 first quarter lead and had a 18-14 halftime cushion. "Red Lake Falls came out and played some hard-nosed defense in the second half, and with a lead, we decided to slow it down and look for the good shots."

Red Lake Falls closed the gap, but still trailed 63-57 before a 3-pointer at the buzzer made the final look close.

Saturday turned into an eye-closing nightmare for the Huskies, who mustered just eight first half points against the Ponies.

"I can't explain what happened," said Mickelson. "They (Ponies) were ready for us. They play excellent defense. They shut us down. We were flat, and we just couldn't get anything going. It was embarrassing."

The Ponies shot 55 percent from the field (23/42), while the Huskies shot just 26 percent (9/34).

Road wins few, far between for NCTC

Having enjoyed little success on the road, the Northland Community and Technical College men's basketball team is hoping a week-long, three-game homestand will turn the team's fortunes around as they try to defend their Minnesota Community College Conference Northwest Division title.

Northland, 6-7 overall and 2-3 in the MCCC, will host Fergus Falls Monday night, Rainy River Friday night and Hibbing Saturday afternoon.

The Pioneers have yet to face Fergus Falls this winter. They're coming off Jan. 17-18 weekend losses at Hibbing (96-95 in overtime) and Rainy River (85-70). Add a 95-77 Wednesday setback at Central Lakes, and you have a string of six straight road losses for Northland.

"The road has been killing us," acknowledged Northland coach Mark Dannhoff. "It's going to be nice to be home."

Losing at Hibbing was a major downer, according to Dannhoff, whose team had an eight-point lead with five minutes left in regulation time; worked the final 20 seconds off the clock before missing a tie-breaking field goal at the buzzer; missed two free throws while holding a 95-94 lead with 10 seconds left in overtime, then lost when the Cardinals' R.J. Morrison, despite close defensive coverage, nailed one at the buzzer.

"Actually, I thought we played well all weekend, we just didn't get the wins," offered Dannhoff. "We didn't make the plays or hit the shots when we needed them."

At Central Lakes, the Raiders converted Northland turnovers into points. "We did not take care of the basketball, and they capitalized," said Dannhoff. "They turned it over, too, but they scored off our turnovers, and we didn't convert our chances."

NCTC turnovers add up to 81-60 loss at Brainerd

A long trip made even longer by poor roads, a late arrival and hurried preparation all preceded Northland's Minnesota Community College Conference match-up with defending NJCAA Division III national champion Central Lakes Wednesday. No surprise, then, that the Pioneers lost the Northern Division women's basketball game at Brainerd 81-60.

However, the final spread was deceiving. It was a five-point game with five minutes to play before the Raiders broke it open.

"We hung in there," offered Northland coach Rick Nikunen.

And they did it despite turning the ball over 32 times.

"We just didn't execute very well," explained Nikunen. "They presented token pressure, it was just that we made bad decisions, we made poor passes and we fumbled the ball."

Northland was 22-for-50 from the field (44 percent) and 16-for-27 at the free throw line. Central Lakes went 34-for-76 from the floor (45 percent) and 8-for-11 at the line.

The Pioneers are 2-2 in the MCCC and 8-3 overall. It was announced this week that a 78-67 loss to Bethany on Dec. 14 was being turned into a forfeit win due to the use of an ineligible player by the Mankato school.

MCC falls in overtime

Marshall County Central shooting sabotaged an otherwise decent outing for the Nordics Tuesday in a 60-[illegible] double overtime boys high school basketball loss to Warroad at Newfolden.

A 33 percent 22-for-67 shooting performance from the field and a 38 percent 9-for-24 free throw night sent the Nordics to their tenth loss in 13 starts. They were just 2-for-18 from the floor through the fourth quarter and the two overtimes, and 3-for-10 fourth quarter free throw shooting included misses on the front end of two bonus opportunities.

"We played a pretty decent game, but we just can't shoot the ball with any consistency," said Marshall County Central coach Ron Ueland.

Marshall County Central trailed 13-11 at the end of the first quarter, but led 25-22 at halftime and carried a 45-36 edge heading into the fourth quarter.

"We had a nine-point lead and were playing pretty well," noted Ueland. "We moved the ball well, and we were getting pretty good shots."

Regulation time ended in a 50-50 tie. The Nordics' Matt Nelson made one of two free throws with four seconds left to tie it again at the end of the first quarter, 56-56.

Warroad was 23-for-51 from the field (45 percent) and 13-for-22 at the line. The winners finished with a slight 36-35 rebound edge, but also had more turnovers, 25-18.

EGF Sacred Heart hands RLCC boys fifth straight loss

Red Lake County Central came back from the Christmas/New Year break with a 53-52 win over Fisher/Climax, but since the Jan. 3 victory that put the Mustangs at 4-4, they've lost five straight boys high school basketball games.

Latest setback was a 71-58 defeat at the hands of East Grand Forks Sacred Heart Tuesday in Plummer.

Red Lake County Central was coming off a pair of weekend setbacks that included a 93-55 Friday thumping by Clearbrook-Gonvick in Oklee and a 77-50 loss to Crookston at the University of Minnesota-Crookston Super Saturday draw.

Bob Christianson led the Mustangs that night with 17 points.

The Saturday performance against Crookston was better, according to Mustangs coach Ryan Sedler, whose team was down just 49-41 heading into the fourth quarter, but was out-scored 26-10 down the stretch.

Dulka netted 15 points, Lorenson 14 and Nick Waldal 11 against the Pirates.

Green Wave holds off TRF 2-1

Turning in one of their better if not their best effort of the season still failed to put the Prowlers in the win column Tuesday as Thief River Falls lost a 2-1 Section 8A high school hockey game in East Grand Forks at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center.

The loss dropped the Prowlers to 2-11-1. They're 0-5-1 against Section 8A competition.

Tuesday they deserved better fate. Out-shooting a team for one of the few times this winter, the Prowlers were thwarted by East Grand Forks goalie Wade Hollman, who turned aside 24 of 25 shots.

"We played really well," said Thief River Falls coach Pat Cullen, "but that doesn't make it hurt any less. We played as well as we have all year, but we ran into a hot goaltender. We out-shot them, and we out-played them. We did everything but win."

The Prowlers got a solid 16-save game out of freshman goalie Mike Dowers in his first varsity start in place of senior Brian Bartz, Thief River Falls' regular goaltender.

"Brian's been playing well," explained Cullen. "We just wanted to do something different, a change of pace. We wanted to get somebody in there in case something should ever happen to Brian down the line. I thought Mike did well for a freshman in his first varsity start."

East Grand Forks got on the board quickly on a nice effort by Kyle Cash, who slipped by a defenseman along the boards and put a pass on the stick of teammate Scott Mack, who was coming down the the middle of the ice. Mack popped the puck over Dowers' shoulder 3:30 into the game.

Thief River Falls tied it at 7:58 of the first period on a rush down the ice that led to a goal mouth feed to Chad Nordhagen for a point-blank tip in.

Game winner came on a second period East Grand Forks power play as Mack cranked up on a [illegible] rush and watched his shot squeeze through Dowers' pads and slip across the goal line at [illegible].

Thief River Falls pressed for the equalizer with pressure in the middle of the second and third periods, but couldn't beat Hollman.

"We played well against a quality opponent," noted Cullen.

Scoring

First period - EGF - Scott Mack (Kyle Cash) 3:30. TRF - Chad Nordhagen (Kyle Anderson, Wade [illegible]) 7:58.

Second period - EGF - Mack (Cash) 4:39.

Third period - none.

Grygla-Gatzke remains unbeaten

Grygla-Gatzke got 20 points from its bench Tuesday in a 67-53 boys high school basketball win over visiting Kittson County North.

Alex Anderson was the Eagles' top scoring reserve with 10 points, while Derrick Gust, Kevin Engelstad and Kyle Lusignan also made solid contributions, pointed out Grygla-Grygla coach Vern Johnson, whose team remained unbeaten at 10-0.

Underdog Kittson County North challenged the Eagles, especially at the start with a 12-8 first quarter lead - all 12 points coming from Jeremy Hostrup. But Grygla-Gatzke went ahead 32-25 at halftime and had a 50-[illegible] third quarter advantage.

"They (Cougars) got off to a strong start on us," noted Johnson. "We started slow but we had a good second quarter."

Jim Engelstad turned in a strong 20-point, 10-rebound game for the winners, and Aaron Hollhusen had a 17-point, 9-rebound effort. Hostrup finished with 19 points.

The Eagles were 28-for-59 from the field (47 percent) and 8-for-13 at the free throw line. The Cougars went 22-for-55 from the floor (40 percent) and 4-for-10 at the line.

Pribula, Olson lead TRF swimmers

Competing against the best has apparently paid off for the Thief River Falls boys high school swim team this winter. Frequent weather-related interruptions have limited the Prowlers to six meets to date - three duals and three multiple-team events. On four of those occasions Bemidji has been in the pool with them, including Tuesday's triangular in Thief River Falls when they were also joined by Crookston.

Bemidji features the best line-up of swimmers in the area, pointed out Thief River Falls co-head coach Brian Olson, forcing the Prowlers to swim well just to keep from getting swamped. The team's best performances this winter, according to Olson, came in a 111-61 dual loss to Bemidji the previous Tuesday, and this week's triangular when the Lumberjacks collected 139 points, Thief River Falls 94 and Crookston 48.

"Bemidji has a great team, but we don't mind facing them," said Olson. "In fact, I think it has helped us. These kids (Prowlers) are amazing. You throw blizzards at them, cancel meets and practices, and they still keep coming back stronger and stronger. I don't want to put any pressure on them, but I definitely think they're going to be a team to watch at the Section 8 meet."

Team-wise, the Prowlers may not score high, but individually they will have contenders.

Tuesday, Thief River Falls' Chris Pribula and Zach Olson went 1-2 in both the 200 and 500 freestyle. Pribula, a senior, won them both in 1:58.26 and 5:22.11. Olson, a freshman, was second in 1:59.17 and 5:26.07, respectively.

"They went 1-2 against some very good competition," pointed out Brian Olson. "Those are fantastic times for the 200."

A new Thief River Falls 400 freestyle relay line-up produced eye-opening results, too, as Pribula and Zach Olson joined Aaron Sjaaheim and Mickey McEnelly for a strong 1:42.33 second place finish to a top-notch Bemidji team that touched them out with a 1:42.11.

Gators' bench plays role in win over TRF

Early foul trouble didn't create panic in the Badger/Greenbush-Middle River camp Tuesday because players like Joanna Johnson, Kara Kuzma and Tina Sikorski came off the bench to fill the gap and lead the Gators to a 55-42 girls high school basketball win over Thief River Falls.

Johnson finished as the Gators' leading scorer with 13 points and Kuzma joined her in double figures with 10.

"We got a lot of mileage out of our bench," pointed out Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Tom Neihauer. "They (Prowlers) put us in foul trouble. Nikki and Amber (starters Nikki Wahl and Amber Berg) only played about a half a game because of fouls, but Joanna, Kara and Tina played well off the bench."

The Gators, playing their first game at Greenbush – their practice site – of the year, led at the quarters 12-6, 27-16 and 38-29. Their only previous 'home' appearance in 12 starts was a Jan. 4 contest in Middle River.

"We didn't shoot that well, but our defense was decent," noted Neihauer.

Thief River Falls, coming off a weekend sweep of Moorhead and Fergus Falls, was held to 33 percent 13-for-39 shooting. The Prowlers were 15-for-27 at the free throw line. Badger/Greenbush-Middle River was 20-for-52 from the field (38 percent) and 13-for-25 at the line. The Prowlers had a 32-30 rebound edge, but also had more turnovers, 20-13.

The Prowlers' Kim Stenseth and Nicole Kopari matched Johnson's 13 points for game-high scoring honors.

"We started out flat," reported Thief River Falls coach Jeff Lane. "They (Gators) played good defense. They took us out of our offense."

The loss dropped the Prowlers to 7-8.

Conditions favor crops over livestock in survey for the Upper Midwest

Upper Midwest agricultural conditions continue to favor crops over livestock, according to 102 bankers surveyed in November by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis.

On the whole, bankers saw some improvement in financial conditions compared to both the preceding quarter and a year earlier. But the degree of improvement depended on their customers' mix of enterprises as well as the rainfall index. Profitability was worst in the very arid areas of Montana and the Dakotas where cattle ranching is the only activity, better in the somewhat less dry regions where wheat predominates and best in the high-rainfall corn-soybean regions of southern Minnesota and western Wisconsin.

In Minnesota, estimates of farm income and household and capital spending continue to be well above normal levels and above those in other district states. The number of borrowers at their debt limit is less than half that in Montana. Crop land prices have increased over seven per cent in the last year.

The complete survey results appear in the January issue of the fedgazette, a quarterly business and economics publication of the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis.

National Wheat Growers Ass'n. opens web site

The National Association of Wheat Growers (NAWG) has unveiled their new web site, "Wheatworld" at the organization's 1997 Annual Convention in Orlando, FL.

As the first step in a larger global wheat information system, Wheatworld is a visionary tool that will evolve over time. Wheatworld is the product of one of NAWG's critical success elements, a journey of 12 steps which will lead to a unified wheat industry.

The NAWG developed their new vision by imagining that the wheat industry was already in the year 2010. They asked themselves, "Where will the wheat industry be, and how will wheat producers market their product at that time?" The vision statement clarifies where the industry plans to be, and 12 critical success elements were created as benchmarks to measure the industry's success in achieving the vision. The acquisition, management and sharing of information on a global scale is a key factor in achieving the industry's vision, and that is where Wheatworld plays a major role.

Visitors to the site will be able to retrieve wheat prices directly from the Chicago Board of Trade, with plans to add the Kansas City Board of Trade and Minneapolis Board of Trade in the future. Industry statistics, reports, information about the NAWG and its components, links to government agencies and wheat industry associate members, and even links to relief organizations, are all available in Wheatworld. Wheat producers will be able to communicate with each other, with experts, and with industry associate members. New markets and avenues to promote their product will be open to producers through this system. Wheatworld will unite and help to unify a powerful new wheat industry.

Visitors can access Wheatworld at http://www.wheatworld.org.

Leadership program launched by Wheat Growers Association

The National Association of Wheat Growers Foundation (NAWGF) has announced their partnership with the Monsanto Company on a new Leadership Development Program for the wheat producers.

In 1989-90, the NAWGF and Monsanto implemented a two-year educational program focused on the development of wheat leaders to serve as industry spokespersons on environmental issues. The program provided NAWG and affiliated state associations with a vital team leader who could not only provide other producers and the public with up-to-date information on environmental issues, but could also speak for the NAWG and the wheat industry. Some of the program participants have gone on to serve as presidents of the NAWG and state wheat associations, representatives in state legislatures, and locally recognized environmental leaders and educators.

Because the initial program was so successful, the NAWGF and Monsanto have announced their plan to create and implement a new program to provide leadership training skills to a whole new group of wheat leaders. The new Leadership Development Program will broaden its scope to cover not only environmental issues, but also a wide range of local, state and national wheat issues.

This program will teach participants to identify and manage issues of importance at both the state and local level, which will in turn empower local and state associations in team building. Participants will also experience training in lobbying and negotiating, media preparation, public speaking and public relations, Best Management Practices, and the Internet and computers to help them articulate key messages for the wheat industry. Training will take place at Monsanto in St. Louis, followed by a week in Washington, DC, for training and Capitol Hill visits. Eventually, Leadership Development "alumni" will form a speakers bureau to allow for their continued participation, and to create a base of spokespersons for the industry.

Starting in 1997, the Leadership Development program will consist of one class each year for 11 participants. The NAWG's 22 affiliated state wheat associations will submit candidates each year for selection by the NAWG, NAWG Foundation and Monsanto. Judging from the success of the 1989-90 Leadership Development Program, the wheat industry should see a long and fruitful succession of local, state and national leaders emerging from this program.

Optimism for economic growth in '97

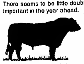
Regional business and community leaders are optimistic about 1997 economic growth prospects, according to a late-November poll by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis.

In spite of concerns about securing skilled workers, implementing new technologies and complying with government regulations, 85 per cent of the respondents are optimistic about their communities prospects in 1997.

Respondents' views on consumer spending and housing starts suggest moderate growth, and most are optimistic about business investment spending. Fifty-six per cent see an increase in employment in their communities next year.

Business leaders are looking at tight labor markets but do not expect large wage increases as a result. Adapting to new technologies and compliance with new government regulations also pose a challenge for their organizations.

Respondents' outlook for the regional economy next year is premised on continuing expansion in the national economy. Fifty-two per cent see real gross domestic product (GDP) increasing three per cent in 1997, its average increase since World War II.



CATTLEMEN:
Currently there is a difference of $114.28* between choice and select on a 700# carcass.
There seems to be little doubt that carcass quality will be very important in the year ahead.

Adding color and life to the hallway outside the Challenger elementary school gymnasium in Thief River Falls is a mural of clowns painted by artist Marv Espa of rural Roseau during the school system's Christmas and New Year holidays. Funds for the project were donated by the family of the late Tippi Benson, school social worker who loved clowns, collected clown art and often costumed and performed as a clown. The mural depicts a number of clowns humorously involved in physical education activities, as shown in the photo above. Additional photos will be published in the January 28 edition of The Times.

Fishing derby on Red Lake river Feb. 2

Knights of Columbus Council 4619 will conduct its 40th annual fishing derby on the Red Lake river near the Eighth Street bridge in Thief River Falls on Sunday, February 2, from 1 to 3 p.m.

Participation tickets are being sold at $1 each with holders eligible for five cash prizes of $100 each, a grand cash prize of $500 and more than $2,000 in additional prizes to be awarded in drawings during the derby. Grand prize drawings will be held at 2 p.m. Prizes will be given for fish caught during the derby.

Knights of Columbus uses the funds raised by conducting the derby for Northland Community and Technical College scholarships and youth activities. Raffle participants must be 18 years of age or older.

Goodridge snowmobile races set this Saturday

The 19th Annual Goodridge JC's 100-Mile Cross-Country Snowmobile race will be held Saturday, January 25. An 80 per cent payback is being guaranteed in some classes, and trophies will be awarded in all classes.

Registration will be held from 8 to 10 a.m. at the community center in Goodridge. A driver's meeting is scheduled at 10:30 a.m. The race begins at noon. Classes include: a Women's class, Legends over 40, 0-440 Sport class, 0-440 Fans, 0-440 Pro-Stock, and 0-600 Single Pipe. Class jumping is possible with an additional registration fee. Participants must furnish their own gas and oil.

Trophies and payback will be awarded in 0-440 Fan, 0-440 Pro-Stock, and 0-600 classes. Trophies will be awarded in the Women's, Legend's, and 440 Sport classes.

Organizers are hoping to see 70 to 80 racers on Saturday. Last year they had 50 racers sign up. There is no pre-registration.

Mike Hemmestvedt, a race organizer, said due to accidents at other races, the Minnesota Department of Transportation is prohibiting race crews or spectators from following racers on the route. Hemmestvedt said spectators can view the race in Goodridge, or at spots along the race route, which will be marked. There will be race officials on the course who will be able to assist drivers and communicate problems to the start/finish area.

Racers will leave in heats of three or four in one minute intervals. Timing officially concludes at 3 p.m. The awards presentation will take place at about 4:30 p.m.

For more information contact Mike Hemmestvedt at 681-6911; Mike Drangstveit at 218-378-4263; or Bob Paulson at 218-378-4366.

Barb Jauquet-Kalinoski heads Minnesota Library Association

"We have already started planning for the conference and making arrangements for speakers and exhibits," she said.

Other major responsibilities are in development of a strategic plan and some reorganization of the association and moving of the state office from the North Regional Branch of the Minneapolis Public Library to Midtown Commons in St. Paul.

There'll Be Some Changes Made

Because officers in the state association have generally come from the area of the state including the metropolitan area to St. Cloud, some changes will be made to accommodate Barb's presidency.

"We will be consolidating our meetings," she said. "I can't be running to St. Paul for meetings every week, so we will consolidate the several meetings normally held during the month into two days of meetings once a month. And we will be taking greater advantage of communications technology including E-mail and conference telephone calls."

As director of the Northwest Regional Library, Jauquet-Kalinoski has responsibilities including budgeting, visiting county boards of commissioners and city councils for the seven communities in the system, personnel and planning.

Regional Changes Made

During her years as director of the regional library, she has been involved in a number of changes, many of which involve technology. These include regional automation and upgrading of the delivery system which allows patrons to get more materials faster.

Continuing education opportunities for employees have also been greatly increased and will continue to grow.

In fact, Jauquet-Kalinoski is a member of the committee which wrote the Minnesota Voluntary Library Certification program for public library employees and has been involved in continuing education activities for the MLA and chairs the continuing education committee for the Council of Regional Public Library Administrators. She has also chaired various other committees through her years of membership on the council.

Helped Develop Standards

A member of the task force which wrote the Standards for Minnesota Public Libraries, 1995/1996 following monthly meetings in St. Cloud (Barb was able to participate because she could drive down and back the same day), she also has served as a member of the advisory council for the Office of Library Development and Services since 1994. She was vice chair last year and chair this year of the Committee for Library Information and Media Education (CLIME).

She is a member of the Northern Lights Library Network and its Cooperative Automation Project council, and has served as a member of various committees for that network. Northern Lights includes four public library systems involving the counties of Kittson, Roseau, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake, Polk, Norman, Mahnomen, Clearwater, Clay, Becker, Wilkin, Otter Tail, Traverse, Grant, Douglas, Stevens, Pope, Crow Wing, Cass, Wadena, Hubbard and Beltrami.

Active "Non-Involvement"

Despite her claim of non-involvement in the community, Barb has not been invisible. She is a former member of the American Association of University Women and a recipient of its Woman of Honor award; was president of the Thief River Falls Rotary Club in 1994; has been a member of the St. Bernard's Home and School Association; chairs the Planning, Evaluating and Reporting (PER) committee of School District 564 and has served on other committees in the school district through the years.

She is listed in Who's Who in American Women and Who's Who in the Midwest.

"If I have been blessed with anything other than my family," she said, "it has probably been my organizational ability."

That may be one reason why the presidency of a state association with headquarters 300 miles away may not seem intimidating. "I'll find a way to fit it in," she said.

required for children ages 12 to 16 in order for them to ride a snowmobile. They also put on a lot of fundraisers throughout the winter to help maintain the club.

The club gets some funding from the state to help maintain the grant in aid trails, but they are begining to cut back on funding. The more they cut back, the less often they can groom trails and do upkeep work.

"It is important to be part of MnUSA to support the trail system," stressed Hitland. "Without members and support the trail system would go under." Most of the trails in the state are located right here in northwestern Minnesota. If the community wants to keep all of these trails, residents have to begin to get involved. Members are greatly needed in all of the local clubs and most of all in MnUSA. Membership is inexpensive at only $30 a year for a family membership which includes both the TRF Sno-Drifters and MnUSA. This money goes towards maintaining the trail system.

The club is also a wonderful way for snowmobilers to meet others that enjoy their pastime. With 90 members in Thief River Falls alone, there are a lot of people out there who share a common interest.

The Sno-Drifters have group rides and they also get together with other area clubs for rides, so it is an easy way to find someone else to go for a ride with you.

All of the local snowmobile clubs along with MnUSA need everybody's help to keep the Minnesota trail system going and keep it fun. The next time you are out for a ride and notice how well groomed and smooth the trails are, or how rough and bumpy they are, remember how you can help.

For more information on MnUSA, call 612-577-0185. Or for information on the Thief River Falls Sno-Drifters contact Jeff Hitland at 218-689-0280.

something good for someone who expresses their thanks, Peters said.

Bob Cardinal, a crew supervisor, said "Offender" has a connotation to it that to some means they aren't good people and aren't willing to work. That's just the opposite in many cases. They are often very helpful and often go above and beyond what is asked of them.

Peters noted that they have on occasion gone to a home to perform a chore and ended up repairing something, such as a lawn mower tire, or in another instance, hanging curtains.

The interaction between client and STS crew member has been interesting to observe, said Wayne Nomeland, another STS crew supervisor. At first they seem cautious but soon are visiting.

Peters said STS crews also include juveniles. He said their interaction with individuals 60 and over has also been very positive. "Overall," he said, "it has been a very fulfilling experience."

Peters said other people have also helped make this experience very positive. He thanked the Area Agency on Aging board, Danica Robson and Rose Carriere, and the sheriffs of Marshall, Pennington and Kittson counties, who have been very supportive.

School District 564 combines four positions

Glenn Chiodo has been named the coordinator of educational services, a position which encompasses the duties two positions — director of special education and director of curriculum and instruction.

LeRoy Vigon has been named superintendent of transportation/building and grounds for School District 564. Vigon has been with the school district for 22 years in the building and grounds department.

by David Hill
Associate Editor

Recently four positions in School District 564 were combined into two positions with the hiring of Glenn Chiodo, as coordinator of educational services, and LeRoy Vigon as supervisor of transportation/building and grounds.

Superintendent of Schools Jerry Robicheau said it was done for economic reasons and a stand point of efficiency in education. Robicheau believes that if you take a look at districts across Minnesota, school districts can no longer afford single purpose positions. They have to look at melding positions.

"The school district is sensitive to taxpayer concerns and issues. We are trying to become a more efficient operation," said Robicheau.

Robicheau explained that the opportunity to meld the positions presented itself as one of many options when Gloria Bjurkman, director of special education, Bev Arnston of director of curriculum and instruction, and Fred Myklehy, director of transportation, all resigned.

Robicheau believes that by melding these positions, the district

Sagging roof

Grygla – School was called off in Grygla Tuesday when a portion of the roof near the north-side entrance began to collapse from the weight of heavy snow. Janitor Owen Hagen discovered the cave-in about 5 a.m. when he reported to work. The iron structure in the roof over the back entrance to the high school had bent and dropped about 6 to 8 inches, causing ceiling tile to fall.

Snow was removed from the roof with a snow blower and hauled away from the building. The roof in the area of the cave-in is flat, and Superintendent Hoffert said there was about four feet of heavy snow on top. The collapse prompted the school administrators to look at all the other roof tops and ceilings to check for potential damage.

New equipment

Warroad – Warroad's local ambulance service, The Warroad Volunteer Rescue Unit, has recently purchased a new blood pressure monitor that will help in giving the best possible pre-hospital care available in the community.

The new Propaq 102/LCD blood pressure monitor will be utilized in the ambulance where adequate blood pressure readings are a must.

When a person has been in an accident, lowered blood pressure may indicate shock and internal bleeding, whereas a high blood pressure may indicate an impending stroke or head injury. Therefore receiving an accurate blood pressure reading is extremely important in knowing what the vitals are and what the receiving care facility should be expecting.

The newly purchased Propaq 102/LCD cost approximately $6,?00 and is also utilized in the Life flight helicopters that may undergo turbulence while transporting an accident victim. Although the cost of the monitor may seem high, an accurate reading is crucial in an emergency and the lives it helps to save are worth the cost.

'My Favorite Book'

Greenbush – Many local first graders will have a new favorite book very soon. My Favorite Book, a beautifully illustrated volume expressive of positive citizenship values, is being made available to certain local schools as a gift to first graders by local business leaders who are concerned about the future of children.

With each distribution extra copies of the book are given to the school along with a professionally narrated audio cassette of the book. A copy of the volume goes home with the child to become his or her very own. Along with the book, a Parent Guide is sent to every parent explaining the positive character traits covered in the book.

Part of history

Oklee – This past week has seen the demolition of a building which was built in 1941, the old theater building. It was built by Joe Dufault and became the place where movies were shown. The building has now been demolished by Zimpel Construction of Plummer for safety reasons and the land is currently in forfeiture proceedings with Red Lake County.

Pesticide applicator training offered Thursday, February 4

Private Pesticide Applicator Training for anyone who applies restricted use pesticides will be offered on Tuesday, February 4th, 10:00 a.m. at the courthouse meeting room in Thief River Falls.

Pesticide applicator training is required by the Minnesota Department of Agriculture for farmers who apply any type of restricted use pesticides. This includes several of the more popular herbicides as well as most insecticides and fumigants. The new worker protection standards will also be covered at the meeting. Consequently, farmers who have non-family employees and use pesticides requiring field posting may also wish to attend the training.

While the certification training is mandatory, attendance at the meetings is not. Should an applicator wish to study the materials and do the testing at home, materials to do this are available any time at the County Extension Office.

The cost of the certification program is $25.00 and once certified, the permit pesticide applicators receive is valid for three years, generally expiring on their birthday.

Medical Center receives much help from volunteers

by Amy Branscomb
Northern Watch reporter

Volunteers are an important part of Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls. The numerous hours and dedication they put into helping others is what makes the Volunteer services tick.

The mission statement of the Volunteer services is as follows: "The primary purpose of the Volunteer services is to give service to Northwest Medical Center, the patients, their families, the hospital staff and visitors in the hospital. To provide positions to volunteers who are caring and interested in helping others and to work with these individuals to assure their volunteering is a meaningful and rewarding experience."

The volunteer program at NWMC is there to enhance NWMC service to the patients and their families; provide people in the community with the opportunity for meaningful service; increase the community's understanding of NWMC, and provide youth of the community career exploration in the health care as they serve in the junior volunteer program.

Volunteer services will try to coordinate the needs of the hospital with the interests and abilities and time available of the volunteers. Volunteers are encouraged to participate in many staff in service programs available at the hospital throughout the year.

One shift (usually three or more hours per week, depending on the service), on a regularly scheduled basis is expected of each volunteer. The exception is for those who work on a substitute basis. Volunteers are not required to work on holidays but may certainly do so if they wish.

If a volunteer fails to comply with volunteer regulations as set forth in the volunteer handbook, is irregular in attendance, or has several unexcused absences, the hospital reserves the right to terminate his or her services.

For each adult volunteer, the hospital sponsors an annual recognition brunch in April. At this time volunteers will receive an award based on number of hours volunteered: under 50 hours, certificate, 50 hours, volunteer pin, 100 hours, guard for pin, each additional 100 hours, guard for pin.

Some of the areas that an individual may volunteer in are as follows:

- Gift Shop. Gift shop volunteers sell items in the shop, deliver gifts to the patients, and assist patients in

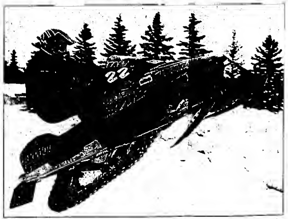
Ski-Doo teams tune up machines at Goodridge

Drivers and crews check conditions before GMC-500 race starts on Sunday



Dennis Durmes of Loveland, CO, catches a little air while testing his Ski-Doo snowmobile in the ditches south of Goodridge. This is the first year the Ski-Doo racers have had an opportunity to fine tune their sleds to area racing conditions for the 500-mile cross-country race which starts Sunday at Beausejour, Man., Canada—thanks to Goodridge area assistance.

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

If you thought cross-country snowmobile racing was just a matter of holding the throttle open until you ran out of gas, hit something, fell off or saw a checkered flag, it's time to think again. Driver abilities aside, it can be the little things that make the difference between a top finish and not finishing at all.

Some of those little things were being tested by half a dozen drivers of Ski-Doo snowmobiles the past several days in the Goodridge area, thanks to the sportsmanship and cooperation of a number of area snowmobile enthusiasts and many members of the Goodridge community.

"We felt we have been at a disadvantage in the long cross-country races," explained Bill Rader, race coordinator for Bombardier Motor Corporation at Wausau, WI.

"The 500-mile race has been fairly well dominated by Arctic Cat and Polaris in the past few years. With their manufacturing plants and race headquarters in this area, they have been able to test and tune their machines to the conditions they will be racing under. We have never been able to do this before, and we have learned a lot in the past few days."

Bubba To The Rescue

Rader and Ski-Doo race manager Tom Rager had mentioned their desire to test in the area when visiting with area ISOC helpers during the Ironman 250 race at Thief River Falls and the races at Eagle River, WI. One of those listening was Bubba Ness of Gonvick, who does staging for a number of the ISOC races each year.

"I have known Dave Dahlen of Goodridge for many years and asked him if he knew of any place the Ski-Doo team could set up in the area for testing," Ness told the Northern Watch. "Dave suggested Goodridge, where the city has a camper parking area that is used in the summer. He said he would plow it out so it could be used for parking the race trailers and vehicles."

Teams Arrived Tuesday

Eager to begin testing, the Ski-Doo teams and Rader—along with a parts support truck, driver and engine and clutch technicians from the Bombardier manufacturing plant at Valcourt, Quebec, Canada pulled into Goodridge on Tuesday

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Today we have recipes for a couple of main dish ideas, as well as a tasty bread that will taste great with either one, as well as a very special dessert.

Here's a tasty main dish meal you can make in minutes:

SPICY RICEY CASSEROLE
1 pound mild bulk pork sausage
1 teaspoon ground cumin
1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
2 medium onions, chopped
2 medium green peppers, chopped
2 beef bouillon cubes
2 cups boiling water
1 or 2 jalapeno peppers, seeded and minced
1 (6 1/4 ounces) package long grain and wild rice

In large skillet, cook sausage, cumin and garlic powder, stirring often. Drain. Add onions and green peppers and saute until crisp-tender.

Dissolve bouillon in water and add to skillet. Stir in jalapenos, rice and rice seasoning packet. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer, uncovered, 5-10 minutes or until water is absorbed.

Make that ordinary chicken into something special this weekend:

OVEN BARBECUED CHICKEN
3-4 pounds chicken pieces
1/3 cup chopped onion
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3/4 cup ketchup
1/3 cup vinegar
3 tablespoons brown sugar
1/2 cup water
2 teaspoons mustard
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper

Heat small amount of oil in skillet. Fry chicken until browned. Drain and place chicken in 9x13 inch baking dish.

In saucepan, saute onion in butter until tender. Stir in remaining ingredients and simmer, uncovered, for 15 minutes. Pour over chicken and bake at 350 degrees about 1 hour or until chicken is done, basting occasionally.

This tasty bread will be a great accompaniment to that chicken or casserole:

MEXICAN CORN BREAD
1 cup yellow cornmeal
1/3 cup flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup buttermilk
1/2 cup vegetable oil
1 (8 3/4 ounces) can cream-style corn
1/3 cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons green pepper
1/2 cup shredded cheddar cheese

Combine cornmeal, flour, sugar, salt, baking powder and soda. Combine remaining ingredients and add to flour mixture, stirring only until moistened.

Pour into greased 9 inch square pan or 10 inch heavy skillet. Bake at 350 degrees for 30-35 minutes, until bread is golden and tests done.

For dessert, how about making one of those old-fashioned chocolate cakes this weekend, frosted with a creamy vanilla icing:

MOIST CHOCOLATE CAKE
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
2 teaspoons soda
3/4 cup cocoa
2 cups sugar
1 cup vegetable oil
1 cup hot coffee
1 cup milk
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift dry ingredients in bowl. Add oil, coffee and milk and mix at medium speed for 2 minutes.

Add eggs and vanilla and beat 2 more minutes (batter will be thin).

Pour into 2 greased and floured 9 inch cake pans. Bake at 325 degrees for 25-30 minutes. Cool cakes 15-20 minutes before removing from pans to wire racks.

Favorite Icing
1 cup milk
5 tablespoons flour
1/2 cup butter, softened
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine milk and flour in saucepan. Cook thick, cover and refrigerate.

In mixing bowl, beat butter, shortening, sugar and vanilla until creamy. Add chilled milk-flour mixture and beat for 10 minutes. Frost cooled cake.

Rep. Finseth lists hunting season dates

"Although hunters and anglers will have to wait until summer to hear details about fall season lengths, quotas and bag limits, the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources has released a list of proposed hunting dates for 1997," states District 1B State Representative Tim Finseth of Angus.

Rep. Finseth said the opening dates are tentative pending final approval in June, but no changes are anticipated. The dates are being announced early so that hunters can plan trips and vacations in advance.

"The DNR will also be holding a series of meetings across the state to gather input about proposed new regulations and hunting and fishing seasons in general," Finseth added. "As of Thursday they hadn't released the time and locations of the meetings, but expect an announcement shortly."

Small game season opening dates include: Spring wild turkey (first season), April 16; crow, July 1; woodcock, rails and snipe, Sept. 1; general small game (grouse, gray partridge, rabbits and squirrels), Sept. 13; pheasant, Oct. 15; and fall wild turkey (First season), Oct. 15;

Opening dates for big game include: Bear, Sept. 1; deer (archery), Sept. 13; deer (firearms), Nov. 8; deer (muzzle loader), Nov. 29; and moose (northeast), Oct. 4.

Furbearer trapping opening dates are as follows: Mink, muskrat, beaver and otter (north zone), Oct. 25; and fisher, marten and bobcat, Nov. 29.

Hunters and anglers are also reminded that the hunting and fishing years begin on March 1. A 1996 license is needed to hunt or fish until February 28. Licenses for 1997 may be purchased now but will not be valid until March 1.

To The Editor:

The Northern Municipal Power Agency had its annual meeting on Monday, January 27, 1997 at the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls. Thief River Falls is one of 12 cities that own 30 percent of the Coyote coal-fired generating plant in North Dakota. Minnkota Power Cooperative serves as the operating agent for this interest.

The Minnesota Legislature passed a law in 1993 authorizing the Minnesota Public Utility Commission to arrive at the cost of "externalities" to the environment for electric power generation. The report came out Dec. 16, 1996, and used pollutants to the air as determined by E.P.A. and the Clean Air Act—federal regulation. Some of the pollutants are CO2, SO2, NOX, particulates and lead.

Quoting from Dixie Lee Ray's Book Environmental Overkill: In 1980, because of all the hype, Congress authorized a 10-year study using 700 scientists, at an estimated cost of $500 million, known as the National Acid Precipitation Assessment Project (NAPAP). In 1987, an interim report was presented to E.P.A.: The acid rain is not the environmental crisis scientists have suggested. In addition, NAPAP found that nitrogen and sulphur that characterize acid rain really act as nutrients, essential for plant growth. A Swedish research project determined 'The principal effect of acid rain is the improvement of crop yield and crop protein content.'

"The conclusions were unacceptable to E.P.A. and to many of the environmentalists whose reputations were at stake. They brought pressure to bear on Director Dr. J. L. Kulp and some of his associates, and they were removed. Dr. James Mahoney was appointed director and was, according to Warren Brooks, 'ordered to re-write the report and repudiate its findings. Dr. Mahoney is too good a scientist to acquiesce to such political pressure.' Dr. Edward Krug, one of the original team, says 'acid rain had to be an environmental catastrophe, no matter what the facts revealed.'"

Congress did not even consider the NAPAP findings when it passed the 1990 Clean Air Act. From the Congressional Record, this quote by Senator Glenn, S.3254—March 27, 1990. "We have spent over $500 million on the most definitive study of acid precipitation that has ever been done in the history of the world, and we do not want to listen to what the experts say."

From Dixie Lee Ray again: "We are now saddled with a $40 billion bill to reduce acid rain, a cost the will be borne by the electric utilities and the rate payers." Dr. Edward Krug talks about "The Great Acid Rain Flimflam" in Policy Review, Heritage Foundation, Spring 1990, pp 44-48.

We, you and I, are the rate payers, and the effects are filtering down through the state laws like the MPUC report on "externalities" and the potential legislation on electric deregulation. The devil is always in the details. Where has common sense gone? We, the people, are the victims.

Sincerely,
Donald Barron, Thief River Falls

"Northwest Minnesota Digs Out After Blizzard Xena....."

People who have spent their lifetimes in the nation's sunny climes where frost is an aberration and snow is unthinkable can't understand what people in northwestern Minnesota do for survival or sanity, much less entertainment, during our nine months of winter (well, it seems like nine months!).

Most of us don't have to worry about maintaining sanity, since initial possession of that faculty is questionable among those who winter here by choice. Some residents use liberal and frequent refortification with fifths or quarts of antifreeze and pass the winter season in a semi-conscious state. Some invest their life savings in the latest state-of-the-art attire and spend the long nights packing down acres of new snowfall with their snowmobiles. Others find new meaning in the word Oprah and dedicate themselves to mastery of the irrelevant. And still others buy new pickups with frost plug heaters to assist sub-zero starts and while away the interminable hours isolated in tiny shacks situated over holes on lakes and rivers.

For nearly everyone, however, winter in the north country provides some time to ponder how things are, might be, could be or should be. And developing a sense of humor is vital in shrugging off minus 75 degree wind chill and being homebound by blizzards or their resultant snow drifts.

A local resident who prefers to bask in the glow of anonymity (it's warmer there!) recently submitted a "news article" expected to be of use to the Northern Watch in its May 24, 1997 issue. In a land where naming blizzards alphabetically is not considered abnormal or even questionable behavior, using free winter time to write spring stories should be equally acceptable. One might suspect the writer thinks this winter is getting long. Judge for yourselves from this submitted May 24 "story:"

"Thief River Falls and northwestern Minnesota are again digging out after the latest blizzard of the year, Xena, hit the area on May 20 through 22. Most buildings are again visible, however, the traffic tunnels are still blocked at most major entrances. Plows will be working through June to clear the openings.

"While Xena was considered a small storm, with no more than 26 inches of snow, it appears to have been the straw that has broken the camel's back for many residents. At this writing the only way out of town is by air. This morning, Northwest AirLink announced that it will no longer have any incoming flights, due to lack of ridership. It has been announced, however, that the number of C-130 transport planes leaving daily will be increased to five. This will double the number of refugees who will be able to leave the area.

"There has been some good news despite all the bad weather in the past weeks. Marshall County Sheriff Dennis Brekke reported that his department has again located the city of Middle River. The central Marshall county community had been missing since the first part of April, after blizzard Sue buried the area with a near-record 100 inches of snow over a five-day period.

"When the first opening was made in the drift over Middle River, it was directly above the Wagon Wheel, a local bar. According to Sheriff Brekke, the first reaction by those liberated was surprise, for they hadn't noticed they had been missing. Then they became a bit irate at the intrusion, stating that they had plenty of beer and pork rinds left and the pinochle game was just starting to warm up.

"Also, the latest flood forecast for the Red River Valley is looking more and more promising each day. According to the latest predictions, the Red River of the North will not open up at all this year. Because of this, there should be no flooding whatsoever. This was welcome news to the Grand Forks, ND, city council because, to date, they have no idea where the garage where the sand bags are stored is located any more.

"The forecast for the next week is looking just a bit better, with a high of 30 below zero during the week and overnight lows right around 60 below. After the cold snap of the past two weeks, the moderation will be welcomed."

Given the precedent established by the first part of winter 1996-97, we plan to keep this story on file. It might be useful toward the end of May.

It seems like every third pickup truck you meet around the area this winter has a blade or snowplow hanging on the front. One acquaintance said he was going to buy one of the contraptions, fill up the truck with gas and drive south until someone asked him what that thing on the front of his truck was for. Then he was going to stay there. We think we should go along to cover the event.

"Minnesota Wins".... Another Metro Fantasy

Interests promoting the fantasy of a new baseball stadium in the Twin Cities have adopted the catchy title "Minnesota Wins" and are busily making phone calls and sales pitches seeking support wherever it may be found. According to the most recent figures we have seen, about seven out of 10 respondents in greater Minnesota are opposed the proposal presented.

There may be more support in lesser Minnesota where benefits from a major league baseball franchise exist. If that is indeed the case, greater Minnesotans likely would gladly forgo the "opportunity" presented to have a 49 percent ownership and allow some metro-based entity to buy in instead.

The information kit provided by the Minnesota Wins group is magnificently vague and well calculated to be misleading.

- It lists no projected project cost total nor information on how or to what extent the State of Minnesota would be expected to participate, but speculates a "10-cents per pack tax on cigarettes would fund the public portion of a new outdoor ballpark in approximately four to five years."
- It points out that the state's share of the team's profit would be 49 percent, then notes that "the Twins have had operating losses of $11.5 million in 1994, $13.7 million in 1995 and a projected $9 million loss in 1996" and that "in subsequent years the Twins are projected to have losses estimated at $9-13 million annually." Forty-nine per cent of less than nothing isn't much.
- The Pohlad proposal package lists a value of $50 million for 49 percent ownership of the Twins. Minnesota Wins says that "since purchasing the Twins for $36 million in 1984, Carl Pohlad has subsidized more than $100 million in operating losses—significantly more than the current market value of the team." If $100 million is significantly more than the team is worth, how is a 49 percent share valued at $50,000? Is this Minnesota modern math?

The cigarette tax proposal to pay for whatever the public share of the stadium cost would be has met with expected (and justified) opposition from smokers, who see no reason they should be singled out to foot the bill. It has also prompted one of our colleagues to suggest an appropriate name for the proposed facility—Joe Camel Memorial Stadium.

Two of the most popular Twins in recent years—Kent Hrbek and Kirby Puckett—have been drawn into the fray as supporters of the proposal. Puckett in particular, in a new Twins' executive office, is prodded into pushing the Pohlad proposal, thus adding a new dimension to King Carl's favorite term: "Touch 'em all, Kirby Puckett."

Enough, already. Let the mismanagers of America's game who allowed the costs to get totally out of hand wallow their own way out of the mire they created. Spare the legislature and the common people of the state any involvement in this slipshod private business.

To The Editor:

For a long time I've been thinking about the future use of the old Soo Line depot. I've read in the Thief River Falls Times that our city council is considering it as a place to relocate our city offices. I don't think that is a good plan for the reasons stated below, and I'd like to have them seriously considered at the next city council meeting, if possible, or at least before a final decision is made:

(1) The present city offices are now in the city auditorium which is right in the heart of our downtown and would be readily accessible once an elevator has been installed.

(2) Our downtown area is familiar to our residents.

(3) Our city offices are well established now. Why should they be moved?

(4) Wouldn't it be better to move the Chamber of Commerce back to the depot where it was before? Local people know where the parking lots are. Visitors to our city could stop at the chamber's office to inquire about parking if need be.

(5) Wouldn't it cost less to make the auditorium handicapped accessible by installing an elevator?

Encouragingly and respectfully yours,

To The Editor:

The Northern Municipal Power Agency had its annual meeting on Monday, January 27, 1997 at the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls. Thief River Falls is one of 12 cities that own 30 percent of the Coyote coal-fired generating plant in North Dakota. Minnkota Power Cooperative serves as the operating agent for this interest.

The Minnesota Legislature passed a law in 1993 authorizing the Minnesota Public Utility Commission to arrive at the cost of "externalities" to the environment for electric power generation. The report came out Dec. 16, 1996, and used pollutants to the air as determined by E.P.A. and the Clean Air Act—federal regulation. Some of the pollutants are CO2, SO2, NOX, particulates and lead.

Quoting from Dixie Lee Ray's Book Environmental Overkill: In 1980, because of all the hype, Congress authorized a 10-year study using 700 scientists, at an estimated cost of $500 million, known as the National Acid Precipitation Assessment Project (NAPAP). In 1987, an interim report was presented to E.P.A. The acid rain is not the environmental crisis scientists have suggested. In addition, NAPAP found that nitrogen and sulphur that characterize acid rain really act as nutrients essential for plant growth. A Swedish research project determined 'The principal effect of acid rain is the improvement of crop yield and crop protein content.'

The conclusions were unacceptable to E.P.A. and to many of the environmentalists whose reputations were at stake. They brought pressure to bear on Director Dr. J. L. Kulp and some of his associates, and they were removed. Dr. James Mahoney was appointed director and was, according to Warren Brooks, 'ordered to re-write the report and repudiate its findings. Dr. Mahoney is too good a scientist to acquiesce to such political pressure.' Dr. Edward Krug, one of the original team, says 'acid rain had to be an environmental catastrophe, no matter what the facts revealed.'

Congress did not even consider the NAPAP findings when it passed the 1990 Clean Air Act. From the Congressional Record, this quote by Senator Glenn, S 3254—March 27, 1990: 'We have spent over $500 million on the most definitive study of acid precipitation that has ever been done in the history of the world, and we do not want to listen to what the experts say.'

From Dixie Lee Ray again: 'We are now saddled with a $40 billion bill to reduce acid rain, a cost the will be borne by the electric utilities and the rate payers." Dr. Edward Krug talks about 'The Great Acid Rain Flimflam' in Policy Review, Heritage Foundation, Spring 1990, pp 44-48.

We, you and I, are the rate payers, and the effects are filtering down through the state laws like the MPUC report on 'externalities' and the potential legislation on electric deregulation. The devil is always in the details. Where has common sense gone? We, the people, are the victims.

Sincerely,
Donald Barron, Thief River Falls

"Northwest Minnesota Digs Out After Blizzard Xena....."

People who have spent their lifetimes in the nation's sunny climes where frost is an aberration and snow is unthinkable can't understand what people in northwestern Minnesota do for survival or sanity, much less entertainment, during our nine months of winter (well, it seems like nine months!)

Most of us don't have to worry about maintaining sanity, since initial possession of that faculty is questionable among those who winter here by choice. Some residents use liberal and frequent refortification with fifths or quarts of antifreeze and pass the winter season in a semi-conscious state. Some invest their life savings in the latest state-of-the-art attire and spend the long nights packing down acres of new snowfall with their snowmobiles. Others find new meaning in the word Oprah and dedicate themselves to mastery of the irrelevant. And still others buy new pickups with frost plug heaters to assist sub-zero starts and while away the interminable hours isolated in tiny shacks situated over holes on lakes and rivers.

For nearly everyone, however, winter in the north country provides some time to ponder how things are, might be, could be or should be. And developing a sense of humor is vital in shrugging off minus 75 degree wind chill and being homebound by blizzards or their resultant snow drifts.

A local resident who prefers to bask in the glow of anonymity (it's warmer there!) recently submitted a "news article" expected to be of use to the Northern Watch in its May 24, 1997 issue. In a land where naming blizzards alphabetically is not considered abnormal or even questionable behavior, using free winter time to write spring stories should be equally acceptable. One might suspect the writer thinks this winter is getting long. Judge for yourselves from this submitted May 24 "story:"

"Thief River Falls and northwestern Minnesota are again digging out after the latest blizzard of the year, Xena, hit the area on May 20 through 22. Most buildings are again visible, however, the traffic tunnels are still blocked at most major entrances. Plows will be working through June to clear the openings.

"While Xena was considered a small storm, with no more than 26 inches of snow, it appears to have been the straw that has broken the camel's back for many residents. At this writing the only way out of town is by air. This morning, Northwest AirLink announced that it will no longer have any incoming flights, due to lack of ridership. It has been announced, however, that the number of C-130 transport planes leaving daily will be increased to five. This will double the number of refugees who will be able to leave the area.

"There has been some good news despite all the bad weather in the past weeks. Marshall County Sheriff Dennis Brekke reported that his department has again located the city of Middle River. The central Marshall county community had been missing since the first part of April, after blizzard Sue buried the area with a near-record 100 inches of snow over a five-day period.

"When the first opening was made in the drift over Middle River, it was directly above the Wagon Wheel, a local bar. According to Sheriff Brekke, the first reaction by those liberated was surprise, for they hadn't noticed they had been missing. Then they became a bit irate at the intrusion, stating that they had plenty of beer and pork rinds left and the pinochle game was just starting to warm up.

"Also, the latest flood forecast for the Red River Valley is looking more and more promising each day. According to the latest predictions, the Red River of the North will not open up at all this year. Because of this, there should be no flooding whatsoever. This was welcome news to the Grand Forks, ND, city council because, to date, they have no idea where the garage where the sand bags are stored is located any more.

"The forecast for the next week is looking just a bit better, with a high of 30 below zero during the week and overnight lows right around 60 below. After the cold snap of the past two weeks, the moderation will be welcomed."

Given the precedent established by the first part of winter 1996-97, we plan to keep this story on file. It might be useful toward the end of May.

It seems like every third pickup truck you meet around the area this winter has a blade or snowplow hanging on the front. One acquaintance said he was going to buy one of the contraptions, fill up the truck with gas and drive south until someone asked him what that thing on the front of his truck was for. Then he was going to stay there. We think we should go along to cover the event.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

Lumberjacks' start buries TRF

Bemidji fashioned a strong start into a 61-45 boys high school basketball win over visiting Thief River Falls Tuesday.

The Lumberjacks jumped out to an 18-8 first quarter lead, opened up a 36-17 halftime gap and maintained a 51-31 third quarter spread.

"We came out kind of flat, and they got on us right away," acknowledged Thief River Falls coach Scott Brekke. "We played a good second half, but we had to work so hard to get catch up we didn't have anything left at the end. We've got to be able to put two halves together."

The Prowlers did chop the 20-point third quarter in half in the fourth quarter, and had a couple of opportunities to make it a single-digit deficit, but couldn't complete the comeback.

"The kids played hard," noted Brekke, "but you just can't spot teams leads like that and expect to win."

Keith Salscheider had a 25-point game for the Lumberjacks. Anthony Hendricks led the Prowlers with 16 points.

Thief River Falls was 20-for-48 from the field (42 percent) compared to Bemidji's 22-for-60 (37 percent) shooting. The winners, however, were 14-for-29 at the free throw line, where the Prowlers were a quiet 3-for-5.

Bemidji had a 29-23 rebound edge. Thief River Falls had more turnovers, 23-15.

It was the sixth straight defeat for the 4-9 Prowlers, who lost to the Lumberjacks earlier this year 68-36.

Pirates strike early in 9-4 win

Crookston staggered Thief River Falls with four first period goals Tuesday, then answered the Prowlers' comeback efforts the rest of the night to finish with a 9-4 Section 8A high school hockey win.

The Pirates were up 3-0 before the game was seven minutes old. Thief River Falls turned a 4-0 game to 4-2 by the midway mark of the second period, but fell behind by four again, 6-2, before the break arrived.

It was more of the same in the third period as the Prowlers pulled within 6-4 in the first two minutes, only to give up three more goals down the stretch.

"We got too far behind right away," offered Thief River Falls coach Pat Cullen. "They seemed to come out fired up, and we didn't respond to the challenge."

Troy Kleven had a two-goal, three-assist game for the winners. Marty Aubol also scored twice. Chris Myrold, Joey Corbin, Todd Chandler, Garret Rock and Chad Sperling picked up single goals, while Andy Fee matched Kleven's three assists.

Kyle Anderson scored two goals for the Prowlers. Treavor Peterson and Jeff Rislov both scored once, and Wade Chiodo had two assists.

"I thought we actually out-played them in the second and third period," said Cullen, "but when you get behind like we did, you have to take some chances, and you give up some things defensively."

Grabowska, Huskies beat Eagles

Chris Grabowska started the night with a 3-pointer and sealed the contest by converting an offensive rebound into a basket in the final minute of a one-point game Tuesday as part of a 32-point, 16-rebound performance that carried Goodridge to a 57-50 boys high school basketball win over East Grand Forks Sacred Heart.

Grabowska's aggressive play netted him 10 offensive rebounds, and led to a 9-for-13 night at the free throw line for the Huskies' leader. Nobody else in the game had more than 12 points.

Goodridge started with a 15-12 first quarter lead, fell behind 27-25 at halftime and went back on top 42-36 in the third quarter. The Huskies were clinging to a 51-50 lead before Grabowska's rebound basket ignited a game-clinching final kick.

Neither team shot well. The Huskies were just 18-for-60 from the field (30 percent) and the Eagles were just a slightly better 16-for-45 (36 percent).

"Shooting was pretty poor on both sides," acknowledged winning coach Eric Mickelson. "We came out flat, but we did a better job in the second half. We went with just a man-to-man in the second half, and did a pretty good job with it. I thought we out-played them in the second half."

The two teams split 53 free throws, with the Huskies hitting 19 of 27 and the Eagles going 16-for-26. Goodridge had a 49-22 rebound advantage, but also had more turnovers, 15-10.

Goodridge is 10-3.

Marshall County Central turned the ball over 25 times Tuesday and wound up losing a 53-26 girls high school basketball game to Stephen-Argyle.

Kim Stenseth of the Prowlers took the ball away from Emily Bydal of the Green Wave during Thursday's high school basketball match-up in the Lincoln gym. Thief River Falls beat East Grand Forks 58-33.

TRF girls win 58-33

It's a dog eat dog world out there. A young East Grand Forks team found that out first hand Thursday when Thief River Falls forced the visiting Green Wave into a rash of mistakes that paved the way to a 58-33 girls high school basketball victory for the Prowlers.

East Grand Forks, featuring a team with just a single senior on the roster, turned the ball over 27 times – many of them induced by Thief River Falls' pressure defense.

"I thought we forced a lot of those (turnovers)," said Thief River Falls coach Jeff Loe. "They have a young team. You want to go after them and force mistakes. I know it sounds cruel, but that's the name of the game."

The Prowlers never trailed. Kim Hook took off with a fast break on the opening tip to set the tone for the night.

Jill Hageman, the East Grand Forks senior, knocked down a 3-point shot to close out the first quarter and completed a 3-point play to open the second quarter to pull her team within 11-10. But that was the last hurrah for the Green Wave.

The Prowlers closed out the half with a 13-2 run to make it 24-12 at intermission, and Kim Stenseth finished the third quarter with seven uninterrupted points to put Thief River Falls up 41-22.

"I was real pleased with the effort," said Loe. "They played with a lot of enthusiasm and a lot of hustle. I was really happy with the play of our seniors (Stenseth, Hook, Erica Owen, Jocey Helgeland, Alicia Bakken). They played exceptionally well."

Stenseth finished with 21 points and Nicole Kopari had 17. Hageman led the Green Wave with 12 points.

A strong Thief River Falls shooting night included a 46 percent 23-for-50 figure from the field and a 12-for-17 effort at the free throw line. East Grand Forks, meanwhile went 14-for-53 from the field (26 percent) and 1-for-5 at the line. A 28-24 Green Wave rebound advantage was erased by the turnovers. The Prowlers lost it 13 times.

The win put the Prowlers above .500 at 9-8.

RLCC boys fall victim to late RLF comeback

Red Lake Falls turned a major break into a late game momentum swing that netted the Eagles a 67-62 come-from-behind boys high school basketball win over Red Lake County Central Tuesday in Oklee.

Ahead at the quarter stops 20-18, 39-35 and 46-44, Red Lake County Central was up 59-51 with two minutes to play. The Mustangs had a chance to make it a 10-point spread, but missed a lay-up, then complicated matters by drawing a personal foul and a technical call on a scramble for the rebound.

That opened the door for the Eagles, who made all four free throws, and added a field goal on the ensuing possession to make it a suddenly close 59-57.

"That was huge," said Red Lake County Central coach Ryan Sedler. "We had a chance to go up by 10, and instead it was a two-point game, and they had all the momentum."

A big 24-for-31 free throw night won it for the Eagles, who were 13-for-18 at the line in the fourth quarter and finished the game by making eight in a row.

Red Lake County added to the free throw parade with a 13-for-27 showing at the line.

Sophomores Eric Hopperstad of Red Lake Falls and Mark Lorenson of Red Lake County Central led their teams in scoring with 24 and 16 points, respectively.

The Mustangs, who beat the Eagles 74-53 earlier this season, fell to 4-10.

Grygla-Gatzke boys beaten by Wolfpack

Grygla-Gatzke, after going ten games without a defeat, lost a second straight decision Tuesday when the Eagles fell to Kittson Central 68-56 in boys high school basketball.

The host Wolfpack led at each quarter stop 18-6, 32-28 and 52-39.

"Kittson Central took it to us," said Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson. "They out-played us from the opening tip to the end."

Josh Deere of Kittson Central led all scorers with 24 points. Jim Engelstad paced a balanced Grygla-Gatzke attack with 15 points.

The Eagles were 22-for-48 from the field (46 percent), but made only 12 of 21 free throws and were out-rebounded 28-18. The Wolfpack had a 59 percent 27-for-46 shooting night and cashed in on 14 of 17 free throw opportunities. The winners also topped the turnover charts, 17-8.

"We're struggling right now," said Johnson. "We're not playing very good defense, and we're not doing a very good job executing our offense."

RLCC girls post one-sided win at Clearbrook-Gonvick

Eleven Red Lake County Central girls had a hand in the scoring Tuesday as the Mustangs rolled to a 70-26 high school basketball win over Clearbrook-Gonvick.

"It was a good chance to play a lot of kids," noted Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto. "It's nice to have a game like that now and then, I guess."

Red Lake County Central jumped out to a 22-7 first quarter lead, had a 36-15 halftime cushion and led 60-21 after three quarters.

Angie Chervestad of the Mustangs led all scores with 20 points.

Red Lake County Central shot 38 percent from the field (27/71) and made 11 of 18 free throws. Clearbrook-Gonvick was limited to 24 percent 9-for-37 shooting. The Bears were 7-for-11 at the line. They were also out-rebounded 37-24 and topped the turnover charts 30-17.

North Valley immunization clinics slated for mid-March

North Valley Home Health will hold immunization clinics in Newfolden, Grygla and Warren during early to mid-March, according to Nancy Maurstad, RN, at the office in Warren.

Immunization schedule is as follows:

Tuesday, March 4, 9 to 11 a.m. at the Newfolden Home Care office;

Thursday, March 13, 9 to 11 a.m. at the Grygla civic building; and Monday, March 17, 9 to 11 a.m. at the Evangelical Covenant church in Warren.

Vaccine used is provided free of charge by the Minnesota Department of Health for use in community-based clinics. There is a $5 fee for administering the vaccine, but no one will be refused because of inability to pay. The clinics are open to the public and anyone who needs immunizations is encouraged to attend.

Vaccines are provided for DTP, DTAP, HTPHib, Td, DT, Hep B infant, Hep B qualifying adult or adolescent, OPV, MMR and Hib.

Maurstad emphasized that immunization services given at the public clinics should not be substituted for the child's usual well-child visit with his or her physician. Parents should bring the child's immunization record each time the child is brought for a shot. Unless it is the first shot, immunizations will not be given unless the immunization record is presented.

For more information contact Maurstad at 745-5154 or 1-800-950-6986.

Chiodo and Vigen take school posts will save roughly $50,000 to $60,000. He said the district would get a better picture of the savings down the road. He noted that as a result of these changes there has been a re-positioning of secretarial hours and secretaries.

When asked what his responsibilities entailed, Glenn Chiodo, quickly asked whether he had three days in which to explain.

Though two positions have been combined there hasn't been a lessening of responsibilities.

Chiodo said the two people he's replacing were part of many different aspects of education in the district. Now, he said, he has to learn and adjust to those positions. Nothing has been eliminated, but he will be trying to find ways to streamline the process.

The biggest challenge he said will be taking the wide range of duties and bringing them together.

As coordinator of educational services he will be responsible for the many special education programs in the district, grant writing, and providing leadership and review in the development of curriculum in grades kindergarten through 12.

Chiodo believes more districts are being forced to look at combining these positions, both from an economic stand point, and a way of providing the same services under tougher budget constraints.

Chiodo was assistant principal at Franklin. He has been with the school district for 13 years. Originally he is from Minneapolis. Chiodo and his wife Patricia have three children, two of whom have graduated from Lincoln High school, and another son who is a sophomore at Lincoln High school.

The former building and grounds foreman, LeRoy Vigen, isn't doing much with buildings and grounds lately. He says he's just trying to learn more about his new duties as the supervisor of transportation. Eventually, however, he will have to turn his attention to building and grounds because he's still building and grounds foreman. This new job encompases all of the duties once held by two full-time individuals.

Vigen has 30 to 31 drivers, four transportation assistants, one secretary and two mechanics, under his supervision. "I'm pretty fortunate to have all good people working here. It makes a big difference," said Vigen.

Vigen said he's spending a great deal of time learning the ropes. The bus routing and scheduling was pretty much taken care of by Fred Mykleby, former transportation superintendent, which helped. He said he rode on some of the bus routes before he took over on January 1, but not since then. He said he hopes to ride on some of the bus routes this spring. Of the many other duties, Vigen said "it has been a learning experience."

Vigen has been with the school district for 22 years, all of which in the building and grounds department. Vigen and his wife Madelyn, parks and recreation director for Thief River Falls, have two children, Stephanie, who recently graduated from college, and Andrea who recently graduated from high school and entered college

Develop corn hybrid that is resistant to corn borers

Extension entomologist Bill Hutchinson says that Bt corn, a genetically engineered hybrid, is showing promise as an effective method to combat the European corn borer. Bt Corn contains the gene for the expression of the bacterial insecticide, Bacillus thuringiensis.

Various Bt products have been available for decades to help fight corn borers, but these came in mainly liquid or granular forms which were applied to corn externally as insecticides and showed only short-term results.

"Transgenic Bt corn has built-in protection, beginning with the seed," Hutchinson said.

The new seed technology takes genes expressing Bt toxins and incorporates them into potentially every tissue of the corn plant. The high concentration of these proteins makes them lethal to unwanted guests. As soon as the borer takes one or two bites of any part of the corn, it stops feeding and usually dies within 12 to 48 hours.

To mammals and many other insects, however, the transgenic corn is environmentally benign. It is nearly impossible for Bt toxins to affect non-targeted organisms within corn-bean farming systems, Hutchinson says. Unlike pesticides, Bt products do not require crop tolerances, such as pre-harvest intervals, to lessen their environmental impact.

At present, the Bt corn has a price approximately $7 per acre higher than conventional seed. It is most attractive to farmers in areas which have regular borer problems.

"If farmers are willing to pay a little extra money," the entomologist said, "they won't need to spend as much time monitoring the corn borer."

Hutchinson's research indicates that certain populations of corn borer are able to develop resistance to various Bt toxins. To counter possible resistance, Hutchinson suggests that farmers continue using conventional seed on approximately 25 per cent of their corn acreage so that resistant moths do not dominate the overall borer population.

Seed companies are also working on the next generation of corn hybrids to help prevent borer resistance for as long as possible.

MECC joint powers board to meet Monday

Multi-Events Center Joint Powers board will meet Monday, February 3, at 11:30 a.m. at the Best Western.

Items on the agenda include an opportunity for the public to provide input on the project, a report on a user survey, updates on a public relations brochure and the Amateur Sports Commission, and the contract with Thief River Life Center.

THE COST OF COLD
Propane users feel the heat
•Rise in crude oil prices, low summer inventories push up fuel costs
What are you waiting for?
NOW is the time to switch to electric heat.
You've likely read and heard about rising propane prices. Fuel oil and natural gas prices have also increased. And these prices may be headed higher yet. Consider this: If you heat your home with propane, fuel oil, or natural gas, you can expect to pay $200-$300 more to heat your home this heating season, compared to last winter.
Why? Low inventories and frigid cold weather mean sharp price increases. And it's difficult to predict what will happen next week, next month ...or next year.
THE GOOD NEWS. Meanwhile, electric rates remain stable. In fact, your electric cooperative's off-peak heating rate is 2.7¢ per kilowatt hour. Electricity is made right here in our region with homegrown coal. So your electric rates are not affected by markets, weather, and international relations. More good news: Electricity is the safest, cleanest, most reliable choice for home heating.
DON'T WAIT. Call your energy experts at 253-2188, or 1-800-245-6068 (MN only) to get the scoop on electric heat.

After completing six years of service on the board of the Red Lake Watershed District, Gerhard Ross of Crookston did not seek reelection for a third three-year term this fall. He was succeeded by Wally Jorgenson of Fisher to represent West Polk county on the district's board of managers. At the January meeting of the board, president Greg Hilgeman (left) presented Ross with a mantel clock in appreciation of his service to the district.

Audubon sanctuary banquet set April 8

Wetlands, Pines and Prairie Audubon Sanctuary is gearing up for its annual banquet. The event is an important fund-raiser for the Sanctuary.

The organization has been involved in several projects including: repairing hiking trails, restoring the old barn into a usable classroom/meeting room facility, updating the water system, and improving habitat for wildlife. It also continues to offer outdoor education programs to school groups and others in the area.

Last year, over 60 business owners in a seven-county region helped sponsor the annual banquet. The Sanctuary is extending an invitation to sponsor the banquet again. The event will be held April 8, 1997 at the American Legion Clubrooms in Warren beginning at 6:30 p.m. Sponsorship levels begin at $15. Sponsors will receive a limited edition 1997 Friend of The Sanctuary mug, a listing in the banquet program and the satisfaction of helping to promote environmental education for all age groups in the region.

Highlights of the banquet will include a buffalo dinner, displays, a special program, music and prize drawings.

Area teams in Knowledge Bowl at BSU Feb. 5.

High school students ~~from 13~~ school districts in northwestern Minnesota will match knowledge on February 5 when the first of two Knowledge Bowls is held at 10 a.m. at Bemidji State University. A second round of competition is scheduled for BSU on February 27.

Participating schools include Bemidji, Blackduck, Clearbrook-Gonvick, East Grand Forks, Indus, Fosston, Grygla, Kelliher, Lake of the Woods, Nevis, Northome, Oklee and Plummer.

Sponsored by the Northwest Service Cooperative and the BSU College of Arts and Letters, Knowledge Bowls are interdisciplinary academic contests designed to test the recall, problem-solving and critical thinking skills of students in grades 9-12.

During the contest, teams of five students compete in a written round and four students are entered in the oral rounds. Questions relate to all areas of learning typical to secondary educational programs in the state.

The five members work together in the written round, answering 60 questions which require them to work cooperatively and to assess time management as well as question difficulty. The oral round features competition among the teams where higher-order, critical-thinking skills and speed are key elements.

Home buyer series to offer information starting February 18

Buying a home is one of the most important decisions that a person makes today. In order to prepare homebuyers for this important step, the Minnesota Extension Service and Northwest Community Action, Inc. will offer a series of Home Stretch Homebuyer Workshops on three consecutive Tuesday evenings beginning on February 18, 1997. The workshops will be held from 7:00 - 9:30 p.m. at the new Badger Community Center in Badger, MN.

The 3-session workshop is designed for the first-time homebuyers of low to moderate income, for homeowners ready to refinance a contract for deed, or for persons just interested in exploring the possibilities of home ownership.

Participants will gain a thorough understanding of the home buying process. They will find out: how much home they can afford, what lenders look for in a buyer, how to eliminate the barriers to home ownership, and what kinds of mortgage assistance programs are available.

A certificate of completion will be provided to all participants who attend all three workshop sessions.

The Future Leaders of America, Badger Chapter, will offer child care to those attending the Home Stretch Workshop.

The registration fee for the three session workshop is $5.00 per household. Call the Pennington County Extension Office at 218-681-2116 or 1-800-681-2116 to receive a registration brochure with more information. Seating is limited, so register now. Registration deadline is Friday, February 14, 1997.

Preschool programs at Challenger school conducted a "Beach Party" program Tuesday evening with activities in a number of areas for preschoolers and their parents. Among the participants was Ashley Boen, four-year-old daughter of Shannon and Darla Boen of Thief River Falls, receiving a little help from her mom during this activity. More photos will be published in the Wednesday, February 5 edition of The Times.

Navy Senior Chief Jerrold Bjerke earns promotion, commendation

Former Thief River Falls resident Jerrold H. Bjerke was promoted to the rank of Senior Chief in the U.S. Navy recently while serving aboard the USS John C. Stennis, the navy's newest nuclear powered aircraft carrier.

Senior Chief Bjerke was also awarded his second Navy and Marine Corps Achievement Medal by the Secretary of the Navy. The promotion and medal presentation were conducted by Capt. Robert C. Klosterman, commanding officer of the ship.

A 1981 graduate of Lincoln high school and the son of Duane and Arlene Bjerke of Thief River Falls, Jerrold is married to Barbara Ann Helley, daughter of John A. Helley Sr. of Plummer and a 1983 Pershing high school graduate at Plummer. The Bjerkes have three children: Carolyn, Thomas and Kyrsten.

Bjerke's Achievement Medal citation covers the period from March to October 1996 and was awarded "for professional achievement in the superior performance of his duties" while serving as reactor training division leading Chief Petty Officer.

"As the propulsion plant drill team coordinator," the citation reads, "he was singularly responsible for scheduling and coordinating over 600 complex casualty training drills preparing for the operational reactor safeguards examination. Working with the integrated training team, he brilliantly meshed the reactor drills into the ship's operating schedule.

"His highly successful efforts were validated during several type commander visits and an impressive performance during the operational reactor safeguards exam. He ensured the highest standards of training were maintained throughout a post-shakedown availability, leading to unprecedented levels of success during sea trials.

"Senior Chief Bjerke's exceptional professionalism and loyal devotion to duty reflected credit upon himself and were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval service."

The USS John C. Stennis was the first aircraft carrier on which the navy landed its new FA-18E/F Super Hornet fighter plane recently. The landing took place as the Stennis operated about 100 miles southeast of Cherry Point Marine Air Corps Station, North Carolina.

Senior Chief Electrician's Mate Jerrold H. Bjerke (right) was recently promoted to Senior Chief by Commanding Officer Robert C. Klosterman, Captain, U.S. Navy, aboard the USS John C. Stennis, the navy's newest nuclear aircraft carrier. The son of Duane and Arlene Bjerke of Thief River Falls and a 1981 graduate of Lincoln high school, Senior Chief Bjerke also was awarded his second Navy and Marine Corps Achievement Medal.

Ski-Doo race coordinator Bill Rader (left) has been providing technical support for the Ski-Doo race team drivers for the past several days at their Goodridge encampment. Also assisting are Claude Fortin (center), a clutch technician and Luc Champigny, engine technician, both from the Bombardier snowmobile manufacturing plant at Valcourt, Quebec. Rader said he and the other Ski-Doo personnel are impressed by the Goodridge area hospitality.

Ski-Doo racing teams test machines in Goodridge area

"We can't say enough about the hospitality and friendliness of the people in and around Goodridge," Rader said "We have been very well received and made to feel very welcome. We certainly appreciated all the offers of help and assistance if we needed it. It has been a great few days."

Familiar Driver Names

At least some of the names of the Ski-Doo racing teams are familiar to area snowmobile race followers. Todd Wolff of Annandale, Jim Beck Jr. of Elk River and Eric Loge of Brainerd all raced in the Ironman 250 at Thief River Falls two weeks ago.

They were joined at Goodridge by Toni Harkonen of Duluth (and formerly of Finland), Dennis Durmas and Lynn Felker of Loveland, CO, Earl Reimer of Vermillion Bay, Ontario; and Craig Hansen of Duluth.

Rader's responsibility is to provide technical support for the racers. At Goodridge the racers were also assisted by Claude Fortin, a clutch technician and Luc Champigny, engine technician, both from the race shop at Valcourt. Driving the truck and providing parts support is Jean Guy Bonneau.

This is the third year of the ISOC version of what began years ago as the I-500 race from Winnipeg to St. Paul as part of the St. Paul Winter Carnival. That connection is long gone. The successor GMC 10-Star 500 race will begin Sunday at Beausejour, Manitoba, with the first leg ending at Roseau. On Monday the racers start at Roseau and finish at Thief River Falls and Tuesday they they start here and go on to finish the third and final leg of the race at Bemidji.

According to Rader, Ski-Doo has taken a serious interest in this race for the past three years, realizing that success would not come overnight. He is optimistic about the team's chances this year.

Good Product And Drivers

"Our product is better than it has ever been (the MXZX Model 440 liquid cooled machine the Ski-Doo team members ride was designed with a focus on sno-cross and cross-country racing) and our driver base has become deeper," Rader said. "Any of the drivers testing here could do well in this race."

There is no doubt Bombardier has taken the race program and particularly this racing season seriously. For the GMC 500 alone the company is offering contingency money to Ski-Doo racers of $25,000 for first place, $15,000 for second, $10,000 for third, $5,000 for fourth, $3,000 for fifth and $2,000 for sixth through 10th places. An added $500 is up for grabs to the driver of the Ski-Doo which turns in the fastest time each day of the race.

In total, Rader said, the company has a contingency exposure of $1.7 million—if Ski-Doo racers would win all the prizes being offered during the season.

Testing Gives Drivers Edge

What can a racer learn to improve his or her chances of winning the cross-country! Rader said the drivers testing at Goodridge were concentrating on chassis tuning and chassis dynamics for the type of terrain and snow conditions, shock valving, engine and clutch calibration to keep the engine operating at peak performance. Handling considerations for speed in road ditches—a condition unique to the GMC 500 race—are also being taken into account.

Rader said the Ski-Doo racers have made good gains. He pointed to Eagle River where in the oval races Ski-Doo won A, B, C and D Stock, Mod II, Champ 440, Formula III and the World Champion Formula I classes.

"For The Good Of The Sport..."

And while he acknowledged that winning is the name of the game in racing snowmobiles, he said he believed the relationships among race directors of Ski-Doo, Arctic Cat, Polaris and Yamaha are the best they have ever been. "We are all looking out for the overall good of the sport," he said.

That also seemed to be the spirit of the people of Goodridge who welcomed the riders of the yellow sleds and did their best to make them feel at home.

And when the race teams left this morning (Saturday) for Beausejour, can't you just imagine someone named Bubba saying, "Y'all come back now, hear!"

Harold gave Coya idea for student loan program

Harold Johnson, former resident of the Greenbush community who now maintains a home at Detroit Lakes," says Minnesota Congresswoman Coya Knutson did not originate the Federal Student Loan Program that she has been credited with introducing and piloting through Congress in the mid to late 1950s.

"I conceived the idea of the Federal Student Loan Program a considerable length of time before Coya Knutson ever heard of it," Johnson wrote from his winter residence at Apache Junction, AZ, in a letter addressed "To Whom It May Concern" and mailed to his brother-in-law, Clifford Humstad of Thief River Falls. Clifford and Harold are married to sisters. Clifford shared the letter with the Northern Watch.

Johnson, 83, continues to own land in the Greenbush area where he farmed for 20 years and still spends part of his summers at the farm as well as at his residence at Detroit Lakes.

Johnson wrote the letter in response to an article in the Detroit Lakes Tribune January 16, 1997 which stated that Knutson had originated the idea. He included a copy of a letter from the Congresswoman dated July 2, 1956, which directly credits the idea to him.

Idea Began With Farmers Union

"As I was district supervisor for the Minnesota Farmers Union," Johnson writes, "I presented the idea at the county conventions in my district where resolutions were adopted favoring a Federal Student Loan Program.

"These resolutions were then presented at the Minnesota Farmers Union state convention, where a resolution was adopted supporting the Federal Student Loan Program. A resolution was also adopted at the National Farmers Union convention supporting the Federal Student Loan Program," Johnson writes.

A very close friend, Robert Prickett, superintendent of schools at Middle River, presented my idea to the Minnesota Education Association at its convention," Johnson continues, "and they also adopted a resolution favoring a Federal Student Loan Program.

"After this I presented my student loan idea to Congresswoman Coya Knutson. She was very receptive to my idea, and was responsible for introducing the bill to Congress."

Contacted at his winter home in Arizona, Johnson said he remembers very well presenting his idea to the Congresswoman. It was after he and his wife had discussed federal student loan possibilities for several years.

Coya Gets The Message

"I was in Middle River for the city's 50th anniversary celebration," Johnson told the Northern Watch. "Coya Knutson, who was then a Congresswoman, was there to ride in the parade. I had worked on her campaign and told her I had something I wanted to talk to her about. She said to hop in and ride with her in the parade. While we were riding I told her that there should be a federal program that would loan money to young people so they could go to college."

It was Johnson's reasoning that if the federal government had funds to loan to the REA and other agencies at two percent interest it should be able to help the nation's young people receive a decent education.

Johnson remembers that the bill Congresswoman Knutson championed was HR11414 and that it didn't receive enough support to be enacted into law.

Sputnik Provided Spark

"Then Sputnik went up," he said, referring to the first Russian satellite, "and everybody got excited about education. Coya was able to get the bill passed as an amendment to the National Defense Education Act."

Johnson has two letters from the Congresswoman that support his claim. The first is dated July 2, 1956:

Dear Harold:

I am enclosing several copies of the student loan bill and the press release which I sent out when I introduced the bill.

It was your idea in the first place and I thank you for giving me the inspiration. It is a good bill and I hope that it gets the recognition it deserves when it reaches the House Floor.

I hope that the meeting on Saturday was satisfactory and I hope to see a lot of you people this year while I am out there campaigning.

With kind personal regards, I am,
Sincerely yours
Coya Knutson, M.C.

"....Our Student Loan Bill"

The second letter is dated Sept. 5, 1958 and is addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson, Greenbush.

Harold Johnson, pictured here with his wife Carol, is proud of the fact that he gave Congresswoman Coya Knutson the idea for the Federal Student Loan Program. Johnson, who farmed and still owns property in the Greenbush area, made the suggestion to Coya during a parade at the 50th anniversary celebration for the city of Middle River.

MCC school fire case has final settlement

More than five years after a fire destroyed the Marshall County Central high school building in Newfolden, final settlement came January 29 in a decision by the Minnesota Supreme Court.

The fire which destroyed the building happened on Nov. 7, 1991, and a state fire marshall determined the cause to be a coffee maker in the faculty lounge. By the end of 1993 the insurance company had paid the school district about $6.6 million to cover the cost of rebuilding the school and replacing fixtures and other items lost in the fire.

Independent School District 441 then brought suit in December of 1993 against Bunn-O-Matic Corporation, manufacturer of the coffee maker.

In November of 1995, a district court jury in Marshall county found for the school district and awarded $6.3 million in damages. Bunn-O-Matic appealed the decision to the Minnesota Court of Appeals. This three judge panel upheld the district court decision December 2, 1996.

On January 2 the appeals court decision was appealed by the defendant to the Minnesota Supreme Court. The Supreme Court on January 29 declined to hear the appeal, thereby allowing the district and appeals courts' decisions to stand. In the interim since the Marshall county district court decision, due primarily to accumulated interest, the award to the plaintiff increased from the $6.3 million ordered by the district court to nearly $7.9 million ordered by the appeals court.

Ron Eggen, superintendent at Marshall County Central schools, said that while nearly all of the settlement will go to the insurance company to reimburse payments made to School District 441, the district will also benefit from the settlement.

Karen Wikstrom, Newfolden finds her identity at home

by Amy Branscomb
Northern Watch reporter

When she first moved to Karlstad five years ago with her husband, Karen Wikstrom absolutely hated it. She would cry herself to sleep at night wishing she could return home to Forest Lake. Now that she has started working from home, she really loves living in northern Minnesota.

Karen grew up in Forest Lake and moved to the Roseville area to attend Northwestern College. This was where she met her husband, also a student at Northwestern. He worked for Wikstrom Telephone Company after school which eventually brought them to Karlstad in 1991. They later moved to Newfolden where they live now.

"It was a very big adjustment. I grew up on a dairy farm, but I was close enough to the Twin Cities to go shopping. It was hard to be away from my family," admitted Karen.

She was a substitute teacher for some local schools at the time. Her youngest son, Cody, was a toddler and she didn't like working during the day and leaving him with a babysitter. "After having Cody, I knew I didn't want to teach anymore," commented Karen.

In 1994 she attended a Pampered Chef party given by a friend. Five minutes into the party, she knew that this what she wanted to do. "I get to meet a lot of people. People love to go to shows. They love to get out and meet with their friends, and they really value their friends," commented Karen.

Finally her life started picking up for her and she found a place where she felt she belonged. She was able to stay home with her children during the day and make money while her husband was home with the kids.

"Financially I am making more than I ever imagined. But the biggest thing is that I can be home with my kids. On nights and weekends I can socialize with adults," stated Karen. "There are so many awards and rewards that the self-esteem really gets a boost," she added.

There are more women earning six figures in direct sales than any other industry.

Karen admitted that she was a terrible cook. When living in the Cities she ate out all of the time and never needed to learn to cook. On the farm, her mom always did all the cooking for them. Now that she is a Pampered Chef saleswoman, she has learned how to cook.

Aside from work, she is involved in a lot of church activities and softball. "In the summer, softball comes before work," she added with a grin. She also enjoys singing and playing the piano.

Karen stated, "I can watch my kids grow. I feel bad for the moms who have to work during the day. I get to be there when they're sick. I can work around schedules and be there for them. It is so important for a mom to be home."

Being her own boss and making her own schedule has definitely proven to be a major benefit for Karen. Not only does she get to be home with her kids, but she doesn't have to get up early in the morning. She admits, "I leave my pajamas on until about 4 p.m. I don't have to get up at 6:30 a.m. I am not a nine to five person. I hate getting up in the morning. I like the flexibility.

"I think it's the American dream to work for yourself. It definitely empowers you. Everyone wants to work for themselves and be their own boss. It gives

Davidson hangs on to win GMC Ten Star 500 race

Corey Davidson of Holt maintained his lead throughout the 1997 GMC Ten Star 500 cross-country snowmobile race to claim first place. Winner of the Semi-Pro 440 division was John Sandberg of Grand Rapids. Winner of the Legends was Doug Luke of Cicero, and winner of the Women's division was Deborah Revering of Fergus Falls.

Davidson said it was the "funnest race" he's ever been in. It was a real cross-country race, Davidson said, and he really enjoys cross-country races — probably more so than oval.

Davidson said the whole race went smoothly for him. He said even his Polaris XCR felt new at the finish of the race.

Davidson believes he's in third place in the overall ISOC standings. He has six more races this year. His next race will be in Muskegan, MI.

Kirk Hibbert of Goodridge, one of Arctic Cat's top riders, and second place finisher in the GMC 500, said his race went pretty well. Probably the most disappointing aspect of the race, he said, was the flat light on all three days of the race. "That's pretty tough on some of the riders," Hibbert said.

Hibbert said he thought the course was smooth and fast for the most part — faster than he likes it. Hibbert said he likes a rougher course. He also said he thought the race was well organized, and the course well marked for the most part.

For Team Arctic, it could have gone a little better. Hibbert said when they sat down to analyze the race they discovered the percentage of drop outs among Arctic racers and other racers was almost identical, but more of the Arctic racers who were expected to place in the top 10 were among those drop outs. He said a combination of things contributed to the drop-out rate. There were some machine failures and crashes in the early stages of the race.

Hibbert said he is looking forward to his next race, which will be at Canterbury the weekend of February 15-16.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Today's recipes for a delicious, quick meal were found in the premier edition of "Taste of Home" magazine.

Everybody's favorite, this recipe for spaghetti is simply delicious:

QUICK ITALIAN SPAGHETTI

1/2 pound ground beef
3/4 cup thinly sliced green onions
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons sugar
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
3 cans (8 ounces each) tomato sauce
1 can (2 1/4 ounces) sliced ripe olives, drained
Cooked spaghetti
Grated Parmesan or Romano cheese
Bacon bits, if desired

In skillet, brown beef and onions. Add salt, pepper, sugar, Worcestershire and tomato sauce. Cover and simmer 10 minutes. Add olives and simmer 5 minutes longer.

Spoon over spaghetti and sprinkle with cheese and bacon bits.

Use those leftover hot dog (or other) rolls for this tasty accompaniment to your spaghetti:

CELERY SEED BREAD

6 tablespoons butter or margarine, softened
1/2 teaspoon celery seed
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1/4 teaspoon dried parsley flakes
4 hot dog rolls, sliced

In mixing bowl, combine butter, celery seed, paprika and parsley flakes, stirring well. Spread on cut sides of rolls, place on baking sheet and broil until golden.

Add your family's favorite veggies for a tasty side dish:

CRUNCHY VEGETABLE SALAD

2 cups cauliflowerets
2 cups broccoli florets
2 carrots, thinly sliced
1 small zucchini, sliced
1 small red onion, sliced
1 to 1 1/2 cups Italian salad dressing

Combine vegetables in large mixing bowl. Pour salad dressing over and toss to coat evenly. Refrigerate.

Here's a good way to eat your apple a day to keep the doctor away and have a tasty dessert at the same time:

TAFFY APPLE DIP

1 (8 ounce) package cream cheese, softened
3/4 cup packed brown sugar
1 tablespoon vanilla extract
1/2 cup chopped peanuts
6 apples, cut into wedges

In small bowl, beat cream cheese, brown sugar and vanilla until smooth. Spread mixture on serving plate and top with nuts. Serve with apple wedges.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I've lived in Thief River Falls for about 25 years and I'm proud of our city. When family and friends come to visit, I show it off. They are impressed by its clean, well-kept appearance, how friendly the people are and the general attitude of everything. It's a good place to live and raise a family.

Having been a City employee for 17 years, I've seen Thief River Falls go through some bad times, struggle and then rebound into a strong and vibrant town. So I'm troubled by the City's desire to spend between $1.5 and $2 million to renovate an old and dilapidated building.

We've already spent money moving the locomotive so people can't see it. Money has been spent on the removal of asbestos, and money has been spent running a heater in the basement.

Many taxpayers are questioning if this is the best move for the city. We have not been allowed the chance to vote on this to see if this what the people want.

It would seem that if general fund reserves are spent we are going to affect our bond rating, which in turn is going to raise interest rates for future capital improvement projects. This affects us again in taxes and the amount of interest we pay. Also, are we going to have to replenish the money in our reserves? Where is this going to come from? Higher taxes, less city services or just more indebtedness?

The City has an agreement to guarantee the occupancy of the apartments built in 1995. If we have to start subsidizing these, where are the funds going to come from? More taxes?

If the City doesn't want to use all of its General Fund reserves, the alternative is to borrow money from the Electric (department) reserves. These reserves are an insurance policy to protect against a major catastrophe. If there are no funds, or little funds, we'll have to increase our rates—costing us again.

A power substation is being planned for 1998. Our power supplier, Minnkota, is going to build and pay for this. However, if our electric load doesn't grow we are going to have to pay for part of it. If taxes are too high and our good electric rates go up, what is going to be the incentive for our businesses to grow or for new industry to move in?

My feelings are that the depot is going to cost us more than just the up front money. Taxes and your electric rates have good chance of going up.

Thank you
Alan Johnson

To The Editor:

For anyone who has questions as to the identity of Christopher D. Rux who was mentioned in this paper recently, he is the son of Ranae Rux and Danny Scott Lerol. I sincerely apologize to any fellow Rux's for the confusion and embarrassment the confusion may have caused—especially to Chris Rux of another Rux family.

In closing I would just like people to remember "innocent until proven guilty." God gave His only Son to die or our sins and for those who have forgotten He also gives us unconditional love and has a forgiving heart for us. His children. God expects no less from us for ours. We are not here to pass judgement on anyone.

Sincerely,
Ranae D. Rux

"Biodiversity "And "Ecosystem" Terms And Agenda Questioned

GUEST EDITORIAL
by Bev Hewitt
Commissioner, Fourth District
Kittson County

Have you ever wondered why and how biodiversity has become the standard for all U.S. natural resource policy or how these laws affect our country and our everyday lives? How about the enormous agenda behind the policies to protect biodiversity?

Biodiversity is a relatively new word which was unheard of a few years ago but now is a big issue throughout the world. No one has a clear definition of what it really is. Webster's dictionary defines it as: "...1986) biological diversity is an environment as indicated by numbers of different species of plants and animals."

Our states, the nation and the world are being divided up into ecosystem regions with the goal of increasing the natural species in each, regardless of how it may harm human lives. Nature is constantly changing naturally. Other natural species have become extinct because of nature's changes, not necessarily because of human domination.

Many of these changes took place long before population growth became a factor. In fact, a vast majority of the evidence indicates that biodiversity is increased—not decreased—with managed plans: our forests, for example. Proposed biodiversity policies may actually reduce biodiversity.

Many new theories of conservation biology are based on mystic philosophies. These theories have bypassed the normal scientific validation process. Do these theories reflect true natural law, or are we building environmental policy on myth? These new concepts that are supposed to protect our environment and natural resources are dominating policies, yet most are no more than unproven theories. Scientists confirm this, and are also concerned about the theories being based on flawed or incorrect data.

Certainly no one argues the need to protect our biodiversity, but the questions are how and at what cost? That should come with research and hard science.

Biodiversity was at the heart of the Earth Summit held in Rio de Janeiro in 1992. In 1993, President Clinton signed a treaty committing the U.S. to protect biodiversity at any cost. This treaty was like signing a blank check. The U.S. Senate failed to ratify it in September of 1994 in a very close vote. The United Nations Global Biodiversity Assessment (GBA) surfaced just before the vote. The UN denied that the GBA existed, even after the draft was on the floor of the Senate. It was at that time the incredible magnitude of the treaty became clear.

That the Senate nearly ratified this treaty on so little proven benefit, and the fact it evokes the Supremacy Clause of the U.S. Constitution, greatly troubles me. It is expected to come before the Senate again in 1998.

Even though the treaty has not been ratified, government agencies are already working toward these goals. Vice President Gore's pet organization, the International Organization for the Conservation of Nature (IOCN) is one of the major groups behind the "Wildlands Project." The Tall Grass Prairie Initiative, which is unfolding right now, goes along with the concept of the "Wildlands Project." It is being directed by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. DNR is also getting its ecosystem regions defined.

The Tall Grass Prairie Habitat Preservation Area will impact our whole area. The "Impact Statement" is to be completed shortly by the Nature Conservancy which will be incorporating DNR's biological surveys. Once this is done, there should be a public meeting in Thief River Falls. I'll write more about this later.

We need to tread lightly and move very slowly on any new environmental policies, as they are based more on well-funded political agenda than on science. All these laws and regulations are negatively affecting lives across America. It concerns me greatly when groups and government agencies put plants and animals above human lives. These extremists envision a country nearly devoid of people and economic activity; a land devoted almost entirely to the preservation of scenery and wildlife habitat.

In northern Minnesota we experience extremely cold winters and depend on fuel of all kinds for heat just to survive, yet there are those who have declared war on drilling for gas and oil and war on mining for coal. (These people need heating fuel, too, and drive cars, boats, snowmobiles, etc.) How do they propose to heat their homes? Where will they get their fuel?

People are concerned about eating properly, however, it seems there are those who don't know where their food comes from. They want to take our agricultural lands, regulate our farms and ranches or dwindle down the sizes to the point they can't exist. Who is going to feed this country, much less the world? As this global biodiversity action continues—and it is—countries are already setting aside farms bordering preserves, parks and wildlife areas, thus shrinking food supplies.

What about shelter? Forests are the largest source of building materials, yet there are those who feel we shouldn't harvest our forests. Maybe they should see if there is a cave somewhere in all this wildlife habitat! What about paper products that come from our forests? Many projects have proven that by well managed and harvested forests, biodiversity has been increased. We have three and one-half times more trees now than in 1920.

This new philosophy doesn't allow cattle, sheep or horses to play a role. They should not be eating wildlife habitat and they are not a part of the ecosystems. Even the non-red meat eaters use the byproducts from our cattle. More than 100,000 cattle hides are used for sports equipment alone each year. Pharmaceuticals, leather, edible fats, synthetic rubber, abrasives, shaving creams, soaps, paints, printing ink and thousands more byproducts come from cattle. Sheep and horses provide lots of byproduct, too. Wool and wool blends are very important to everyone in cold climates.

Our very survival depends on using things that we would no longer have available if ecosystem management projects are carried out to the extent that they are proposed. This will have a domino effect on all of our lives, and we could easily find ourselves going from the leading nation in the world to a third world country.

These same groups want parks and preserves set aside but for no one to use them. "Road Rip" is another group which already has 12 roads targeted nationally to be ripped up to "save the ecosystems." One is Echo Trail (County Highway 116) near Ely, Minnesota.

Much of this biodiversity thinking stems from Pantheism. Pantheism is the foundation of all Eastern mystic religions and is the belief that all matter living and non-living is God. Other aspects of this belief system are the theologies of reincarnation, psychic power and the eventual understanding that a believer has the wisdom of God itself. They feel man is either at the same level or below the animals.

These concepts are directly contrary to scripture, the Holy Bible, which I emphatically believe, states in Genesis 1: 26-30 that man is to rule over the fish of the sea, the birds of the air, over the livestock, over all the earth and over all the creatures that move along the ground...

To The Editor:

I was asked to participate in a "Red River Basin Community Survey" by the University of Minnesota Department of Forest Resources. One of the questions was whether I would agree or disagree with the statement: "The past research conducted with the Red River Basin residents indicates several potential changes in management. (Should someone) strictly enforce regulations that prohibit land use practices known to be harmful to the environment (use of DDT, etc.)" That triggers the following for consideration:

Dr. Bruce Ames and Thomas Jukes in Reason, December 1993, V 25, N 7, Pp 36-37 state the following:

"DDT displaced the more toxic and persistent lead arsenate. DDT was the first of a series of synthetic agricultural chemicals that have advanced public health by increasing the supply and reducing the price of fruits and vegetables. The pesticide, DDT, saved tens of millions of lives, more than any substance in history, with the possible exception of antibiotics. Thus, pesticides lead to lower cancer rates and improved health.

"Life expectancy has steadily increased in our era of pesticides. Pesticide residues in food are trivial in terms of cancer causation or toxicity. Every chemical is dangerous if the concentration is too high. Moreover, 99.9 percent of the chemicals that humans ingest are natural. For example, 99.9 percent of the pesticides humans eat are natural pesticides produced by plants to kill off predators. Current policy diverts enormous resources from important to unimportant tasks."

Bruce Ames is a professor of chemistry and molecular biology and Thomas Jukes is a professor of biophysics at the University of California, Berkeley. DDT was patented in 1939 by a Swiss chemist, Dr. Paul Muller. In 1948 he was awarded the Nobel Prize in medicine because of the medical importance of DDT.

The Reader's Digest of October, 1990, contained an article entitled The Great Apple Scare by Robert James Bidinotto. It states:

"...Bradley, of Sixty Minutes, called Alar 'the most potent cancer-causing agent in our food supply.' Once again, it seemed an environmental watch-dog and a vigilant press had protected us. There was only one problem: not a shred of credible scientific evidence proved that anyone was ever endangered.

"EPA decisions to ban chemicals are reviewed by a Scientific Advisory Panel (SAP) composed of distinguished scientists. EPA officials expected SAP to rubber stamp their decision. Instead, after reviewing the facts, the panel concluded unanimously that all five rodent tests could not be used to predict human risks.

"The EPA phoned Ray Cardona at Uniroyal and ordered the company to quadruple the maximum dose level. The massive dose eventually generated tumors in the mice and a clear sign that the animals had been poisoned. EPA now had the data it wanted. In February of 1989, the agency announced it would ban the chemical, Alar, within one year.

"In April 1989, at the height of the Alar scare, fourteen scientific societies representing over 100,000 professional food scientists, toxicologists and nutritionists, issued a joint report. It said the primary hazard in our food supply comes from bacteria and naturally occurring toxins, not man-made pesticides."

From Dixie Lee Ray's book Environmental Overkill, pp 171-172, about some of the media reporters: "As the science editor at Time, I would freely admit that on this issue (the environment) we have crossed the boundary from news to advocacy." —Charles Alexander, "Time" magazine. "I have an ax to grind; I want to be the little subversive person in television."—Barbara Pyle, CNN Environmental Director. "We in the press like to say we are honest brokers of information, and it's just not true. The press does have an agenda." —Bernard Goldberg, CBS, "48 Hours." "It doesn't matter what is true, it only matters what people believe is true." —Paul Watson, co-founder of Greenpeace.

We, the readers, have the responsibility to apply the yardstick of common sense and practicality to what we view on TV and what we read.

To The Editor:

Dr. Jock Kevorkian, where are you? The Soo Line depot is terminally ill and needs a little assistance.

Sorry this letter will be a little longer than I at first thought, but if you are against spending a million and maybe two million dollars on revamping the old depot into city offices, please read on.

We, the majority (I believe), of the taxpayers plus two responsible council members have the same thoughts.

My name is Chet Aubol. My wife Pauline and I have lived here for 41 proud years and have raised two children. I have always found reason to be proud of Thief River Falls—good schools, progressive town, good churches—just a nice, good, pleasant small town....some things that make a person want to be a little protective of what we have and maybe have a little input on making it a better town.

But now many people I have talked to are asking, "What's the use? The city council will do anything it wants."

I have talked to workers for Arctic Cat, truck drivers, telephone personnel, gas station owners, Digi-Key personnel, barbers, bank tellers, members of veterans' organizations, neighbors, teachers, news people, retirees, law enforcement, city, state and federal employees and many more and they are all against spending their tax dollars on this historical building that will be so revamped with the silo-looking elevator on the west side plus many other changes that it will no longer look historical. The two council members opposing the plan deserve our support.

The city council really dropped the ball when they didn't buy the Washington elementary school property. A council member said he thought they could raise the city's bid after the bids were opened, but "that was changed so we lost." That kind of thinking makes me wonder why he thinks the taxpayers of Thief River Falls want to spend a million or two million dollars on a building nobody else wants.

I wonder what will happen to the city computers when the train passes 10 feet away. The council's probable answer will be, "we can fix that with more money."

We all know Dr. Kevorkian won't be coming to Thief River Falls to save us taxpayers and I didn't win a big lottery prize so I could hire a good lawyer and stop this foolishness.

But what you can do is call your council members at either their homes or workplaces and tell them what your thoughts are. Remember, they are supposed to be representing us as taxpayers. You are responsible to tell them your opinion.

Pick out your council member's telephone number from your monthly newsletter and ask him or her why we can't vote on this expensive and controversial issue.

I just had to write. How about you?

Sincerely,
Chet Aubol

4-H scholarships are awarded to five in Pennington

Five Pennington county 4-H club scholarships were recently awarded to former members of the county 4-H club program. The awards are for $150 each.

Recipients are Myndy Olson, Cami Sorenson, Andrea Vigen, Daren Nelson and Ryan Swanson. The funds came from a VFW donation and the family of Clarence and Emma Peterson. Usually only two scholarships are awarded, but a $1,200 donation from the VFW made it possible to increase the number this year.

To be eligible for the scholarships, students must have been a 4-H member in the past, be a freshman in college and maintain at least a 2.0 grade point average.

To The Editor:

I've lived in Thief River Falls for about 25 years and I'm proud of our city. When family and friends come to visit, I show it off. They are impressed by its clean, well-kept appearance, how friendly the people are and the general attitude of everything. It's a good place to live and raise a family.

Having been a City employee for 17 years, I've seen Thief River Falls go through some bad times, struggle and then rebound into a strong and vibrant town. So I'm troubled by the City's desire to spend between $1.5 and $2 million to renovate an old and dilapidated building.

We've already spent money moving the locomotive so people can't see it. Money has been spent on the removal of asbestos, and money has been spent running a heater in the basement.

Many taxpayers are questioning if this is the best move for the city. We have not been allowed the chance to vote on this to see if this what the people want.

It would seem that if general fund reserves are spent we are going to affect our bond rating, which in turn is going to raise interest rates for future capital improvement projects. This affects us again in taxes and the amount of interest we pay. Also, are we going to have to replenish the money in our reserves? Where is that going to come from? Higher taxes, less city services or just more indebtedness?

The City has an agreement to guarantee the occupancy of the apartments built in 1995. If we have to start subsidizing these, where are the funds going to come from? More taxes?

If the City doesn't want to use all of its General Fund reserves, the alternative is to borrow money from the Electric (department) reserves. These reserves are an insurance policy to protect against a major catastrophe. If there are no funds, or little funds, we'll have to increase our rates—costing us again.

A power substation is being planned for 1998. Our power supplier, Minnkota, is going to build and pay for this. However, if our electric load doesn't grow we are going to have to pay for part of it. If taxes are too high and our good electric rates go up, what is going to be the incentive for our businesses to grow or for new industry to move in?

My feelings are that the depot is going to cost us more than just the up-front money. Taxes and your electric rates have good chance of going up.

Thank you,
Alan Johnson

"Biodiversity "And "Ecosystem" Terms And Agenda Questioned

GUEST EDITORIAL
by Bev Hewitt
Commissioner, Fourth District
Kittson County

Have you ever wondered why and how biodiversity has become the standard for all U.S. natural resource policy or how these laws affect our country and our everyday lives? How about the enormous agenda behind the policies to protect biodiversity?

Biodiversity is a relatively new word which was unheard of a few years ago but now is a big issue throughout the world. No one has a clear definition of what it really is. Webster's dictionary defines it as: "...1986) biological diversity is an environment as indicated by numbers of different species of plants and animals."

Certainly no one argues the need to protect our biodiversity, but the questions are how and at what cost? That should come with research and hard science.

Instead, after reviewing the facts, the panel concluded unanimously that all five rodent tests could not be used to predict human risks.

"The EPA phoned Ray Cardona at Uniroyal and ordered the company to quadruple the maximum dose level. The massive dose eventually generated tumors in the mice and a clear sign that the animals had been poisoned. EPA now had the data it wanted. In February of 1989, the agency announced it would ban the chemical, Alar, within one year.

"In April 1989, at the height of the Alar scare, fourteen scientific societies representing over 100,000 professional food scientists, toxicologists and nutritionists, issued a joint report. It said the primary hazard in our food supply comes from bacteria and naturally occurring toxins, not man-made pesticides."

From Dixie Lee Ray's book Environmental Overkill, pp 171-172, about some of the media reporters: "As the science editor at Time, I would freely admit that on this issue (the environment) we have crossed the boundary from news to advocacy." —Charles Alexander, "Time" magazine. "I have an ax to grind; I want to be the little subversive person in television." —Barbara Pyle, CNN Environmental Director. "We in the press like to say we are honest brokers of information, and it's just not true. The press does have an agenda." —Bernard Goldberg, CBS, "48 Hours." "It doesn't matter what is true, it only matters what people believe is true." —Paul Watson, co-founder of Greenpeace.

We, the readers, have the responsibility to apply the yardstick of common sense and practicality to what we view on TV and what we read.

To The Editor:

Dr. Jack Kevorkian, where are you? The Soo Line depot is terminally ill and needs a little assistance.

Sorry this letter will be a little longer than I at first thought, but if you are against spending a million and maybe two million dollars on revamping the old depot into city offices, please read on.

We, the majority (I believe), of the taxpayers plus two responsible council members have the same thoughts.

My name is Chet Aubol. My wife Pauline and I have lived here for 41 proud years and have raised two children. I have always found reason to be proud of Thief River Falls—good schools, progressive town, good churches—just a nice, good, pleasant small town ...some things that make a person want to be a little protective of what we have and maybe have a little input on making it a better town.

But now many people I have talked to are asking, "What's the use? The city council will do anything it wants."

I have talked to workers for Arctic Cat, truck drivers, telephone personnel, gas station owners, Digi-Key personnel, barbers, bank tellers, members of veterans' organizations, neighbors, teachers, news people, retirees, law enforcement, city, state and federal employees and many more and they are all against spending their tax dollars on this historical building that will be so revamped with the silo-looking elevator on the west side plus many other changes that it will no longer look historical. The two council members opposing the plan deserve our support.

The city council really dropped the ball when they didn't buy the Washington elementary school property. A council member said he thought they could raise the city's bid after the bids were opened, but "that was changed so we lost." That kind of thinking makes me wonder why he thinks the taxpayers of Thief River Falls want to spend a million or two million dollars on a building nobody else wants.

I wonder what will happen to the city computers when the train passes 10 feet away. The council's probable answer will be, "we can fix that with more money."

We all know Dr. Kevorkian won't be coming to Thief River Falls to save us taxpayers and I didn't win a big lottery prize so I could hire a good lawyer and stop this foolishness.

But what you can do is call your council members at either their homes or workplaces and tell them what your thoughts are. Remember, they are supposed to be representing us as taxpayers. You are responsible to tell them your opinion.

Pick out your council member's telephone number from your monthly newsletter and ask him or her why we can't vote on this expensive and controversial issue.

I just had to write. How about you?

Sincerely,
Chet Aubol

4-H scholarships are awarded to five in Pennington

Five Pennington county 4-H club scholarships were recently awarded to former members of the county 4-H club program. The awards are for $150 each.

Recipients are Myndy Olson, Cami Sorenson, Andrea Vigen, Darren Nelson and Ryan Swanson. The funds came from a VFW donation and the family of Clarence and Emma Peterson. Usually only two scholarships are awarded, but a $1,200 donation from the VFW made it possible to increase the number this year.

To be eligible for the scholarships, students must have been a 4-H member in the past, be a freshman in college and maintain at least a 2.0 grade point average.

Jacks start strong, top TRF 6-3

A 3-0 first period lead wound up the margin of victory Tuesday as Bemidji beat Thief River Falls 6-3 in a high school hockey game played at the John Glass Fieldhouse on the Bemidji State University campus.

Jon Ottersiad, Neil Huewe and Nick Doyle scored during a five-minute span that put Bemidji in control from the start.

It was 4-0 on Brad Johnson's goal 1:10 into the second period.

Second period goals by Nick Chiodo and Tony Fletcher, along with Kyle Anderson's goal 2:28 into the third period, pulled the Prowlers within 4-3. But Huewe cut the comeback short with two third period goals to complete a hat trick performance.

Freshman Mike Dowers, making his second start in the Thief River Falls nets, came up with 32 saves. Bemidji goalie David Ducharme stopped 18 shots.

It was the second win of the year over the Prowlers for the Lumberjacks, who won 5-2 in Thief River Falls back on Dec. 20.

Thief River Falls, 3-15-1, will wrap up the 1996-97 regular season schedule by hosting Crookston today (Saturday), visiting East Grand Forks Tuesday, then finishing at home Friday against Fergus Falls. The 3 p.m. Prowlers-Pirates match-up is a make-up game.

Section 8A seeding will be determined Wednesday. Post-season play starts Tuesday, Feb. 18, with the No. 10 seed at No. 7 and the No. 9 seed at No. 8.

The Section 8A quarterfinals (Feb. 20/21), semifinals (Feb. 22/24) and championship game (Feb. 27) will be played at Warroad.

Scoring

First period - Bemidji, Jon Ottersied (Matt DeMarchi-Dan Hoody), 6:14. Bemidji, Neil Huewe (Joe Motzko-Brad Johnson), 8:24. Bemidji, Nick Doyle (Mike Enerson-Danny Jackson), 11:13.

Second period - Bemidji, Johnson (Jackson), 1:10. TRF, Nick Chiodo (un.), 1:39. TRF, Tony Fletcher (Treavor Peterson-Chiodo), 7:56.

TRF swimmers head into final week

Thief River Falls boys will wrap up their regular season high school swimming schedule with a Monday dual at Fargo North, a Thursday dual at home against Moorhead and a Saturday (Feb. 15) appearance at the Grand Forks Invitational.

Section 8 swimming and diving championships will be held Feb. 21-22 in Alexandria.

Recent outings for the Prowlers included back-to-back trips to Park Rapids for a Tuesday (Jan. 28) triangular and a Saturday (Feb. 1) invitational.

Park Rapids Area won the triangular with 117 points, followed by Melrose/Sauk Centre with 116 and Thief River Falls 93.

"Everybody swam really well," said Thief River Falls co-head coach Brian Olson, "but we have a smaller team, we just don't have the depth the other teams have."

Highlighting the Prowlers' efforts at the triangular were first place finishes in the 200 and 400 freestyle relays by Aaron Sjaaheim, Mick McEnelly, Chris Pribula, and Zach Olson, who turned in an energy-draining anchor leg that produced a split-second victory margin.

"That's one of the best races I've seen those guys swim," noted Brian Olson.

Moorhead won the invitational title with 421 points, followed by Detroit Lakes with 378, Morris Area/Chokio-Alberta 273, Park Rapids Area 257, Thief River Falls 197, Little Falls/Staples-Motley 134, Crookston 103, and Lake of the Woods 32.

Pribula won the 200 and 500 freestyle races, breaking his own meet record in the 500 with a 5:19.77. Olson was third in both events.

Pribula and Olson have been the Prowlers' season-long leaders. Brian Olson looks for both to drop times in the 200 and 500 and to push the sectional leaders in those races.

Brian Olson also said solid efforts are being turned in by Josh Engevik, J.J. Efta and Matt Gustafson. "Josh is working hard in the 100 back," said Olson. "J.J. is versatile. He swims a lot of the events nobody else likes to swim, like the 200 I.M., 100 fly, 100 backstroke and 100 breaststroke. Matt is working really hard in the 100 breaststroke."

Meanwhile, younger swimmers like Sam Kezar, Colin Browning and Rory Hoven are also showing signs of future promise, mentioned Olson.

Football recruits

Matt Kujava, a 6-0, 175-pound runningback/defensive back from Badger/Greenbush-Middle River, has signed a letter of intent to play football at Bemidji State University.

It was also announced that J.J. Joppru, son of one-time Lincoln High School football/basketball standout Sheldon Joppru, signed with the University of Arizona on Wednesday – the first day recruits could sign college football tenders.

Joppru, a 6-7, 270-pound defensive lineman, is a Minnetonka High School graduate who played the past two years at Fullerton (CA) Junior College.

Archery Club captains asked to meet Feb. 11

Thief River Falls Archery Club will hold a meeting for all team captains to discuss the new scoring system currently being used during indoor league shooting.

The meeting will be held Tuesday, Feb. 11, at 8 p.m. in the basement of the city auditorium. For additional information, contact league secretary Darrel Janisch.

Pioneers shuffle line-up, still stay close to NDSCS

A nonconference game popping up between Minnesota Community College Conference starts prevented Mark Dannhoff an opportunity to rest his regulars and give extended playing time to his bench in a Wednesday Northland Community and Technical College men's basketball match-up with North Dakota State College of Science.

That 15-4 NDSCS fields one of the best teams in the region – ranked 20th in national NJCAA polls – didn't change the Pioneers' approach to the game. A loss, then wasn't totally surprising. However, the margin, 66-59, had Northland wondering what if?

"I thought we played pretty well," said Dannhoff. "We tried a lot of different combinations. We used our entire bench, and still played them near even for the most part. I like what I saw."

The Wildcats led 31-29 at halftime.

Northland is 8-9.

Grygla-Gatzke boys end string of losses

Grygla-Gatzke turned a two-point halftime lead into a 28-point, 77-49 win over Red Lake Falls Tuesday in boys high school basketball.

Trailing by eight in the first quarter and up 28-26 at intermission, Grygla-Gatzke out-scored Red Lake Falls 49-23 in the second half to put an end to a four game losing streak.

"We got down early, but we played pretty good defense in the second quarter, and we got our fast break going in the second half," explained Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson. "We got a lot of transition points, and we did a nice job on the offensive boards."

A balanced attack by the winners included Aaron Holthusen and Shaun Verbout with 15 points each, Jim Engelstad 13 and Jesse Lunsetter 10. Eric Hopperstad of Red Lake Falls led all scorers with 19 points.

Thanks to the fast break baskets, Grygla-Gatzke finished with a 55 percent 36-for-65 shooting night. The winners were 5-for-8 at the free throw line. Red Lake Falls shot 43 percent from the floor (20/46) and made 4 of 7 free throws. Grygla-Gatzke had a 38-20 rebound advantage – getting 14 of them on the offensive boards. The winners also topped the turnover charts 14-13.

B/G-MR turnovers lead to 49-42 loss

Two batches of turnovers wiped out a promising start for the Badger/Greenbush-Middle River boys Tuesday in a 49-42 high school basketball loss to Roseau.

Ahead 21-10 at one point of the second quarter, Badger/Greenbush-Middle River turned the ball over on its last five possessions of the half as the Gators' lead shrank to 24-22.

The second half started in similar fashion as the Gators turned it over on seven of their first nine possessions and trailed 35-29 at the end of the third quarter. They wound up with 20 turnovers for the night.

"For a quarter and a half, we played as good a basketball as we can play," said Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Eldon Sparby. "Then we starting throwing it away. And it wasn't because of defensive pressure, either."

The loss dropped the Gators to 7-9 for the year.

Isaac Lang of the Rams and Jeremy Vacura of the Gators were the game's leading scorers with 15 and 11 points, respectively.

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River was 17-for-44 from the field (39 percent) and 4-for-8 at the free throw line, where Roseau went 14-for-23. The Rams were 17-for-43 from the floor (40 percent), had a 27-25 rebound edge and turned the ball over 15 times.

Heating fuels will cost more in the region this winter
▪Natural gas, fuel oil, propane all cost more than last year

What are you waiting for?
NOW is the time to switch to electric heat.
You've likely read and heard about rising propane prices. Fuel oil and natural gas prices have also increased. And these prices may be headed higher yet. Consider this: If you heat your home with propane, fuel oil, or natural gas, you can expect to pay $200-$300 more to heat your home this heating season, compared to last winter.
Why? Low inventories and frigid cold weather mean sharp price increases. And it's difficult to predict what will happen next week, next month... or next year.
THE GOOD NEWS. Meanwhile, electric rates remain stable. In fact, your electric cooperative's off-peak heating rate is 2.7¢ per kilowatt hour. Electricity is made right here in our region with homegrown coal. So your electric rates are not affected by markets, weather, and international relations. More good news: Electricity is the safest, cleanest, most reliable choice for home heating.
DON'T WAIT. Call your energy experts at 253-2168, or 1-866-246-6668 (MN only) to get the scoop on electric heat.

Goodridge boys rally, beat RLCC...

Mustangs lose lead, game in second half

Goodridge erased a 10-point halftime deficit Tuesday in a 64-51 boys high school basketball win over Red Lake County Central.

The visiting Huskies were down 19-12 at the end of the first quarter and trailed 33-23 at halftime, but they came out of the third quarter with a 39-38 lead.

"We came out flat in the second half," pointed out Red Lake County Central coach Ryan Sedler. "We shot terrible in the second half, and we didn't play as well defensively, either."

It was just the opposite for the Huskies, according to Goodridge coach Eric Mickelson. "It was one of the poorest first halves, and one of the better second halves we've played," he said.

The Mustangs, after shooting 50 percent in the first half, shot just 32 percent in the second half. They were 4-for-8 from 3-point range in the first half, 1-for-9 from that distance in the second half, 19-for-49 overall for the game (39 percent).

"They (Mustangs) were hot in the first half," noted Mickelson. "We switched our defense in the second half, and it seemed to help."

The Huskies, who improved to 12-3, went 23-for-40 from the floor (58 percent) and 14-for-21 at the free throw line, where Red Lake County Central was 7-for-18. Goodridge, with Chris Grabowska pulling down 12 and Darrin Arveson grabbing 10, out-rebounded Red Lake County Central 41-24.

Eagles dominate MCC

East Grand Forks Sacred Heart did a number on Marshall County Central Tuesday in girls high school basketball, winning 89-35.

According to the Nordics' charts, the host Eagles put up an astounding 95 shots, hitting 32 of them (34 percent). They were also a busy 23-for-34 at the free throw line and finished with a 50-23 rebound advantage.

Kristine Altepeter had a 33-point game for the winners. Brandi Olson scored 13 to lead the Nordics.

"We were overpowered," said Marshall County Central coach Jerald Hagen, whose team has won just one game this winter. "They're quick. They wouldn't let us move. They were relentless. They were on the boards all night."

Sacred Heart led 50-15 at halftime.

Marshall County Central was 10-for-43 from the field (23 percent) and 14-for-29 at the line. The Nordics had 31 turnovers, compared to six for the the Eagles.

"It was kind of disappointing," acknowledged Hagen. "We had been playing some good basketball recently."

NCTC women fall prey to Wildcats' strong 1-2 punch

One-two punch supplied by Kami Raguse and Jen Rud of North Dakota State College of Science prevailed over the balanced attack featured by Northland Community and Technical College Wednesday as the Wildcats beat the host Pioneers 66-56 in women's basketball.

It was an inside-outside combination from Raguse, a guard who scored 23 points, and Rud, a forward/center, who netted 21, that handed the Pioneers just their fourth loss in 15 starts this winter.

"They (Wildcats) have an excellent team," pointed out Northland coach Rick Nikunen. "We couldn't stop Rud inside, and Raguse is an outstanding guard."

The Pioneers did not have a double figure scorer, but had three players with eight points and four with six.

Northland played NDSCS to a 32-32 halftime tie, but could never wrestle the lead away from the Wahpeton school in the second half. It remained close, however, until the Wildcats gained breathing room in the final 3 1/2 minutes.

The Pioneers shot 43 percent from the field (23/54) and went 6-for-8 at the free throw line. The Wildcats shot 46 percent from the floor (27/59) and made 8 of 11 free throws. NDSCS out-rebounded Northland 41-29, grabbing 18 of them on the offensive end.

Northland, playing without point guard Ali Hetala, who missed the game due to illness, turned the ball over 22 times. The winners had 21 turnovers.

Nick Drees scored 16 points Tuesday as the Lincoln High School freshman boys basketball team edged Warren-Alvarado-Oslo 42-39.

The winners had quarter leads of 7-6, 15-10 and 29-22.

In Friday (Jan. 31) action, Thief River Falls split with Crookston, losing the A game 48-40 while winning the B game 35-29.

Seth Harlow scored 14 points in the A game, led by Crookston at the quarter stops 14-11, 28-23 and 36-26.

Mark Larson netted 10 points and Derek Kalsnes had 9 as the Thief River Falls B team led Crookston at the quarters 14-2, 18-12 and 24-20.

TRF boys lose to Fordville-Lankin in G.F. Shootout

Fordville-Lankin took charge in the second half Saturday to beat Thief River Falls 65-51 in boys high school basketball – part of the South Forks Lions Shootout at Grand Forks, ND.

The Prowlers stayed within 21-17 and 30-26 at the first two quarter stops, but fell behind 56-37 in the third quarter.

"We played pretty well in the first half," said Thief River Falls coach Scott Brekke, "but we came out a little flat in the second half. They got up on us and we never got it back."

The Prowlers are 4-11, and remain winless on the road this year with an 0-for-6 showing.

"They (Fordville-Lankin) have a nice team. "We didn't shoot well. We work hard, but we just can't seem to get a "w."

- No initial sales charge (early withdrawl charge on shares held for less than five years)
- History of relative NAV stability the floating-rate senior loans in which the Trust primarily invests, may adjust over time with interest rate movements, thereby helping to minimize changes in net asset value (Sudden or extreme movements in interest rates could have an adverse effect on the Trust's NAV)
- Liquidity shares may be liquidated only at quarterly tenders which are at the discretion of the Board of Trustees.

Please call for a free brochure and prospectus for more complete information including charges, expenses, interest rate risk, and a discussion of the risks inherent in these types of investments. Read the prospectus carefully before you invest or send money.

MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Eric Melby
Feb. 13, 1979 to Feb. 8, 1993

Just one memory brings back the beauty of wonderful moments shared.
Your smile, your laugh, your sparkling eyes, or the way you showed you cared.
We never lose the ones we love for, even though they're gone, within the hearts of those who care, their memory lingers on.

Sadly missed by Mom, Jodie and Shane

Julie Nordine

Julie Nordine, publisher of newspapers in Warroad, Williams, Greenbush, Karlstad, Middle River and East Grand Forks, was elected president of the Minnesota Newspaper Association February 1 at the annual meeting of the association in Bloomington.

Nordine, 32, succeeds William C. Ramige of Glencoe. She is a 1983 graduate of Warroad high school and purchased the Northern Light at Williams when 19 years old, thereby becoming the youngest publisher in the state at the time. Northern Watch goes online with information

Readers of the Northern Watch can now find stories from the Northern Watch on the internet.

The Times and the Northern Watch now have their own web site. The newspaper's web site can be found at http://www.trftimes.com and http://www.nwatch.com.

The new web site will offer visitors access to 11 sites or links to other sites. Specifically, visitors will be able to access information about The Times, newsroom, sports department, editorials, business and agriculture, weather, high school activities, history, senior meals and activities, and even classified advertisements. Once a site is accessed, visitors will find news, pictures, graphics, and other links that may be of interest.

The Times and Northern Watch join a growing number of newspapers now offering web sites for browsers. Browsers will find top stories from the newspapers, as well as information not found in The Times or Northern Watch. Not all of the information found in The Times or Northern Watch will be found at the web site, however. Hopefully, as the project develops, it will become more geared to the needs of the browser.

An "Internet for Business" seminar for local and area business representatives interested in advertising on internet have been scheduled. The first meeting, scheduled for February 19 is filled. Because of the demand, a second seminar has been scheduled for March 10. Individuals interested in participating in this seminar should contact The Times/Northern Watch office at 218-681-4450.

Newspaper stories will be officially added to the site on February 12. Classified advertisements will go online in March. More information about how to place your classified advertisement on internet will soon be available. It is also anticipated that the first display advertisements from area businesses will appear on the company's site in March.

Since the site went online January 22, there have been 163 hits. Many individuals have sent us e-mail letting us know how much they enjoy seeing information about their hometown on the site and we're looking forward to hearing more information from readers.

Wikstrom finds identity from working at home

you control," claimed Karen.

In her three short years with Pampered Chef she has achieved many things. She has become a director in 1995 and has made top 10 sales three times. She is a member of the top performance cluster and the president's cabinet. She has also been featured in their newsletter. She is very close to her next level as an advanced director. On top of it all she has won four trips. She has been to Omaha, Disney Land, San Diego, and on an Alaskan Cruise. She won all four trips in one year. "Where else can you work part-time and get to take all of these vacations?" asked Karen. "They treat you very, very well," she added.

When asked how her husband feels about all of this, she exclaimed, "He loves it! I bought us a new home. He is very supportive and does a lot of things for me. He really enjoys it. He thinks the trips are great. You're never so pampered as on these trips."

Now that she has found the niche that keeps her going, she had to admit that she would find it very hard to leave the area now. "It's a wonderful safe place to raise your children. My customers and my hostesses have been so good to me. I have many good friends. I know so many people now, whenever I go somewhere people know me."

"I have found a really good babysitter. I would have to take her with me if we ever moved! I like raising my kids up here (in northern Minnesota) very much," she commented.

After a two-year adjustment and having to work outside the home, Karen has finally found what she truly enjoys. Working at home has definitely paid off for her. While it may not be for everyone, she would never trade it for anything.

Harold gave Coya idea for student loan program

Dear Friends:

Sorry that time did not permit my coming out to your place the other day when I was in Greenbush. I did want to see you both very much and tell you all about our Student Loan Bill. The President just signed the National Defense Education Act of 1958 (containing the student loan provision) into law so now eligible boys and girls will be able to get this Federal assistance with their education. This will go into effect next June, 1959.

I'll see you soon and give you all the details.

Kindest personal regards,
Sincerely yours,
Coya Knutson
Congresswoman

It was during Congresswoman Knutson's campaign for her second term that she addressed the West Marshall County Farmers Union meeting in Warren. She pointed out in her speech that the person who was responsible for the federal student loan bill was in the audience, and asked Johnson to stand for a round of applause.

Special Satisfaction

For Harold Johnson passage of the student loan bill had a particular satisfaction, although it came too late for him. He had started attending the engineering program at North Dakota State University in Fargo but ran out of money.

"If I could have gotten my hands on $500 I could have made it," he said. "But then my brother was killed when working down in Iowa, things weren't going well on the farm when I was home for the funeral, so I wound up staying home and farming." After his 20 years of farming, he worked for 20 years as a fieldman for Cenex.

His Five Children Used Loans

The program did help his children, however, as all five of them—a son and four daughters—earned their college degrees with loans from the federal program. Three graduated from Concordia College in Moorhead, one from Moorhead State College (now MSU) and one from Mayville (ND) State College.

All five of the children—as well as four of their spouses—had careers in education and four of the children are still teaching.

Harold Johnson gives the Congresswoman he campaigned to elect and reelect a lot of credit for her dedication and ability in getting the Federal Student Loan Program bill prepared, introduced and authorized. He knows it wasn't an easy effort.

But it was his idea.

Farmer and homemaker of the year

Warroad – Carter and Becky Hontvet of Warroad were recently honored as the Red River Valley Farmer and Homemaker of the year representing Roseau County.

The Hontvet's were chosen by a committee for their involvement in agriculture and the community.

Hontvet's farm, located south of town, boasts 40 purebread Tarentaise cattle and 120 commercial cows mostly Angus and Tarentaise cross.

"We are a beef farm," said Carter. "We are birthing calves from February-March, breeding them April 24-June 24, weening the calves from their mothers around September 20th, and feeding the calves until the first week of January. Then we take January off."

With the combination of hard work, friends and family, Carter and Becky will receive the Red River Valley Farmer and Homemaker of the year award on February 15 at the U of M campus in Crookston.

Souper Bowl

Red Lake Falls – Several teams entered their favorite soup in the Souper Bowl and the judges determined the top three soups, each of which received a cash prize.

First place went to the Spicers with their Cheesy Pepper Chicken Soup. Second place went to the Crucibles with their Wild Rice Soup. They also won the people's choice award. Third place went to the French Connection with their French Pea Soup.

The Lafayette High School choir sang several songs and the Valley Chordsmen gave a sneak preview of the spring show that will be held in May in East Grand Forks.

Snowmobile accident

Oklee – Three snowmobilers were southbound in an Oklee city ditch at 11 p.m. on February 4 when one snowmobiler fell off his sled.

Travis Brua, 20, fell from his John Deere snowmobile as he attempted an approach. Following in the rear, James Nichols, 19, who was driving a 95 Arctic Cat, was unable to avoid Brua in his path. Brua was also hit by a third member of the party, Jason Breckel, 19, who was driving a 97 Arctic Cat, and was unable to avoid him.

Brua was taken to the Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls and was later transferred to United hospital in Grand Forks.

Winter Merriment dinner concert is planned by NCTC

Musical groups from Northland Community and Technical College and the University of Minnesota at Crookston will present a Winter Merriment dinner concert Thursday evening, February 20, beginning at 6:15 p.m. in the NCTC cafeteria.

Performing at the concert will be the Northland Chamber Choir and Northland Jazz Ensemble under the direction of Les Torgerson, the UMC Choir directed by George French and various soloists and ensembles. Accompanist will be Cathy Hagen of Thief River Falls.

Dinner menu will feature peppered chutney roast beef with potatoes, vegetable, salad, breads, coffee and dessert. Lon and Joyce Gubell will cater the meal.

Admission of $12 per person covers the dinner and concert. Tickets are available from Kezar Music, the NCTC business office and from performing musicians.

Northland and UMC musical groups recently returned from their concert tour to Kansas City, MO, having performed there and at schools and churches along the way. This is the second year the two schools have worked together on this project.

Northland Chamber Choir will open the concert program February 20 with Blow, Blow Thou Winter Wind by John Rutter, followed by No Need to Knock by Sally Albrecht and Bill Bailey, Won't You Please Come Home by Hughie Cannon and arranged by Kirby Shaw. Michelle Lunsetter and Jackie Flynn will solo on It Don't Mean a Thing by Irving Mills, arranged by Mark Brymer. Ed Lojeski's Silhouettes will complete that phase of the concert.

UMC and NCTC choirs will combine on Precious Lord, Take My Hand by Roy Ringwald, For The Beauty of The Earth by John Rutter, How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling Place by Brahms and The Battle of Jericho by Gerald E. Brown.

Rebekah Solem wins Dist. 564 spelling bee

Seventh grader Rebekah Solem correctly spelled "diminutive" and "laceration" to win the School District 564 spelling bee Tuesday afternoon, February 11, at the Franklin middle school cafeteria.

Twenty-four students in fifth through eighth grades from Thief River Falls public schools and St. Bernard's Catholic school qualified for the spelling bee, coordinated by Men Paschke, media specialist at Franklin school.

Pronouncing the words for the contestants to spell orally was Loiell Dyrud, instructor at Lincoln high school. Judges were Carol Tranby and Jane Miller, instructors at Challenger elementary school, and Marvin Lundin, editor of The Times.

Rebekah is the daughter of Peter and Valerie Solem. Second place in the spelling bee went to seventh grader Jonette Swanson, daughter of Lorrie Swanson. Both qualify for the regional spelling bee to be conducted by the Northwest Service Cooperative Saturday, March 15, at Northland Community and Technical College.

It took 63 words to determine the spelling bee champion for School District 564 this year. Contestants were eliminated if they misspelled the word given to them and the next contestant in the rotation was given a new word to spell.

When only two contestants remained in the competition, the procedure changed. If either misspelled a word, the other was given a chance to spell the same word correctly, plus the next word on the list. The first contestant to correct a spelling and then correctly spell the next word was the winner.

When Jonette misspelled "diminutive," Rebekah corrected the

The inside of the renovated depot should look something like this artist's rendition. Last Tuesday, the council awarded bids for the renovation of and addition to the depot, clearing the way for city administrative offices to be moved to the depot.

Council goes ahead with depot renovation plans

Contracts totaling $1,286,600 awarded at meeting Tuesday evening

by David Hill
Associate Editor

Tuesday night, the Thief River Falls City Council awarded bids for the exterior and interior remodeling of the Soo Line Depot.

The vote on the exterior remodeling and supporting grants were unanimous, but when it came time to vote on the interior remodeling and addition, it came down to a roll call vote which resulted in 5 in favor and 3 against.

Several local citizens waged a last minute effort to force the issue to a vote of the citizens of Thief River Falls. Rufus Olson presented a petition with names of 58 individuals affixed to the statement: "We are not in favor of the Depot project advancing any further without the taxpayers being allowed to vote on the issue."

Olson said the petition arose out of a general meeting at the Heritage Community Center during which many people expressed their concern that the public had not been fully informed and were not knowledgeable about what was going on. He urged the council to take the advice of taxpayers who had signed the petition.

But it was explained to Olson by the City Attorney, Paul Ihle, that legally any vote on the matter would be entirely advisory. The law does not allow the council to relinquish its authority on such matters. He added that he was surprised at the controversy now as it has been in the media for years.

Chet Aubol said he could not believe the council could take it upon themselves to spend $1 to $2 million without support of the public. The council's image among the general public is not good, he said. "They believe the council will do what they want to do no matter what the taxpayers want."

Clayton Carlson, the self-proclaimed ex-mayor of Southtown, said he didn't care what the council or attorney had to say about a vote, and stated loudly that "this should be a vote by the citizens of Thief River Falls."

Jim Burkhalder wanted to know if individual council representatives had taken any time to ask people in their ward how they felt about the issue.

Bob Reed expressed his concern that increased train traffic and speeds pose a hazard for people working in the depot.

Dave Strong, who was among the individuals who had organized an effort to raise funds for restoration of the Depot more than two years ago, said considerable media attention has been focused on the Depot during the fund-raising efforts. During that effort, he said, a lot more than 50 people donated money to the project.

Olson said that when it was first proposed, the amount to remodel the building was estimated at $800,000. Over $500,000 was raised in private donations and it was expected that any private business occupying the building would pay for the rest and no public funds would be used for the project. It's completely different now, he exclaimed. He also added that it's not a logical place for city offices because of the train traffic, feed mill, two gas stations and lack of parking.

Grant agreements play important roles in what finally shaped the plans for the Depot. The city obtained $103,000 in Federal Intermodel Surface Transportation Efficiency Act (ISTEA) funds from the federal government and matching funds from the Minnesota Historical Society for $79,458. It was also noted that the city had obtained an additional $15,500 in ISTEA funds.

MCC wins state Cyber Knowledge event

A team from Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden won the first state Cyber Knowledge competition recently among 27 teams participating in the program throughout Minnesota. The team from Warren/Alvarado/Oslo was in third place.

Team members included Troy Elseth, Andy Filer, Eric Jorgenson, Kelly Liedberg, Eric Moose and Ben Rokke. Coach was Mark Jorgenson. In the regional contest, Marshall County Central was first, Warren/Alvarado/Oslo was second and Warroad was third.

Cyber Knowledge is the Minnesota Service Cooperative's Internet competition for students in grades seven through 12. The statewide competition was held from January 13 to 21. In this area the event is coordinated by the Northwest Service Cooperative, in conjunction with Lakes Country Service Co-op.

Purpose of the competition is to teach students the skills they need to communicate, search for and transfer information on the Internet—skills that workers are expected to need in the 21st Century.

Successful teams used strategy, teamwork and application of appropriate technology tools. The program promotes student collaboration and is enhanced by the sharing of techniques used to find the information or complete the task.

Each team consisted of up to six members from grades seven through 12. Teams visited the Cyber Knowledge web site (www.cyberknowledge.org) to access the tasks and to submit their answers. There were 10 "groups" of questions/tasks ranging from "What is the temperature on Mars?" to receiving E-mail from a student in Australia named either William or Mary. Students had to use strategy as to the best way to obtain the answers. Teamwork was strongly emphasized.

Minnesota Service Cooperatives' Cyber Knowledge competition will have its second competition this spring. School districts can contact their local service cooperative for more information.

Jason Mischel coached the Warren/Alvarado/Oslo team to its third place state finish. Nola Brandt was coach of the regional third place Warroad team. Ron Gotteberg coached Norman County West and Pam Howell and Terry Halvorson coached in Badger.

Lawsuit over

Newfolden – Marshall County Central Superintendent Ron Paggen was happy to say, "The lawsuit with Bunn O'Matic is finally over!"

He explained that the Supreme Court denied Bunn's appeal that was filed on the January 2 deadline.

The overall amount is about $7.9 million. Nearly all of that will go to reimburse the insurance company with a small amount going to the school district. The total for the building replacement was $5.2 million with $1.7 million going for property loss inside and related expenses.

The Marshall County Central school burned on November 7, 1991, and fire marshals determined the fire was started by a Bunn O'Matic coffee maker.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

February is cheery cherry month and a good time to have some spectacular cherry recipes. Here are just a few.

Haven't you always wanted to try this dessert at home - here's how:

Cherries Jubilee

3 tablespoons red currant jelly
2 tablespoons butter
2 cups canned, pitted tart cherries, well drained
1/2 cup cherry liqueur, heated
1 pint vanilla ice cream

Melt jelly in frying pan or chafing dish. Add butter and stir until melted. Add cherries and heat thoroughly.

Pour liqueur over cherries and ignite with long match. Let burn until flames die.

Spoon hot cherry mixture over ice cream and serve immediately.

This fancy dessert looks like a cake but tastes heavenly:

Cherry Delight

1 (3 ounce) package black cherry gelatin
1 cup pitted Bing cherries, sweetened with sugar to taste
1 quart vanilla ice cream, softened
1 1/4 cups vanilla wafer crumbs
6 tablespoons butter, melted
1 cup confectioner's sugar
2 tablespoons cherry juice
2 cups whipped cream
12 whole canned pitted Bing cherries

Prepare gelatin as directed on package. Stir in cherries and pour into 9 inch cake pan. Chill until firm.

Spread ice cream in bottom of separate 9 inch cake pan and chill until form.

Combine vanilla wafer crumbs and melted butter and toss until all crumbs are moistened. Divide into thirds.

Just before serving, spread a third of the crumb mixture on serving plate. Unmold gelatin on top of crumbs and then spread second portion of crumbs over gelatin.

Unmold ice cream and place over crumbs and gelatin. Spread with remaining crumbs.

Combine sugar and cherry juice in small bowl, stirring until smooth. Pour over top of cake.

Frost sides of cake with whipped cream and garnish top with dabs of whipped cream and whole cherries.

Here's a simple way to enjoy a cherry cherry dessert tonight:

Cherry Cobbler

1/2 cup butter
3/4 cup sugar
1 egg, beaten
1/3 cup milk
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 (21 ounce) can cherry pie filling

Preheat oven to 375 degrees.

Cream butter and sugar in bowl. Add egg and mix well. Blend in milk.

Combine flour, baking powder and salt in separate bowl and then add to butter mixture.

Spread half of batter in greased 8 inch round baking dish. Cover with 3/4 of the can of pie filling and then spread with remaining batter. Top with remaining pie filling.

Bake 30 minutes. Serve warm with ice cream or whipped cream.

Something fancy and very yummy made with those cherries:

Cherry Fritters

2 eggs
8 ounces cottage cheese
1/2 cup bread crumbs
1/2 cup sifted flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
Pinch of nutmeg
1/4 cup butter, melted
1 (8 ounce) can pitted cherries, drained
Oil for frying
Confectioner's sugar

In large bowl, heat eggs until frothy. Add cottage cheese, bread crumbs, flour, sugar, salt, nutmeg and butter and beat until smooth.

With floured hands, form dough into 1 inch balls, enclosing a cherry in center of each.

Heat oil to 375 degrees in deep skillet. Drop fritters into hot oil and fry for about 2 minutes or until golden brown, turning occasionally.

Drain on paper towels. Sprinkle with confectioner's sugar before serving.

And here is one more really easy, but sinfully delicious and chocolate, cherry recipe:

Chocolate Cherry Bars

1 package devils food cake mix
1 (21 ounce) can cherry pie filling
1 teaspoon almond extract
2 eggs, beaten

Combine all ingredients and place in 9x13 inch greased and floured pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 25-30 minutes.

Frosting

1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup miniature marshmallows
1/2 cup chocolate chips

Combine all ingredients except chips in saucepan and bring to boil. Add chips and stir until cool, thickened and smooth. (Pan can be placed in cold water to thicken faster.)

LETTERS

To The Editor

Let's not let history repeat itself!

When Challenger elementary school was built it left a community divided. People against it wanted nothing to do with it. I disagreed with a lot of things about Challenger, so I was not in favor of it. The school has been up and running for a couple of years and I believe that the division still exists in the school district.

I have two children attending Challenger. The classrooms are full and the hallways are busy. Our differences about the past should now be put aside as we make our schools the best we can.

Our city leaders have decided that the depot is the best place for city offices to be located. We, in opposition, were given our chance to voice our objections and also the opportunity to rebut what was said in response to our first remarks.

The citizens against the depot project can be glad they live in a community where they are allowed to voice their opinions. We had our chance to object to an issue, voice our concerns and have our questions answered. Now we must get on with our lives and do what we can to make our town a better place to live.

I would like to thank the mayor and council for allowing me to speak and The Times and Northern Watch the opportunity to express my opinion.

Thank You,
Alan Johnson
Thief River Falls

To The Editor

Commissioner Bev Hewitt's guest editorial (Northern Watch, Feb 8, 1997) cites a Biblical reference (Genesis 1:26) to support her opposition to "new environmental policies" which aim at slowing down or reversing some of the effects of human occupation of the earth.

There is more to the Bible's witness than this one text, however. The other creation story found in Genesis states "The LORD God took the man and put him in the garden of Eden to till it and keep it." (Genesis 2:15) To "till" and "keep" are, in the original Hebrew language, words denoting care. Farmers know what these words mean: land and livestock not cared for quickly deteriorate. I think Hewitt and I agree on this point.

Yet another theme which runs through the Bible is that of the effects of human disregard of God's instructions. In the story of Genesis 3, the results of the disobedience of the first human couple includes the words, "...cursed is the ground because of you..." (Genesis 3:17). Subsequent human experience bears out the truth of these words: human disobedience to God's rules for living results in a degradation of the environment. Thus Psalm 96 depicts the natural world rejoicing at God's appearance to judge human disobedience. Thus also Saint Paul can say, "...the creation waits with eager longing for the revealing of the children of God." (Romans 8:19)

Here in northwest Minnesota, where population is sparse, we may find it difficult to believe how much many other parts of the natural world have been devastated by selfish human exploitation. I have seen several of these places with my own eyes, and there is a mountain of evidence available to all who are willing to examine it, that our environment has been seriously eroded. The Bible's words of warning are much to the point: disobedience brings disaster.

But the Bible also has words of promise. The promise is that if humans will see the big picture (see it, in other words, more like God sees it) we can take actions which will allow the environment to be restored. "Biodiversity" is simply a term describing the abundance of plant and animal species which provide (among other benefits) a valuable cushion against catastrophic plague and disease. "Ecosystem" is simply a term which recognizes that we humans do not live by our own efforts alone, but that we depend upon fresh air, clean water, fertile soil, and the beneficial presence of untold numbers of kinds of plants and animals for both the necessities and the pleasures of life. As we depend upon them, so they depend upon us.

To ignore the warning is to court destruction. To claim the promise is to find abundant life.

Sincerely,
Philip J. Weiler
Erskine, Minnesota

Church Burning Builds Magnet Instead Of Wedge

If burning of churches used by black congregations has been intended to drive wedges between the races, the intent has been thwarted in many cases. The result instead has been a drawing together of people in a shared task of recovery and rebuilding.

Gay's Hill Baptist Church at Millen, GA, was one of those churches lost to apparent arson in the spring of 1996. It is now being rebuilt in a cooperative multi-racial effort.

"I have never seen people of so many faiths and races come together like this before. Not anywhere," says Hilda Dutrow, a relief effort veteran who is coordinating work teams from such far-flung places as Pennsylvania, Vermont and California to help reconstruct the church.

The cooperative effort is summarized in an article written by Paul Karr for The American News Service.

Karr points out that the Gay's Hill church was one of 138 African-American churches which burned under suspicious circumstances since the beginning of 1995. More than 140 suspects have been arrested in those arsons and 48 persons have been convicted. Twenty of the churches have been rebuilt and 35 more are under construction.

Joe Hamilton, a spokesman for the United Methodist Volunteers in Mission, is quoted by Karr as stating: "It's remarkable that the intent of these hat crimes was to drive people apart, but that instead it has had very much the opposite effect... Friendships (across racial lines) are being made as we speak, both within these congregations and across the country. When you're out there sweating beside each other on the work site, there's an insight you get into each other as human beings."

As might be expected, however, not everyone is happy with the rebuilding effort and not every arson has produced new racial harmony in the surrounding community.

Critic Diane Knippers of the Institute on Religion and Democracy in Washington, DC, has charged the National Council of Churches with using the spate of fires to raise money for itself and create what she calls "a false impression of raging racist violence." She said the rebuilding campaign of the National Council "has contributed nothing to racial reconciliation in this country. Its impact, if anything, has been to feed and fuel racial fear and animosities."

Carol Fouke, spokeswoman for the National Council of Churches which has raised nearly $11 million in cash and materials nationwide in a six-month period, says Knippers' charges are false. Eighty-five percent of the fund goes to rebuilding churches, she said, and 15 percent to anti-racism education including materials for congregations. "If we're not convinced hate was involved, we don't give money out of the fund," she said.

This spring, 1,000 college students nationwide are expected to use their vacation breaks to help in the rebuilding, as part of a volunteer program called "Christmas in April." It will be another example of creating a magnet instead of a wedge.

Breaking America's Glass Ceiling....

An editorial in the January 24 issue of The Times-Picayune in New Orleans, LA, commented on the appointment of the first female U.S. Secretary of State as follows:

"Eventually, we hope to get to the point where "first woman" is a label from the past in our nation. There has been dramatic progress in the past 20 years, with more and more women becoming astronauts and judges and lawmakers.

"But we are not there yet, so Madeleine Albright's confirmation as the country's first female Secretary of State shouldn't pass without the celebration of the fall of another barrier.

"This barrier was a biggie. Along with Attorney General, the Secretaries of Defense and Treasury and, of course, President, it has been one of the most elusive of positions for women.

"Ms. Albright joins Attorney General Janet Reno as the second woman ever in that elite group. The fact that their appointments unfolded in vastly different ways may be another sign of progress.

"....Maybe that is a sign that it will no longer be unusual for the United States to have a woman in one of the nation's most powerful positions."

If past records of accomplishment are accurate indicators of capability—and what better indicators can there be?—then Albright is a qualified and capable person to assume the huge responsibilities of the Secretary of State. She is familiar with the scope of responsibility and the diplomacy required to fulfill the duties of the office and should be strong and forceful enough to make our nation's position clear throughout the world.

We would expect that Albright's performance as the first female U.S. Secretary of State will be more illustrious than Janet Reno's performance as the first U.S. Attorney General. Reno, too, has good education and experience credentials for her office, but has not distinguished herself in it. This is not to say that previous male Attorney Generals were without fault, for there are many examples of failings and faulty decision making among them. Rather it is to point out that we as citizens of the U.S. should not be less tolerant of imperfection in women office holders than we are of imperfections in men.

The time is coming when the United States will indeed have a woman President. Had the wrong member of the Dole household not been on the Republican ticket in 1996, that time might have been now.

Northwest Medical Center is accredited

Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls has achieved accreditation from the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations as a result of demonstrated compliance with the Joint Commission's nationally recognized health care standards.

Richard Spyhalski, chief executive officer at Northwest Medical Center, called the accreditation "proof of an organization-wide commitment to provide quality care on an ongoing basis. He said he was especially proud of a staff whose members ask what needs to be done to be accredited by the Joint Commission.

"In addition," he said, "they appreciate the educational aspect of the survey and the opportunity to interact with the team of surveyors."

"Above all," notes Charles Bair, executive vice president of the Division of Accreditation Operations for the Joint Commission, "the national standards are intended to stimulate continuous, systematic and organization-wide improvement in an organization's performance and the outcomes of care. The community should be proud that Northwest Medical Center is focusing on the most challenging goal—to continuously raise quality to higher levels."

Formed in 1951, the Joint commission is dedicated to improving the quality of the nation's health care through voluntary accreditation. The Joint Commission's on-site survey of Northwest Medical Center was conducted in December of 1996.

Fargo North tops Thief River Falls swim team 74-27

On-again, off-again Thief River Falls vs. Fargo North boys high school swim meet ended up being an off night for the Prowlers Tuesday as the host Spartans won 74-27.

Before the two teams hit the water, the meet was dropped from schedule, re-instated, moved to a different day, then shifted back to the original date with a new starting time. When it was done, the Prowlers were 1-3 in dual competition.

"They're really powerful," pointed out Brian Olson, who serves as the Prowlers' co-head coach along with Shim Thompson. "They have a good team, and it was not one of our best meets. We could have swam better."

Thief River Falls won two races - the 200 freestyle, where Zach Olson beat teammate Chris Pribula to the finish 1:59.25 to 1:59.88, and the 100 backstroke, where Josh Engevik turned in a 1:05.09.

Hook shot stops Bemidji 53-51

Divine intervention played a role in Thief River Falls 53-51 girls high school basketball win over Bemidji Tuesday. At least, that's the way Prowlers head coach Jeff Loe saw it.

Thief River Falls, after a terrific start that produced a 15-point first half lead, was holding on for dear life down the stretch. The Lumberjacks' defense and the Prowlers' reluctance to force the issue offensively turned a potential blow out into a nail-biter.

Clinging to a 49-47 lead, the Prowlers, under instructions from the bench, were working on the clock following a steal by Taya Hunt with 1:34 remaining.

The ball was being passed around the perimeter as time ticked away when Kim Hook stunned everybody by launching a long 3-pointer from the left wing with 50 seconds to go. It touched nothing but net.

It wasn't the shot Loe was looking for at the time, but afterwards, he had no complaints. "She (Hook) must have heard God speaking, because it wasn't me (telling her to shoot)," he smiled.

The trey was the only field goal of the night for Hook, a 5-5 senior starter. And it was the Prowlers only basket over the final 11 minutes of the game.

After enjoying success getting the ball into the hands of Kim Stenseth and Nicole Kopari for first half points, the Prowlers' offensive production slowed after intermission. It wasn't by design, said Loe. "We couldn't get the ball into the post," he explained. "They (Bemidji) played aggressive defense."

While Hook's shot produced a 52-47 cushion, the game was far from done. In a hectic final half minute, Bemidji's Amy Enerson rattled in two free throws to make it 52-49. Thief River Falls' Erica Owen made the second of a two-shot foul for a 53-49 game, and the Lumberjacks' Lori Tank drove through the middle to make it 53-51 with 6.8 seconds showing.

Tank missed a free throw that could have completed a three-point play, but Bemidji controlled the rebound and in a scramble underneath the basket, the Lumberjacks wound up with two close-in shots for a tie – both of which bounced off the rim – before the horn sounded.

It was the final regular season home appearance for the 11-8 Prowlers, and it reversed a 51-34 loss at Bemidji a month earlier.

"A fantastic win," offered Loe. "It was a great way for our seniors to finish their careers on this court. They were really pumped."

They pumped Bemidji at the start. Missing their first 11 shots from the floor, the Lumberjacks fell behind 11-1. It was 15-7 at the quarter break and after leading 32-17, the Prowlers settled for a 32-21 halftime advantage.

Bemidji managed to trim the difference to 43-35 by the end of the third quarter and back-to-back 3-pointers by Casey Curb chopped the difference to 48-47 with 2:36 remaining.

Kopari hit a free throw, and Hunt then came up with the steal that set up the Hook shot.

Kopari, a 6-0 sophomore, finished with 20 points and Stenseth, a 5-9 senior, had 15. The two were nearly unstoppable in the first half when Kopari netted 14 and Stenseth had 10. Many of their baskets were set up by each other. "They're quite a tandem," acknowledged Loe.

Tank was the Lumberjacks' best player. The athletic 5-7 senior guard kept them in the game with 10 first half points and finished with 18.

The Prowlers, who were 20-for-38 from the field for the game (53 percent), put up just 15 second half shots. The Lumberjacks went 19-for-60 (32 percent). Both sides had trouble at the free throw line with similar 10-for-24 (Thief River Falls) and 10-for-22 (Bemidji) nights.

Bemidji's size and strength inside allowed the Lumberjacks to double the Prowlers on the boards, 30-15. They beat them on the offensive end 17-8.

Thief River Falls had more turnovers, 17-15.

Green Wave takes overtime decision

Travis Carriveau scored 3:30 into overtime Tuesday to give East Grand Forks a 3-2 high school hockey win over Thief River Falls.

The Prowlers' Kyle Anderson scored two first period goals and Justin Hillier of the Green Wave netted two second period goals to set up the overtime.

It was the first loss in four overtime games for the Prowlers, who fell to 4-16-1 for the year. It was also the second one-goal decision of the year over Thief River Falls for East Grand Forks, a 2-1 winner the first time around.

"It was a real good hockey game," said Thief River Falls coach Pat Cullen. "It was two evenly-matched teams playing each other."

Thief River Falls goalie Brian Barry came up with 30 saves. East Grand Forks netminder Wade Holtman had 22 stops.

"We're playing as well as we have all year," said Cullen, whose team was coming off a 4-0 Saturday win over Crookston. "Losing this way wasn't as hard as if we had played poorly."

Thief River Falls wins 6-5 JV contest at EGF

Mike Swanson scored twice Tuesday as the Thief River Falls junior varsity high school hockey team beat East Grand Forks 6-5.

Bill Puppe, Dusty Melby, Andy Junisch, and Tom Fogarty scored single goals, while Jayme Holmes came up with three assists for the winners, who were involved in their fifth straight one-goal game.

Thief River Falls goalie Josh Holmes had 19 saves.

Chervestad, Mustangs beat NCE

Angie Chervestad turned in a 21-point, 10-rebound performance and in the process crept within striking distance of joining the 1,000 Point Club, but it was the Mustangs' play without their foul-plagued leader on the court that proved decisive Tuesday as Red Lake County Central beat Norman County East 72-41 in girls high school basketball at Plummer.

The winners had a 21-11 first quarter lead, and even with Chervestad on the bench because of early foul trouble, they blitzed the Eagles 19-3 in the second quarter to build a 40-14 halftime cushion.

"We had a real good second quarter," acknowledged Red Lake County Central coach Rick Korsisto. "We shot the ball well, and our press was fairly effective."

The Mustangs turned in a 50 percent 28-for-56 shooting performance, and cashed in on 12 of 18 free throws to improve to 7-10.

Chervestad, a 6-0 junior, was 10-for-12 from the field as she hit the 970 point mark in her high school career.

Norman County East was just 14-for-57 from the floor (25 percent) and made 11 of 18 free throws. The Mustangs had a 38-20 rebound edge over the Eagles, who topped the turnover charts 28-23.

THE COST OF COLD
Propane users feel the heat
Rise in crude oil prices, low summer inventories push up fuel costs

What are you waiting for?

NOW is the time to switch to electric heat.

You've likely read and heard about rising propane prices. Fuel oil and natural gas prices have also increased. And these prices may be headed higher yet. Consider this: If you heat your home with propane, fuel oil, or natural gas, you can expect to pay $200-$300 more to heat your home this heating season, compared to last winter.

Why? Low inventories and frigid cold weather mean sharp price increases. And it's difficult to predict what will happen next week, next month... or next year.

THE GOOD NEWS. Meanwhile, electric rates remain stable. In fact, your electric cooperative's off-peak heating rate is 2.7¢ per kilowatt hour. Electricity is made right here in our region with homegrown coal. So your electric rates are not affected by markets, weather, and international relations. More good news: Electricity is the safest, cleanest, most reliable choice for home heating.

DON'T WAIT. Call your energy experts at 253-2168, or 1-800-245-6068 (MN only) to get the scoop on electric heat.

Pioneers split with Raiders

Central Lakes brought a pair of first place teams to the Northland Community and Technical College gym Wednesday for a Minnesota Community College Conference basketball doubleheader that produced two down-to-the-wire finishes and a split – a 57-55 win for the Raiders in the women's game and a 79-76 victory for the Pioneers in the men's contest.

Both were key match-ups in Northland's MCCC state tournament bids, but neither the loss in the women's game, nor the win in the men's encounter sealed the Pioneers' fate in the Northern Division – where the top four regular season finishers earn post-season spots.

Northland women, 12-5 overall and 6-4 in the MCCC, will finish with Northern Division games Monday at Fergus Falls and Friday at Itasca. The Monday trip to Fergus Falls will be the final MCCC start for the Northland men, 9-11 overall and 5-6 in the Northern Division.

Central Lakes 57
Northland 55

A late-game 10-0 run lifted Central Lakes past Northland 57-55 in the women's game that opened the doubleheader.

In a game that was never separated by more than six points, the Pioneers were up 43-39 following a 3-point basket by Tara Sugden with 6:39 remaining before the Raiders' game-clinching surge kicked in, producing a 49-43 Central Lakes lead on a short jumper by Amber Thyen with 3:15 left.

Northland stayed close, through by hitting 3-pointers. Ali Hietala banked one in with 17.3 seconds showing to make it 53-51, and after Thyen made both ends of a bonus free throw opportunity, Jenny Smith nailed one from the wing for a 55-54 game with 8.1 seconds to play.

Thyen once again responded by making both tries on a 1-and-1 situation for a three-point spread, 57-54, with 7.6 seconds remaining.

Northland had one more chance when Smith was fouled on a 3-point attempt with 2.6 seconds left. The call produced three free throws, but she was only able to convert one.

Central Lakes is 14-3 overall and 9-0 in the Northern Division. The Raiders beat Northland 81-60 Jan. 22 at Brainerd.

It wasn't a great shooting night for the Pioneers, who were 22-for-67 from the field (32 percent) and 5-for-12 at the free throw line. Central Lakes fared only slightly better with a 25-for-67 game from the field (37 percent) and a 7-for-17 effort at the line.

Due in part to those shooting figures, the teams played to a low scoring 19-19 first half tie.

"Both teams were out-of-sync offensively in the first half," offered Northland coach Rick Nikunen, "but they both picked it up in the second half."

"We had one of those days where we just couldn't put it in the basket," continued Nikunen. "We got pretty much all the shots we wanted; they just wouldn't drop. They went to a zone in the second half and challenged us to beat them from the outside. We couldn't do it."

Northland had a 38-36 rebound edge, but also wound up with more turnovers, 23-17.

Northland 79
Central Lakes 76

Northland turned a two-point lead into an eight-point edge – the biggest spread of the game – in the final 32 seconds and laid claim to a 79-76 decision over the Central Lakes men in the twinbill nightcap.

Kenta McGaughy pulled a rebound out of the hands of a Central Lakes player and laid the ball in the basket to turn a 72-70 lead into 74-70 with 32.8 seconds left.

A Central Lakes turnover and two Macy Ford free throws made it 76-70 with 18.6 seconds to go, and two more free throws by Hassan Jihad provided the Pioneers with a 78-70 cushion with 6.6 seconds showing.

Back-to-back 3-pointers by Central Lakes' Gus Bollum and Andy Abramson clipped the difference to 78-76. But the second trey came with only .7 seconds on the clock and was followed by a Raiders' time-out – which produced a technical foul since the visitors didn't have a time out to call.

A free throw by the Pioneers' Jon Hager, and the last-tick in-bounds pass closed it out.

The Raiders, who beat the Pioneers 95-77 earlier this year, came into the game 12-7 overall and tied for the Northern Division lead with Fergus Falls at 6-3.

"We needed that one," said Northland coach Mark Dannhoff. "The kids battled. They kept working hard and got it done. It was a big game, and our kids stepped up to meet the challenge. They all came in and did something that was positive."

Central Lakes led 36-34 at halftime. Northland ahead for good, albeit not by much, when Ford turned a Raiders turnover into a fast break lay-up and a 64-62 lead with 7:10 remaining.

Northland shot 51 percent from the field (29/57), compared to Central Lakes' 45 percent (30/66), but the Raiders hit 11 treys to just four by the Pioneers. Northland had a big free throw advantage with a 17-for-23 night at the line, where Central Lakes was a quiet 5-for-7.

Chris Grabowska scored 22 points and pulled down 12 rebounds for the winners, while teammate Jim Scheef netted 13 points and also hauled in 12 rebounds, including nine on the offensive boards.

"It was a pretty solid performance," said Goodridge coach Eric Mickelson. "The kids did a great job on the offensive rebounds."

Kevin Philion and Chris Swendra scored 11 points each to lead the Red Lake Falls offense, which featured 48 percent, 11-for-23 shooting from 3-point range.

Goodridge was 27-for-63 from the field (43 percent) and 9-for-19 at the free throw line. Red Lake Falls went 21-for-45 from the field overall (47 percent) and made 5 of 9 free throws. The Eagles topped the turnover charts 16-13.

Thief River Falls trailed Fergus Falls at the stops 9-3, 19-12 and 31-21. Beth Olson and Laura Follett had 6 points each to lead the offense that night.

B/G-MR handles Nordics 76-44 in boys basketball

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River climbed to the .500 level at 9-9 Tuesday with a 76-44 boys high school basketball win over Marshall County Central at Newfolden.

The Nordics, who trailed at the quarter stops 17-7, 30-17 and 53-31, fell to 4-14.

"We felt it was a pretty good outing," offered Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Eldon Sparby. "We got some real good one-on-one match-ups in the first half."

Then Andy Schenkey took over with a 13-point third quarter when his outside shooting busted a Marshall County Central zone. He finished with a game-high 16.

The Gators had a 50 percent, 27-for-54 shooting night from the field, including a 6-for-13 showing from 3-point range. They also made 16 of 22 free throws and had a 41-25 rebound advantage.

An awards banquet for the Valley Farmers and Homemakers will be held February 15.

On February 14-15, Red River Valley Livestock Association will sponsor an "All Breed" livestock show in the area. Commercial exhibits relating to livestock producers will be on display during these two days. There is no admission charge.

Bids awarded by city on Soo Depot project

Don Stewart, community development director who along with Ron Lindberg, public works director, was named a project director, explained that by accepting the grants the city was tying its hands to some extent. All of the grant monies must be used for the exterior remodeling, and the building must allow public access — such as found in city government uses, museum uses, or chamber of commerce.

The city council has looked at remodeling the city auditorium. In fact, four options were presented by the architectural firm hired by the city, though some council members still only consider three options viable because of the manner of presenting the fourth option to the council and what it doesn't address. (It only addressed the minimum ADA requirements. When such a project begins, other health and safety requirements must also be met. Those requirements were not addressed by the proposal.) Stewart was asked by Don Barron, city council representative, to review three of those options.

In an "Apples to Apples" comparison, Stewart said only one option would fit that request. That option, which has an estimated price tag of $1.2 to $1.3 million, has a number of disadvantages, such as loss of the use of the gymnasium, and less parking. The price tag on the other two options was estimated at $955,000 to $1,026,000, and $564,000 to $605,000.

Dale Wennberg pointed out that the city will still have to do something to the city auditorium to comply with ADA requirements even if city offices move to the Soo Line Depot.

This is the second time the city has obtained bids on the Soo Depot project. The first set of bids were opened in June or July and rejected. Bids offered were seen as too high or unrealistic. As a result, a number of changes were made to specifications for remodeling and the bids were advertised and opened during winter when more contractors would have time to look at the specifications and offer a bid.

The city received eight bids on the Depot Renovation project. Stewart noted that one was withdrawn. Although there were other low bids (by almost $20,000), because of problems with the bid, the "low qualified bid" was the bid of Stamson and Blair Inc. of Grand Rapids at $198,300.

The council approved awarding of the bid to Stamson and Blair on the condition that the Minnesota Department of Transportation agrees with the awarding of the bid.

The city received nine bids on the addition and interior remodeling project. One was withdrawn. When the council reviewed the bids and the additional alternatives, the low bid was awarded to Stamson and Blair of Grand Rapids with a bid of $1,038,300.

The council approved awarding of this contract on condition the Minnesota Department of Transportation awards the bid on the exterior portion of the contract.

There was some discussion about how to finance the city's portion of the project. At the last city council meeting the council approved a resolution approving a loan from electric fund reserves "if necessary". At this council meeting, however, the council discussed a "ground lease" through a financial institution. Preliminary discussions indicate that it is a viable option.

Council Representatives Dale Wennberg and Ken Schmalz have been against the addition and interior remodeling project since the beginning of discussions on the issue years ago. Among other objections, both have expressed concern that it would be too costly, and the wrong place for city offices. Both have supported exterior remodeling of the facility, but don't want to see city offices moved to the building. Schmalz has also expressed concern that the city council has not been listening to taxpayers. Tuesday night, City Council Representative Dave Carlson joined them in opposition to the project stating that in view of the many other projects the city has in its capital improvements project list it is too costly, would be a burden on the city's bond rating, and an unnecessary consolidation of city offices in view of advances in technology.

City Council Representative Frank Hamerlinck said it may not be the best place for city offices, however, because of the renovation project it will as close to being a new building as possible without being a new building. In addition it is a unique and impressive building that has played a significant role in the city's past.

City Council Representative Jean Heinrichs noted that the issue has been studied very carefully during the past two years. She said being able to move into the old Washington Elementary school building might have saved the city a lot of money, but the city didn't win the bid to purchase the facility. She also noted what the city has gone through in terms of attempting to address the ADA requirements and other safety requirements, which all cost money. In the end she believes this is the best option for the city.

At the conclusion of the council meeting Tuesday night, Wennberg said he felt like he lost the battle, but would work with the council. He added that he hopes there won't be any expensive change orders.

Schmalz said much the same adding that it was time to put it behind them.

Snowshoe event Feb. 23

CRP information meets at TRF and Goodridge

Informational meetings on the new Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) signup have been scheduled by the Pennington County Farm Service Agency (FSA) for Friday, February 28, at 10 a.m. in the Thief River Falls city auditorium and 2 p.m. at the Goodridge community center.

"Our office won't have all the details for the CRP signup until February 27," states Glenn Schafer, Pennington county FSA director. "We expect there will be a great interest in the signup and will be taking signups only on an appointment basis."

Appointments may be scheduled at the informational meetings February 28 or by calling the county FSA office at 681-1612 starting Monday, February 24.

"We suggest that people attend one of the informational meetings prior to scheduling an appointment," Schafer said. "Many of their questions will be answered at the meetings. The appointment schedule is being adopted to prevent as much as possible the need for people to wait in line at the county office."

Mountains of the white stuff still remain. With sunshine and warmer temperatures, however, some residents started to make sure the melting snow found its way to open storm sewers.

D.A.R.E. graduation

Erskine – Wine-E-Mac sixth grade class was honored recently with a graduation ceremony from the D.A.R.E. program. This celebration brought an end to the course on drug and alcohol education that the students had participated in.

Scott Hemming was the guest speaker for the evenings program. He is the radio host from KCNN Hot Talk show. He congratulated the students on their big day and told them that this was a good time to start following their dreams in life at their young age.

One of the requirements of the class included that the students write an essay about "Taking a Stand Against Drugs." The students were then presented their certificates and D.A.R.E. shirts stating that they had successfully completed the DARE program. They then had their hands shaken from the officers and Role models.

This years Role models were members of the first graduating class of the DARE program at Win-E-Mac. They were: Kylie Vesledahl, Scott Carlson, Mike DiMaggio and Amy Halvorson.

Benefit dance

McIntosh – The Win-E-Mac Senior High Student Council sponsored a dance on February 7 featuring music by "Undergound Sound" with the purpose of collecting non-perishable food items for the local food shelf.

Approximately 80 pounds of canned goods were collected, along with $191 in cash which will also be donated to the food shelf.

Changes on solid waste fees

Lake of the Woods County – The Lake of the Woods County Board is scheduled to review and finalize a revised schedule of solid waste services fees at its meeting next Tuesday.

The board gave preliminary approval to a schedule at its February 11 meeting. Solid waste fees are added to property tax bills and effectively become a part of taxes paid by property owners. The fee goes toward costs of running county-owned waste disposal and recycling facilities.

The basic residential fee of $80 a year will remain unchanged. There were some initial changes, mostly increases, for businesses adopted at the February 11 meeting, but some of those changes will be in turn changed again next week.

Snow removal

Red Lake County – Snow removal costs for the first month of the year in Red Lake County were $80,709.

The total includes all the townships, cities and the county's snow removal costs. Of the total, the county will get reimbursed about $60,000 from the Federal Emergency Management Association (FEMA), said Sheriff Al Morken; because Red Lake County was on of several counties in the state that was declared a disaster.

Morken said the extensive snow removal was hard on the townships because they don't have budgets to cover costs like that; some of the townships had removal costs of about $5,000.

Spring quarter registration now open at NCTC

Registration for spring quarter classes remains open until March 9 at Northland Community and Technical College. Currently enrolled students need to meet with an advisor to register for classes.

Tuition and fees are due on the first day of the quarter (Monday, March 10) unless they are being paid by another agency. The business office must be notified if this is the case so the bill can be deferred and the student is not charged a late fee.

Last day to add or drop a class for spring quarter is Friday, March 14, although tuition and fees will not be adjusted for a reduction in course load after Monday, March 10.

New students are required to complete a student assessment before enrolling for classes for evaluation of basic English, reading and mathematic skills. Last assessment will be held February 26 at 2:30 p.m. in room 106. To schedule this assessment, contact Harriet Kezar at 681-0701 or 1-800-959-6282.

Community Church seeks support for mission to Mexico

The children in Mexico are crying. They are crying because they are undernourished and don't have adequate living conditions. They are dying every day because they don't have enough food to eat and no shelter to sleep in when the temperatures get down into the single digits.

It is because these children are crying that the Community Church of Thief River Falls is joining up with area churches for a mission to Mexico. They will be going to Mexico March 21-30 to help build an orphanage for the 10,000 homeless children in Juarez and Guadalupe, Mexico.

The orphanage began as a vision for Steven and Cathy Brewer of Michigan over eight years ago. Steven went to Mexico and was given 27 acres of land in Guadalupe, which is 10 miles from the United States border crossing. Steven named the mission "Tapestries of Life Ministries" (TLM).

Once they received the land (which was a donation from a native of the area who wanted to see a place for the children to live) they had to build a four-foot wall around it. In Mexico, you must have a wall around your property in order for it to be "honored" and to keep things out.

Pastor Jim Jacobson of the Community Church was able to take part in a mission trip to Guadalupe in December of 1996. He helped construct part of the wall, which still isn't complete.

Pastor Jim went to Mexico with a church from Park Rapids after finding out about the mission from Liberty Chapel in Grygla. Pastor Jim was able to see what the living conditions were like in Mexico, and witnessed several childrens' deaths while he was there. When the temperatures reached seven above, children froze to death because they had nowhere to go where it was warm.

The Community Church is trying to raise money to construct the

Polaris will enter motorcycle field

Polaris Industries Inc. announced this week that it will add motorcycles to its line of businesses, making a limited number of its "Victory" cruisers available in the spring of 1998.

Matt Parks will be general manager for motorcycles as each of the Polaris businesses is run as a strategic business unit. Engines for the motorcycles will be built at the company's engine plant at Osceola, WI and the motorcycles built at the Polaris plant in Spirit Lake, IA.

Worldwide market for cruiser motorcycles is estimated at more than 200,000 annually and sales have nearly doubled in the past five years. This market is larger than both the personal watercraft and snowmobile markets in which Polaris already competes.

W Hall Wendel Jr., chairman and CEO of Polaris, said that 30 per cent of the customers who ride other Polaris products—including snowmobiles, all-terrain vehicles or personal watercraft—are already active motorcyclists.

Wendel said the motorcycle market is a logical extension of the Polaris diversification strategy. "We have the name, the engineering and marketing expertise, manufacturing infrastructure and the dealer and distributor network worldwide to effectively compete in this marketplace. We've competed successfully against Honda, Yamaha, Kawasaki and Suzuki in our other businesses.

"As with prior introductions of new product lines, the company will emphasize keeping its break-even point low and carefully managing growth to steadily higher production volumes," Wendel said. "With the decision to enter the motorcycle market, we're continuing a strategy that we have already proven successful."

FEMA funds will be used to install flood gages

Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) has announced that $640,238 in hazard mitigation funds will be available for a State of Minnesota and federal project to install a flood forecast/warning system in counties throughout the state.

The funds will be used for a $937,738 project to install 42 automated stream flow and precipitation gages on rivers and streams in 25 counties throughout southern and western Minnesota. These gages will transmit data to the National Weather Service for analysis and development of flood forecasts and warnings and will provide local communities with automated warnings.

FEMA funds were made available through a Presidential major disaster declaration issued on June 11, 1993 for severe storms, flooding and tornadoes. They will be awarded to the Minnesota Division of Emergency Management and Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, which will administer the project. Remaining costs will be contributed by the state.

The flood forecast/warning system project is part of FEMA's ongoing effort to assist local governments in taking measures to reduce property damage, personal injury and loss of life from natural disasters. Special assistance in the design of this project was given by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, the National Weather Service and the U.S. Geological Survey.

"Because such losses are so disruptive and costly," said FEMA Director James Lee Witt, "I have made it a priority of this agency to support state and local efforts to reduce vulnerability, and the costs of future disasters, through effective mitigation programs such as the one being undertaken by Minnesota."

In this area of the state, gages will be located at Hallock in the South Branch of Two Rivers; at Lake Bronson on the South Branch of Two Rivers; at Warren on the Snake River; at Thief River Falls on the Red Lake River and Thief River; at Red Lake Falls on the Red Lake River; at Roseau on the Roseau River.

An Interagency Mitigation Advisory Group, charged with coordinating Minnesota's recovery and mitigation needs with state funds and federal funds made available by Congress at the request of President Clinton, will monitor the flood forecast/warning system project. The group includes FEMA, the U.S. Department of Interior's Bureau of Indian Affairs, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Forest Service and Rural Utilities Service, the Minnesota Division of Emergency Management, Minnesota Department of Natural Resources' Division of Forestry, Minnesota Department of Public Service, the Minnesota Rural Electric Association, Minnesota Municipal Utilities Association, Minnesota Association of Land Commissioners and the Minnesota Forest Industry's Timber Producers Association.

"Accomplishing projects where system installations can detect impending disaster and provide warning to vulnerable areas requires cooperation between several levels of local, state and federal government," said Michelle M. Burkett, Regional Director of Region V.

D.A.R.E. graduation

Erskine – Wine-E-Mac sixth grade class was honored recently with a graduation ceremony from the D.A.R.E program. This celebration brought an end to the course on drug and alcohol education that the students had participated in.

Scott Hemming was the guest speaker for the evenings program. He is the radio host from KCNN Hot Talk show. He congratulated the students on their big day and told them that this was a good time to start following their dreams in life at their young age.

One of the requirements of the class included that the students write an essay about "Taking a Stand Against Drugs." The students were then presented their certificates and D.A.R.E. shirts stating that they had successfully completed the DARE program. They then had their hands shaken from the officers and Role models.

This years Role models were members of the first graduating class of the DARE program at Win-E-Mac. They were: Kylie Vesledahl, Scott Carlson, Mike DiMaggio and Amy Halvorson.

McIntosh – The Win-E-Mac Senior High Student Council sponsored a dance on February 7 featuring music by "Undergound Sound" with the purpose of collecting non-perishable food items for the local food shelf.

Approximately 80 pounds of canned goods were collected, along with $191 in cash which will also be donated to the food shelf.

Changes on solid wasta fees

Lake of the Woods County – The Lake of the Woods County Board is scheduled to review and finalize a revised schedule of solid waste services fees at its meeting next Tuesday.

The board gave preliminary approval to a schedule at its February 11 meeting. Solid waste fees are added to property tax bills and effectively become a part of taxes paid by property owners. The fee goes toward costs of running county-owned waste disposal and recycling facilities.

The basic residential fee of $80 a year will remain unchanged. There were some initial changes, mostly increases, for businesses adopted at the February 11 meeting, but some of those changes will be in turn changed again next week.

Snow ramoval

Red Lake County – Snow removal costs for the first month of the year in Red Lake County were $80,709.

The total includes all the townships, cities and the county's snow removal costs. Of the total, the county will get reimbursed about $60,000 from the Federal Emergency Management Association (FEMA), said Sheriff Al Morken; because Red Lake County was on of several counties in the state that was declared a disaster.

Morken said the extensive snow removal was hard on the townships because they don't have budgets to cover costs like that; some of the townships had removal costs of about $5,000.

CRP information meets at TRF and Goodridge

Informational meetings on the new Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) signup have been scheduled by the Pennington County Farm Service Agency (FSA) for Friday, February 28, at 10 a.m. in the Thief River Falls city auditorium and 2 p.m. at the Goodridge community center.

"Our office won't have all the details for the CRP signup until February 27," states Glenn Schafer, Pennington County FSA director. "We expect there will be a great interest in the signup and will be taking signups only on an appointment basis."

Appointments may be scheduled at the informational meetings February 28 or by calling the county FSA office at 681-1612 starting Monday, February 24.

"We suggest that people attend one of the informational meetings prior to scheduling an appointment," Schafer said. "Many of their questions will be answered at the meetings. The appointment schedule is being adopted to prevent as much as possible the need for people to wait in line at the county office."

Spring quarter registration now open at NCTC

Registration for spring quarter classes remains open until March 9 at Northland Community and Technical College. Currently enrolled students need to meet with an advisor to register for classes.

Tuition and fees are due on the first day of the quarter (Monday, March 10) unless they are being paid by another agency. The business office must be notified if this is the case so the bill can be deferred and the student is not charged a late fee.

Last day to add or drop a class for spring quarter is Friday, March 14, although tuition and fees will not be adjusted for a reduction in course load after Monday, March 10.

New students are required to complete a student assessment before enrolling for classes for evaluation of basic English, reading and mathematic skills. Last assessment will be held February 26 at 2:30 p.m. in room 106. To schedule this assessment, contact Harrier Kezar at 681-0701 or 1-800-959-6282.

Community Church seeks support for mission to Mexico

The children in Mexico are crying. They are crying because they are undernourished and don't have adequate living conditions. They are dying every day because they don't have enough food to eat and no shelter to sleep in when the temperatures get down into the single digits.

It is because these children are crying that the Community Church of Thief River Falls is joining up with area churches for a mission to Mexico. They will be going to Mexico March 21-30 to help build an orphanage for the 10,000 homeless children in Juarez and Guadalupe, Mexico.

The orphanage began as a vision for Steven and Cathy Brewer of Michigan over eight years ago. Steven went to Mexico and was given 27 acres of land in Guadalupe, which is 10 miles from the United States border crossing. Steven named the mission "Tapestries of Life Ministries" (TLM).

Once they received the land (which was a donation from a native of the area who wanted to see a place for the children to live) they had to build a four-foot wall around it. In Mexico, you must have a wall around your property in order for it to be "honored" and to keep things out.

Pastor Jim Jacobson of the Community Church was able to take part in a mission trip to Guadalupe in December of 1996. He helped construct part of the wall, which still isn't complete.

Pastor Jim went to Mexico with a church from Park Rapids after finding out about the mission from Liberty Chapel in Grygla. Pastor Jim was able to see what the living conditions were like in Mexico, and witnessed several childrens' deaths while he was there. When the temperatures reached seven above, children froze to death because they had nowhere to go where it was warm.

The Community Church is trying to raise money to construct the

Polaris will enter motorcycle field

Polaris Industries Inc. announced this week that it will add motorcycles to its line of businesses, making a limited number of its "Victory" cruisers available in the spring of 1998.

Matt Parks will be general manager for motorcycles as each of the Polaris businesses is run as a strategic business unit. Engines for the motorcycles will be built at the company's engine plant at Osceola, WI and the motorcycles built at the Polaris plant in Spirit Lake, IA.

Worldwide market for cruiser motorcycles is estimated at more than 200,000 annually and sales have nearly doubled in the past five years. This market is larger than both the personal watercraft and snowmobile markets in which Polaris already competes.

W. Hall Wendel Jr., chairman and CEO of Polaris, said that 30 per cent of the customers who ride other Polaris products—including snowmobiles, all-terrain vehicles or personal watercraft—are already active motorcyclists.

Wendel said the motorcycle market is a logical extension of the Polaris diversification strategy. "We have the name, the engineering and marketing expertise, manufacturing infrastructure and the dealer and distributor network worldwide to effectively compete in this marketplace. We've competed successfully against Honda, Yamaha, Kawasaki and Suzuki in our other businesses.

"As with prior introductions of new product lines, the company will emphasize keeping its break-even point low and carefully managing growth to steadily higher production volumes," Wendel said. "With the decision to enter the motorcycle market, we're continuing a strategy that we have already proven successful."

Mountains of the white stuff still remain. With sunshine and warmer temperatures, however, some residents started to make sure the melting snow found its way to open storm sewers.

FEMA funds will be used to install flood gages

Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) has announced that $640,238 in hazard mitigation funds will be available for a State of Minnesota and federal project to install a flood forecast/warning system in counties throughout the state.

The funds will be used for a $937,738 project to install 42 automated stream flow and precipitation gages on rivers and streams in 25 counties throughout southern and western Minnesota. These gages will transmit data to the National Weather Service for analysis and development of flood forecasts and warnings and will provide local communities with automated warnings.

FEMA funds were made available through a Presidential major disaster declaration issued on June 11, 1993 for severe storms, flooding and tornadoes. They will be awarded to the Minnesota Division of Emergency Management and Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, which will administer the project. Remaining costs will be contributed by the state.

The flood forecast/warning system project is part of FEMA's ongoing effort to assist local governments in taking measures to reduce property damage, personal injury and loss of life from natural disasters. Special assistance in the design of this project was given by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, the National Weather Service and the U.S. Geological Survey.

"Because such losses are so disruptive and costly," said FEMA Director James Lee Witt, "I have made it a priority of this agency to support state and local efforts to reduce vulnerability, and the costs of future disasters, through effective mitigation programs such as the one being undertaken by Minnesota."

In this area of the state, gages will be located at Hallock in the South Branch of Two Rivers; at Lake Bronson on the South Branch of Two Rivers; at Warren on the Snake River; at Thief River Falls on the Red Lake River and Thief River; at Red Lake Falls on the Red Lake River; at Roseau on the Roseau River.

An Interagency Mitigation Advisory Group, charged with coordinating Minnesota's recovery and mitigation needs with state funds and federal funds made available by Congress at the request of President Clinton, will monitor the flood forecast/warning system project. The group includes FEMA, the U.S. Department of Interior's Bureau of Indian Affairs, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Forest Service and Rural Utilities Service, the Minnesota Division of Emergency Management, Minnesota Department of Natural Resources' Division of Forestry, Minnesota Department of Public Service, the Minnesota Rural Electric Association, Minnesota Municipal Utilities Association, Minnesota Association of Land Commissioners and the Minnesota Forest Industry's Timber Producers Association.

"Accomplishing projects where system installations can detect impending disaster and provide warning to vulnerable areas requires cooperation between several levels of local, state and federal government," said Michelle M. Burkett, Regional Director of Region V.

Finseth offers wheat, barley scab legislation

State Representative Tim Finseth, Angus, has introduced legislation that will provide an additional $1,624,000 in funding for the University of Minnesota to continue wheat and barley scab research.

"Wheat and barley scab has continued to be a major problem for wheat and barley producers in Minnesota, and it is vital that we continue research in this area," said Finseth. "This disease has cost growers hundreds of millions of dollars over the last few years, and it is critical that we accelerate our research into finding a way to stop it.

"Our local economy is very dependent on small grain production, and Northwestern Minnesota wheat and barley producers are suffering from the effects of this disease."

The fungus that causes scab produces severely shriveled wheat and barley kernels that result in reduced yields.

The University of Minnesota research will continue to focus on both long- and short-term solutions including studies on the effect of the tillage, crop rotation and fungicide treatments as well as the development of varieties of wheat and barley that prove to be resistant to scab.

Gnordic Gnomes candlelight ski Feb. 22 canceled

To avoid conflict with the candlelight ski program offered by Old Mill State Park Saturday, February 22 from 6 to 10 p.m., the Gnordic Gnomes ski club has canceled its own candlelight ski scheduled for the same evening in the Greenwood trails area.

All members of the club and other local skiers who would like to participate in the evening's activities are encouraged by the Gnomes to support the event at Old Mill State Park.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

When the weather starts to get nice, who wants to spend the day in the kitchen? Here are some quick main dishes your family will like.

Spam is fun food - try these next time you need a quick meal:

SPAM ROLLS

1 can Spam, finely grated
1/2 cup onion, chopped
1/2 cup grated cheese
2 tablespoons pickle relish
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 tablespoons ketchup
French bread or rolls

Mix all ingredients except French rolls. Spread on buttered rolls and wrap in foil. Bake for 30 minutes at 325 degrees.

This dish makes a quick and easy dinner - just add some fresh rolls and a salad:

KIELBASA AND BEANS

1/2 cup tomato sauce
1/2 teaspoon chili powder
1 kielbasa, sliced in 1/4 inch pieces
1 large can pork and beans
Corn chips
Sour cream

Preheat oven to 350 degrees.

Combine slices of kielbasa and pork and beans in 9x11 inch casserole dish. Mix in tomato sauce and chili powder.

Bake 25 to 30 minutes. Top each serving with a dollop of sour cream and serve with corn chips.

Make your own pocket sandwiches - these would be good made with turkey, ham or tuna, too:

CRESCENT CHICKEN SQUARES

3 ounces cream cheese
1 tablespoons sour cream
2 tablespoons melted butter
2 cups cooked and cubed chicken
2 tablespoons milk
1 tablespoon chives or green onions, chopped
1 tablespoon pimento, if desired
1 (8 ounce) can crescent rolls
Salt and pepper to taste
Garlic salt to taste

Cream the cream cheese, sour cream and 2 tablespoons of the butter. Add chicken, milk, chives or onions, pimento and seasonings. Mix well.

Separate rolls into 4 squares, firmly pressing diagonal perforations to seal. Spoon 1/2 cup of the mixture onto the dough. Pull corners together, pinch top and seal edges.

Brush tops with remaining butter and bake on ungreased cookie sheet at 350 for 20 to 25 minutes.

It's lent - so here's a fish dish that can be made in minutes for that hungry family:

TUNA CASHEW CASSEROLE

1 (3 ounce) jar chow mein noodles
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1/2 can water
1 can chunk tuna
1 cup diced celery
1/2 cup minced onion
Salt and pepper
1/4 cup cashews, chopped

Reserve 1/2 cup noodles for topping.

Combine remaining ingredients and place in buttered casserole dish. Sprinkle top with reserved noodles.

Bake 30 minutes at 375 degrees.

To The Editor:

On March 20, 1997, my daughter and I will have lived in this city for two years. I have seen a lot of negative things from the school bond issue to the way the city is run. Today, however, I will comment on a positive thing, the school forum Dr. Robicheau had February 8.

I feel it was definitely a step in the right direction and that Dr. Robicheau is the leader this school district needs to go forward. It was very enlightening to see that the educators have the same interests and concerns as those of the parents and that the welfare of the child was foremost.

Dr. Robicheau is planning on having another forum this spring. I know that spending a Saturday at school is not anyone's idea of a good time, but as parents we owe it to our children to give them the best education possible. Being active in their education is one way of assuring this.

Thank You,
Wayne K. Wood
Thief River Falls

To The Editor:

Philip J. Weiler seems to have missed the whole point of my letter. The environment has been a great concern to me for the past 20 years. Enormous strides have been made in cleaning up both the air and the water, and we have every reason to believe that under existing rules this trend will continue.

Rules, regulations and new laws that keep escalating, without proving any real benefit, do concern me. Regulations based on unproven theories, not science, those made by over-zealous environmentalists, and those adopted to strengthen bureaucracies do trouble me.

The current administration is now proposing new air pollution standards that would clamp down even further on sources of combustion and fine airborne particles, even though existing regulations continue to reduce pollution levels.

Even U.S. rules pale next to a Global Climate Change Treaty scheduled to be adopted in Japan later this year, then face Senate ratification. The U.S. has already made a commitment in this direction. Regulatory suggestions include plowless soil preparations, fertilizer restrictions, phasing out diesel fuel use and livestock production limits.

For every positive step there are greater battles to be fought to keep laws and regulations from getting out of control. We need to be good stewards of the land, but we don't need to be over-regulated.

Environmental changes, like drugs, can be healthy if prescribed in the right amounts, but overdoses can be harmful or even deadly.

Our food supply would last approximately 45 days. Given all the natural disasters we are having over the country and the world, plus added restrictions on agriculture, we might find consumers facing empty shelves.

The history of government programs and self-empowered agencies shows for most problems they are trying to solve, a new problem is created. Invariably the pendulum swings much too far, then must swing back in the other direction to try to undo the damage done—and so it goes .....

Sincerely,
Bev Hewitt

You Make The Comments, We'll Make The Rules

It is good for governmental agencies to seek public comment and advice on items of vital interest to the general public, and even better when those agencies act in accordance with the comments given and advice received. Sometimes, however, the requirements and procedures for public interaction get a little skewed.

According to a news release from the Minnesota Department of Children, Families and Learning, that agency and the Minnesota State Board of Education have been charged with "establishing new standards designed to stretch all students to reach their highest potential." These "high standards" will be "a vital counterpart to the basic skills tests in reading, written composition and mathematics now required for high school graduation," the news release states.

According to the department, the standards will span 10 academic areas including: reading, viewing and listening; writing and speaking; arts; mathematics; inquiry; sciences; people and cultures; decision making; managing resources; and languages other than English. The new requirements will affect all students entering the ninth grade in the fall of 1998 and thereafter.

According to Jeanne Kling, president of the State Board of Education, the high standards "represent real educational reform. In the information age of today, the facts we can remember will not be nearly as valuable as our ability to learn new concepts, understand principles and apply information to changing situations."

Also according to the news release, the basic and high standards together will ensure that students have both the core skills needed to function in society and experience in applying knowledge to a wide range of situations and academic areas. Teachers will focus more on applying knowledge through in-depth experiences and less on the memorization of information and traditional tests.

Sounds like pretty heady stuff that will directly involve every Minnesota family with a student or students in the public schools. Therefore the State Board of Education has officially requested comments on its planned adoption of rules with comments to be submitted orally or in writing until 4:30 p.m. on April 4, 1997.

So what is it that the State Board and the Department of Children, Families and Learning wants from the public? In its request for comments—under the "Public Comment" section — the Board states: "Interested persons or groups may submit comments or information on these planned rules in writing or orally....

In the next line, under the "Rules Drafts" section, the notice states: "The Board has not yet prepared a draft of the planned rules."

Since no draft of the rules has been prepared, there is no way the public can comment on them. But since the agencies have already determined that high standard rules are going to be adopted and what the rules are supposed to accomplish, it would seem that requesting public comment would be little more than a formality.

Rule-making authority is at the heart of state and federal government operations. Laws, for all their good intentions and their adoption by elected officials, most often merely enable agencies to adopt rules which determine how the law is actually administered. And from what we have seen of hearings and meetings for public input on rule-making, the determinations have already been made and public opinion and comment count for very little.

We suspect that the procedure here will be little different. It will be a case of "You make the comments ...we'll make the rules."

Minnesota Student Financial Aid Facts

Minnesota Association of Financial Aid Administrators has recently distributed a list of "Minnesota Student Financial Aid Facts" prepared by the Minnesota Higher Education Services office.

The "facts" show that students in Minnesota colleges and universities in 1995 were the recipients of $841 million in financial aid, including $364 million in grants, $401 million in loans and $76 million in work-study earnings. The money was provided by the federal and state governments, colleges and universities themselves and private sources.

Minnesota has the sixth largest state grant program in the nation and the third largest work study program in terms of award dollars. A total of 90 percent of combined federal Pell grants and Minnesota state grant awards were received by students from families with federal adjusted gross incomes below $40,000.

Nearly a third of students attending Minnesota higher education institutions receive state grants and nearly a third receive Pell grants. In fiscal year 1996 there were 9,734 students employed under the Minnesota work study program, earning $11.1 million on a taxpayer investment of $8.2 million.

Despite the continual complaints about the high costs to students of higher education, the fact sheet points out that most Minnesota public colleges and universities charge tuition and fees less than $3,000 per year. That cost is increased, of course, by expenses of transportation and/or living away from home. The point which the Higher Education Services office seems to make, however, is that for students who really want to receive an education beyond high school, the means are available to do so.

There are also motivational factors in earning a college degree. On average, a four-year college degree will mean $600,000 more in lifetime earnings for an individual than if he or she attained only a high school diploma. Beyond that, the earnings will likely be received in employment that is more enjoyable or satisfying than what would be available with only a high school diploma. When a person looks ahead to a lifetime of work, the aspect of enjoying what he or she is doing is significant.

Area schools have been holding information sessions on student aid for higher education recently. Minnesota residents can also obtain free information on academic and financial planning through the publications Get Ready and Focus on Financial Aid by calling the Minnesota Higher Education Services office at 612-296-3974 or 1-800-657-3866.

Sixth grade band parents, students meeting Feb. 24

An information meeting for next year's sixth grade band parents and students will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday, February 24.

This meeting is for all fifth grade parents and students, and anyone else, who wishes to receive information on our beginning school band program, which begins in the fall of sixth grade. Because fifth grade students will soon enroll for sixth grade classes at Franklin Middle school for the next school year, band instructors Bruce Felt and Mike Lehrer wish to provide information and answer questions concerning the Middle School and High School band programs. Joe Kezar from Kezar Music will also be available to present information on renting and or purchasing instruments.

As an added bonus, Franklin Middle school sixth grade band will give a short program to demonstrate what students can accomplish in just a few short months.

Refreshments will be served by the Band Boosters following the program.

Mustangs lose 81-51

Matt Moen of Fosston hit the 1,000 point mark on the nose Tuesday with a 28-point game that carried the Greyhounds to an 81-51 boys high school basketball win over Red Lake County Central.

The boys/girls doubleheader that included a 49-41 win for the Red Lake County Central girls marked the final games in the Fosston gym for the Greyhounds, who are scheduled to move into a new facility next year.

Fosston boys turned a 16-9 first quarter lead into a 38-15 halftime spread and had a 60-33 cushion after three quarters.

"They pretty much stuck it too us from start to finish," said Red Lake County Central coach Ryan Sedler. "They have a good team. We didn't play very well, we took a step back."

Jimmy Dulka's 15 points led a Red Lake County Central offense that got nearly half of its points on a busy 25-for-37 night at the free throw line. The winners made 14 of 18 free throws.

The Mustangs are 5-15.

Scoring

Strong shooting performance . . .

RLCC girls win 49-41

Combination of Red Lake County Central turnovers and a slower paced Fosston offense limited the scoring opportunities in Tuesday's girls high school basketball match-up in the Greyhounds' gym. But the Mustangs won 49-41 by making sure they scored when they did get the shots.

The winners hit 19 of 34 attempts, a 56 percent shooting performance that boosted them to 11-9 for the year.

Red Lake County Central began with a 13-4 first quarter lead, and the scoreboard spread wavered only slightly the rest of the night. It was 21-11 at halftime and 34-26 through three quarters.

Angie Chervestad scored 14 points to lead the Red Lake County Central offense. Rachel Magelssen and Megan Palubicki had 10 points each to pace Fosston.

The Greyhounds were 17-for-53 from the field (32 percent) and 6-for-11 at the free throw line, where the Mustangs were only 9-for-21. Red Lake County Central had a 32-24 rebound advantage, but also had more turnovers, 26-19.

Red Lake County Central regained the services of Katie O'Neill, injured in a Monday victory over Bagley, but lost Ami Tvedt to a elbow problem in the make-up contest the following night.

Scoring

Goodridge splits pair

Late-reported weekend boys high school basketball action for Goodridge Feb. 14-15 included a 47-27 Friday night loss at Roseau and a 66-48 Saturday make-up game victory over visiting Kelliher/Northome.

Roseau	47
Goodridge	27

An opening-minute ankle injury suffered by Goodridge scoring leader Chris Grabowska put a major hurt on the Huskies in the 47-27 loss to Roseau.

Despite Grabowska's absence, the Huskies played the Rams to an 8-8 first quarter tie and led 17-15 at halftime. They were still within 28-23 at the end of the third quarter, but faded down the stretch.

"I thought we played extremely well in the first half after Chris went down," said Goodridge coach Eric Mickelson, "but we lost steam at the end."

Scoring

	1	2	3	4	T
Goodridge	8	8	8	4	27
Roseau	8	7	13	19	47

Goodridge - Chris Grabowska 2, Jared Eidsbee 4, Benji Marquis 0, Brent Philipp 3, Derrin Arveson 7, Jim Scheel 2.

Roseau - Peter Erickson 8, Tristen Sjaaheim 3, Scott Petrowski 4, Isaac Lang 17, Matt Sjulstad 11, Justin Kjos 4, Tony Lang 2.

Goodridge	66
Kelliher/Northome	48

Without Chris Grabowska's points, Goodridge went with a share-the-wealth offense in beating Kelliher/Northome 66-48.

The balanced attack was headed by Benji Marquis with 12 points, while Brent Philipp and Neil Jensen both came up with season-high 10 point efforts.

Jensen, a senior, also pulled down 7 rebounds in his first extended playing time.

"It was nice to see kids like Neil and Brent pick up the slack with Chris on the sidelines," noted Goodridge coach Eric Mickelson. "We're going to need efforts like that."

Scoring

	1	2	3	4	T
Kelliher/Northome	11	8	6	23	48
Goodridge	14	14	10	19	60

K/N - Aaron Poxleitner 12, Andy Orcher 8, Kelly Kinglinger 15, Mike Olson 2, Nick Thayer 5, Steve Geerdes 4, Nathan Helm 2.

Goodridge - Ben Henson 8, Jerod Eidsbee 3, Benji Marquis 12, Brent Philipp 10, Nicky Kotrba 2, Steve Weber 3, Neil Jensen 19, Seth Vettleson 5, Derrin Arveson 8, Jim Scheel 5.

TRF tops MCC boys 53-39

Turnovers stymied the Marshall County Central offense Tuesday as the mistake-prone Nordics dropped a 53-39 boys high school basketball game to host Thief River Falls.

In a match-up of teams struggling to produce wins, 5-14 Thief River Falls snapped an 11-game losing streak and won for the first time since Dec. 28. Marshall County Central is 5-16.

The Nordics had a little success early, but watched a 6-5 lead disappear as the Prowlers put together a 14-2 seven-minute run that began with nine straight points. Ahead 10-6 at the end of the first quarter, Thief River Falls enjoyed a 19-8 spread following a drive to the basket by Casey Skjerven with 3:13 remaining in the first half.

It was 25-11 at halftime. The Nordics had nearly as many turnovers (15) as shots (17) over the first 16 minutes. And the turnover figure matched their point total at the end of the third quarter when the Nordics trailed 40-23. They had 25 turnovers for the night.

"We just can't generate any offense," said Marshall County Central coach Ron Ueland. "It's pretty tough to score when you don't get the shots; half of our possessions in the first half were turnovers. You're not going to beat many teams like that."

And once the Nordics fell behind, their fate was all but sealed, acknowledged Ueland. "We don't have the quickness to make up a bunch of points in a hurry," he pointed out. "We're not the type of team that can make up a 20-point deficit. We don't have that kind of firepower. We have to play the game close to the vest and not make mistakes."

Some of the turnovers were attributable to the Prowlers' defense, said Thief River Falls coach Scott Brekke. "Our defense did a pretty decent job," he said. "I thought we pressured them into making mistakes."

Despite the turnovers, Marshall County Central was still down only 13 when Caleb Holthusen hit a 3-pointer to make it 41-28 with 6:56 in play. But the Prowlers stretched it out to 53-31 – their biggest lead of the night – with 3:11 left.

"The kids played hard," said Brekke, "and did enough good things to win the ball game."

Brekke was able to use his bench, giving junior varsity players Cody Huschle, Kelly Cota and Collin Schafer an opportunity to put their names in the scoring column. "We got a chance to play everybody," noted Brekke. "It was fun to see some of the younger kids come in and do the job."

The Prowlers' Courtney Skjerven was the game's only double figure scorer, netting 11 points.

Neither team shot very well, with the Prowlers hitting 21 of 54 (39 percent) and the Nordics connecting on 14 of 39 (36 percent). Thief River Falls was 9-for-19 at the free throw line, Marshall County Central 8-for-12. The Prowlers finished with a 28-25 rebound edge, and turned it over 14 times.

Section 8A high school hockey...

Prowlers advance with 24-0 blowout

Goals came from 15 different players Tuesday as Thief River Falls overwhelmed Indus 24-0 in the opening round of the 1997 Section 8A high school hockey tournament at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center.

The winless Trojans, the No. 10 seed in the 10-team field, were outshot 74-8 by the No. 7-seeded Prowlers, who improved their record to 6-16-1.

It was 9-0 after one period, with nine different Prowlers putting the puck in the net. The spread was 16-0 heading into the running time third period.

Senior forward Chris Bruggeman, who had seen limited ice time during the regular season, wound up with a team-high six points on the night with two goals and four assists. Adam Nordin had a hat trick and finished with five points, as did Ben Furuseth (2 goals, 3 assists), Kyle Anderson (1-4) and Wade Chiodo (1-4).

Tony Fletcher, Jared Reierson, Chad Nordhagen, Brett Johnson, and Brady Anderson joined Bruggeman and Furuseth in the two-goal column.

Outside of the two goalies, everybody on the Thief River Falls roster picked up at least one point in the game.

Although he gave up two dozen goals, Indus goalie Conrad Peterson still made 50 saves. Thief River Falls starter Brian Barry left after a four-save first period, and Mike Dowers had that many stops over the final two periods.

Huskies' balance beats KCN

Kittson County North tried to play zone, and got burned by Benji Marquis. The Cougars tried to play man-to-man and were beaten on the inside by Ben Hanson and Darrin Arveson. When it was all done, Goodridge was a 61-44 winner in the Tuesday boys high school basketball match up.

Marquis scored a game-high 20 points, mostly with his outside shooting. Arveson turned in a 16-point, 11-rebound performance, and Hanson had a 14-point, 13-rebound night as the Huskies climbed to 16-5.

The bigger Huskies out-rebounded the host Cougars 51-29.

"We played well," said Goodridge coach Eric Mickelson. "It was a fun game for the kids."

Goodridge had quarter leads of 16-9, 31-17 and 50-26.

Kris Hokanson led Kittson County North with 16 points.

Goodridge went 25-for-58 from the floor (43 percent) and 9-for-19 at the free throw line. Kittson County North was 18-for-48 from the field (38 percent) and 7-for-10 at the line. The Cougars had 21 turnovers, the Huskies 14.

Grygla-Gatzke start tops EGFSH

A strong start propelled Grygla-Gatzke to a 74-43 boys high school basketball win over visiting East Grand Forks Sacred Heart Tuesday.

The winners jumped out to a 22-10 first quarter lead, maintained a 37-22 halftime spread and had a 58-35 third quarter cushion.

"For a change, we started well," said Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson. "We haven't always been able to do that. I thought we played a pretty solid game."

Shaun Verbout scored a game-high 24 points, Alex Anderson netted 18 and Jim Engelstad turned in another strong floor game in directing the Eagles' offense, pointed out Johnson as his team improved to 14-5.

Ben Brouillard led Sacred Heart with 12 points.

Grygla-Gatzke shot 54 percent from the field (35/65) and made 4 of 6 free throws.

"We forced some turnovers and got some fast break baskets," explained Johnson. "That helped our shooting percentage."

Sacred Heart shot only 36 percent from the field (16/44), made 7 of 16 free throws and topped the turnover charts 19-14. Grygla-Gatzke had a 39-27 rebound advantage.

Strong start, finish key to B/G-MR win

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River started and finished strong Tuesday in a 56-46 boys high school basketball win over Tri-County in Karlstad.

The Gators opened with a 15-8 first quarter lead and had an 18-11 final quarter finish to pull away from the Wildcats, who were within 38-35 at the end of the third quarter.

"We had an excellent first quarter," said Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Eldon Sparby. "We came out playing aggressive basketball. We handled their press and played some good defense."

A quick Badger/Greenbush-Middle River offensive surge to open the fourth quarter put some distance between the Gators and Wildcats for the stretch run.

"Overall, from start to finish, it was a pretty good performance on our part," noted Sparby. "We did a good job on defense, and we boarded well."

Matt Kujava and Jeremy Vacura led the Gators' offense with 19 and 12 points, respectively. Seth Olson scored 15 points, and Joel Hellerud had 12 for the Wildcats.

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River was 21-for-46 from the field (46 percent) and 10-for-19 at the free throw line. Tri-County struggled through a 14-for-49 shooting performance from the floor (28 percent) and made 14 of 20 free throws.

The 11-9 Gators finished with a 35-25 rebound advantage and topped the turnover charts 18-12.

Pioneers lose to Spartans

NCTC women fail to sew up a state tournament spot with 51-43 defeat

An opportunity to lock up a spot in the 1997 Minnesota Community College Conference state women's basketball tournament slipped away Monday when Northland lost a 51-43 Northwest Division game at Fergus Falls.

The loss dropped the Pioneers to 6-5 in the MCCC and necessitated a wait-and-see game before they could lay claim to a spot in the state tournament, scheduled to begin Feb. 28 at Anoka-Ramsey Community College. Northland's post-season chances were dependent upon final-week Northern Division results, including the Pioneers' Friday trip to Itasca.

Top four finishers in the Northern and Southern Division standings earn state tournament trips.

Fergus Falls hit 10 of its first 13 shots and led 31-18 at halftime. Northland rallied to take a three-point lead near the midway mark of the second half, but couldn't continue the comeback.

It was tied 41-41 with three minutes left, and the Spartans outscored the Pioneers 10-2 down the stretch.

"We just didn't shoot very well at the start, and they (Spartans) hit everything," said Northland coach Rick Nikunen. "We went ahead in the second half and had some chances to pull away, but we didn't capitalize. It was a very frustrating game offensively for us."

Northland shot 33 percent from the field (17/52) and went 8-for-19 at the free throw line. Fergus Falls shot 40 percent from the floor (17/12) and made 17 of 24 free throws. The Spartans had more rebounds (37-31) and more turnovers (20-16) than the Pioneers.

Northland, 13-7 overall, beat Fergus Falls 67-56 earlier this winter.

Scoring

	1	2	T
Northland	18	25	43
Fergus Falls	31	20	51

Northland - Paula Hovda 2, Ali Hietala 3, Tammy Nerby 2, Adila Olson 11, Naomi Wilebski 4, LaVonne Nelson 14, Jenny Smith 7.

Fergus Falls - Renae Levang 4, Stacy Lill 10, Erika King 3, Liz Ward 9, Heidi Brunko 4, Nancy Voight 2, Kara Kalbus 19.

Thief River Falls boys junior varsity squad picks up three wins

Thief River Falls boys junior varsity high school basketball team broke away from a 26-26 third quarter tie to beat Marshall County Central 43-36 Tuesday.

Sharing game-high scoring honors with nine points each were Cody Huschle and Justin Walseth of Thief River Falls, along with Matt Nelson and Greg Ueland of Marshall County Central.

Marshall County Central led 7-6 at the end of the first quarter, but trailed 20-11 at halftime.

It was the fifth straight win for the Thief River Falls squad and followed a 52-45 Monday victory over Fergus Falls and a 53-42 Friday decision over Stephen-Argyle.

Collin Schafer scored 15 points and Aaron Hendricks netted 10 in the win over Fergus Falls. The winners had quarter leads of 12-10, 18-15 and 32-30.

In a balanced attack against Stephen-Argyle, Todd Christensen and Schafer scored 11 points each, while Kelly Cota and Justin Walseth both netted 10. Thief River Falls, after trailing 13-12 at the end of the first quarter, went ahead 30-25 at halftime and led 39-32 through three quarters.

Spartans' early lead buries NCTC 117-85

Fergus Falls, having lost 78-74 to Northland on a controversial final-second finish in their first meeting of the 1996-97 men's Minnesota Community College Conference basketball season, made sure there would be no question at the end in the rematch as the Spartans buried the Pioneers early and rolled to a 117-85 home court victory Tuesday.

It was 55-26 at halftime as the Spartans secured their position atop the Northern Division standings and left the defending champion Pioneers on the post-season bubble.

Northland finished MCCC play 5-7 and took a 9-12 overall mark into a regular season nonconference finale Friday at home against UND-Lake Region. Top four finishers in the two MCCC divisions earn state tournament berths, and only a certain combination of wins and losses by other Northern Division teams over the final week of the regular season would open the playoff door for the Pioneers.

"They (Spartans) shot the lights out," said Dannhoff. "It was one of those nights where everything they did worked. It wasn't that we played poorly, they played that well."

Fergus Falls' fast start made short work of Northland.

"It's a fun place to play, but a tough place to play, especially if you're down by a ton of points early," explained Dannhoff. "It's tough to come back. But I thought our kids did a nice job in the second half. I have to give them a lot of credit for coming back and playing a good second half. They gave a great effort."

Scoring

	1	2	T
Northland	26	59	85
Fergus Falls	55	62	117

Northland - Macy Ford 14, Kenla McGaughy 11, Nic Thompson 11, Jon Hagel 4, Jason Sholner 8, Hassan Jihad 6, John Harris 10, Ikenna Martin 21.

Fergus Falls - Ryan Erdman 4, Tom Chalman 14, Matt McGill 4, Chris Feinholz 15, Nick Holmquist 7, Trevor Maroht 6, Eric Dingman 6, Tremayne Champion 14, Jason Reitzlaff 11, Jim Schloman 19, Dan Huberty 4, Lou Hernandez 22.

TRF girls split latest junior varsity games

Latest outings for the Thief River Falls girls junior varsity high school basketball team include a 47-44 Thursday (Feb. 13) win over Kittson Central and a 51-50 Monday (Feb. 17) loss to Fertile-Beltrami.

Laura Follett scored 14 points to lead the Thief River Falls offense against Kittson Central. The winners trailed at the quarter stops 17-16, 32-21 and 38-33.

Beth Olson scored 13 points and Follett had 12 at Fertile-Beltrami, where Thief River Falls saw a 23-23 halftime tie turn into a 45-29 third quarter deficit.

Thief River Falls junior varsity is 10-8.

Dummer claims awards from RL-Pennington DHIA

Richard Dummer of Brooks claimed three of the top awards presented by the Red Lake-Pennington Dairy Herd Improvement Association (DHIA) February 10 at the Eagles hall in Thief River Falls. Other award recipients were Mylo Carlson of Angus, Tom Willett of Plummer and the Northwest Experiment Station of the University of Minnesota at Crookston.

The Red Lake-Pennington association was formed as a merger a year ago following the annual meetings of the two separate county DHIA associations. Declining number of dairy herds in the two counties had reduced membership in both associations.

Directors Elected

As a result of the merger, the Red Lake-Pennington association is reducing its merged boards over a period of time, electing only a part of the board positions expiring. This year the terms of Lucille Weiss of Red Lake Falls, Mark Hanson of Thief River Falls, Don Hamrick of Warren and Wayne Vettleson of Oklee expired. Weiss and Hanson were reelected to the board.

At the reorganization of the board following the annual meeting, Vernon Neuschwander of Grygla was reelected president, Larry Amundson of Thief River Falls was reelected vice president and Lucille Weiss was reelected secretary-treasurer. Other directors are Joel Stolaas of Oklee, Mylo Carlson of Angus, Curt Beyer of Red Lake Falls and Todd Johnston of Angus.

A special presentation was made to Mel Rasmussen who is retiring after 27 years as a field representative with the local DHIA. His son Randy and Randy's wife Margaret are also field representatives for the local association.

Dummer Accepts Trophies

At the annual banquet, Richard Dummer accepted trophies for the high herd average, the top producing cow and the top producing two-year-old for 1996.

The Dummer herd of 86 cows averaged 26,272 pounds of milk, 850 pounds of butterfat and 840 pounds of protein.

Dummer's cow which led the association in production is a four-year-old which produced 35,620 pounds of milk, 1,105 pounds of butterfat and 1,077 pounds of protein in her 305-day test.

The top-producing two-year-old had a 305-day record in her first lactation of 28,930 pounds of milk, 926 pounds of butterfat and 921 pounds of protein.

Most Improved Herds

Mylo Carlson's herd of 63 cows had the most improved record during 1996, a net gain over the previous year of 3,382 pounds of milk, 119 pounds of fat and 102 pounds of protein per cow to 23,996, 853 and 749.

Tom Willett had the most improved herd over a three-year period, increasing its average by 1,020 pounds of milk, 40 pounds of butterfat and 42 pounds of protein to 21,139 pounds of milk, 731 pounds of butterfat and 667 pounds of protein. There are 50 cows in the Willett herd.

Northwest Agricultural Experiment Station had the cow with the high lifetime butterfat production. Sold in May of 1996 as a 12-year-old, the cow had produced 200,127 pounds of milk and 8,354 pounds of butterfat.

Association Has 63 Herds

In 1996 the Red Lake-Pennington association had 63 herds with 3,734 cows. There were 20 herds in Red Lake county, 14 each in Marshall and Polk, 10 in Pennington, two in Beltrami and one each in Mahnomen, Norman and Roseau counties.

Larry and Rhonda Amundson of L&R Dairy of Thief River Falls had the largest herd in the association

Three production trophies were claimed by Richard Dummer of Brooks at the annual banquet of the Red Lake-Pennington Dairy Herd Improvement Association recently at the Eagles hall in Thief River Falls. Dummer had the top herd average, the high individual cow in value of production and the top two-year-old in value of production.

with 178 cows, followed by Walter Bros. Farm with 162 and Wayne Vettleson with 129.

Following the Dummer herd in production average during 1996 was Johnston Farms of Angus with 72 cows averaging 23,791 pounds of milk, 860 pounds of butterfat and 759 pounds of protein. Third place herd was that of Mylo Carlson with the 65 cows averaging 23,996 pounds of milk, 853 pounds of butterfat and 749 pounds of protein.

In dollar value of product, the Dummer herd led Johnston Farms by $236 per cow and the Carlson herd by $243 per cow.

Goodvue Ayr Low In SCC

In average linear somatic cell count, Goodvue Ayr Farms of Goodridge had the low average of 2.2, followed by Johnston Farms at 2.3 and Irving Beyer's White Gold Farm at 2.4.

Of the top 100 individual producing cows in the association, more than a fourth (26) came from the Dummer herd, including the top four, six of the top 10 and 14 of the top 25.

High Individual Production

Indicative of the growth in individual dairy cow production in the area, 18 of the top 100 cows in the association on dollar value of product had 305-day production records of more than 30,000 pounds of milk. An amazing 30 had butterfat production of more than 1,000 pounds—including the 100th place cow which produced 26,640 pounds of milk, 1,070 pounds of butterfat and 807 pounds of protein.

Four cows in the association also produced more than 1,000 pounds of protein and 30 others produced more than 900 pounds of protein.

Red Lake-Pennington DHIA cows averaged 17,091 pounds of milk, 618 pounds of butterfat and 549 pounds of protein compared to a state DHIA average of 18,026 pounds of milk, 693 pounds of butterfat and 580 pounds of protein. State DHIA average herd size was 64 and in the Red Lake-Pennington association it was 59.

Dyed diesel fuel for use only in field equipment

Reminder is issued that dyed diesel fuel may be used only in tractors and other field equipment, not in semi-tractors, trucks, pickups or other registered highway vehicles.

The dyed fuel is usually either high in sulfur and does not comply with the Clean Air Act, or tax-free, which precludes highway use. There are substantial penalties for improper use.

Sunflower grower meeting at Best Western Feb. 27th

Producing and marketing sunflowers profitably is the focus of a farmer meeting scheduled for Thursday, February 27, at the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls. There is no registration fee and a free lunch will be served.

Coffee will be available beginning at 9:30 a.m. and the morning session will begin at 10 a.m. with Jerry Miller, sunflower geneticist with the United States Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service (USDA-ARS) discussing what producers can expect to see in sunflower hybrids over the next five years. The hybrid seed industry is changing very rapidly and considerable work is being done in transgenic sunflower.

Second morning session will deal with the control of sunflower diseases Sclerotinia and phomopsis. Both diseases have been prevalent in parts of Minnesota and a number of hybrids are showing good tolerance to phomopsis. Leading the discussion will be Dr. Tom Gulya, USDA-ARS plant pathologist.

Final morning session will deal with the sunflower midge. Larry Charlet, entomologist from USDA-ARS in Fargo, ND, will describe research results regarding the midge and plans for work to be done during the coming growing season.

Afternoon session will begin with Scott Nelson, second vice president of the sponsoring National Sunflower Association, describing some of the activities and programs of the organization. His presentation will be followed by a panel of growers discussing narrow row spacing of sunflower using air drills.

Ernie Taus of Dahlgren and Company will discuss the confection sunflower market and Mike Krueger of Agri-Mark will provide an overview of the oilseed market.

Industry exhibits will be on display and further information provided and questions answered throughout the day. Drawing will be held for a registration prize of hybrid sunflower seed to plant 100 acres. The day's activities are expected to end about 3 p.m.

Nine counties added to winter disaster area

Nine counties have been added to the list of Minnesota areas eligible for disaster assistance for snow removal costs incurred as a result of the severe winter storms, federal and state disaster recovery officials announced.

The nine counties added include Hubbard, McLeod, Meeker, Sibley, Sherburne, Stearns, Todd, Waseca and Wright. This brings to 49 the number of western Minnesota counties and four tribal governments now included in the major disaster declaration signed by President Clinton on January 16 at the request of Governor Arne H. Carlson.

Deputy Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) Coordinating Officer Dante Roveda made the addition following a review of information regarding snow removal costs incurred by governments because of the severe winter storms that began January 3 and lasted until February 3.

FEMA and Minnesota's Division of Emergency Management (DEM) will hold a second video teleconference later this month for government officials in the added counties to explain reimbursable expenses eligible under the declaration, and how to collect and report these expenses to expedite payment.

According to Roveda, local governments in the additional counties can be reimbursed for the costs of operating snow clearance equipment, contractors' costs, and personnel overtime required to clear one lane in each direction along snow emergency routes or selected primary roads. The costs of clearing access routes to critical facilities such as hospitals, nursing homes, medical clinics, fire and police stations and emergency operating centers are also reimbursable.

Federal funds will supplement state and local funds. FEMA will pay 75 per cent of the specific costs eligible under the declaration. The state will contribute 15 per cent and local governments 10 per cent of the remaining costs.

Forty counties in western Minnesota stretching from the Canadian border to the Iowa state line were originally designated in the major disaster declaration.

James Sewell Ballet to perform in Crookston

James Sewell Ballet will present an evening performance at Crookston Central High School, 121 East Third Street, Crookston, on Friday, February 28, at 7 p.m. The performance will culminate a week-long residency by the company sponsored by the Impressions Dance Company and the Mary Noel School of Dance in Crookston.

Tickets for the performance will be available at the door. They also may be reserved by calling Mary Noel School of Dance at 218-281-3971.

The performance will be the same program presented for sold out performances at numerous engagements including one in Bermuda. All ballets on the program were choreographed by Artistic Director James Sewell. Bermuda's Royal Gazette called the program "a rich variety of dance with maximum audience appeal."

As part of the program, members of the Impressions Dance Company will present a demonstration performance based on their residency work with the James Sewell Ballet.

A "student/fan bus" will be taken to the performance of the ballet at Crookston on February 28. Tickets are $5 and $3.50 for children 12 and under.

The ballet will also pay a visit to Lafayette High School in Red Lake Falls on Thursday, February 27, at 1 p.m.

Generous support for the week-long Crookston residency has been provided by the US West Foundation, Land O'Lakes, Inc., and the Northwest Regional Development Commission.

Community Church seeks support for its spring mission to Mexico

50,000 square foot orphanage. They will be laying 400 yards of concrete at $50 per yard for the construction of the orphanage floor. That is a total cost of $20,000 for materials the church is trying to raise. Missionaries participating will also have to raise money for expenses while on the trip, such as food and gas.

When complete, the orphanage will house about 200 children from ages 0 to 19. The orphanage will be shaped like a cross with boys on floor and girls on another floor and divided into age groups.

So far the Community Church has gotten a lot of wonderful feedback from the community with numerous personal contributions. The church is looking for people to make a donation of money, time or support. They would like to see members of all denomonations get involved to help the crying children of Mexico.

The Community Church needs support from other local churches to help get the mission into gear. The church hopes to have all of the money raised by March 10 so that they have enough time to prepare everything for the trip.

The Community Church is also hoping to have about 15 members from the congregation go, along with two from Winnipeg, Canada, three from Park Rapids and four from Detroit Lakes. They would like to see some more members from the community take part in this mission.

Pastors Jim and Jake Jacobson are planning to have several missions throughout the year with TLM, including a youth mission trip to Guadalupe. Last year they were able to have a youth mission trip go to Chile as well as adult mission trips to God's River and other northern Canadian areas.

Any individual wishing to help with the mission to Mexico or anyone seeking further information may call the Community Church office at 681-2285. Any churches interested in TLM or helping with the missions may also call and talk with Pastor Jake or Jim.

Any support that can be given to help the crying children of Guadalupe will be greatly appreciated by the children as well as the church.

Scab, midge troublesome pests in 1996

Scab was the most troublesome pest on spring wheat, durum, and barley in North Dakota in 1996, according to Michael Peel, North Dakota State University extension agronomist. Scab on spring wheat was most severe in the Devils Lake region, with yield losses of five to 15 per cent occurring in Benson, Ramsey, and Eddy counties and portions of the surrounding counties.

Peel says scab on durum was more severe; estimated yield losses in Cavalier, Towner, Rolette and Eastern Bottineau counties of North Dakota were 35 per cent or more.

Major flights of Orange Blossom Wheat Midge occurred in the northeast and north central counties of North Dakota last July. Adult midge field counts reached five to 10 midge per wheat head, well above the one adult midge per seven heads used as the guideline for making control decisions.

About 800,000 acres of wheat in North Dakota were treated last year because of large midge populations. Overall yield reductions due to midge infestations were not widespread, says Peel.

In Minnesota, it was estimated that some 100,000 acres were treated for the wheat midge, according to Jochum Wiersma, University of Minnesota small grains specialist. "There is no sure way to predict now whether you will be forced to scout at dusk for the midge in 1997," said Wiersma, "but with the emergence prediction based on accumulated heat units, as tested by NDSU, we can give warnings when emergence starts and ends. This should help tremendously in determining whether or not to scout."

Scab once again was a problem in Minnesota last year, although localized mostly to the northwestern part of the state. "The effect was far less than just a few years ago. But we're still talking about several million dollars in yield and quality losses in 1996, nevertheless," says Wiersma.

Grasshoppers plagued many areas of the Northern Plains last year. Phil Glogoza, NDSU entomologist, will discuss what effect, if any, this winter will have on grasshoppers and other insects, at the Small Grains Institute, March 5 in Crookston. Also on the 10 a.m. program will be Richard Zollinger, NDSU extension weed scientist and Roger Jones, U of M extension plant pathologist. Zollinger and Jones will discuss which weeds and diseases need to be monitored in the next growing season.

Markets key to growing specialty crops

With greater flexibility under a new farm bill, and given the pest problems and price volatility affecting small grains in recent years, the interest in producing specialty crops has never been stronger. From safflower, buckwheat, mustards, field peas, canola, crambe and canary grass, to name a few, growers are sorting out which crops might find a niche on their acreage.

A key objective is selecting crops that not only perform well in the field, but are safe bets in the marketplace.

Steve Edwardson, director of research for Minn-Dak Growers ltd., Grand Forks, ND, suggests that growers examine the alternatives carefully, and know what questions to ask about specialty crops before choosing one to produce. "It's how to choose, not what to choose," says Edwardson. "What works for one farmer may not work for another."

Edwardson is responsible for research, development, and education of food ingredient applications of buckwheat and other specialty crops at Minn-Dak, a contractor, processor, and marketer of specialty crops. He provides information on various specialty crops and their uses, market fundamentals, production costs, and marketing considerations. He is a former farm management specialist for the NDSU Extension Service.

What are the markets for specialty crops? Edwardson will sort out which crops may be better financial performers than others, in his presentation at the Small Grains Institute, 10 a.m., March 6, at the Red River Valley Shows Building, Crookston.

Horse saddles, tack taken in burglary in Marshall County

Marshall County Sheriff's department is investigating the theft of 11 saddles and horse tack taken from a quonset-type building north of Warren. Authorities estimate the loss at about $20,000.

A Marshall County Sheriff's department spokesperson said the burglary is believed to have happened sometime Friday or early Saturday. The incident remains under investigation.

1300 rolls of penniea

Erskine – During February Win-E-Mac Elementary participated in the Leukemia Society's state-wide Pennies For Patients program. Students collected their pennies and dropped them off at the school, all in an effort to help raise funds for the Society's programs of research and patient-aid.

They collected 1300 rolls of pennies, which totaled $670.65.

Wild Rice Trust Award received

McIntosh – The McIntosh Fire and Rescue Squad recently received a $400 donation from the Trust Board of Wild Rice Electric. The local volunteer squad has used the funds to help purchase a ventilation fan used for clearing smoke from a structure.

Wild Rice Electric consumers have signed up for Operation Round Up, making it possible for five charitable organizations in this area to receive funds. Operation Round Up is a charitable program conducted by 22 electric co-ops throughout Minnesota. These co-ops asked their members to allow the cooperative to round up their monthly bill to the next highest dollar. Members who chose to participate have their electric bill rounded up each month, amounting to an average contribution of $6 per year. The proceeds are deposited in a trust fund administered by a trust board that is separate from the cooperative's board.

Building bonds

Fertile – The Win-E-Mac school board reviewed a list of eight bidders for the $7.9 million school bonds on Tuesday and sold them to Piper, Jeffray and Hopwood.

"They bought the whole issue," Ted Olson, Win-E-Mac School District Superintendent stated.

The bonds were sold at a net interest rate of 5.323 percent over 25 years.

Olson speculated that the architects of the new Win-E-Mac K-12 school, Johnson-Laffen of Grand Forks, ND, will soon be completing the plans for the building project.

Triad: a safety net

Polk County – Finally, senior citizens in Polk County have an outlet...a source to answer their questions lend a guiding hand.

It's Triad, a three-way effort comprising senior citizen organizations such as RSVP and AARP, the Crookston Police Department and the Polk County Sheriff's Office.

It's a national program with roots back to 1988 which has been in the planning stages in Polk County for the last two years. Countless meetings and committees finally resulted in the City Council ratifying Triad's by-laws at its Tuesday meeting, and everyone involved signing on the dotted line.

In the simplest terms, Triad is a source for help and information between the elderly community and law enforcement.

Through education and open communication, the goals are to reduce the criminal victimization of senior citizens, and enhance the delivery of law enforcement to the elderly population.

Near record area flood potential is forecast

A high spring snowmelt flood potential exists for the tributaries of the Red River, and a severe spring snowmelt flood potential for the Red River from Wahpeton to the Canadian border, according to the National Weather Service Spring Snowmelt Flood Outlook. The report was issued at a news conference Friday.

According to the report, with average precipitation, the flood stage at Highlanding would be three to four inches below the all time record in 1975. Flood stage is nine feet, but the present snow cover is 11 feet, and the crest potential, which includes present snow cover plus normal precipitation is 13 feet. Those same records indicate that the record flood was recorded in 1975 when it reached 13.4 feet.

In Warren where flood stage is reached at an elevation of 845 feet, the flood potential is about three to four inches below the all-time record on the Snake River when it reached 854.4 feet in 1969.

In Hallock the flood potential is five inches above the flood of record (an elevation of 809.5 feet) in 1996.

For Roseau, the flood potential is 21 feet, just one inch below the flood of record, which was recorded in 1996. Flood stage is reached at 18 feet.

The National Weather Service provided the following information:

"Due to the Seriousness of the flood potential in the Red River Valley, this outlook includes numerical crest guidance. This numerical crest guidance is being provided at this early date for planning purposes. The National Weather Service has based this guidance on the data that is available up to this date. Therefore, the numerical crest guidance will be updated on March 14, 1997, to reflect any conditions that change in the next two weeks.

"Summary of Temperatures and Precipitation: Average temperatures continued to be below normal in mid and late February across the region. Precipitation during the month of February was near normal in the southern end of the valley and below normal across the northern end of the valley.

"Outlooks for Temperatures and precipitation: The six to 10 day outlook (March 4-8) indicates much below normal temperatures for North Dakota into northwestern Minnesota. Precipitation across the Red River Valley is expected to be near normal. The 30 day outlook shows no indication of significant deviation from normal for both temperatures and for precipitation.

"Red River Valley Current Conditions and Flood Potential: Snow depths across the basin averaged between 16-25 inches. Snow surveys along the tributaries and mainstem Red River south of Fargo, ND, indicated five to seven inches of snow water equivalent. In the northern half of the basin water equivalents were in the four to six inch range with pockets of seven inches.

"These current conditions represent a high spring snowmelt flood potential for the tributaries of the Red River, and a severe spring snowmelt flood potential for the Red River from Wahpeton, ND, to the Canadian border. The higher potential for the Red River is due to the very high water equivalent measurements over the entire drainage area south of Fargo, ND.

"Devils Lake Basin: Snow depths were generally in the 10 to 20 inch range with airborne estimates and co-op reports indicating four to five inches of water equivalent across the basin. Soil moisture continues above normal across the Devils Lake basin. Frost depths are estimated to be between 12 to 36 inches.

"The lake level is currently at an elevation of 1437.86 feet MSL. The

Foundation livestock feed relief program is open to March 14

Pennington, Red Lake, Roseau and Clearwater counties are among 28 Minnesota counties authorized to implement the federal government's Foundation Livestock Relief Program.

Pennington county office of the Farm Service Agency (FSA) has announced that the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) will provide 30 percent cost share assistance on the lesser of the actual cost of feed purchased or a computed feed allowance for a maximum of 30 days.

Producers will have to present purchase receipts to receive benefits and only receipts reflecting eligible feed purchased and received from February 4 through March 14 will be accepted. Applications for cost share must be made at the FSA office in the producer's county before close of business on March 14.

Pennington county FSA director Glenn Schafer said the program is being implemented because of the severe cold in addition to heavy snow which caused livestock feed requirements to run about 150 percent of normal. Nationwide USDA will observe its $2.5 million gross revenue and $50,000 payment limitation rules.

Assistance is limited to foundation herd and replacement livestock only in the Minnesota counties of Becker, Blue Earth, Brown, Chippewa, Clearwater, Cottonwood, Douglas, Faribault, Grant, Jackson, Kandiyohi, Lyon, Mahnomen, Martin, Murray, Nicollet, Nobles, East Otter Tail, West Otter Tail, Pennington, Pope, Red Lake, Redwood, Renville, Roseau, Stevens, Swift and Watonwan. All of these counties were included in the Presidential Major Disaster Declaration M1158.

Minnesota counties that were named as contiguous to North and South Dakota in Presidential declarations M1156 and M1157 were authorized to implement the Foundation Livestock Relief Program earlier. Those counties are not a part of this authorization.

Counties in Minnesota named in the earlier signup were Big Stone, Clay, Kittson, Lac Qui Parle, Lincoln, Marshall, Norman, Pipestone, East Polk, West Polk, Rock, Traverse, Wilkin and Yellow Medicine.

Goodridge student serves on MSHSL advisory committee

by Amy Branscomb
Northern Watch reporter

Jennicca Gallagher has recently been nominated to the Student Advisory Committee of the Minnesota State High School League.

She will be serving a two-year term during her junior and senior year at Goodridge High School. The committee, which consists of 16 students from all of the regions of Minnesota, will meet in the Twin Cities a total of four times before June, three during the school year and once in the summer.

In October she went to the Twin Cities and met for the first time. "It was really interesting because it gave a different perspective," commented Jennicca.

She felt it was very interesting to hear what students in large schools had to say, after coming from a very small school. She said that one girl she met had a graduating class of about 3,000 students, compared to Jennicca's 26!

"When I first went down (to the meeting) I didn't have any clue of what was going on. I brought to them the perspective of a small school. It blew their mind that I knew everyone in my class," stated Jennicca. She added that most of the other students there were from relatively large schools, she was the only one from a very small school.

The committee met for one day, and during that time the students gave feedback on the proposed rules for different extra-curricular activities. Jennicca felt that a lot of the proposed rules really didn't apply to Goodridge High School because they don't have some of the activities, but it was still interesting for her to hear what the other students thought of them.

"I think it's a good idea to have students give their opinions," Jennicca stated. "I'm glad I got on it (the committee) and I hope I can do my best."

Students are selected to the committee based on their GPA, overall academic standing, extra-curricular activities and curriculum courses. Jennicca is currently active in volleyball, basketball and track, along with student council and class treasurer.

"If you're not involved in something, it doesn't push you," Jennicca commented. "I think it really helps me with my grades. It pushes you with eligibility and everything."

On top of all of her activities in school, Jennicca still manages to work part-time at Ben Franklin. "I have a lot of expenses I have to pay for, so I have to make time for work. Saturday is my main day, and in the summer I'm pretty regular," admitted Jennicca. "I told her right away that I wouldn't give up my sports for work."

Dancers from the Varsity Singers will be among the groups performing at the multi-cultural concert to be presented by Lincoln high school vocal groups Monday, March 3, at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Music from nine countries will be presented during the event.

Lincoln choirs present multi-cultural concert

"Songs of the People," a multi-cultural and multi-media concert in song, instruments and dance, will be presented by the Lincoln high school choirs under the direction of Darcy Reese Monday, March 3, at 7:30 p.m. in the Lincoln auditorium. Admission is free and doors open at 6:45 p.m.

Nine countries will be represented throughout the performance. The singers have been working on the literature since January and have found the different languages to be quite challenging, Mrs. Reese said. Languages include Japanese, German, French, Swahili, Israeli, Spanish and Italian. The concert ends with a special tribute to the United States of America.

"This We Know," with words attributed to Chief Seattle, is the opening song and describes how all are part of an intricate web. The choirs then move through nine countries, with song, readings, dialogue, dance and a three-screen slide show. Anthems from the various countries will be performed and three special guests from Japan, Spain and Germany will present readings from their countries.

Recordings from the countries will accompany the dialogue that students will read prior to the songs of each new country. The dialogue will give listeners information about the countries, including their musical history.

Some members of the Varsity Singers will perform an Israeli folk dance while the remaining singers sing an Israeli folk-song accompanied by Cathy Hagen on piano, Derek Druse on violin and Eeva Young on flute.

Other instrumentalists participating in the concert are John Danielson, conga drums; Andy Brown, conga drums and timpani; Paul Dehnert, piano; Brian Unbehaun, guitar; Josh Hendrickson, accordion; Marisa Holmstrom, Bridgette Stock, Beth Nelson, Rachel Mathson, Katie Jorde, Heidi Johnson and Michelle Mathson, rhythm instruments.

This will be the second multi-cultural concert at Lincoln. Mrs. Reese wrote the first such concert last March. This concert is part of the choir curriculum at Lincoln. Students make the flags of the various countries, sing the anthems, read dialogue, dance, perform literature in various languages and change their singing style for the different countries.

Signup for new CRP program will start Monday, March 3

by Marvin Luadin
Northern Watch Editor

Signup for the new Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) will officially begin Monday with interest high and a great deal of attention focused on how this popular program is handled and what the public response will be.

Pennington county office of the Farm Service Agency conducted information meetings in Thief River Falls and Goodridge Friday but was still waiting for last-minute decision-making on a state priority area request. That decision would not be available in Washington, DC, before 4:30 p.m. Eastern time.

Glenn Schafer, director of the Farm Service Agency office in Thief River Falls, said that the state FSA committee had requested that a portion of northwestern Minnesota be designated as a priority area based on its biodiversity and impact on wildlife. The area involves the inner beach ridges of Glacial Lake Agassiz and includes most of Red Lake, Pennington and Marshall counties and part of Roseau county as well as counties to the south.

A decision on the request had been promised by the time the Washington FSA office closes at 4:30 p.m. If it is granted it will increase the eligibility of many acres for inclusion in the program.

Individual appointments have been made by the Pennington county office on a limited basis on one-hour intervals for the first week of the signup period. Additional appointments were scheduled at the Friday informational meetings. Schafer also said it is likely that further informational meetings will be held to keep landowners informed during the signup period which ends March 28. Schafer said it is helpful if persons calling the office indicate whether they have existing CRP contracts or are seeking to enroll new land.

U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Dan Glickman announced what he termed as "final regulations" for the CRP program on February 12, stating that they were in line with "the Clinton Administration commitment to redesign the program to target the most environmentally sensitive croplands.

Nine counties added to winter disaster area

Nine counties have been added to the list of Minnesota areas eligible for disaster assistance for snow removal costs incurred as a result of the severe winter storms, federal and state disaster recovery officials announced.

The nine counties added include Hubbard, McLeod, Meeker, Sibley, Sherburne, Stearns, Todd, Waseca and Wright. This brings to 49 the number of western Minnesota counties and four tribal governments now included in the major disaster declaration signed by President Clinton on January 16 at the request of Governor Arne H. Carlson.

Deputy Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) Coordinating Officer Dante Roveda made the addition following a review of information regarding snow removal costs incurred by governments because of the severe winter storms that began January 3 and lasted until February 3.

FEMA and Minnesota's Division of Emergency Management (DEM) will hold a second video teleconference later this month for government officials in the added counties to explain reimbursable expenses eligible under the declaration, and how to collect and report these expenses to expedite payment.

According to Roveda, local governments in the additional counties can be reimbursed for the costs of operating snow clearance equipment, contractors' costs, and personnel overtime required to clear one lane in each direction along snow emergency routes or selected primary roads. The costs of clearing access routes to critical facilities such as hospitals, nursing homes, medical clinics, fire and police stations and emergency operating centers are also reimbursable.

Federal funds will supplement state and local funds. FEMA will pay 75 per cent of the specific costs eligible under the declaration. The state will contribute 15 per cent and local governments 10 per cent of the remaining costs.

Forty counties in western Minnesota stretching from the Canadian border to the Iowa state line were originally designated in the major disaster declaration.

James Sewell Ballet to perform in Crookston

James Sewell Ballet will present an evening performance at Crookston Central High School, 121 East Third Street, Crookston, on Friday, February 28, at 7 p.m. The performance will culminate a week-long residency by the company sponsored by the Impressions Dance Company and the Mary Noel School of Dance in Crookston.

Tickets for the performance will be available at the door. They also may be reserved by calling Mary Noel School of Dance at 218-281-3971.

The performance will be the same program presented for sold out performances at numerous engagements including one in Bermuda. All ballets on the program were choreographed by Artistic Director James Sewell. Bermuda's Royal Gazette called the program "a rich variety of dance with maximum audience appeal."

As part of the program, members of the Impressions Dance Company will present a demonstration performance based on their residency work with the James Sewell Ballet.

A "student/fan bus" will be taken to the performance of the ballet at Crookston on February 28. Tickets are $5 and $3.50 for children 12 and under.

The ballet will also pay a visit to Lafayette High School in Red Lake Falls on Thursday, February 27, at 1 p.m.

Generous support for the week-long Crookston residency has been provided by the US West Foundation, Land O'Lakes, Inc., and the Northwest Regional Development Commission.

Community Church seeks support for its spring mission to Mexico

50,000 square foot orphanage. They will be laying 400 yards of concrete at $50 per yard for the constructin of the orphanage floor. That is a total cost of $20,000 for materials the church is trying to raise. Missionaries participating will also have to raise money for expenses while on the trip, such as food and gas.

When complete, the orphanage will house about 200 children from ages 0 to 19. The orphanage will be shaped like a cross with boys on floor and girls on another floor and divided into age groups.

So far the Community Church has gotten a lot of wonderful feedback from the community with numerous personal contributions. The church is looking for people to make a donation of money, time or support. They would like to see members of all denomonations get involved to help the crying children of Mexico.

The Community Church needs support from other local churches to help get the mission into gear. The church hopes to have all of the money raised by March 10 so that they have enough time to prepare everything for the trip.

The Community Church is also hoping to have about 15 members from the congregation go, along with two from Winnipeg, Canada, three from Park Rapids and four from Detroit Lakes. They would like to see some more members from the community take part in this mission.

Pastors Jim and Jake Jacobson are planning to have several missions throughout the year with TLM, including a youth mission trip to Guadalupe. Last year they were able to have a youth mission trip go to Chile as well as adult mission trips to God's River and other northern Canadian areas.

Any individual wishing to help with the mission to Mexico or anyone seeking further information may call the Community Church office at 681-2285. Any churches interested in TLM or helping with the missions may also call and talk with Pastor Jake or Jim.

Any support that can be given to help the crying children of Guadalupe will be greatly appreciated by the children as well as the church.

Scab, midge troublesome pests in 1996

Scab was the most troublesome pest on spring wheat, durum, and barley in North Dakota in 1996, according to Michael Peel, North Dakota State University extension agronomist. Scab on spring wheat was most severe in the Devils Lake region, with yield losses of five to 15 per cent occurring in Benson, Ramsey, and Eddy counties and portions of the surrounding counties.

Peel says scab on durum was more severe; estimated yield losses in Cavalier, Towner, Rolette and Eastern Bottineau counties of North Dakota were 35 per cent or more.

Major flights of Orange Blossom Wheat Midge occurred in the northeast and north central counties of North Dakota last July. Adult midge field counts reached five to 10 midge per wheat head, well above the one adult midge per seven heads used as the guideline for making control decisions.

About 800,000 acres of wheat in North Dakota were treated last year because of large midge populations. Overall yield reductions due to midge infestations were not widespread, says Peel.

In Minnesota, it was estimated that some 100,000 acres were treated for the wheat midge, according to Jochum Wiersma, University of Minnesota small grains specialist. "There is no sure way to predict now whether you will be forced to scout at dusk for the midge in 1997," said Wiersma, "but with the emergence prediction based on accumulated heat units, as tested by NDSU, we can give warnings when emergence starts and ends. This should help tremendously in determining whether or not to scout."

Scab once again was a problem in Minnesota last year, although localized mostly to the northwestern part of the state. "The effect was far less than just a few years ago. But we're still talking about several million dollars in yield and quality losses in 1996, nevertheless," says Wiersma.

Grasshoppers plagued many areas of the Northern Plains last year. Phil Glogoza, NDSU entomologist, will discuss what effect, if any, this winter will have on grasshoppers and other insects, at the Small Grains Institute, March 5 in Crookston. Also on the 10 a.m. program will be Richard Zollinger, NDSU extension weed scientist and Roger Jones, U of M extension plant pathologist. Zollinger and Jones will discuss which weeds and diseases need to be monitored in the next growing season.

Markets key to growing specialty crops

With greater flexibility under a new farm bill, and given the pest problems and price volatility affecting small grains in recent years, the interest in producing specialty crops has never been stronger. From safflower, buckwheat, mustards, field peas, canola, crambe and canary grass, to name a few, growers are sorting out which crops might find a niche on their acreage.

A key objective is selecting crops that not only perform well in the field, but are safe bets in the marketplace.

Steve Edwardson, director of research for Minn-Dak Growers ltd., Grand Forks, ND, suggests that growers examine the alternatives carefully, and know what questions to ask about specialty crops before choosing one to produce. "It's how to choose, not what to choose," says Edwardson. "What works for one farmer may not work for another."

Edwardson is responsible for research, development, and education of food ingredient applications of buckwheat and other specialty crops at Minn-Dak, a contractor, processor, and marketer of specialty crops. He provides information on various specialty crops, and their uses, market fundamentals, production costs, and marketing considerations. He is a former farm management specialist for the NDSU Extension Service.

What are the markets for specialty crops? Edwardson will sort out which crops may be better financial performers than others, in his presentation at the Small Grains Institute, 10 a.m., March 6, at the Red River Valley Shows Building, Crookston.

Horse saddles, tack taken in burglary in Marshall County

Marshall County Sheriff's department is investigating the theft of 11 saddles and horse tack taken from a quonset-type building north of Warren. Authorities estimate the loss at about $20,000.

A Marshall County Sheriff's department spokesperson said the burglary is believed to have happened sometime Friday or early Saturday. The incident remains under investigation.

1300 rolls of pennies

Erskine – During February Win-E-Mac Elementary participated in the Leukemia Society's state-wide Pennies For Patients program. Students collected their pennies and dropped them off at the school, all in an effort to help raise funds for the Society's programs of research and patient-aid.

They collected 1300 rolls of pennies, which totaled $670.65.

Wild Rice Trust Award received

McIntosh – The McIntosh Fire and Rescue Squad recently received a $400 donation from the Trust Board of Wild Rice Electric. The local volunteer squad has used the funds to help purchase a ventilation fan used for clearing smoke from a structure.

Wild Rice Electric consumers have signed up for Operation Round Up, making it possible for five charitable organizations in this area to receive funds. Operation Round Up is a charitable program conducted by 22 electric co-ops throughout Minnesota. These co-ops asked their members to allow the cooperative to round up their monthly bill to the next highest dollar. Members who chose to participate have their electric bill rounded up each month, amounting to an average contribution of $6 per year. The proceeds are deposited in a trust fund administered by a trust board that is separate from the cooperative's board.

Building bonds

Fertile – The Win-E-Mac school board reviewed a list of eight bidders for the $7.9 million school bonds on Tuesday and sold them to Piper, Jeffray and Hopwood.

"They bought the whole issue," Ted Olson, Win-E-Mac School District Superintendent stated.

The bonds were sold at a net interest rate of 5.323 percent over 25 years.

Olson speculated that the architects of the new Win-E-Mac K-12 school, Johnson-Laffen of Grand Forks, ND, will soon be completing the plans for the building project.

Triad: a safety net

Polk County – Finally, senior citizens in Polk County have an outlet, a source to answer their questions lend a guiding hand.

It's Triad, a three-way effort comprising senior citizen organizations such as RSVP and AARP, the Crookston Police Department and the Polk County Sheriff's Office.

It's a national program with roots back to 1988 which has been in the planning stages in Polk County for the last two years. Countless meetings and committees finally resulted in the City Council ratifying Triad's by-laws at its Tuesday meeting, and everyone involved signing on the dotted line.

In the simplest terms, Triad is a source for help and information between the elderly community and law enforcement.

Through education and open communication, the goals are to reduce the criminal victimization of senior citizens, and enhance the delivery of law enforcement to the elderly population.

Near record area flood potential is forecast

A high spring snowmelt flood potential exists for the tributaries of the Red River, and a severe spring snowmelt flood potential for the Red River from Wahpeton to the Canadian border, according to the National Weather Service Spring Snowmelt Flood Outlook. The report was issued at a news conference Friday.

According to the report, with average precipitation, the flood stage at Highlanding would be three to four inches below the all time record in 1975. Flood stage is nine feet, but the present snow cover is 11 feet, and the crest potential which includes present snow cover plus normal precipitation is 13 feet. Those same records indicate that the record flood was recorded in 1975 when it reached 13.4 feet.

In Warren where flood stage is reached at an elevation of 845 feet, the flood potential is about three to four inches below the all-time record on the Snake River when it reached 851.4 feet in 1969.

In Hallock the flood potential is five inches above the flood of record (an elevation of 809.5 feet) in 1996.

In Roseau, the flood potential is 21 feet, just one inch below the flood of record, which was recorded in 1996. Flood stage is reached at 18 feet.

The National Weather Service provided the following information:

"Due to the seriousness of the flood potential in the Red River Valley, this outlook includes numerical crest guidance. This numerical crest guidance is being provided at this early date for planning purposes. The National Weather Service has based this guidance on the data that is available up to this date. Therefore, the numerical crest guidance will be updated on March 14, 1997, to reflect any conditions that change in the next two weeks.

"Summary of Temperatures and Precipitation: Average temperatures continued to be below normal in mid and late February across the region. Precipitation during the month of February was near normal in the southern end of the valley and below normal across the northern end of the valley.

"Outlooks for Temperatures and precipitation: The six to 10 day outlook (March 4-8) indicates [illegible] below normal temperatures from South Dakota into northwestern Minnesota. Precipitation across the Red River Valley is expected to be [illegible] normal. The 30 day outlook shows no indication of significant deviation from normal for both temperatures and for precipitation.

"Red River Valley Current Conditions and Flood Potential: Snow depths across the basin averaged between 16-25 inches. Snow surveys along the tributaries and mainstem Red River south of Fargo, ND indicated five to seven inches of snow water equivalent. In the northern half of the basin water equivalents were in the four to six inch range with pockets of seven inches.

"These current conditions represent a high spring snowmelt flood potential for the tributaries of the Red River, and a severe spring snowmelt flood potential for the Red River from Wahpeton, ND to the Canadian border. The higher potential for the Red River is due to the very high water equivalent measurements over the entire drainage area south of Fargo, ND.

"Devils Lake Basin: Snow depths were generally in the 10 to 20 inch range with airborne estimates and survey reports indicating four to five inches of water equivalent across the basin. Soil moisture continues above [illegible] across the Devils Lake basin. [illegible] estimated to be between [illegible] inches.

The lake level is currently at an elevation of 1437.86 feet MSL. The

Foundation livestock feed relief program is open to March 14

Pennington, Red Lake, Roseau and Clearwater counties are among 28 Minnesota counties authorized to implement the federal government's Foundation Livestock Relief Program.

Pennington county office of the Farm Service Agency (FSA) has announced that the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) will provide 30 percent cost share assistance on the lesser of the actual cost of feed purchased or a computed feed allowance for a maximum of 30 days.

Producers will have to present purchase receipts to receive benefits and only receipts reflecting eligible feed purchased and received from February 4 through March 14 will be accepted. Applications for cost share must be made at the FSA office in the producer's county before close of business on March 14.

Pennington county FSA director Glenn Schafer said the program is being implemented because of the severe cold in addition to heavy snow which caused livestock feed requirements to run about 150 percent of normal. Nationwide USDA will observe its $2.5 million gross revenue and $50,000 payment limitation rules.

Assistance is limited to foundation herd and replacement livestock only in the Minnesota counties of Becker, Blue Earth, Brown, Chippewa, Clearwater, Cottonwood, Douglas, Faribault, Grant, Jackson, Kandiyohi, Lyon, Mahnomen, Martin, Murray, Nicollet, Nobles, East Otter Tail, West Otter Tail, Pennington, Pope, Red Lake, Redwood, Renville, Roseau, Stevens, Swift and Watonwan. All of these counties were included in the Presidential Major Disaster Declaration M1158.

Minnesota counties that were named as contiguous to North and South Dakota in Presidential declarations M1156 and M1157 were authorized to implement the Foundation Livestock Relief Program earlier. Those counties are not a part of this authorization.

Counties in Minnesota named in the earlier signup were Big Stone, Clay, Kittson, Lac Qui Parle, Lincoln, Marshall, Norman, Pipestone, East Polk, West Polk, Rock, Traverse, Wilkin and Yellow Medicine.

Goodridge student serves on MSHSL advisory committee

by Amy Branscomb
Northern Watch reporter

Jennicca Gallagher has recently been nominated to the Student Advisory Committee of the Minnesota State High School League.

She will be serving a two-year term during her junior and senior year at Goodridge High School. The committee, which consists of 16 students from all of the regions of Minnesota, will meet in the Twin Cities a total of four times before June, three during the school year and once in the summer.

In October she went to the Twin Cities and met for the first time. "It was really interesting because it gave a different perspective," commented Jennicca.

She felt it was very interesting to hear what students in large schools had to say, after coming from a very small school. She said that one girl she met had a graduating class of about 3,000 students, compared to Jennicca's 26!

"When I first went down (to the meeting) I didn't have any clue of what was going on. I brought to them the perspective of a small school. It blew their mind that I knew everyone in my class," stated Jennicca. She added that most of the other students there were from relatively large schools, she was the only one from a very small school.

The committee met for one day, and during that time the students gave feedback on the proposed rules for different extra-curricular activities. Jennicca felt that a lot of the proposed rules really didn't apply to Goodridge High School because they don't have some of the activities, but it was still interesting for her to hear what the other students thought of them.

"I think it's a good idea to have students give their opinions," Jennicca stated. "I'm glad I got on it (the committee) and I hope I can do my best."

Students are selected to the committee based on their GPA, overall academic standing, extra-curricular activities and curriculum courses. Jennicca is currently active in volleyball, basketball and track, along with student council and class treasurer.

"If you're not involved in something, it doesn't push you," Jennicca commented. "I think it really helps me with my grades. It pushes you with eligibility and everything."

On top of all of her activities in school, Jennicca still manages to work part-time at Ben Franklin. "I have a lot of expenses I have to pay for, so I have to make time for work. Saturday is my main day, and in the summer I'm pretty regular," admitted Jennicca. "I told her right away that I wouldn't give up my sports for work."

Dancers from the Varsity Singers will be among the groups performing at the multi-cultural concert to be presented by Lincoln high school vocal groups Monday, March 3, at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Music from nine countries will be presented during the event.

Lincoln choirs present multi-cultural concert

"Songs of the People," a multi-cultural and multi-media concert in song, instruments and dance, will be presented by the Lincoln high school choirs under the direction of Darcy Reese Monday, March 3, at 7:30 p.m. in the Lincoln auditorium. Admission is free and doors open at 6:45 p.m.

Nine countries will be represented throughout the performance. The singers have been working on the literature since January and have found the different languages to be quite challenging, Mrs. Reese said. Languages include Japanese, German, French, Swahili, Israeli, Spanish and Italian. The concert ends with a special tribute to the United States of America.

"This We Know," with words attributed to Chief Seattle, is the opening song and describes how all are part of an intricate web. The choirs then move through nine countries with song, readings, dialogue, dance and a three-screen slide show. Anthems from the various countries will be performed and three special guests from Japan, Spain and Germany will present readings from their countries.

Recordings from the countries will accompany the dialogue that students will read prior to the songs of each new country. The dialogue will give listeners information about the countries, including their musical history.

Some members of the Varsity Singers will perform an Israeli folk dance while the remaining singers sing an Israeli folk-song accompanied by Cathy Hagen on piano, Derek Druse on violin and Eeva Young on flute.

Other instrumentalists participating in the concert are John Danielson, conga drums, Andy Brown, conga drums and timpani; Paul Dehnert, piano; Brian Unkelhaun, guitar; Josh Hendrickson, accordion; Marisa Holmstrom, Bridgette Stock, Beth Nelson, Rachel Mathson, Katie Jinde, Heidi Johnson and Michelle Mattson, rhythm instruments.

This will be the second multi-cultural concert at Lincoln. Mrs. Reese wrote the first such concert last March. This concert is part of the choir curriculum at Lincoln. Students make the flags of the various countries, sing the anthems, read dialogue, dance, perform literature in various languages and change their singing style for the different countries.

Signup for new CRP program will start Monday, March 3

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

Signup for the new Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) will officially begin Monday with interest high and a great deal of attention focused on how this popular program is handled and what the public response will be.

Pennington county office of the Farm Service Agency conducted information meetings in Thief River Falls and Goodridge Friday but was still waiting for last-minute decision-making on a state priority area request. That decision would not be available in Washington, DC, before 4:30 p.m. Eastern time.

Glenn Schafer, director of the Farm Service Agency office in Thief River Falls, said that the state FSA committee had requested that a portion of northwestern Minnesota be designated as a priority area based on its biodiversity and impact on wildlife. The area involves the inner beach ridges of Glacial Lake Agassiz and includes most of Red Lake, Pennington and Marshall counties and part of Roseau county as well as counties to the south.

A decision on the request had been promised by the time the Washington FSA office closes at 4:30 p.m. If it is granted it will increase the eligibility of many acres for inclusion in the program.

Individual appointments have been made by the Pennington county office on a limited basis on one-hour intervals for the first week of the signup period. Additional appointments were scheduled at the Friday informational meetings. Schafer also said it is likely that further informational meetings will be held to keep landowners informed during the signup period which ends March 28. Schafer said it is helpful if persons calling the office indicate whether they have existing CRP contracts or are seeking to enroll new land.

U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Dan Glickman announced what he termed as "final regulations" for the CRP program on February 12 stating that they were in line with "the Clinton Administration commitment to redesign the program to target the most environmentally sensitive cropland."

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Today's recipes are all from my wonderful Hershey's 1934 chocolate cookbook. This is the time of year when we all need a little chocolate, isn't it?

What yummy cookies - I'll make them this weekend:

CHOCOLATE WALNUT WHEELS

2 squares unsweetened baking chocolate
1/3 cup butter, softened
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
3/4 cup flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup finely chopped walnuts
Walnut halves

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Lightly grease cookie sheet.

In top of double boiler, melt chocolate. Set aside to cool slightly.

In large mixing bowl, beat butter and sugar until well blended. Add chocolate, egg and vanilla and beat well. Add flour and salt and beat. Stir in chopped walnuts.

Drop by heaping teaspoonfuls on cookie sheet. Place walnut half in center of each cookie. Bake 10-12 minutes or until set.

You can make this little pan of brownies for tonight's dessert - serve with ice cream or whipped cream to make it elegant:

CHOCOLATE MIDGETS

1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup (5 1/2 ounce can) chocolate syrup
2 eggs
3/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
3/4 cup flour
1/4 teaspoon baking powder
1 cup chopped nuts

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Grease and flour 9 inch square baking pan.

In small saucepan over low heat, melt butter. Stir in syrup. Remove from heat and set aside to cool slightly.

In small mixing bowl, beat eggs. Add sugar and vanilla, beating until well blended.

Stir together flour and baking powder and sprinkle over nuts. Add butter mixture and flour-nut mixture to egg mixture. Stir until blended.

Spread batter in prepared pan and bake 35-40 minutes or until brownies begin to pull away from sides of pan. Cool in pan on wire rack and then cut into small squares.

Here's another chocolately treat - quick and easy:

CHOCOLATE COCONUT SQUARES

1/3 cup butter, softened
1 1/2 cups packed light brown sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup flour
1/4 cup cocoa
1 1/4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup graham cracker crumbs, rolled fine
3/4 cup finely chopped walnuts
1/2 cup shredded coconut
Powdered sugar

Heat oven to 375 degrees. Grease 9x13 inch pan.

In large bowl, beat butter until creamy. Add brown sugar and beat well.

Add eggs and vanilla and beat well. Stir together flour, cocoa, baking powder and salt and add to butter mixture alternately with milk. Add graham cracker crumbs and beat well. Stir in nuts and coconut.

Spread batter in prepared pan and bake 25 minutes or until edges are set. Cool in pan on wire rack. Sprinkle top with powdered sugar after cool and cut into squares.

Oh, and here's the old favorite - chocolate chip cookies:

CHOCOLATETOWN CHIP COOKIES

3/4 cup butter, softened
1 cup packed light brown sugar
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups (12 ounces in all) chocolate chips

Heat oven to 375 degrees.

In large bowl, beat butter, brown sugar, granulated sugar and vanilla until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat well.

Stir together flour, soda and salt and gradually add to butter mixture, beating until blended. Add chocolate chips.

Drop by teaspoonfuls on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake 8-10 minutes or until very lightly browned. Remove from sheet to wire rack and cool completely before packing.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

The employees of the U.S. Postal Service want to take a moment to thank our customers for their patience and assistance over the past few months. This winter has certainly been one for the record books and has challenged us to deliver mail in some unbelievably harsh conditions.

In most cases we've been able to conquer mother nature's attack and get the job done. Unfortunately, we did experience some delayed mail. We apologize for this, and thank everyone for understanding that we're doing our best to overcome the conditions.

Despite closed roads, mountains of snow and dangerous wind chills, the employees who deliver mail have done an admirable job. But it couldn't have happened without the assistance of others. Specifically we want to thank the snow crews for doing their best to keep the highways, roads and streets clear. It's taken a tremendous effort on their part and we sincerely appreciate it.

Finally we want to thank those many customers who have been working to make our job easier by clearing snow and ice from sidewalks, steps and in front of their mailboxes. This has been a great help in getting the mail delivered efficiently and safely.

As much as we would like to think springtime is just around the corner, I'm sure we can expect a few more days of bad weather. You can count on us to continue fighting our way through the elements in an effort to serve our customers. Thanks again for the patience.

Sincerely,
Richard E. McCloskey
Postmaster, Thief River Falls

Signup begins Monday in new conservation program

Most of the CRP contracts in Pennington, Marshall and Red Lake counties will be expiring this year and owners of those properties, as well as other landowners interested in the federal program, have been wondering about their eligibility under the new program.

Under the new CRP, according to Secretary Glickman, USDA will protect about 36 million acres of the nation's most environmentally sensitive lands. The Farm Service Agency will select the acreage to enter the program after reviewing each of the offers submitted from the pool of eligible land. USDA will enroll only the most environmentally sensitive lands to achieve the most environmental benefits using the fewest dollars possible, Glickman said.

The three primary goals of the new CRP are erosion reduction, improvement of water quality and the enhancement of wildlife habitat. There are millions of acres of cropland that could provide outstanding water quality or wildlife benefits, he said, that would not be eligible for enrollment based solely on their erodibility.

As a result of this situation, USDA will rank all eligible CRP offers using an Environmental Benefits Index (EBI). This method is being applied to ensure that only the most environmentally sensitive lands are selected, the Secretary said. Criteria used in the EBI include benefits to wildlife habitat, erosion control, water quality, air quality and cost.

"USDA's goal is to enroll those acres into the program where the benefits to the nation from land retirement outweigh the benefits of keeping the land in agricultural production," Glickman said.

"The voluntary program protects millions of acres of American topsoil from erosion and, by reducing water runoff and sedimentation, it protects groundwater and helps improve countless lakes, rivers, ponds and streams. All of these acres are planted to vegetative cover or other forms of wildlife habitat. As a result, the CRP is a major contributor to significant increases in wildlife populations in many parts of the country."

The final rule defines eligible cropland as land that has been planted or considered planted to an agricultural commodity two of the five most recent crop years and must be capable of being planted to an agricultural commodity. It also makes marginal pasture land eligible if it is either currently enrolled in the Water Bank program or will be devoted to a riparian buffer to be planted to trees.

Eligible cropland must also meet one of the following criteria to be offered for enrollment in the CRP:

- Have an Erosion Index (EI) of 8 or higher or be considered highly erodible land according to the conservation compliance provisions (redefined fields must have an EI of 8 or higher);
- Be considered a cropped wetland;
- Be devoted to any of a number of highly beneficial environmental practices, such as filter strips, riparian buffers, grass waterways, shelter belts, wellhead protection areas and other similar practices;
- Be subject to scour erosion;
- Be located in a national or state CRP conservation priority area; or
- Be cropland associated with or surrounding non-cropped wetlands.

Over the course of the CRP, Congress has directed that rental rates not exceed local market values. CRP payments will be determined based on county average dryland cash or cash rent equivalent rates adjusted for site-specific, soil-based, productivity factors. CRP payments will include an additional $5 per acre per year as an incentive to perform certain management obligations. The contracts are 10 to 15 years in length. Cost-share assistance will be provided to establish cover on land for enrollment in the CRP.

The 1997 Agriculture Appropriations Act effectively precluded extension of any CRP contracts. Producers with contracts expiring Sept. 30, 1997, along with any new lands producers wish to enroll in CRP may offer their acreage during the March 3-28 signup period if the land meets the basic eligibility criteria.

Unemployment up sharply in December

Unemployment in Region 1 during December was up sharply from both the previous month and December a year ago, according to the Minnesota Department of Economic Security.

The jobless rate in December of 1996 was 7.5 percent compared with 6.0 percent in December of 1995 and only 4.5 percent in November of 1996.

Roseau county was the largest contributor to the increase, with unemployment this December nearly tripling from 5.1 percent a year ago to 15.0 percent. Rate in November in Roseau county was only 4.1 percent.

Kittson county had an increase to 6.8 percent from 5.3 percent in November and 6.5 percent in December of 1995. Marshall county increased to 13.4 percent from 10.1 percent in November and 11.9 percent a year ago. At 12.7 percent this December, Red Lake county was up from 9.3 percent in November but down from 13.9 percent last December.

Polk county was the most stable county, having an unemployment rate of 3.5 percent in 1996 compared with 3.1 percent in November and 3.9 percent a year ago. Norman county was also fairly stable at 5.5 percent in December of 1996, 4.5 percent in November and 5.6 percent in December of 1995.

In Pennington county the rate of 6.2 percent was up from 4.0 percent in November and down from 8.0 percent in December of 1995.

State Program: "Welfare For Deer Feeders?"

This Wednesday's issue of the Minneapolis Star Tribune contained an opinion piece written by David B. Dickey of Aitkin which was published under the heading, Welfare for deer feeders. This is what he wrote:

"As a professional wildlife manager with 30 years of experience, I know that the vast majority of the deer food provided by the state last winter went to people already feeding deer recreationally. It was, therefore mostly a welfare program for deer feeders, not a deer-feeding program.

"Most of this recreational feeding takes place on private land, not on public land where most Twin Cities hunters hunt. I urge Twin Cities hunters and others to contact their senator and representative and let them know you do not want your license dollars again wasted to subsidize recreational deer feeding. Remember also that you have not yet paid for last year's $750,000 program."

Mr. Dickey has an interesting concept of "welfare" in his view of how the $750,000 allocation for deer feeding was used last year. We take issue not so much with what he writes as what he chooses to ignore.

We would agree that in many areas the feed provided by the state for deer feeding last winter was utilized by deer being fed on private property. These deer, however, were not privately owned. They were deer which were officially the property of the State of Minnesota and for which members of the public—not employees of the state—had been providing "foster care." It was not inappropriate for the state to share in the costs of caring for its property.

Despite the total hours of state employee time and effort attributed to the feeding program late last winter, only a very small percentage can be accounted for by personnel going into the woods and fields to do the actual feeding. That physical part of getting the food to the deer was provided voluntarily by private citizens— including "recreational" feeders.

In this area, efforts to feed on public lands met with little success. By policy, it was not permitted on the federal Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge. It was conducted at five sites near Ditches 20 and 200 by snowmobile, as the state would not permit plowing of roads to permit vehicle traffic. In the crisis of 1988, roads were plowed and feed sites located on them with relatively good success.

In truth, feeding on public lands in 1996 met with little success, primarily due to predation by wolves which wantonly decimated the deer concentrated and virtually confined by lack of escape routes to some of the feeding sites. The wolf population has grown substantially since 1988. Frequently late last winter it was observed that many deer killed by wolves had been left without being fed upon. Wolves are not conservationists which kill only what they need for food.

Feeding was often successful, however, on private sites, and with the advent of warmer weather and reappearance of "natural" food supplies, the "private" deer dispersed throughout the area.

While Minnesota has vast acreages of uninhabited public land where deer feeding is impractical—due in large part to sparsity of deer population despite state "management"—it is effective in more populated areas, such as the agricultural area of the western part of the state. Here the deer heavily utilize agricultural crops for much of the year, but those crops are harvested in the fall and unavailable in the cold months of winter. "Recreational" winter feeding is primarily an extension of the food provided by agricultural practices the rest of the year.

Cost effectiveness or total effectiveness of deer feeding will never be resolved by debate, probably because there are elements of truth on both sides of the question. Human compassion dictates, however, that help should be attempted for animals in desperate straits. That is why most "recreational deer feeders" dig into their own pockets to feed the state's animals and wonder at the attitude of abandonment advocated by the agency which is charged with their management and benefits financially from their existence.

Estate Taxes In Need Of Rate Overhaul

There is something ominous about a tax the government waits until you die to collect, then extracts an exorbitant percentage of the taxable amount. The tax in question is the inheritance or estate tax that is being tossed about in the U. S. Congress again this session.

Word is that the Clinton Administration is not sympathetic to a reduction in inheritance taxes, and that is bad economic news for a number of farm and family business owners who would like to see their enterprises continue in the family.

While there has been an improvement in the inheritance tax in recent years, it still has too high a rate and too low an exemption. Rate can range up to 55 percent under the law. That's too high. Amount exempt from inheritance taxes is anything under $600,000. That exemption is too low.

The entire concept of an estate or inheritance tax is reprehensible. It amounts to a death tax on whatever a person has managed to accumulate after governments on all levels have extracted taxes throughout the person's lifetime. To us that constitutes double taxation that is unfair and unnecessary.

Inheritance taxes strike farms and family-owned businesses especially hard. When the value exceeds $600,000—and the value of a lot of farms does—the remainder is taxable. In many cases the heirs are forced to liquidate at least part or perhaps all of the estate to meet the tax payment. That is unfair to the heirs who often have contributed substantially to the growth of the estate and to the deceased who abided by the tax laws while living and preferred his or her property to pass on to descendants.

We never did understand the rationale for imposing such a high tax on estates. An example given from South Dakota, where the average farm of 1,300 acres would be worth $1.4 million, indicates that the heirs with a $600,000 exemption would still face estate taxes of $320,000. Virtually no farmer could come up with that kind of payment without selling a good share of the assets, and that would leave too little for a viable operation.

Keith Collins, chief economist for the U.S. Department of Agriculture, says that only about one percent of Americans who die leave enough property to be subject to the estate tax. For farmers, however, the percentage is about six percent. In 1994 the average estate tax bill on 1,740 farms valued above the exemption was 18 percent or $285,000.

According to a report, Democrats in Congress support some breaks for farmers and business owners, but "are reluctant to do away with the estate tax because of the way it redistributes the wealth." That redistribution into the coffers of a wasteful government seems obscene to us. It's time that meaningful changes are made to make inheritance taxes reasonable.

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River guard Tiffany Hagen cut between Kittson Central defenders Kate Pemberton (35) and Janna Lindegard as she tried to beat the Wolfpack press during Thursday's Sub-Section 32A girls high school basketball tournament semifinal game at Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls. The Gators' bench, including head coach Tom Neihauer (left), watched the action. Kittson Central won 50-41 to move into the title game against Tri-County, a 41-38 semifinal winner over Stephen-Argyle.

Wolfpack runs by Gators 50-41

Sub-Section 32A Girls

■ First round Tuesday Feb. 25 - Badger/Greenbush-Middle River 64, Kittson County North 13

■ Semifinals Thursday Feb. 27 - Kittson Central 50, Badger/Greenbush-Middle River 41; Tri-County 41, Stephen-Argyle 38

■ Finals Saturday March 1 (at NCTC) Badger/Greenbush-Middle River vs. Stephen-Argyle (third place) 6:30 p.m.; Kittson Central vs. Tri-County (championship), 8:15 p.m.

Kittson Central matched its nine-point 54-45 regular season victory over Badger/Greenbush-Middle River with a nine-point 50-41 post-season decision Thursday in the Sub-Section 32A girls high school basketball tournament semifinals at Northland Community and Technical College.

It was a case of the faster team winning, according to Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Tom Neihauer. The Wolfpack outscored the Gators 14-0 on fast breaks, and a 28-20 rebound advantage for the winners included a number of long caroms that Kittson Central ran down.

"They have faster kids than we have," pointed out Neihauer. "They beat us in too many long rebounds and they beat us down the court."

While trying to race the Wolfpack down the floor, the Gators also spent much of the game trying to catch them on the scoreboard. Kittson Central used four fast breaks and got scoring from five different players during a 15-0 run that led to a 19-8 lead at the end of the first quarter.

The Wolfpack would never trail after that. It was, however, far from over.

Trailing 21-8 at the start of the second quarter, Badger/Greenbush-Middle River rallied with a 10-0 start on a 14-2 run that pulled the Gators within 23-22 when Stefanie Sparby rattled in a long jumper with 3:38 remaining in the first half.

Twice more the Wolfpack lead was trimmed to a single point, but they never fell behind – a key factor in the outcome, said Neihauer. "If we could have gotten the lead, it would have put a lot more pressure on them," he said.

Kittson Central closed out the first half with consecutive three-point possessions that produced baskets for Darcy Lundberg and Sarah Erickson – and a 29-24 edge at intermission.

Back-to-back 3-pointers by Sparby made it a one-point game, again at 31-30 two minutes into the second half. But the Wolfpack promptly got one of those back off an in-bounds pass to Lundberg and they were up 40-32 before Sparby closed out the third quarter with another trey.

It was still a toss-up after Nikki Wahl scored on a drive to make it 43-41 with 4:33 to play. But the Gators did not pick up another point the rest of the way. Back-to-back Badger/Greenbush-Middle River turnovers kicked off the 7-0 Kittson Central finish – setting up a long jumper by Lundberg and a free throw by Marisa Johnson.

"Those two turnovers really hurt," said Neihauer. "It was a two-point game and we turned it over twice on plays we should not have tried to make."

Balanced Kittson Central attack included Steph Losch with 14 points, Lundberg 13, Erickson 10, and Janna Lindegard 8. Badger/Greenbush-Middle River relied heavily on Wahl, who netted 16, and Sparby with 15.

It was a game effort by Wahl, a 5-10 senior who left the court during the warm-ups after aggravating a regular season ankle injury. She was back on the floor, however, for the introduction of the starting line-up.

Tiffany Hagen, a 5-7 junior who is the Gators' point guard and their quickest defender, went down hard with 3:08 left in the third quarter. She returned for the start of the fourth quarter, but in her absence, the Wolfpack scored six straight points.

Kittson Central had a 44 percent 22-for-50 shooting night, while Badger/Greenbush-Middle River turned in a 40 percent 19-for-47 game. The Wolfpack went 5-for-12 at the free throw line, where the Gators missed their only attempt. Badger/Greenbush-Middle River topped the turnover charts 16-12.

The Gators are 17-6, the Wolfpack improved to 21-2.

Detroit Lakes girls beat Thief River Falls 60-38...

Lakers end Prowlers' season

North Sub-Section 8AAA Girls

■ Semifinal Tuesday Feb. 25 - Crookston 56, Fergus Falls 27; Detroit Lakes 60, Thief River Falls 38

■ Finals Friday, Feb. 28 - (at Moorhead State) Crookston vs. Detroit Lakes, 7:30 p.m.

Detroit Lakes completed a three-game sweep of Thief River Falls Tuesday with a 60-38 North Sub-Section 8AAA girls high school basketball tournament opening round semifinal win at Concordia College in Moorhead.

The No. 3-seeded Prowlers, after having lost competitive 51-46 and 64-54 regular season games to Detroit Lakes, were hoping to close gap against the second-seeded Lakers the third time around. Down just 17-16 at the end of the first quarter, it looked like Thief River Falls might meet its goal.

However, the Lakers' second quarter switch from a man-to-man to a zone defense helped open a 33-22 halftime gap. The winners stretched the difference to 44-26 in the third quarter and breezed into the finals against top-seeded Crookston, a 56-27 winner over Fergus Falls in the first half of the playoff doubleheader.

"We had a good first quarter, but they switched to a zone and just kind of pulled away from us in the second quarter," reported Thief River Falls coach Jeff Loe.

Detroit Lakes' versatile attack featured Jess Abrahams with 14 points, Amy Fredrickson 12 and Lisa Eidenschink 10. Thief River Falls had just a single double-figure scorer in Kim Stenseth with 13 points against a defense stacked against the 5-9 senior who recently surpassed the 1,000-point mark for her high school basketball career.

"They (Lakers) played a good game," noted Loe. "It wasn't the way we wanted to finish, but Detroit Lakes and Crookston both played awfully well. It should be a good championship game."

Thief River Falls had a tough night statistically with a 32 percent 14-for-44 shooting performance from the field and 30 turnovers. Detroit Lakes shot 44 percent (22/50) and compensated for 22 turnovers with a 32-26 rebound advantage. At the free throw line, the Prowlers were 10-for-18 and the Lakers went 13-for-22.

Detroit Lakes improved to 17-5 with the win.

Huskies edge Eagles 53-52

Jared Eidelbes hit a free throw with six seconds left to give Goodridge a 53-52 win over Red Lake Falls Thursday in the opening game of the 1997 Sub-Section 31A boys high school basketball tournament at the Lincoln High School gym in Thief River Falls.

Red Lake Falls had possession of the ball in a 52-52 tie as time ran down, but Eidelbes came up with a steal and was fouled racing down court on the fast break. He made the first of the two free throws, and although Red Lake Falls controlled the rebound, the Eagles could not come up with a final shot.

Darrin Arveson, who scored all six Goodridge first quarter points, finished with a game-high 18. He also pulled down 12 rebounds.

"We were down most of the game," said Goodridge coach Eric Mickelson, "but we didn't give up. We weren't playing particularly well, but we found a way to win."

The Huskies were 22-for-52 from the field (42 percent) and just 9-for-23 at the free throw line. The Eagles had a 50 percent 20-for-40 shooting night and made 9 of 16 free throws. Goodridge had a 33-23 rebound advantage and Red Lake Falls topped the turnover charts 24-17.

Goodridge is 17-6.

Sub-Section 31A Boys

■ First round Thursday Feb. 27 - Goodridge 53, Red Lake Falls 52; East Grand Forks Sacred Heart 55, Marshall County Central 46

■ Semifinals Monday March 3 - (at UMC) Warren-Alvarado-Oslo vs. East Grand Forks Sacred Heart, 6:30 p.m.; Grygla-Gatzke vs. Goodridge 8 p.m.

■ Finals Saturday March 8 - (at UMC) third place 6:30 p.m., championship 8:15 p.m.

A final-game 55-46 loss to East Grand Forks Sacred Heart in the first round of the Sub-Section 31A boys high school basketball tournament Thursday mirrored the entire 1996-97 season for the Marshall County Central boys, pointed out Nordics head coach Ron Ueland, whose team finished a disappointing 5-18.

"It was a very frustrating season," acknowledged Ueland. "We seemed to be on the verge, but..."

And that's the way the Nordics finished. Three times in the final three minutes of a close game they came up with steals, but couldn't turn the opportunities into points. In fact, on each occasion, the Eagles wound up getting the ball back and scoring.

"We didn't convert our chances," noted Ueland. "We just could not finish it off. That's the story of our season."

Erik Neil scored 15 points, Shane Cox 13 and Paul Stinar 10 for Sacred Heart. Phil Flickinger was the lone Marshall County Central double figure scorer, netting 13 points.

The Eagles didn't take many shots, but they hit the ones they put up with a 63 percent 17-for-27 night from the field. The Nordics, meanwhile, shot only 34 percent on a 17-for-50 showing.

"We missed a lot of shots," said Ueland. "We make 10 more shots and we would have thought it was a great game."

The Nordics were 10-for-16 at the free throw line, where the Eagles went 16-for-23. The winners had a 27-23 rebound edge, but also had more turnovers, 19-11.

■ Semifinals Thursday Feb. 27 - Fertile-Beltrami 58, Fosston 53; Win-E-Mac 45, Red Lake County Central 43

■ Finals Saturday March 1 - (at UMC) Fosston vs. Red Lake County Central (third place) 1 p.m.; Fertile-Beltrami vs. Win-E-Mac (championship), 2:30 p.m.

Win-E-Mac, a 48-46 winner over Red Lake County Central in a Feb. 6 regular season meeting, duplicated that two-point victory margin Thursday when the Patriots got by the Mustangs 45-43 in the Sub-Section 30A girls high school basketball tournament semifinals at the University of Minnesota-Crookston.

The two teams were tied at 16-16 and 27-27 after the first two quarter stops and the Mustangs were up just 35-34 after 24 minutes.

A Red Lake County Central rebound off a Win-E-Mac miss at the free throw line with 15 seconds left set up a final-shot opportunity, but the Mustangs mis-fired.

Angie Chervestad scored 16 points and pulled down 19 rebounds for the Mustangs, while Amy Halvorson had a 12-point, 12-rebound game for the Patriots.

Red Lake County Central was 18-for-56 from the field (32 percent) and 7-for-13 at the free throw line, where Win-E-Mac had a game-winning 16-for-23 night. The winners were only 14-for-54 from the field.

No further talks on Oklee school salary

Oklee Education Association is considering several options to get negotiations on its 1995-97 master contract back on track, according to Brad Borene, association president.

"Our options include trying another mediation session, filing for impasse arbitration, working to rule or other job actions," Borene said. "We need to get back to the table and get this settled."

In a press release provided by Borene, OEA chief negotiator Charles Bishop is quoted as stating, "It is interesting that the school district has funds to construct and equip a building addition in excess of $94,000 from the general fund, but says it can not afford to give teachers a raise that at least matches the rate of inflation."

Bishop took issue with public statements by School District 627 chief negotiator David Bachand that the district can not afford an increase of more than $800 per teacher per year, and that the district will be in deficit funding within three years.

"The district has a cash balance of $161,605, has liquid assets of $203,924 and had a general fund balance of $193,597 at the beginning of this fiscal year," Bishop said.

"The projection of deficit spending is based on a cut in foundation aid passed (by the state legislature) in 1995. The legislature has removed those proposed cuts. The school district will not see a cut in per pupil funding for 1997-98."

Borene did not indicate in his press release which of its options the OEA is likely to pursue. Bachand chose to not comment on the OEA position.

GARRY INGLIS JEFF TUNBERG AL FINNEY

Near record flood is forecast on Friday

highest elevation reported was 1411 feet in 1830. Based on assumed normal precipitation and melt rates and normal evaporation through June, the present outlook is for a peak elevation of 1440.5 feet MSL.

"Lake of the Woods Drainage in Northern Minnesota: Across northern Minnesota snow depths were between 20 to 26 inches with water equivalents between 3.5 to 5.5 inches. Above normal soil moisture and high water equivalents represent a moderate-high snowmelt flood potential for the U.S. drainage into the Lake of the Woods.

"Terminology: Moderate-high snowmelt flood potential-crests from a few feet over flood stage to several feet over flood stage, but remaining below record crest levels, assuming normal future precipitation for the remainder of the snow season.

"High snowmelt flood potential, crests from several feet over flood stage to near record crest levels, assuming normal future precipitation for the remainder of the snow season.

"Severe snowmelt flood potential, crests from near record levels to exceeding record levels, assuming normal future precipitation for the remainder of the snow season.

"General comments: Spring snowmelt flood potential is based on existing snow cover, water equivalents, soil moisture, frost conditions, river ice, base flows and assumed normal future precipitation and snowmelt rates for the remainder of the snow season.

"A gradual or intermittent melt may reduce the potential, especially in areas that contain minimal frost. Additional above normal precipitation and a rapid melt combined with spring rains would increase the flood threat. In general, the flood potential increases with a late season melt when the probability for a rapid melt coupled with significant spring rains is higher. Persons with river interests should be alert to the potential for rapidly changing river conditions due to ice movements and jams.

"The next numerical outlook is scheduled for March 14, 1997.

"The flood outlooks and all flood statements will be available via the internet on the NWS Eastern North Dakota Homepage at http://www.crhnwscr.noaa.gov/fgf/index.html."

Jennicca Gallagher to serve on state MSHSL committee

Jennicca is currently attending Goodridge High School along with Lincoln High School in Thief River Falls for half a day. Juniors and seniors at Goodridge have the option of attending either Lincoln or Northland Technical and Community College for half a day. This year she chose Lincoln. "I have a lot of friends and I run track there," stated Jennicca, which is why she chooses to take her chemistry and physics classes there. Next year she plans to attend Northland for half a day instead.

Jennicca is the daughter of Esther and John Gallagher of Goodridge. Her mom works for the Thief River Falls School District and her father is a farmer. She has three brothers John, Joshua and Justin.

After high school Jennicca wants to attend college somewhere away from this area. "I want to go to college for sure. I haven't decided where. I don't want to stay around here for the first couple of years," she admitted. She would like to major in something to do with business, but exactly what she doesn't know yet. "I like being in control of things," she stated.

"I'd like to be in sports and stay active. Track is the one I would like to do and maybe basketball," she commented.

Whatever Jennicca decides to do with her future, she has definitely had a lot of experiences to help back her up. She has been able to gain much valuable experience from sports and students council, and she now has the student advisory committee to help guide her along as well and teach her about leadership.

New check cashing program

Roseau – Citizens State Bank of Roseau will begin a new procedure in order to safeguard against the chance of fraud with non-customer check cashing beginning March 3.

Any non-customer will be asked to place a thumbprint on the check they plan to cash between the signature and memo line. The ink that is used is an eraseless ink, which can be rubbed off the finger immediately. It cannot be removed from the check.

In addition to fraud, forgery is another crime that the fingerprinting process will help curtail.

Fuel oil spill causes havoc

Red Lake Falls – About 950 gallons of fuel oil leaked onto the ground during the last couple weeks through a vent hose in Red Lake Falls. City Administrator Brad Scott said the vent hose is on the outside of the city's brick building under the city's small water tower. The end of the hose was attached to the top of the building but somehow came loose, falling over the side of the building below the level of the tank.

Scott added that fuel oil is contained in the larger tank that is outside the building but is transferred into a 15-gallon tank inside the building; the vent hose is needed for the system to operate correctly.

Once the hose was lower than the tank a vacuum was created, causing the tank to drain through the hose onto the ground.

Agassiz Leaders for 1997

Williams – Tom and Erin Olson of Williams are representing Lake of the Woods County as the 1997 Agassiz Leaders and as participants in the Red River Valley Emerging Leadership Program.

The Olsons are invited to participate in four leadership sessions along with 15 other couples from the Red River Valley area. The sessions focus on personal leadership styles; gender differences in communication; media relations; conflict management in communities; local, state and federal economies; and legislative issues that affect Minnesota.

Man faces charges

Crookston – A 19-year-old Crookston man who had been on the loose since failing to show up for sentencing on a burglary charge last July has been apprehended and now faces a second degree attempted murder charge.

Florentino Gonzalez appeared in Ninth District Court Monday to face one count each of second degree attempted murder and first and second degree assault. The three charges carrying a maximum punishment of 47 years in prison.

Gonzalez also faces a single count of fifth degree controlled substance crime in a separate file, stemming from a March 1996 case involving methamphetamines. A March 24 omnibus hearing was set for both files.

Warroad couple expanding teen hotline service

by Amy Branscomb
Northern Watch reporter

About two years ago, Steve and Darla Adams of Warroad began a teen hotline out of Warroad. It began as a service offered only to Warroad and immediate surrounding area teens with a local phone number. The hotline has progressed to a three-state service with a toll-free phone number.

Steve and Darla have been managing teen lines for eight years now. They started out in Kansas City helping inner-city teens cope with their problems. While in Kansas City they also worked with the L.I.G.H.T. House, which is a home for unwed pregnant mothers.

They were called to Warroad where Steve is currently the youth director for Woodland Bible Church. Steve and his wife Darla do a lot of work dealing with teens, including numerous talks with target groups.

The teen hotline has been a huge success for them. Receiving 40 to 50 legitimate calls per month, the Adams along with their friends Dan and Tammy Myrick keep pretty busy answering calls.

They currently have several private individuals funding the toll-free phone number for them. "People have been very supportive and teens very responsive," stated Steve.

He claims that the two biggest problems facing teens in this area are alcohol and sex. "Not every teen that drinks is an alcoholic but runs the risk," he added.

When they get a call from a very distressed teen, they try to refer them to someone who is more fully qualified to help them with their problems. Steve and Darla do not try to "play doctor" to the teens. They are mainly there to listen and when things seem to be out of control they will refer them to someone who can really help them out with their problems.

When a call comes in they fill out a report. They chart the callers age and area they are calling from. The call is totally confidential and the caller does not have to give his or her name unless they want to. Steve and Darla will not tell anyone about the conversation unless the caller wants them to.

Steve stated that they get a lot of calls from teens who say that "they have a friend who .." and they must determine if it is really a friend or if it is the caller just trying to cover up. There are two different responses

Agencies cooperate to help aid flood control

Despite potential complications and difficulties, the anticipated flood threat in the Red Lake watershed is considered sufficient to initiate a late winter drawdown of water reservoirs in the area. The water release was scheduled to begin on or about Thursday, March 6.

According to Lowell Enerson, administrator of the Red Lake Watershed District office in Thief River Falls, the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the watershed district will be reducing the water levels of the Thief Lake, Agassiz, Elm Lake and Lost River reservoirs to provide additional storage for spring flood waters.

These reservoirs are managed jointly to provide wildlife habitat, flood storage and other benefits, Enerson said.

Because the increased water flows may affect ice conditions on rivers, snowmobilers and others using the river ice should be alert for changing conditions and exercise extra caution when traveling on or crossing frozen rivers.

Discharge rates will be controlled to minimize channel problems associated with flow of water on top of the ice, Enerson said, and water will be passed into the Thief River prior to spring runoff.

As a result of the heavy snowfall this winter, the snowpack upstream of the reservoirs mentioned has a water content of approximately six inches. A high snowpack water content increases the potential for spring flooding.

Enerson said the decision to proceed with a late-winter drawdown was made by the watershed's board of managers on February 27, in accordance with interagency cooperative agreements. Such late-winter drawdowns are a common aspect of reservoir management and the goal is to provide additional storage in anticipation of a spring flood.

"Late winter releases are not without complications," Enerson emphasized. "It may be physically difficult to discharge water through frozen control structures, and flow through channels containing ice and snow may be restricted. Water released from the shallow reservoirs may affect the taste and odor of downstream water supplies and lowering reservoir levels may displace wildlife which use the reservoirs."

According to Enerson, the late-winter water release will provide additional volume for storage of spring runoff. The Elm Lake/Lost River reservoirs normally have storage for 3.6 inches of runoff. The releases are planned to increase this storage to 4.6 inches.

"As an example," Enerson said, "the Elm Lake and Lost River projects have a standard pool storage capacity for 3.6 inches of runoff from the 63 square miles which drain into the reservoirs. This capacity is equivalent to the volume of water covering 12,000 acres to a one-foot depth."

17 counties create new rural counties caucus

Seventeen counties, including most of the counties in northwestern Minnesota, have banded together to launch an organization called the Minnesota Rural Counties Caucus (MRCC) devoted to the protection and enhancement of rural lifestyles.

The MRCC is an affiliate of the Association of Minnesota Counties (AMC) and has recently pulled together a caucus within AMC, which its members say will be an enhancement to the overall value of AMC.

Since membership in the MRCC was opened in December, counties which have joined include McLeod, Morrison, Kittson, Roseau, Lake of the Woods, Marshall, Beltrami, Itasca, Lake, Polk, Pennington, Clearwater, Red Lake, Norman, Mahnomen, Clay and Becker.

Two of the organization's most important functions will be to increase the profile of rural counties in statewide policy debate and to enhance communication among members of the organization, according to Delray Larson of Gatzke, newly elected chair of the caucus.

"There was a feeling among my own county board, which is shared by many of our colleagues across the state, that an organization needed to exist just to address rural issues," Larson said.

He indicated that a shared sense of frustration exists among many of his rural counterparts over legislation and administration policy that has needlessly cost rural taxpayers money, time and energy that could have been put to better use.

"We've been slow to react to the demographic shifts that now favor the metro and suburban areas of the state," Larson said. "We have to be smarter about how we contend in the major political arenas of the state and the first step in doing that is getting a seat at the table to represent the rural side of things."

Vice chair Sharon Hahn of Lake county indicated membership in the organization was only recently made available to rural counties and that she was thrilled at the initial response.

"The people in the rural areas of the state recognize that policies resulting from legislation—and especially state agencies—can be very short-sighted and quite rigid as they affect rural Minnesota," she said. "The people in my area resent the notion that they are anti-environment and feel the policy makers have no concept of the costs or benefits of what they are imposing upon the people who actually live on the land."

Larson said the MRCC fills an important need for rural people to stand up for themselves.

"I feel good about this organization because it pulls rural counties together in a way that has not been done before and allows us to get up front in the discussions affecting our people and our land," Larson said.

Memberships are continuing to come in to the MRCC, according to Dan Larson, who assisted rural counties in achieving changes in state wetland law last year and has been hired as a lobbyist for the newly formed rural counties caucus.

Near record flood is forecast on Friday

highest elevation reported was 1441 feet in 1830. Based on assumed normal precipitation and melt rates and normal evaporation through June the present outlook is for a peak elevation of 1440.5 feet MSL.

Lake of the Woods Drainage in Northern Minnesota: Across northern Minnesota snow depths were between 20 to 26 inches with water equivalents between 3.5 to 5.5 inches. Above normal soil moisture and high water equivalents represent a moderate-high snowmelt flood potential for the U.S. drainage into the Lake of the Woods.

"Terminology: Moderate-high snowmelt flood potential-crests from a few feet over flood stage to several feet over flood stage, but remaining below record crest levels, assuming normal future precipitation for the remainder of the snow season.

"High snowmelt flood potential, crests from several feet over flood stage to near record crest levels, assuming normal future precipitation for the remainder of the snow season.

"Severe snowmelt flood potential, crests from near record levels to exceeding record levels, assuming normal future precipitation for the remainder of the snow season.

"General comments: Spring snowmelt flood potential is based on existing snow cover water equivalents, soil moisture, frost conditions, river ice, base flows and assumed normal future precipitation and snowmelt rates for the remainder of the snow season.

"A gradual or intermittent melt may reduce the potential, especially in areas that contain minimal frost. Additional above normal precipitation and a rapid melt combined with spring rains would increase the flood threat. In general, the flood potential increases with a late season melt when the probability for a rapid melt coupled with significant spring rains is higher. Persons with river interests should be alert to the potential for rapidly changing river conditions due to ice movements and jams.

"The next numerical outlook is scheduled for March 14, 1997.

"The flood outlooks and all flood statements will be available via the internet on the NWS Eastern North Dakota Homepage at http://www.ebhnwser.noaa.gov/fgf/index.html."

Jennicca is currently attending Goodridge High School along with Lincoln High School in Thief River Falls for half a day. Juniors and seniors at Goodridge have the option of attending either Lincoln or Northland Technical and Community College for half a day. This year she chose Lincoln. "I have a lot of friends and I run track there," stated Jennicca, which is why she chooses to take her chemistry and physics classes there. Next year she plans to attend Northland for half a day instead.

Jennicca is the daughter of Esther and John Gallagher of Goodridge. Her mom works for the Thief River Falls School District and her father is a farmer. She has three brothers John, Joshua and Justin.

After high school Jennicca wants to attend college somewhere away from this area. "I want to go to college for sure. I haven't decided where. I don't want to stay around here for the first couple of years," she admitted. She would like to major in something to do with business, but exactly what she doesn't know yet. "I like being in control of things," she stated.

"I'd like to be in sports and stay active. Track is the one I would like to do and maybe basketball," she commented.

Whatever Jennicca decides to do with her future, she has definitely had a lot of experiences to help back her up. She has been able to gain much valuable experience from sports and students council, and she now has the student advisory committee to help guide her along as well and teach her about leadership.

Warroad couple expanding teen hotline service

by Amy Branscomb
Northern Watch reporter

About two years ago, Steve and Darla Adams of Warroad began a teen hotline out of Warroad. It began as a service offered only to Warroad and immediate surrounding area teens with a local phone number. The hotline has progressed to a three state service with a toll-free phone number.

Steve and Darla have been managing teen lines for eight years now. They started out in Kansas City helping inner-city teens cope with their problems. While in Kansas City they also worked with the L-I-G-H-T House, which is a home for unwed pregnant mothers.

They were called to Warroad where Steve is currently the youth director for Woodland Bible Church. Steve and his wife Darla do a lot of work dealing with teens including numerous talks with target groups.

The teen hotline has been a huge success for them. Receiving 40 to 50 legitimate calls per month, the Adams along with their friends Dan and Tammy Myrick keep pretty busy answering calls.

They currently have several private individuals funding the toll-free phone number for them. "People have been very supportive and teens very responsive," stated Steve.

He claims that the two biggest problems facing teens in this area are alcohol and sex. "Not every teen that drinks is an alcoholic but runs the risk," he added.

When they get a call from a very distressed teen, they try to refer them to someone who is more fully qualified to help them with their problems. Steve and Darla do not try to "play doctor" to the teens. They are mainly there to listen and when things seem to be out of control they will refer them to someone who can really help them out with their problems.

When a call comes in they fill out a report. They chart the callers age and area they are calling from. The call is totally confidential and the caller does not have to give his or her name unless they want to. Steve and Darla will not tell anyone about the conversation unless the caller wants them to.

Steve stated that they get a lot of calls from teens who say that "they have a friend who..." and they must determine if it is really a friend or if it is the caller just trying to cover up. There are two different responses

New check cashing program

Roseau – Citizens State Bank of Roseau will begin a new procedure in order to safeguard against the chance of fraud with non-customer check cashing beginning March 3.

Any non-customer will be asked to place a thumbprint on the check they plan to cash, between the signature and memo line. The ink that is used is an eraseless ink, which can be rubbed off the finger immediately. It cannot be removed from the check.

In addition to fraud, forgery is another crime that the fingerprinting process will help curtail.

Fuel oil spill causes havoc

Red Lake Falls – About 950 gallons of fuel oil leaked onto the ground during the last couple weeks through a vent hose in Red Lake Falls. City Administrator Brad Scott said the vent hose is on the outside of the city's brick building under the city's small water tower. The end of the hose was attached to the top of the building but somehow came loose, falling over the side of the building below the level of the tank.

Scott added that fuel oil is contained in the larger tank that is outside the building but is transferred into a 15-gallon tank inside the building; the vent hose is needed for the system to operate correctly.

Once the hose was lower than the tank a vacuum was created, causing the tank to drain through the hose onto the ground.

Three pay fines for violations of federal banking regulations

Three persons have paid a total of $65,000 to the United States to settle alleged claims that they violated federal banking regulations. The three are Angelo Medure, controlling shareholder of Gaming World International and a Pennsylvania road construction contractor; Marvin Christensen, former owner and director of the Farmers State Bank of Waubun, MN; and Peter Haddeland, the former president and director of the bank.

The United States made a claim against the three that loans in 1994 to Angelo Medure in the amount of $200,000 and to a relative in the amount of $250,000 violated lending limitations. The government contended that the loan to the relative was actually for the benefit of Angelo Medure to purchase real estate in the Pittsburgh area. At the time, Angelo Medure was attempting to buy the bank and Peter Haddeland had previously agreed to become a director of Gaming World International, which was managing a casino on the White Earth Indian Reservation.

After the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation identified the loans and demanded repayment, the loans were immediately paid back with no loss to the bank. Medure, Christensen and Haddeland denied the government's claim that regulations had been violated and the settlement agreement states that they continue to specifically deny the claim. The settlement agreement releases the three from further liability to the government regarding the transactions and the matter will not be litigated in court.

Assistant United States Attorney Lizabeth McKibben handled the matter for the government.

NCTC grant will boost technology

Receipt of a $98,900 grant will permit Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls to make a number of improvements in technology by the time classes start next fall, according to Sue Minnick, vice president of the college.

The $98,900 grant is Northland's share of a total $285,000 Electronic Academy Grant awarded to NCTC, Fergus Falls Community College and Central Lakes College in Brainerd. The grant program was established by the state legislature and 98 proposals were reviewed with 22 grants totaling $4,225,000 awarded.

"We will purchase over $22,000 in new laptop computers for our Interactive Television classroom, invest $13,000 in mobile multimedia stations, begin an Organic Chemistry lab for $15,000 and have funding available to support faculty and staff in training," Minnick said.

She added that the most important part of the grant is that it will allow Northland, Fergus Falls and Central Lakes the ability to make available more offerings to their students without increasing staff numbers.

"The three colleges have offered courses that are not available in the other campuses via Interactive Television for several years," she said. "However, the grant will allow students to be in touch with the ITV faculty instantaneously, not only visually but through written communications."

The grant includes $8,000 to establish an "electronic office."

"This will allow personal service to our students who are taking courses via ITV," Minnick said. "They can use this office to visit with an instructor at another campus. The office will include a monitor and camera so the student and instructor can hear and see each other and the student can get a direct answer to questions."

Work on the project is expected to begin during this spring quarter with completion by the end of the 1998 spring quarter.

SOUPÇON
Sherry LaCoursiere

Here are some simple recipes that are easy enough for the kids to make – but you might want to try them yourself.

How about getting the kids together to make these special favorites – they will surely make some fancy shapes:

PRETZELS

1 1/2 cups warm water
1 package yeast
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
4 cups flour
1 egg
Coarse salt

Dissolve yeast in warm water. Add salt and sugar and then blend in flour. Knead dough until smooth.

Cut into small pieces and then roll into ropes and twist into shape. Place on lightly greased cookie sheets and brush with beaten egg. Sprinkle with salt.

Bake at 425 degrees for 12-15 minutes.

These would make a delicious breakfast treat or a special snack:

QUICKIE STICKIE BUNS

2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup maple syrup
1/2 cup sweet, granola-type cereal
1 (10 ounce) can buttermilk biscuits

Melt butter in 9-inch round pan. Stir in cereal and syrup. Arrange biscuits on top.

Bake at 375 degrees for 20-25 minutes. Turn upside down on plate and serve warm.

This makes a meal as quick as a wink:

SOUPER BURGERS

1 pound hamburger
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 cup vegetable soup (condensed from can)
2 tablespoons ketchup
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
Dash of pepper

Brown hamburger with onion. Drain and separate meat.

Add soup, ketchup, mustard and pepper. Simmer 5 minutes. Serve on buns.

This quick salad will taste great with those Souper Burgers or the Taco Soup below:

HEAVENLY HASH

1 (20 ounce) can pineapple chunks
1 (11 ounce) can mandarin oranges
1 1/2 cups sour cream
1 1/2 cups coconut

Combine all ingredients and chill.

Let the kids make this tasty dish for the family tonight:

TACO SOUP

2 pounds hamburger
2 large cans stewed tomatoes
2 large cans kidney beans
2 cans corn
1 onion
1 large package taco seasoning
2 cups grated Cheddar cheese
1 small package taco chips, crushed
1 small carton sour cream

Brown beef and onion. Add corn, tomatoes, kidney beans and taco seasoning and simmer at least 1 hour.

Serve with cheese, chips and sour cream on top of each bowl.

Dessert can be made the easy way too:

MICROWAVE FRUIT CRUNCH

1 1/2 cups flour
3/4 cups oatmeal
1 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter, softened
1 can prepared fruit pie filling

In bowl, combine dry ingredients, mixing well. Cut in butter.

Pat half of the mixture in 9-inch square micro-safe baking dish. Cover crumb layer with can of pie filling and then crumble remaining crumbs over top.

Bake in microwave for 15 minutes, turning every 5 minutes, until bubbly. Serve warm or cold, with whipped cream or ice cream if desired.

Kindergarten roundup at St. Bernard's

St. Bernard's school in Thief River Falls will host its annual kindergarten roundup Thursday, March 20, for children who will be entering kindergarten at the school next year.

Classes at St. Bernard's are open to children of all religious backgrounds, but kindergarten classes are limited to 15 per session so early registration is important, according to Sister Kathy Kuchar, principal.

Roundup sessions have been scheduled from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. While prospective students are meeting in the kindergarten room with teacher Patty Brekkestran, parents are encouraged to meet with Sister Kathy in the parish library to have their questions answered.

"Kindergarten experiences provide for a smooth transition between home and school," the principal said. "The curriculum provides a variety of opportunities in which children can interact with their environment and reflects the integration of language arts, mathematics, art, music, physical education, science, health and social studies."

Sister Kathy added that learning centers, play areas and age-appropriate materials contribute to the learning environment for kindergarten classes at St. Bernard's.

Tyler's chapter includes a short biography of Binchy, who was the favorite author of former First Lady Barbara Bush.

Art of Bonsai to highlight Warren horticulture meeting

The Art of Bonsai will be highlighted at the District 13 Minnesota Horticulture Society Spring Workshop on Saturday, March 22, at the Warren American Legion Club.

As part of that meeting Christo Robberts, the director for the new Processing Technology program at the University of Minnesota, Crookston (UMC), will lead a session at 1:15 p.m. on bonsai.

The Spring Workshop begins at 10:45 a.m. with Registration, 11:30 a.m. Luncheon, 12:30 p.m. Country Store, 1 p.m. Welcome by Diana Morkassel and Arias on "Trees" by tenor Ed Palmer. At 1:15 p.m. Robberts will talk about "The Art of Bonsai", 2 p.m. is Tea Time, 2:30 p.m. "Styling - The Shape and Scheme of Bonsai" by Robberts. A business meeting will follow.

Bonsai is the art of manipulating the shape and growth rate of trees in shallow pots by careful pruning and controlled fertilization. Robberts started his first bonsai tree in 1970. Before he left South Africa he had a collection of 150 trees, including the oldest collected specimen tree, which was 120 years old. He has attended workshops held by John Naka, Japanese bonsai master.

Registration for the Spring workshop is $6. To make a reservation, call Janice Lenhart at 218-745-4012.

Individuals who cannot attend the bonsai seminar or for those who would like additional training in bonsai, UMC Continuing Education will offer a three-day Bonsai hands-on workshop June 3 through 5.

Disability accommodations will be provided upon request. For more information, call UMC Continuing Education at 218-281-8681.

Team Arctic takes top events

Team Arctic dominated ISOC's Canterbury Supercross snocross race, which was held February 15-16. Arctic Cat racers won three of the four pro classes.

Brad Pake returned with a vengeance, lapping everyone in the Pro 44 final. Kirk Hibbert finished third. In the Pro 440X final, Pake and Hibbert took first and second, aboard new prototype '98 ZR 440s. Hibbert dominated the Pro Open final, and Pake finished second in the Pro 600 final.

In the women's class, Tami Miller took first and Val Schaleben finished third.

Arctic Cat riders also captured two major stock class wins in the ISR World Series of Drags. Kelly Schultz of New Richmond, WI, won the 600 class, with three Cats in the top four positions. Schultz and Mike Knapp, Welch, MN, also finished 1-2 in the 800 class. Cat racers won the 600cc Stock Class and the 800cc Stock Class aboard Stock ZRT 600s and ZRT 800s, backing up earlier dominance of events like the Old Forge Shoot Out.

Scholarship Services Survive On Myths

Every now and then, especially about this time of the year, we receive information at the Northern Watch office from companies purporting to have available listings of millions of dollars in scholar*ships to colleges and universities which* are available but going unclaimed. The list is available for a fee, of course, and the inference is that if prospective applicants knew of the scholarship availability they would be able to get some of the funding.

For the most part, those news releases never see space in our paper. Once in awhile, however, papers which believe they may be doing area students a favor will run the stories. One was published recently in the Anoka County Union, prompting a response from Karen Kraft, financial aid director at Anoka Ramsey Community College. Kraft says that the scholarship "services" continue to survive on myths.

The first myth, she says, is that millions (or billions) of aid dollars go unclaimed each year. The fact is that such claims are based on a 20-year-old estimate of education benefits provided by employers for their employees, not money from private foundations and philanthropic organizations.

"If the money goes unused," Kraft says flatly, " it is because it can't be used. It is tuition assistance available only for employees and/or their dependents, not for the general public. There may be a handful of scholarships that go unclaimed each year due to poor publicity or very narrow eligibility restrictions, but most scholarship programs receive many more applications than they have funds.

"This unclaimed-aid-myth is harmful not only because it misleads students," Kraft said, "but it also undermines efforts to establish new private-sector scholarship funds. Why would a philanthropic organization create a new scholarship program if it believes current programs are underutilized?"

The second myth, she said, is that the largest amount of tuition assistance is from private sources. In fact, most aid awarded to students is either from the state or federal government or from the colleges. Less than five percent of aid is available from outside sources.

"While this information shouldn't prevent students from pursuing outside scholarships," Kraft said, "it should encourage them to spend the majority of their time pursuing aid where the majority of the money is—state, federal or college sources."

And money back guarantees offered by the companies are often dependent on the provision that "all scholarship sources respond to the student with a letter of denial." Because of the number of applications scholarship programs receive," Kraft notes, many do not respond at all unless an award is offered.

"For students who are already burdened with the cost of an education," Kraft said, "a finder fee for scholarships is absolutely unnecessary. For anyone with Internet access, a free scholarship service is available....FastWeb is located on the Financial Aid Information Page. The Internet address of http://www.finaid.org/ may be used to access the information."

Daffodil Days scheduled for March 11-17

Daffodil Days in Pennington County will be March 11-17.

Daffodils have become the American Cancer Society's Symbol of Hope in the fight against cancer. Daffodils are recognized as the first flower of spring and reminds everyone of hope for a bright future. The future is even brighter today, since the American Cancer Society adopted the daffodil as its symbol of hope 17 years ago when it began its Daffodil Days fundraising efforts.

Donations for the flowers are used to further American Cancer Society's research, education and patient services programs. Last year over $800,000 was raised from Minnesota Daffodil Days. In Pennington county about $10,000 was raised.

Lucy Aasland has been selected as chairperson of the American Cancer Society's March Daffodil Days in Pennington county. A Thief River Falls resident, Aasland has coordinated the distribution of thousands of freshly cut daffodils shipped to Minnesota directly from the State of Washington.

"I'm looking forward to this year's Daffodil Days set for March 11-17 because of its past success."

Hundreds of volunteers are involved in the process of bringing the flowers to Thief River Falls — and Minnesota. Hutchinson Transfer of Thief River Falls, for example, will be donating deliveries of flowers to American Cancer Society volunteers across Minnesota.

Several other local businesses and employers are participating in the effort as well.

Individuals interested in purchasing daffodils for a minimum donation of $5 per bunch can do so at the following locations: Kmart, Pamida, Northern State Bank, Norwest Bank, and First National Bank, and Super Valu.

Daffodil Days serves as a kick-off for the nationally-designated Cancer Control Month of April and the Society's annual educational and fundraising campaign.

Today, the survival rate for cancer is one in two, and more progress is predicted as research discovers more about ways to prevent cancer and better methods for successful treatment.

Last year in Pennington county, American Cancer Society volunteers shared cancer prevention and early detection information with 4,338 people; 53 cancer patients and their families received help from the American Cancer Society, including rides to treatments, hospital equipment, emotional support, and more; held education conferences and seminars that reached 196 health professionals; raised $25,224 to support research, education, advocacy, and service programs of the American Cancer Society.

Despite the local volunteer's best efforts to support this organization, the total cost of the benefits received was greater than they were able to raise.

The funds raised by the American Cancer Society's Daffodil Days will hasten this progress, and it is the daffodil that symbolizes this hope.

As of 1994, the American Cancer Society met the standards of the Charities Review Council of Minnesota.

Local volunteer representatives of the American Cancer Society include Julie Desrocher, president, Lucy Aasland, Daffodil Day chairperson, Dave Hill, communications, Carol Torgerson, treasurer, Audrey Bruggeman, secretary, Gordy Peterson, nominating and recruiting, Lillian Ranum, memorials.

Mock trial team falls to Fergus Falls......again

Lincoin high school's young mock trial team lost another court confrontation to Fergus Falls Wednesday in the regional championship to close out its 1997 season with a 4-1 record.

It is the third time that Fergus Falls has defeated Thief River Falls in the final event leading to state participation. The two previous losses were each by a single point. Lincoln has also lost twice to Virginia in the regional championship.

Score of the trial Wednesday was 198-183. Presiding judge Dan Plambeck scored the trial 96-92 for Fergus Falls while scoring judge Melinda L. Hanson gave the edge to Fergus Falls 102-91.

"Fergus Falls has a very strong program and gave a very good performance again this year," stated Lincoln teacher coach Cal Lindberg. "But our team also did well and I was disappointed in the final score because I believe the trial was much closer than the score indicates. That the trial was close was also the opinion expressed to me by the Fergus Falls coach as we waited for the decision."

Lindberg said he was proud of his young team which has only one senior, Kate Ihle. The team adopted a "State for Kate" slogan in its preparation for the championship trial. There are five juniors and three sophomores on the team, which should provide an experienced base if they decide to participate again next year.

Lindberg also credited lawyer coaches Gayle Borchert and Mike Jorgenson for much of the success of the team throughout the regular and playoff seasons. He said he also appreciated the support of parents who attended most of the mock trial events this year.

The championship trial was conducted Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. in the Clay county courthouse at Moorhead because the teams could not make the scheduled Tuesday date due to weather and road conditions. As a result, the judges were different than those scheduled for Tuesday, but both had experience judging mock trial cases this year and were familiar with the case being tried.

"There were good cross examinations and a lot of good objections by both sides, and we thought Judge Plambeck was very fair in the way he presided," Lindberg said. "In fact, I guess we would have to say we were pleased with everything except the road conditions and the final result. It's always more fun when you win."

Fosses advised of growth in Forever Living

Gordon and Thelma Foss of Grygla, area sales managers for Forever Living Products, have been advised that the international company had nine percent sales growth in 1996 to $1.212 billion.

FLP first surpassed the $1 billion sales figure in 1995 with its principal product line of natural-based aloe vera and bee products. It was founded in 1978 and now has more than five million distributors in over 55 countries.

Welding program to return to Northland

Suspended for the 1996-97 academic year for lack of enrollment, the Welding Technology program at Northland Community and Technical College will be offered again for the 1997-98 school year. The college is currently accepting enrollment in the program which will begin September 3.

Dennis Wilkens, Northland welding instructor, has been actively working with area industry to assist in providing employees with advanced welding skills.

"Industry representatives have expressed concern over the lack of educational opportunities for those interested in a welding career," Wilkens said. "Two of our largest regional industries, Arctic Cat Inc. and Polaris Industries have both expressed support for the welding program. They have a great need for skilled welders in their organizations as do many of the other smaller companies in northwestern Minnesota."

Significant changes have been made in the program for its re-introduction this fall.

"We are now offering a full 45-credit diploma program and a 36-credit certificate," Wilkens said. "We also offer short-term certificates in gas metal arc welding, gas tungsten arc welding, shielded metal arc welding and oxy-acetylene welding for those who desire specific welding skills. Credits range from four to 11, depending on which course is selected."

For additional information on the Northland welding major, call 681-0862 or 1-800-959-6282.

Early lead holds up for Eagles

■ Grygla-Gatzke beats Goodridge 64-53 in 31A

Early success paid late dividends for Grygla-Gatzke Tuesday as the fast-starting Eagles beat rival Goodridge 64-53 in the Sub-Section 31A boys high school basketball tournament semifinals at Lincoln High School in Thief River Falls.

Grygla-Gatzke hit nine of its first 11 shots and had a 23-6 lead two minutes into the second quarter.

Goodridge never fully recovered. The Huskies did pare the difference to 33-23 at the half and made it a four-point game in the third quarter, but they didn't have enough to complete the comeback.

It was a case of falling too far behind too early, acknowledged Goodridge coach Eric Mickelson. "We weren't moving offensively in the first half," he explained. "We weren't active away from the ball, we weren't getting open for shots."

Grygla-Gatzke, on the other hand, was having little trouble finding an open shooter. A fast break basket by Philip Brateng closed out a 16-4 first quarter that saw the Eagles hit their final six attempts in a 7-for-9 shooting performance, compared to a 1-for-9 ledger for the Huskies.

"We handled their half-court press, which gave us some good scoring opportunities," pointed out Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson. "I thought that was the big key in the ball game."

However, Johnson wasn't lulled into a false sense of security by the Eagles' game-opening success. "I wasn't fooled," he said. "I knew they (Huskies) would come back."

They did. While Jim Engelstad of Grygla-Gatzke and Benji Marquis of Goodridge squared off in a second quarter shoot-out that netted them 11 points each, the Huskies managed to trim the deficit from 17 to 10 points.

And the comeback continued when a three-point play by Darin Arveson pulled the Huskies within 34-30 just three minutes into the second half.

Increased defensive pressure and strong rebounding kept Goodridge close through the rest of the third quarter.

"We changed our press, and that got us a few more turnovers," said Mickelson. "And we did a nice job on the boards."

A 3-point shot by Alex Anderson off an in-bounds play with just 1.8 seconds left pushed the Grygla lead back to 46-35 at the close of the third quarter.

Goodridge was still within striking range when Jared Eidelbes hit a long jumper to make it 53-47 with 2:57 remaining, but Engelstad put the Eagles back in control with a put-back/free throw three-point play, then a steal/lay-up for a 58-47 spread with 2:07 to play.

"We would make a run, and then they would pump in a couple on us," noted Mickelson. "We could never catch them."

"The kids kept their composure down the stretch," said Johnson. "They challenged us, but we managed to keep our composure and were able to hold them off."

Engelstad finished with 21 points, while Aaron Holthusen netted 13 and Anderson 11 for the Eagles. Marquis wound up with 14 points, Eidelbes 12 and Arveson 10 for the Huskies.

Grygla-Gatzke shot 53 percent from the field (25/47), while Goodridge shot only 33 percent (19/57). Both teams had trouble at the free throw line, where the Eagles were 12-for-26 and the Huskies made 9 of 20. Goodridge had a 35-29 rebound edge and topped the turnovers charts 16-15.

The outcome left the Eagles 16-6 and put the Huskies at 17-7. It was the second tournament match-up of the year between they two schools that form a fall football cooperative. Grygla-Gatzke beat Goodridge 42-37 in the Northland Community and Technical College Invitational in December.

Defense, free throws carry B/G-MR past Kittson Central...

Gators shut down Wolfpack

Three quarters of defense and one quarter of free throw shooting completed a game-winning package for Badger/Greenbush-Middle River Tuesday as the Gators stopped Kittson Central 53-35 in a Sub-Section 32A boys high school basketball tournament semifinal match-up at Northland Community and Technical College.

The Badger/Greenbush-Middle River defense deserved part of the credit for 24 minutes worth of rim-rattling 4-for-34 shooting by Kittson Central, and the Gators' 12-for-14 fourth quarter free throw shooting secured a championship game appearance.

Like the Wolfpack, the Gators were slow out of the starting blocks offensively with a 6-3 lead at the end of the first quarter and a 16-13 edge at halftime. Six-for-10 free throw shooting was the only thing that kept Kittson Central in the game in the first half when Badger/Greenbush-Middle River did not step to the line.

"We knew it was going to be an even match," said Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Eldon Sparby, whose team edged Kittson Central 72-67 in overtime at the Thief River Falls Russ Smith Northwest Holiday Classic in December, but lost a late-February rematch 69-59. "There was a lot of pressure on both teams, and we were both playing good defense."

But while the Gators' offense showed up in the second half, the Wolfpack never got going. Short jumpers by Aaron Rislov and Matt Kujava, followed by a tip-in by Adam Holmes, opened the third quarter as the spread jumped to 22-13.

"In the second half, we told the kids to take it one minute, one play at a time," said Sparby. "We did that, and we were able to slowly pull away."

It was 29-18 at the final break, and the Gators' march to the free throw line over the final eight minutes off-set a late-game 3-point barrage by Josh Deere of the Wolfpack.

"We put them at the free throw line too many times in the first half," pointed out Sparby. "We told the kids at halftime, no stupid fouls, and that we needed to draw some fouls and shoot some free throws ourselves."

Jed Geer came off the bench to help accomplish the latter goal, mentioned Sparby, with his foul-drawing work around the basket.

Much of the Gators' defensive attention was given to Deere on the outside and Ben Diamond on the inside. A 5-10 junior, Deere was limited to nine points through three quarters before lighting it up with four fourth quarter threes en route to a game-high 24 points. With Holmes drawing the defensive assignment, Diamond, a 6-2 senior, netted only 5 points. Holmes, a 6-3 junior, had seven of the Gators' nine blocked shots.

"We tried to take away their perimeter game – they're a good 3-point shooting team – and control the inside," said Sparby. "We did a pretty good job."

North Sub-Section 8AAA boys...

Prowlers beaten by Pirates 65-54

Fergus Falls defeated Detroit Lakes 69-55 and Crookston stopped Thief River Falls 65-54 Thursday in the opening round North Sub-Section 8AAA boys high school basketball tournament semifinals at Moorhead State University.

The Otters and Pirates meet in the finals tonight (Saturday), with the winner taking on the South champion in the Section 8AAA championship game Saturday, March 15, at St. Cloud State University.

Crookston, ahead 20-15 at the end of the first quarter, pulled away from Thief River Falls with a 16-5 second quarter blitz that made it 36-20 at halftime.

Trailing by as many as 20 points, the Prowlers managed to chop the difference to 47-38 before the third quarter ended, and twice were back within five in the fourth quarter at 47-42 and 49-44 before the comeback ran out of steam.

"We had a real bad first half," said Thief River Falls coach Scott Brekke. "I don't believe we were ready to play. We didn't come out ready to go."

The Prowlers' play improved in the second half, according to Brekke. "We made a good run," he said. "I was happy with the second half effort."

Thief River Falls' season ended at 7-16, and completed a three-game sweep over the Prowlers for the Pirates, who won 61-50 and 57-48 regular season decisions.

Both teams showed offensive balance. Nick Brorson scored 15 points, while Geralyn Moen and Dustin Uttermark netted 11 each to lead the Pirates. Jeremy Swanson scored 15 points, Courtney Skjerven 14 and Jared Brandt 13 for the Prowlers. Brandt (8) and Skjerven (6) – the Prowlers' only seniors – also combined for 14 rebounds.

Thief River Falls shot only 28 percent from the field (15/53), but did hit 22 of 29 free throws. Crookston shot 45 percent from the floor (23/51) and went 17-for-22 at the line. The Pirates out-rebounded the Prowlers 32-27, and also had more turnovers, 14-11.

It was reported earlier that Thief River Falls senior Luke Davis, the Section 8AA champion at 152 pounds, was the Prowlers' first state high school wrestling tournament qualifier since his brother, Joel Davis, in 1992.

Thief River Falls actually had two state tournament qualifiers that season, with Joel Davis, a Region 8AA champion at 125 pounds, being joined by Matt Kaushagen, a Region 8AA runner-up at 160. Joel Davis wound up with a fifth place state tournament finish that year.

In 1991, Thief River Falls had three state tournament qualifiers in Joel Fremstad (103), Blaine Parish (112) and Kaushagen (160) – all three Region 8AA second place finishers. They were the first state tournament qualifiers since Dan Hallstrom in 1977 for the program that was dropped after the 1978-79 season and was re-instated in 1978-88.

Red Lake-Pennington DHIA report released

Red Lake-Pennington Dairy Herd Improvement Association (DHIA) report for January shows the Richard Dummer herd again leading the association in production based on value of product per cow.

The Dummer herd of 87 cows, 91 percent of which was in milk, averaged 77 pounds of milk, 2.4 pounds of butterfat and 2.5 pounds of protein per day during the month.

Percentage of cows in milk is important since averages include all cows in the herd, not just those in production. This procedure is followed to give the dairyman a record of the herd's earning power for the month.

Second place herd was that of Todd and Jay Johnston where 84 percent of the 73-cow herd was on test and averaged 70 pounds of milk, 2.5 pounds of butterfat and 2.2 pounds of protein.

Third place herd was owned by Mylo Carlson which averaged 68 pounds of milk, 2.5 pounds of butterfat and 2.1 pounds of protein. Ninety-two per cent of the 66-cow herd was in milk.

Other herds listed in the top 15 include the following with the name of the producer, number of cows in the herd, pounds of milk, pounds of butterfat and pounds of protein listed respectively:

Northwest Agricultural Experiment Station (large cow herd), 47, 87%, 67, 2.5 and 2.1;

Northwest Agricultural Experiment Station (small cow herd), 64, 86%, 67, 2.5 and 2.1.

Walter Bros. Farm, 169, 89%, 63, 2.1 and 2.0;

Lyle Swanson, 45, 78%, 62, 2.4 and 1.9;

Viking mission conference will conclude on Sunday

"Declare His Story Among the Nations" is the theme of the Viking Covenant Church missions conference which began Tuesday and will conclude this weekend.

Speaking tonight (Saturday, March 8) at 7:30 p.m. will be Lori Ranum, who has represented the Evangelical Free Church in Japan missions. She has been on home assignment in the past year but will soon be returning to her teaching duties in Japan.

At a combined Sunday school and morning worship service Sunday at 10:30 a.m., Dr. Michael Luepke will be the guest speaker.

Dr. Luepke was called for medical missionary service in Zaire, Africa, and arrived there in 1989. He has been involved in many aspects of the medical profession including supervising the maternity department of Karawa Hospital from 1993 through 1996.

"Zaire continues to present a great challenge for the church to minister to a great majority of the people with physical and spiritual needs," he says.

Concluding event of the conference will be a potluck supper at 6 p.m. Sunday, March 9, when Covenant Women Founders Day will be observed. Speaker will be former TEAM missionary Marilyn (Niewoehner) Belisle of Stephen who spent several years as a nurse at the Oasis Hospital in the United Arab Emirates.

Special music will be presented at all of the services with fellowship and refreshments to follow the evening service Saturday.

Opening the conference on Tuesday evening was Rev. Gary Carlson who was first called to missionary service in Japan in 1983.

Friday, March 7, at 7:30 p.m. the speaker was Rev. Rodger Anderson of Roseau who has served in several capacities in the ministry, including three and one-half years on the mission field in Unalakleet, Alaska.

All of the mission sessions are open to the public.

USDA fund boosts rural development

A three-year, $300 million effort by the U.S. Department of Agriculture to pump new life into the nation's rural economy will deliver an additional $1,981,000 for rural development in Minnesota in 1997.

The money is being provided under the Fund for Rural America, a rural economic program with goals ranging from assisting beginning and disadvantaged farmers to providing housing for low-income rural people.

The new USDA fund will distribute $100 million annually for rural development programs nationally during the next three years.

Robert M. Kleven, community development manager for USDA Rural Development in Thief River Falls, said Minnesota's portion of the fund will help jump-start some of the more distressed rural areas of the state.

State director Janice Daley noted that "Whether it means replacing dilapidated rural housing, extending clean drinking water to rural people or getting rural schools connected to the Information Superhighway, the fund will help make rural Minnesota a better place to live."

Kleven said the fund will provide $1,981,000 to USDA Rural Development for loans to help low-income people construct or repair rural homes. It will also allocate $9.1 million to USDA's Water 2000 Initiative this year, which will provide 36,000 families with clean drinking water. These water funds have not yet been allocated to states.

On a national basis the fund will construct or rehabilitate 3,000 single family homes for low-income rural residents and provide information technology to advance education opportunities to more than 175,000 students and provide health care access for 400,000 rural residents.

One-third of the fund will be used for rural development programs and another third for research projects that benefit rural areas. Secretary of Agriculture Dan Glickman will allocate the remaining third for either rural development or research, depending on need.

This year Secretary Glickman is allocating $20.5 million for rural development and $12.8 million for research, pushing the total research fund to $46 million for 1997. Research funds will be awarded on a competitive basis to those projects that show the most promise of creating new rural jobs, improving the competitiveness of rural areas in the global economy and improving the rural environment, among other goals, according to director Daley.
